How can we today afford to be less persistent in seeking the King, Victor, and Very God? No one will be disappointed if they will only follow the light which God reveals to this day.

A Joyous Holy Day, Not a Mere Holiday

He either comes with the shepherds to the Saviour and receives Him into his heart by faith or he remains in the darkness tending his sheep and forgetting God's message.

AND WE NEED ask, are we, as Christians, setting up unintentional roadblocks to the angel's message and to the Saviour? Are we making it more of a joyous holiday than a joyous "holy day?" Is the coming of Santa more important in our homes than the coming of Christ? Do we miss its meaning when we spend more for Christmas gifts than we do for overseas missions work for a whole year?

Are we right in teaching our children to pray selfishly to jolly St. Nicholas for things rather than to give to those in physical and spiritual need?

Is the commercial and material strongly overshadowing the spiritual emphasis in our lives? Are we so involved in the Christmas rush that we have little time for spiritual meditation?

ARE WE WITH the Shepherds spreading the glad tidings of great joy "For unto you is born a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord?"

As we consider the question and the shepherds' road of response, may our prayer be in the words of Phillips Brooks "O holy child of Bethlehem Descend to us, we pray Cast out our sin, and enter in Be born in us today!

We hear the Christmas angels The great glad tidings tell O come to us, abide with us Our Lord Immanuel!"

odds 'n ends

By FRANK MARTIN

It's a great year for the University of Michigan...after some mighty slim ones the Wolverines are going to the Rose Bowl game where we'll see them all in action, come New Year's Day. But it's not only the football team that's all agog as you will see in excerpts from a letter written by Bob Odmak, a member of the Michigan band, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Odmak. It makes you wish you were one of the lucky ones.

"Hectic times have begun here...as we make plans for the trip west...We'll leave Saturday afternoon (Dec. 26) via Flying Tiger Line...it will take seven hours to Los Angeles where we'll stay at Sprout Hall on the U. S. L. A. Campus...On Sunday we'll rehearse at a nearby field...on Monday (Dec. 28) go to San Diego to play a concert...On Dec. 29 we play a concert at Disneyland after which we tour the place on our own with free admission to everything...At 7:30 p.m. Dec. 30 we play a pep rally for U. of M. students at Pershing Square in downtown L. A...The 31st is open but, knowing Dr. Revelli, we'll probably rehearse...

"ON NEW YEAR'S Day we leave U. S. L. A. at 6:00 a.m. for Pasadena and at 9 a.m. in the 5 1/2 mile Tournament of Roses parade...Then the Rose Bowl game...After the game, we board Pullmans for San Francisco, getting there the next morning...We'll stay at the Hilton...On Jan. 2 we have a concert in downtown San Francisco and in the afternoon we play at the Shrine game on TV (pre-game and post-game)...The evening is free...On Sunday we play a concert in some stadium in Oakland where they are declaring it Michigan Band Day and presenting the keys to the city to Dr. Revelli...On Monday we leave for Ann Arbor, getting back just in time for registration...I'm having trouble

HAD A CALL THU. other day from Mrs. Jean Lehmann regarding the Arctic owl I mentioned in this column the week before...She was telling me about spending some time in Saskatchewan where, she said, she'd seen these owls...she added that they are gray rather than a pure white...She also said that it got down to 40 degrees below zero the winter she was there...and that she had no desire to go back to that country...Most understandable, I'd say!

The other day my neighbor, Mrs. Ray Wood, brought by an old copy of the Grand Rapids Press for me to see...When she said she was bringing it, I figured it was just another old newspaper...However, this one turned out to be the issue dated July 15, 1898, telling of the surrender of Spanish troops at Santiago...and some of the terms of surrender which included the return of Spanish troops to Spain...It told of the serious losses of American troops as the result of yellow fever...Another headline stated "Porto Rico is next"...And in the middle of the page was a drawing of the shield and flag grasped in the claws of an American eagle with the legend "Victory is Ours"...All very dramatic...

In the same folder was a Chicago Tribune from August 1891...but there was nothing of great interest in this section...However, it's always fun to see those old newspapers...even the print and format are different from today's...

Oldenforth, carrying a cargo of coal...They were among 11 passengers...and had a grand trip...One of the most exciting incidents came when they passed the beautiful new French luxury liner, the Ile de France (I think)...which saluted and sent messages by blinker light...They passed it at night...and with its lights ablaze, it looked like a floating city...they wrote...The two went at once to Dave's uncle and aunt in the suburbs of Brussels...and after a brief visit there and a reunion with Dave's sister, Nancy, who is spending the school year abroad, they planned to go on to Switzerland where they hope to get jobs during the holidays...AND FROM Wiesbaden, Germany, a Christmas greeting from Doug Smith who wrote "I'm back in Germany working for the Air Force...I expect to stay here in Wiesbaden most of the winter to learn German and save some money...I live with a nice German family...With luck I should get in about a month and a half of skiing before I come back to the States...I plan to return about May but this may change...So I send best wishes for Christmas and the New Year to you and all my friends in Charlevoix"...You will remember that Doug got out of the Air Force after four years in November 1963 and spent the holidays here before leaving to see the Winter Olympics in Austria and bum around Europe...He's been doing just exactly that...working here and there, usually for the Air Force, while moving about...These kids today...Don't you envy them...or have I said that before...As this issue arrives on your doorstep, you'll be placing the last packages under the tree and awaiting the arrival of Santa...or, if you live away from Charlevoix, you'll be recuperating from the BIG DAY...Wherever you are, we hope it will be or was a happy one...and that '65 will make you glad you're alive.

Hope CG Auxiliary Active by Spring

Organization of a Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla in Charlevoix appears to be a reality, Cmdr. Charles Millratt, group commander, reports.

The second meeting in less than a week of persons interested in forming an Auxiliary unit here was held last Wednesday. Tom Loe and Jim Lizinga were selected as temporary co-chairmen.

THE NEXT meeting, Millratt said, will be held at the Coast Guard Station Wednesday, Jan. 13.

At this meeting persons interested in joining will be given the first of a six-part entrance examination on basic boating. Cmdr. Millratt hopes to have the Auxiliary unit functioning by the summer boating season.

The Auxiliary Flotilla purpose and duties, as defined by the Coast Guard Auxiliary Manual are:

TO INDOCTRINATE all owners and operators of small craft in safety requirements in the operation and navigation of small craft; to assist the Coast Guard in dissemination of maritime safety practices applicable to small boats.

Charlevoix Flotilla members will be given extensive training in navigation, safety, and fundamental boating procedures. They will then pass these skills on to boaters who are non-members and make courtesy boat safety examinations.

Millratt said Auxiliary members seldom are called on to assist in rescue operations.

Genett Officially Ok'd as Postmaster

The U. S. Post Office Dept. has officially approved the Charlevoix County Democratic Committee's appointing of Dan Genett as acting Charlevoix Postmaster.

Genett will officially become postmaster Jan. 1, his appointment was approved by the federal government after a routine investigation.

COUNTY Democrats recommended Genett for the post after a long and bitter party battle for the patronage position.

Genett has literally been filling the postmaster's position for several weeks because retiring Postmaster Peter Timmer is in the hospital.

Timmer was reported seriously ill early this week at Munson Hospital in Traverse City.

Timmer requested retirement last July, but due to the political squabble was not able to step down.

Name Yule Decoration Winners

Judges Monday evening selected winners of the city's annual outside Christmas lighting decorations contest and cited the following interest in the program.

WINNERS WERE:
FIRST WARD--Dr. H.O. Messmore, 301 Michigan Ave., first place; Rex Davis, 708 E. Dixon, second, and Hal Forbrig, 708 Mercer, third.

SECOND WARD--Bernard Schaner, 207 W. Hurlbut, first place; George Lusk, 203 W. Hurlbut, second, and Walter Russell, 405 W. Hurlbut, third.

THIRD WARD--Ken Empey, 1302 Bridge St., first place; Ted Browne, 1018 May St., second, and Dan Genett, 1004 State St., third.

John M. Stebe, Division, was the winner of the prize given to the best decorated home outside the city limits.

Judges said winners were selected on the basis of whether their outside decorations carried a definite theme. Many homeowners, they stated, used attractive Christmas lights, but failed to present a holiday theme with them.

IN PAST YEARS, it was noted, more homes have been extensively decorated for Christmas. Prizes were $15 for first place, $10 for second and $5 for third. A $10 prize will be given to the one winner outside the city.

The annual contest is sponsored by the Charlevoix Municipal Electric Utility.

Judges were Clarence Rabach, Charlevoix Township supervisor; Jerry Albright, Ellsworth School superintendent, and Glen Shepard, Courier editor.

SEASON'S Greetings

Good times, good cheer, good fellowship... all these joys we wish for you this holiday season.

Rayders Share League Lead

With a fourth of their current basketball season behind them, the Charlevoix Rayders, with a record of three wins in four games in league play, are tied with Gaylord, Grayling and Harbor Springs for first place in league standings.

Friday's win over Boyne City by a score of 57-38 marked the end of league play until the Rayders travel to Grayling Jan. 8.

HOWEVER, ON Saturday, they will invade Petoskey for a meeting with the Northern team presently have a 3-1 record.

If Petoskey floors its regular starting five, it is likely that Mike McAlvey (6-3) and Bill Pettenger (6-0) will start in the forward positions, big Fred Rice (6-5) at center and Ron Clancy and Vic McPhee in the back court.

This will make the renewal of one of Charlevoix's oldest area rivalries. This alone should make it a good game and a welcome break in the holidays.

Friday's victory over Boyne City proved to be a dull game with the Rayders offering little in the way of opposition and the Rayders playing anything but inspired ball.

CHARLEVOIX GOT off to a 15-11 first period lead and came through with their best period to take a 34-20 halftime lead. The tempo slowed as the game went into the second half with the Rayders outscoring the visitors 9-7 as both teams missed countless shots. In the last period the Rayders came back to score 14 points to 11 for the Ramblers.

as Coach Don Carey emptied the bench.

Dave Smith with 11 points followed by Del Terrill with 10 were top scorers for the Rayders. Dave Hunt had 13, Denny Gunderson 12 and Scott Hall 10 for the Ramblers.

Lancers Beat Frederick

By KATHI WELAND

ELLSWORTH--Friday, Dec. 18, the Lancers and their fans traveled to Frederick and invaded the premises. The Lancers easily defeated the Eagles, 94-61.

All of the members of Ellsworth's squad played.

The scoring for the Lancers was fairly well divided up, with Chet Boss leading the scoring with 21 points.

THE SCORE by quarters was, 31-10, 49-21, 66-45, and 94-61.

There was excitement in the last few minutes of the game when the fans began to urge the Lancers to rack up 100 points, but the clock didn't cooperate and the game ended with the score three baskets short of this goal.

Again the Junior Varsity gave us the real excitement of the evening. Ellsworth lost 29-27. Daryl Kaley dumped in 9 points for the Lancers to be high point man, Dale Bogard from McBain also had 9 points leading the scoring for the Ramblers.

The Lancers managed to hold a very slight lead until the fourth quarter, the score by quarters being 6-0, 13-8, 23-20.

The game came to a climax in the last 2 minutes. Until then the Lancers were ahead, but a basket for McBain tied the score, and they kept right on and scored another two points to put them in the lead 27-25.

With 30 seconds remaining, SI Doctor scored two points to tie the score and send the fans into frenzied cheering. Then Bob Bogard scored for McBain.

McBain got the ball and stalled, and all the Lancers could do was watch the seconds run off.

For 20 seconds the fans sat there screaming their lungs out, and really raised the roof when, with 5 seconds left there was a jumpball. But, their hopes crashed when, McBain took the ball and slowly passed it around while the clock ran out.

Mancelona Upsets Unbeaten Jordan

The East Jordan Red Devils, the only team in the Northern Michigan Class C league to defeat Gaylord, were upset last week by the Mancelona Ironmen who had not won a game until this outing.

The Ironmen dumped the Devils 70-59 after getting off to a 15-8 first quarter lead which inspired them to outscore their hosts 22-10 for a 37-18 halftime advantage.

As the game went into the second half, the Jordanites tried for a comeback outscoring Mancelona 23-18 in the third period and 18-15 in the final period but were unable to recover from the early setback.

THE GAME WAS marked by 50 fouls which sent two Jordanites and three Ironmen to the bench with five fouls each.

Elsewhere, Gaylord knocked Graying from the ranks of the undefeated (58-45) and Harbor Springs dumped Pellston 77-66 to throw four teams, Charlevoix, Gaylord, Graying and Harbor Springs, into a four-way tie for first place.

Let Fear-Crazed World Hear Christ's Message

ary, who wouldn't leave the sick, ridiculed as he climbed a fence. You and I, safe in our cities, were forced to read of the rape of little girls and the wholesale destruction of priests and nuns. We blanched before the horror of an event, a word, a response. And so it has ever been. A man named Karl Marx witnessed an event of the 19th century, namely: Europe's poverty, hunger and social unrest.

He spoke a word that has echoed: "You have nothing to lose but your chains." And the response still roars in the bush of the Congo, Castro's Cuba, Viet Nam and the wastes of Siberia. An additional word has been added, namely: "Religion is the opium of the people!"

Ironically it is that such an event-word-response brought Dr. Paul Carlson, Protestant medical missionary, to the Congo in the first place.

THE EVENT took place when a six-month tour with a Protestant relief agency showed him the needs of the natives.

Amid the practice of medicine in California, a word was spoken, a word that might have come in the quiet of silent prayer.

What was the word? What word could lead a man to leave the comfort of suburban living for a jungle clearing called Wasolo? What does a man hear that brings him and his family to a wilderness of snakes and sorcery, that leads him to sacrifice a T-Bird and siffoin for tired feet and antelope?

Those who knew Carlson say that Christ spoke the word, "Whatever you do for one of my brethren here, however humble, you do for me." And the young doctor responded with his life and even as I write confirmed reports well over fifty priests and nuns added to the list of the Martyrs.

SO IT HAS ever been since the first Calvary over nineteen years ago.

The word of Marx's error, hatred and cathelism seems to be gaining ground over Christ's truth, love and godliness. Could it be that the martyrdom, suffered in the Congo by Catholic and non-Catholic Christians is the Providential beginning for all Christians to form a more united front to oppose "the gates of hell?"

The Savior's will is clear. Addressing his heavenly Father at the last supper He prayed: "Holy Father, keep in thy name those whom thou hast given me, that they may be one even as we are one. John XVII." Again: "There shall be one fold and one shepherd." John X, 16.

Recently, through Pope John XXIII, Christ again invited all Christians to greater unity.

Let us hope that the calvary of the Congo will not have been in vain, but that it will be the way of drawing all Christians closer to Christ and to one another.

SPEAKING OF Calvary did not Christ say: "And of, when I am lifted up, will draw all to myself?"

...and Happy Birthday, to our Lord.
It is traditional but more significant than any birthday in human history.
There is more to Christmas than tinsel and glittering gifts. On that day, the word of God became flesh and dwelt among us. Love literally came down at Christmas... a new birth to cheer and redeem. It is the birthday of the greatest teacher—the sublimest preacher—the "Good Shepherd," the "Son of God," the "Saviour of Men."
Then, let us not disgrace this Holy Day, Christ's Birthday, through sinful celebration or 'cheap'

Find Happiness in New Year by Putting Christ in Your Life

By Rev. WARREN SALVESON

Pastor, Evangelical Lutheran Church
East Jordan-Ellsworth

"NOT THAT I AM ALLUDING TO WANT, FOR I HAVE LEARNED TO FIND RESOURCES WITHIN MYSELF WHAT EVER THE CIRCUMSTANCES, I KNOW WHAT IT IS TO BE BROUGHT LOW, AND I KNOW WHAT IT IS TO HAVE PLENTY. I HAVE BEEN THOROUGHLY INITIATED INTO THE HUMAN LOT WITH ALL ITS UPS AND DOWNS—FULLNESS AND HUNGER, PLENTY AND WANT, I HAVE STRENGTH FOR ANYTHING THROUGH HIM WHO GIVES ME POWER, Philippians 4:11-13.

During this week I have greeted many with the age old expression Happy New Year. Happiness is something we all long for if we have not found it, cherish it if we have. Many a man has sacrificed the high salary of a job in order to find happiness in work. Some have left occupations, not because the work was not satisfying, but the job infringing on the time the family would receive. A happy home was too much for some to sacrifice. As we look back over this past year there has been many happy moments in all our lives. There has also been those moments of sadness for some maybe hours, others days and months. Some of this sadness and grief which was a part of our life this past year was caused by circumstances over which we had no control. But there were those other moments of sadness over which we did have control, yet permitted sadness and grief its rule instead of joy and gladness.

THE FAMOUS prayer of Niebuhr comes to mind, "God give us serenity to accept what cannot be changed, Courage to change what should be changed and the wisdom to distinguish between the two."

REV. W. SALVESSON

Chamber Falters In Memberships

The Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce's annual membership drive, which was billed as a two-day effort when it started Dec. 8, last week it reported to have reached only 65% of its goal.

Chamber Manager Dean Davenport said only 65% or 140 of the potential 215 members have signed up for 1965.

DAVENPORT isn't giving up, however. He said he still has hopes the drive will be a success, resulting in at least as many members as this year. One-hundred and eighty-five members are on the chamber's roster this year.

According to Davenport memberships are down among such tourist oriented businesses as motels, cabins, clubs, camps, resorts, night clubs and bars.

This is the category of business that benefits the most from the chamber's activities, he said. They also pay proportionately less toward support of the chamber, he said.

The percent of retail, automotive, professional, insurance, restaurants, marinas and industrial members is increased, or holding its own with this year, he said.

DAVENPORT released the following breakdown of new memberships.

Reveal Opposition to Channel Plan

Mayor Says Cost is Not Justified

Requests that millions of dollars be sent to enlarge the Pine River channel are receiving opposition from local leaders.

Mayor E. D. Hawley has stated he can see no economic justification for such an extensive project.

THE MAYOR also contends the project would tend to eliminate the channel's aesthetic charm, and destroy some of Charlevoix's most valuable commercial and resort property.

Hawley, and other Charlevoix officials questioned by the Courier, expressed doubts enlarging the channel would attract major new industries to the shores of Lake Charlevoix.

They say the project would require millions of dollars in local tax money for land acquisition.

Corps of Engineers information officer Michael J. Perrin of Detroit last week told the Courier his office has postponed its scheduled $1 million to $1.5 million repairs to the channel until a decision is made on whether it will be enlarged.

THE CORPS OF Engineers, in accordance with an earlier city request, planned to put in new sheet piling along the banks of the channel and repair the north pier.

After the public hearing in the County Building, where requests were made for straightening, widening and deepening the channel, Perrin said the Corps decided to call off its repair project. If it is decided to enlarge the channel, much of the repair money would be wasted.

Perrin said widening and straightening the channel would require cutting a large chunk of land off the north side of the channel below the Weather-Vane Inn and off the south side from the Coast Guard Station to Lake Michigan and at the other end of the south side of the channel where the Beaver Island docks.

At the channel outlet to Lake Charlevoix a portion of the Beaver Island docks.

Parsel, Totten Opposed In Bid for Re-Election

Hawley Has No Foe for Mayor Two File for Vacant JP Post; Other Incumbents Unopposed

Incumbent Third Ward Councilman Don Parsel and Second Ward Supervisor Harold Totten have been challenged in their bid for re-election.

Parsel faces two rivals: Delbert Terrill, a Charlevoix High School teacher and coach, and Luther Cassis Russell, a salesman.

TOTTEN, FORMER Charlevoix Courier manager, is being challenged by Larry Wallace, hotel and restaurant manager.

All other incumbent city officials were without competitors when the nominating petition deadline passed at 4 p.m. Monday.

All persons filing nominating petitions are running as Republicans.

One other contest did develop for justice of peace. Both John Wolf and Ira H. Olney filed nominating petitions for the now vacant justice of peace term that expires in 1969.

JUSTICE OF THE Peace John Connolly is not up for election this year because he is serving a different term. The city is authorized two justices.

The races for thirdward councilman, second ward supervisor and justice of peace will be settled in the Feb. 15 primary election.

Because there are no Democrats running and unless a written contest develops, persons nominated at the Feb. 15 primary will be assured of victory in the annual April city general election.

So the fireworks, if there is to be any, will come as candidates in the three contested races vie for nomination in February.

NO CANDIDATES filed for the city's authorized, but officially frowned on, constable posts.

Incumbents filing for re-election who are not opposed are: Mayor E. D. (Pat) Hawley; First Ward Councilman Robert Neff and First Ward Supervisor Kit Carson;

Second Ward Councilman Robert Gill; Third Ward Supervisor Harry Gebauer; City Clerk Hugh Mayne, and City Treasurer Annabelle Cunningham.

Languages will be the subject of the Jan. 6 meeting of the Charlevoix PTA. Speakers will be Mrs. James Irwin, Mrs. Max Novak and Mrs. Louis Courtade.

Timmer Dies Before He Can Retire

Charlevoix Postmaster Peter H. Timmer, 59, 200 E. Huribut, died unexpectedly Wednesday, Dec. 23, eight days before he was to retire from the Post Office, after 37 years service.

Timmer announced last summer that he hoped to retire July 30, and settle down to a busy life of travel, community activity and tending his beloved flower garden. But retirement never came because the Charlevoix County Democratic Committee became embroiled in a patronage hassle over who would replace him.

DEC. 19 THE Post Office Dept. announced that Dan Genett, assistant postmaster, had been approved to take Timmer's post and that he would be able to retire Dec. 30.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Dec. 26, in Ellsworth, where Timmer was a member of the Reformed Church.

Danger at Channel Mouth

Though Charlevoix officials appear opposed to, or in the least uninterested in, proposals that the Pine River channel be enlarged, there is support for extending the north pier further into Lake Michigan.

The City of Charlevoix has repeated its request that the Corps of Engineers build the pier further into the Lake. In this it has been supported by Lawrence McDonough, skipper of the Beaver Islander, and Richard Lyons, skipper of the Mackinac Islander.

LOCAL MARINAS and pleasure boaters are also reported to favor the proposal.

Both Lyons and McDonough have cited the danger to incoming and outgoing ships of being dashed on the beach at the channel's mouth during a northeast to west wind.

According to Lyons both pleasure boats and cargo ships are forced to retreat to the lower end of Beaver Island in such a wind, until it abates and they can safely enter the harbor.

Lyons said he feels the pier should be extended between 200 and 600 feet.

Tourist Potential Virtually Untapped

Investors Revive Plans for Plush Hotel Here

Charlevoix is failing to capitalize on 98% of its potential transient summer tourist business.

This is the conclusion drawn from a survey made for Henry Hogan of Birmingham, Mich.

HOGAN, A Chicago Clubmember, has made extensive commercial investments in Charlevoix. He plans to tap some of this escaping business.

His most recent Charlevoix investments include purchasing, with others, a majority share of the idle Holiday Terrace (Beach) Hotel and the Khranke Building on the northwest corner of Bridge and Antrim St.

Earlier this year he purchased the Brinkman Building on the southwest corner of Bridge and Park and the Geiken Building, two doors down. Hogan reports he is still negotiating to buy the Oddfellows Building, which is between the other two.

Hogan is a weekly newspaper publisher in Birmingham, Mich., a former state legislator and an attorney.

HIS ENTRY into the sputtering plan to build a luxurious hotel overlooking Lake Michigan on the site of the Holiday Terrace Hotel revives hopes that the project will materialize.

A group calling itself the Great Northwestern Land Development Co. announced plans last spring

BASKETBALL FOR THE KIDS—All Charlevoix youngsters, from grade school up, get a chance to play supervised basketball at the high school as part of the school's recreation program. These youngsters were on hand one morning during the holidays to get in a little exercise and advice from coach Don Carey. The gym is also open on Saturdays for children of all ages.

Miles Worry Clevenger

Michigan Democrats contend miles are not a limiting factor in a man's ability to represent citizens in Congress or the State Legislature.

Just-elected Democrat Congressman Ray Clevenger sounds like he's ready to argue the point with his political brethren.

CLEVENGER LAST week outlined to the Courier many unresolved problems in setting up an organization that will keep him in contact with the 405,000 people in his 20,000 square-mile Congressional District.

The district takes in all of the Upper Peninsula and the seven northernmost counties in the Lower, including Charlevoix. This is 36% of the state's total land area, and far and away the largest district in Michigan.

Democrats created the district earlier this year after years of argument with Republicans who contended land area should be considered in creating boundary lines for state and national districts.

Democrats won their one-man one-vote principal Clevenger followed his party's reapportionment victory by unseating Republican Congressman Victor Knox. Clevenger polled 86,557 votes to Knox's 75,955. Clevenger, like Knox, makes his home in Sault Ste. Marie.

vedere Club's property would be interested in moving here, cut away.

HE SAID THE channel can probably be enlarged and straightened without disturbing the present highway bridge.

LI. Col. Edward C. Bruce said that if the project is approved the Corps of Engineers will only pay for the actual work in the channel. Local government and private interests will have to pay for all land purchases, and other expenses.

The channel enlargement was requested by Arthur E. Steinbrecher, manager of the Northern Michigan Electric Cooperative at Advance. He was supported by State Sen. Thomas Schwelger, the County Road Commission, Boyne City Chamber of Commerce, County Planning Commission, Lake Carriers Assn., and road builders Hodgkiss and Douma.

Steinbrecher told the Corps the present channel is too crooked and shallow for anything but freighters with a maximum length of 440 feet. Such ships are being phased out in favor of 600 feet long and 60 feet wide freighters, he said.

IF THE CHANNEL is not straightened and deepened to allow room for these bigger ships to navigate, Steinbrecher said the day may come when this plant can no longer receive coal by ship.

In 1964, Steinbrecher said the plant used 62,000 tons of coal and served 35,000 customers. By 1975 he expects the steam generating plant to require 170,000 tons of coal annually.

Shipping the coal in by rail would be considerably more expensive, and require trucking from Boyne City to Advance because the railroad ends at Boyne City, he said.

Steinbrecher predicted new industry dependent on water-borne transportation would move to Lake Charlevoix if the channel is enlarged to accommodate modern ships. He told the Courier he knows of no plant actually MAYOR HAWLEY, and others contacted by the Courier expressed doubts that heavy industry is interested in moving to this area. They point out that except for utility companies and those needing local natural resources, the only new industry in the northland is light assembly and manufacturing.

Perrini reported that only one other community on of like size on upper Lake Michigan or Lake Huron has less freight tonnage going through its harbor annually.

According to Perrini's figures for 1963, tonnage going into Charlevoix and comparable harbors was: Charlevoix, 92,644 tons; Cheboygan, 84,221; Traverse City, 174,718; Ludington, 3,843,407; Alpena, 2,745,354; Frankfort, 1,219,436 and Manistee, 602,896.

The second largest user of the channel for freight, Cities Service petroleum company, has stated the present channel is satisfactory for its shipping needs.

COL. BRUCE did not estimate what the cost would be of making the improvements requested by Steinbrecher. He said the Corps of Engineers would make no decision on the matter until it is assured local interests will pay for condemning and buying necessary land and other costs.

City officials report the channel was deliberately designed with a curve in it to slow down the Pine River's current so it cannot create turmoil in Round Lake.

Clevenger

far, leave alone the driving time, when we want to talk to someone in our Congressman's office?

Clevenger told the Courier he will probably set up an office at Sault Ste. Marie and another at Marquette to handle U. P. liaison. He doesn't know what will happen down below, but he's toying with the idea of setting up voluntarily manned part time offices in strategic locations in the Lower.

However, the complications and misunderstandings that could erupt through a non-professional staff, he says, might cause even worse problems.

CLEVINGER officially goes to work in Washington Jan. 4. He isn't promising to have all the answers as to how one man can communicate with every corner of 20,000 square miles by then.

to build a nine story, $1 million plus, hotel on the site. However, the project appeared doomed by early fall when the federal government refused to loan the group money.

The Great Northwestern Land Development Co. then said it was looking for private capital to carry out its plans.

Hogan last week announced that he, and others in a group called Creative Capital of Michigan, have purchased 75% interest in the project.

ACCORDING TO Hogan, Creative Capital's decision to step into the hotel scheme was made because the group realized that Charlevoix has great potential for resort and small convention business.

A study made for him revealed that 1.5 million cars pass through Charlevoix each summer, but at the most 20,000 or less than 2% stop to do business.

Based on this information and his personal observations, Hogan said he decided to invest in downtown commercial property and the hotel project.

He said Creative Capital's entry into the purchase of Lake Terrace hotel property does not mean the originally-planned nine-story hotel with rotating top floor will be built.

The Year Ahead

quish one from the other."

Last fall when the small boy in East Jordan was lost, men did not scatter aimlessly in all directions looking for the boy. They first found out where the boy was last seen and then looked in that vicinity. It is important when it comes to happiness that we know the right place to look. If we don't look in the right place we spend all our life in the search and never find anything but more anxiety.

We often think the future holds more in store for us than the present. When we were small children we could hardly wait until the day we could begin school. Once in grade school the high school students appeared so important and the day we would enter high school was longed for. When in high school we counted the days to graduation when we would be making our own money. And what is it we look for today, countless things that tomorrow will bring us.

THE PRESENT is so ordinary, so routine but the future holds within its excitement. But the present is reality, something we can do something about, besides just passing it away just dreaming of another day. The future, is fantasy, a dreamland, something that always remains in the future, never damaged by the present.

Maybe it is not to the future that you look for happiness, it may be in your own wealth or position. We have many places beckoning us to come and seek, but only one which promises that we will find.

Happiness is Christ. Therefore happiness or joy can be a part of all people. As Paul said, he had learned to live both with abundance and with poverty. Abundance or poverty had no effect on whether or not he was happy. His happiness came from Him. The Christ, who lived within.

As you enter this New Year, may you put away the anxieties and desires that prevent you from having a happy New Year, and put on Christ who can change darkness into light, sadness into joy, and anxiety into peace, that this might be for you in whatever state you are in a most HAPPY NEW YEAR.

ier pointed out that denying the radio station permission to report a public event was, in fact, an infringement on freedom of information (or, if you please, freedom of the press).

This point had never before been brought out. When it was the Athletic Council appears to have realized it threw a whole new light on the matter. Good for it.

HERE'S ONE THAT REALLY SOUNDS NUTS

AT THE GRADE school the other day taking pictures of classroom exhibits it seemed odd that only the Kindergarten had Christmas trees.

Principal Glenn Snider reports state law makes it illegal to have trees in any room but Kindergarten. Seems the traditional tree creates a fire threat. Which, we all know,

BUT WHAT MAKES it safe for the Kindergarten when it's unsafe for the other 12 grades. Which might be what Leon Kaiser of Consumers Power Co.'s Traverse City headquarters, had in mind during a visit at the Courier editor's office last week, when he remarked with resigned sarcasm, "We have freedom of choice sometimes if we follow the rules."

"Most butchers would rather wait on newbies—they don't remember what prices used to be."

HAPPY NEW YEAR

... it is midnight, and the toll of the bells announce a brand New Year. It is time to begin again. God hands us 365 clean, new days and as we accept his proffer we must make valid resolutions to discharge all the responsibilities that automatically come with them. Our world is confused.
Seeds of destruction are planted everywhere. It is not a time for indecision. May we resolve, right now, to get a clearer view of destiny ... to understand more of the meaning and purpose of life. May we have more time for God, and somehow, may He make us realize, He is in front of all our tomorrows.

Double Ring Rites Unite Nancy Staley, Don Kirkham

The First Methodist Church was the scene Tuesday, Dec. 22, of the wedding of Nancy C. Staley and Donald A. Kirkham, Electronics Technician First Class, U. S. Coast Guard.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Clare Staley and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kirkham of Lakewood, Colo.

THE REV. Raymond J. McBratne officiated at the double ring service in the presence of more than 150 guests. Arrangements of polonaises and red and white gladioli formed a setting for the candlelight service at which Mrs. Lee Moerland sang "I Love Thee" and "O Perfect Love", accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Mark White.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor length gown of white satin fashioned with princess lines and a chapel length train. Applique of seed pearls trimmed the bodice and skirt. A crystal tiara secured her veil and she carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses encircled with white carnations.

Susanne Staley, as her elder's maid of honor, wore a ballerina length gown of emerald green velvet and matching velvet circlet hat fashioned with green tulle and carried a white fur muff topped with a red rose.

Frances Arnold and Mrs. Sally Linsley of Geyford, as bridesmaids, wore gowns and hats of red velvet fashioned like the honor attendant's. They also carried white fur muffs topped with red roses.

DEBBIE TOLLAS was the flower girl and David Tollas the ringbearer.

Richard Kirkham of Chicago assisted his brother as best man. Lou Snider of Chicago and Richard Ross acted as the groomsmen. Mrs. Staley selected a gold brocade suit, black accessories and a rose corsage for their daughter's wedding.

Harmony Hall, decorated in a Christmas motif, was the scene of the reception at which Mrs. Lovell Spence of East Jordan, cousin of the bride cut the tiered wedding cake. She was assisted at the refreshment table by Ann Martin, Mrs. Stanley Smith and Mrs. Dennis Spence. Sue Bacet was in charge of the guest book and Lorelei Gigg the gift table.

For traveling on their wedding trip to Denver, Colo., for the holidays the bride wore a Christmas green velvet suit and matching accessories. After Jan. 4 they will be at home at 60 Le-yard ave., Groton, Conn.

THE BRIDE is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and the Carnegie Institute of Medical Technology and attended Grand Rapids Junior College and North Central Michigan College. She is a dental-medical technician. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Basic Electronics School at Groton, and is presently enrolled in the Advanced Electronics School, also at Groton.

Wedding guests were present from Chicago, Grand Rapids, Cadillac, Gaylord and East Jordan.

School Decorated for Holidays

Young hearts are indeed happy at Christmas-time.

At home, at church and at school children are the center of attention during the holidays.

At school, teachers direct some of this nervous energy into creative pursuits, such as decorating the classroom and making gifts for parents. It is pretty hard to get a child's mind off Santa Claus and onto the textbooks. But by giving them something to do that smacks of Christmas teachers can fulfill two objectives.

The Courier Camera visited Charlevoix Elementary School classrooms to see what the children were doing. The pictures here show the results.

Unfortunately, not everyone's picture could be taken. Nor could every class have its display photographed. So remember there are many more.

The secret of financial success is to spend what you have left after saving, instead of saving what is left after spending.

Nix on Tearing Guts Out of Our Channel

IF YOU HAVE BEEN trying to follow developments concerning proposals that the Pine River channel be extensively enlarged you must at this point feel the issue is rather confused. That it is, at least on the surface. The Courier found itself in the company of most government officials in the immediate Charlevoix area when we suddenly wondered if this thing isn't being streamrollered through.

TO SAY THE LEAST, it came as a surprise to learn (as reported in this week's Courier) that the Corps of Engineers had called off plans to fully rehabilitate the present channel. City Council has been calling for this work for years. Now, with it finally scheduled and the money on hand, the project is reshaped, without even one Charlevoix interest requesting it, or being notified.

If you will study developments carefully, you will find that the electric generating power plant at Advance, which is subsidized by federal tax money, is the only large concern requesting that the guts literally be torn from our present channel and massive changes made.

THE REA POWER plant, of course, had support in its request from other interests. But they were obviously minor. Amounting to little more than a few loads of gravel. The second largest commercial user of the channel (bulk oil carriers) made it clear they are not concerned about widening the channel.

Others stating they either oppose the expansion, or have no interest in it, include commercial boating interests, pleasure boat interests, utility companies, the railroad, highway department and the City of Charlevoix.

Several of these favor lengthening the north breakwater to allow safer entrance into the harbor during a storm.

Spokesmen for the REA interests suggest that condemning and ripping out valuable land bordering the present channel, and doing all the other things that will be necessary to meet their requests, are worthwhile because it will bring new industry to the area. Yet when we asked them if they specifically knew of any industrial firm that depends on water transportation that would move to the shores of Lake Charlevoix they could not give us an answer.

EVERYONE WE HAVE talked to in the City of Charlevoix doubts that new heavy industry will be lured to the area due to an enlarged channel. Heavy industry, they point out, simply is not moving north. Our industrial future is with light industry, such as American Mold and Hoskins.

According to Corps of Engineers spokesmen, the project cannot be undertaken unless it is proven that the benefits to the local economy will exceed the costs. This has not been remotely proven. Yet previous plans to repair the existing channel have been shelved.

Could it be that the federal government has decided it is going to go ahead with the project just because REA wants it? Wouldn't it be cheaper to have the REA plant buy its own ship, one that will navigate the present channel?

Not only will it cost millions of taxpayers dollars to give REA what it wants, it will also mean sacrificing some of the most valuable, beautiful and unique resort property in Charlevoix.

THE WEATHERVANE Inn, which literally sits on the channel bank, may be threatened. The Corps of Engineers says the highway bridge is only 60 feet wide. So it too will have to go to make room for REA's ships that are 60 feet wide. A large hunk of Belvedere Club property will be torn away. And, of course, the channel's charm will be replaced by a huge, and perhaps ugly, trough.

What happens next the Courier does not know. Furthermore, you can rest assured that no one in Charlevoix seems to know. The decisions seem to be in the hands of federal officials.

The Courier is not opposed to progress. We realize that progress often calls for sacrifices. But we question that this is progress. We are more inclined to believe it is no more than an expensive boondoggle designed to satisfy the selfish interests of one concern.

Let's Not Rush Into Building Library Until More Facts Ready

THE CHARLEVOIX Board of Education appears about to launch a public subscription program of some sort to raise funds to build a new library. The Courier recognizes the need for improved physical facilities for our public library. And we will support a community project to raise funds for such a building.

But, simply because the federal government seems to be willing to hand over two-thirds of the cost is no excuse for any of us to approach this thing rashly.

BEFORE ANY campaign begins to raise Charlevoix's one-third share the Board of Education should find out how much it will cost to build a satisfactory structure. Not an elaborate memorial. Charlevoix needs a practical, attractive public library building. This is all we need. Even though two-thirds of the money may be coming from Washington, we should keep in mind that it is still OUR money. Let's spend it wisely.

The Board of Education can find out from the State Library Board what type facility will serve our readers. This information must be available to the state board through its contracts with other small town libraries.

When this information is on hand, then the Board of Education will be prepared to ask the public for funds.

The Courier has taken the initiative in building public interest in our library system. The newspaper finds the public greatly interested in its library services.

WE BELIEVE THE public will support a fund-raising project to build a new library. But we doubt the people of Charlevoix can be duped into handing over money without knowing what will happen with it.

We concentrate on this issue because several Board of Education members have openly suggested they first see how much money the public can be talked into forking over and then plan the building. As one member put it, why should we settle with a $60,000 building, even if it is all we need, if the people can be talked into putting up $30,000, which would be enough to pay for a $90,000 library.

We trust the Board of Education has more integrity than this.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor:

Chamber is for All

DEAR EDITOR: By participating in our recent 1965 membership drive for the Chamber of Commerce I found it was most gratifying to see the fine response in most cases. The majority of people are broadminded and far-sighted enough to realize the importance and need for continuing the work of the Chamber of Commerce.

On the other hand it was most disheartening to learn of the attitude of some of our people. It seems to me that nobody should expect to receive a direct benefit from the Chamber of Commerce but rather to support it as a community wide project that helps the entire area. Nevertheless, too many people expect the business to be pushed in their front door, and some are who want a free ride and to let the other fellow shoulder the expense and work.

I SUPPOSE IT would be an impossibility to please all the people but some of the excuses for not supporting our Chamber were quite ridiculous. If some of these people wanted to take the time to find out some facts and what is really being done to promote Charlevoix I would suggest they drop in the Chamber office and talk with the office staff or any member of the Board of Directors.

Charlevoix is a wonderful place in which to live and work and play. We can make it an even better place if each one of us does his share.

SINCERELY YOURS,
(MRS. GREGORY SHADKO)

Thank You, Mr. Truman!

DEAR EDITOR: "Why did Truman drop the bomb?" writes the anonymous RMB.

I don't think he had any other choice. The choice was: Drop a bomb on a few to prevent the slaughter of the many. If the war had continued and we had invaded Japan, our casualties were predicted in the hundreds of thousands.

Back in World War II, I was trained as a hospital corpsman awaiting assignment to invade Japan. The U. S. Navy didn't train me to take Emperor Hirohito's temperature. It trained me to push guys back into young American kids and wrap tourniquets around their armless and legless limbs during battles.

AMERICAN casualties in the second World War were 1,076,245. How many more would there have been if we had invaded that remote island? Japan was fortified to the teeth, nose, eyebrows, and hair. Casualties on both sides would have been astronomical.

President Truman made the only choice he could. It was a few to save many - and I came awfully close to being one of those many.

And the irony of this story is yet to come: I voted against President Truman after the war. So that also splinters RMB's assumption that only "hep" democrats approved Mr. Truman's agonizing decision.

THANKFUL TO BE ALIVE,
GIL SCHAEFER

Objects to Using Taxes For Tourists

DEAR EDITOR: We notice a request our pupils made to Mr. Hawley for more sports facilities, but as usual our townspeople were turned down.

He wants to use our tax money for his yachmen friends next summer to put in facilities at the lake front on Clinton St. Why can't this request by our pupils be taken up at the council meeting and have the ball field at the high school prepared for skating rink for the larger children and use the Elementary School rink for the small fry. We are going to need some place to keep the boys and girls busy during vacation with all our college students home.

OUR CITY FATHERS hand over our tax money to the Chamber of Commerce to urge outsiders to come and enjoy our facilities so why not think of our local people who are paying the taxes.

Money for Mt. McSaubia ski inspection would be a drop in the bucket considering the amount that is spent of our tax money to entertain our summer people.

We don't have to spend more money during the winter months for law enforcement officers like we do during the summer months.

A Drinking Man's Opinion

DEAR EDITOR: As a drinking man, I am aroused to say a few words for myself.

We are told by the dregs in horrified tones that this nation spends more on booze than it does on education. The worst kind of a half-truth! Three-quarters of the price of liquor is the tax. And much of that tax goes for education.

We are told by the dregs that a boozier's kids go barefoot and mama has to take in washings because Old Drunk Dad spends his paycheck on drinks.

I have never known lack of money to stop a confirmed alcoholic. If he doesn't have enough for whiskey, he will buy wine, he'll beg, borrow or steal.

One point is that a drunk is going to have his booze. Increasing the price of through taxes doesn't keep Old Drunk Dad from getting boozed. It's more apt to keep Junior from getting that new pair of shoes.

What this country needs is a few politicians with the guts to speak up for the stuff that 3 out of 4 of them drink. Maybe the reason they don't is that they get it free from the lobbyists.

A winter wonderland...that's what we in Charlevoix woke up to on Dec. 23---it had rained Tuesday night and then turned to a wet snow that covered every branch and twig...making the world a fairytale of black and white...I hope that you knowbirds who fled the northland are just a little envious of us....

It's two days before Christmas as this is being written...Time when all the parcels are wrapped and placed under the tree...the cards were mailed long ago...and everything's under control...or that's the way it should be...I hope you're one of those well organized people that have this kind of a household....

AND UNDER your Christmas tree I hope you found everything you wanted....

And now we turn to the business of a new year...a bright, beautiful new 365 days that no one has ever lived before...bright shiny days right from Father Time's special mint of new days....

I hope that you will look upon everyone as something very precious and will live it to its fullest...days, especially when you're young, do not seem too valuable...but as you grow older each becomes more precious...I hope you'll learn to look upon each of your days as something special and make the most of it...This is one way of filling away many happy memories that may someday serve as a treasure trove....

Had the good fortune last week of being invited to the Coast Guard Christmas party...It was held at the Lifeboat station and was attended by the families...We all enjoyed the appearance of a magician, Bob Nowakowski, sang Christmas carols and then awaited the arrival of Santa...who found it necessary to come through the front door instead of through the chimney...The many small youngsters were fun to watch...they were so big and brave until it came time to receive their gift from good old Santa...Many of them had to be escorted by a parent...while many of the little ones marched right up and received theirs...There's nothing more fun than we ones at Christmas time....

And the smallest one there was really a wee one...and there's quite a story behind that...Seems he's the newest arrival at the Albert Jacoby home...where he has not only doting parents but three younger sisters, Barbie, Joan and Sharon...And if you cater to his every whim...And if you think young Richard Alan isn't king of all he surveys...well, you just haven't been around this wonderful little family...who feel mighty lucky to finally have a boy after three girls...I forgot to mention that this young man made his appearance Dec. 17....

AND SPEAKING of boys, the Adolphus Allard family was elated recently with the news that their son, Leo and his wife, had a son...Mrs. A. was telling me before they left to see the young man that he was the first boy bearing the Allard name who had been born into the family in 30 years...I hear the proud father, who was the last Allard born, was in orbit and grandfather Dolf was accepting congratulations from everyone coming and going...A pretty happy occasion for everyone....

There were a lot of happy people Wednesday (Dec. 23) when the Sunde returned to port...The ship was called out Monday night to break ice at the harbor in Escanaba for three oil tankers scheduled to arrive there beginning Tuesday...When they left there was the possibility that the ship would have to remain on the job over Christmas...but the orders were changed and the ship was returned here...The Mesquite out of Sturgeon Bay was to take over the job of taking the other two in and out...and everyone is hoping that the third one won't make its appearance on Christmas Day....

AND IT SEEMS as tho' there's never a holiday that doesn't have some sadness. Many knew that our postmaster who was to retire next week had been ill but few realized that his condition was critical...until we awakened Thursday morning to the news that Pete Timmer was gone...He's been at the postoffice as long as most of us have been aware of the postoffice...he made the postoffice a "happy" place as well as a beauty spot...he loved nothing more than discussing his plants, flowers and vines with fellow "green-thumbed"...I think that he was probably proudest of the fact that he was able to make just an ordinary building a thing of beauty...He and I often laughed at the one argument we ever had...when he cut down the big tree directly in front of the building...I tho't it should stay tho' some of its branches were gone...he felt it was a hazard so had it cut...We were never very serious about the difference of opinion...but it came up every now and then...and we came to laugh about it...Like everyone else I will miss his presence....

And now if I may be personal...I knew that sooner or later it would happen...I'd been warned repeatedly that if I didn't get with it Christmas would be here and my cards would still be in the basket...Truer words were never spoken...it did happen...Two days before Christmas and the cards are still in the basket...Somewhere along the way I missed the Christmas spirit...and, as a result, never got them in the mail...so, if you live out of town and your card arrives late you'll understand why...and in town I never sent one...So let that be a lesson to you...and don't wait till it's too late...But tho' you didn't hear from me you were in my thoughts...as you are no matter what the season....

FIFTH GRADE
On Wednesday, Dec. 16, at 11:35 a.m. Dr. James Nidy, D.D.S., performed a successful dental surgery on Carolyn Denney's rabbit. Bringing the ether and acting as anesthesiologist was Kathi Wetland.

"Before the operation could take place, the owner had to sign a statement saying that if the rabbit got too much ether she could not sue Dr. Nidy and if the rabbit died we were all invited to her house for a rabbit dinner. The paper was witnessed by Mr. Albright."

WE ARE HAPPY to announce that the rabbit came through the operation very well and we owe a lot to Dr. Nidy for the rabbit's good condition.

The rabbit has been named Jimmy, in honor of Dr. Nidy, and will be back in a month for a check-up.

With the Christmas season in our midst the tones of peoples voices change. A cheer of "hello" and a smile and a hardy hand shake. Houses are in the yuletide spirit, with lights and decorative objects. How cozy and warm a few moments of time will master.

FOR CHRISTMAS
Now not a window small or big But wears a wreath of holly sprig. Nor any shop too poor to show its spray of pine or mistletoe. Now city airs are spicy-sweet With Christmas trees, along each street. Green spruce and fir whose boughs will hold Their tinselled balls and fruits of gold.

Now postmen pass in threes and fours Like bent, blue-coated Santa Claus. Now people hurry to and fro With little girls and boys in tow. And not a child but keeps some trace Of Christmas secrets in his face.

STOP! LOOK! and listen! I have heard of several other residents of Ellsworth taking a trip to the Sunshine state. I would like to remind you that, we had January thaw in December, February weather last week and that leaves the month of March, only one more month of winter. The UP has had a record amount of snow already this year. So stick around and enjoy next year's weather. This year's season is getting short. Those of you who are winter sports enthusiasts will be able to tell those who would rather be down south and have warm toes, than be up north with red noses, the length of the winter season.

Mr. August Postmus and his son-in-law, Henry B. Heeresand are motoring to Florida for a two week vacation. Follows! Look at the sunshine only.

Mrs. Zell Bricker and Mrs. Ruby Bricker and son Bill have made plans to visit Florida. The date of their departure is December 26 and the plans call for a two week trip. Zell will keep the home fires burning and the snow shoveled.

AT THE Ellsworth Lions meeting the selection of an attendant for the ice skating rink was John Hastings, a very capable person. Half of his job is for you to cooperate with him. The weather can complete the task if it cooperates. As individuals, the Lions will be selling house brooms and whisk brooms, after two weeks the club plans ongoing out in force and finish the job. Incidentally these brooms are made by the blind in Saginaw, Michigan. The Lions are going to share the expense of sending a boy to The American Legion Wolverine Boys State. The money from the broom sale is for the two projects their supporting, ice skating rink and help send a boy to Boys State.

THE JANSEN - Richardson Post 488 of Ellsworth at their last meeting made plans to have the Legion Hall heating system improved. A Community Auction sale will be held in the Spring, a definite date has not been set. The Post will sponsor a boy to The American Legion Wolverine Boys State by themselves and asked the two other organizations to continue to send one boy.

At this year's season you have heard many a Merry Christmas. My wife, son and I, wish you a Blessed Christmas and a Thoughtful New Year.

We are nearing the end of another year, another year older, and we should be better informed. More people are being educated and yet there is so much more to learn. As we grow older we realize the education needed and the classroom work missed.

Those years are behind for some but I have found out that it is never too late to learn. The new year may bring to you the chance for further education. There is a tremendous amount of education needed for the foreign, national and state affairs of our nation. The more interest you take the better educated you can be. These subjects will deal with all walks of life and your life is a small part of this, and the small part that you play can make this coming year a happy and righteous New Year if YOU make it so.

With the Christmas Tournaments just starting it is too early to tell the outcome and the paper will be through the press before it is over. If East Jordan continues to play like they did Saturday against the Lancers, they could be the Tournament Champions.

E. Jordan Defeats Lancers

By Susi Pette
In tournament play at Traverse City, the Lancers were defeated by the East Jordan Red Devils.

In the first quarter, the scoring was fairly even. When the quarter was half over, the Lancers held a one point lead and by the end of the quarter, they had only managed to raise it to a four point lead.

The first two minutes of the second quarter saw this lead slowly diminish until the Red Devils tied the score and then pulled out in front 21-19. From this point on, East Jordan held the lead. Although both sides did quite a bit of scoring, East Jordan always managed to score a few more and keep quite a substantial lead, as was the case at the half, when they lead 39-28.

In the third quarter, the Lancers came back to life for a few minutes and cut the lead to seven points, but the Red Devils soon had it back up to eleven. At the end of the third quarter the score was 56-45.

With the clock running out, the Lancers again cut the difference to seven points, but too late, for with nine seconds left, East Jordan scored again to give them a nine point victory with the final score East Jordan 74 Ellsworth 65.

Chet Boss racked up 28 points to lead the scoring for Ellsworth. Fred Matpas lead East Jordan with 22.

JV's Lose to Petoskey Squad

The Little Rayders went down to a 60-48 defeat to a big Petoskey Northern JV squad at Petoskey Saturday night.

The young Rayders trailed all the way 12-8 at the quarter; 25-20 at halftime and 43-34 going into the final period.

THOUGH THEY had only two less field goals than Petoskey (20-18), and hit on 12 of 14 free throws, they had 21 personal fouls thus giving the Northern an opportunity for the extra points. Petoskey scored on 20 of 32 free throw attempts but had only 12 personal fouls.

Pettenger paced Petoskey with 20 points. Tom Webb came through with 18 for Charlevoix, the only Rayder in double figures.

League officials should study this situation and make changes to remedy the loss of Junior Varsity games.

The pictures you saw in another edition of this paper, will travel many miles. Pamie Shooks told Sam Carlisle that she is sending it to her relatives in Scotland.

WARNING! A STOP sign is now at the South-West corner of Essex and Church road, obey this sign and it may save a life. Several lives have been spared at this intersection. The County Road Commission acted very promptly on the request of the Farm Bureau of Antrim County.

Rayders Win 82-55 In Petoskey Clash

The Charlevoix Rayders, sharing first place in the Northern Michigan Class C league with Gaylord, Grayling and Harbor Springs, will return to the court at Grayling Jan. 8 after closing the 1964 season of their schedule at Petoskey Saturday night.

In the annual mid-holiday meeting, the Rayders came through with an 82-55 victory over the Petoskey Northmen, after splitting with the Class B outfit last season.

THE NORTHMEN forged in to an early lead but the Rayders made a comeback that put them in charge with less than half the period gone to end the first eight minutes with a 22-14 lead.

The half ended with Charlevoix ahead 27-23 after both teams had poured in 15 points each. The red hot Rayders dumped in 26 points including 12 field goals for a 63-46 advantage as the game went into the final quarter.

As Coach Don Carey emptied the bench, the tempo slowed but the Rayders continued to outscore the Northmen 19-9 for the lopsided win.

Doug Winnell with 20 points for the victors paced the scoring followed by Jim Uhrick and Dave Norton with 18 points each. Del Terrill was also in double figures with 11 points. Fred Rice had 12 for Petoskey.

Gas line freeze can happen to anybody, but when you're young and in a hurry, it's a disaster. Here's what gas line freeze is. Moisture collects in a gas line. It freezes. The flow of fuel to the engine of the car is choked off, frozen tight. You're stopped cold. Luckily, there's a simple solution to this wintertime worry. Be a steady user of either American Regular Gasoline or American Super-Premium. They contain the real thing—DE-ICER—to prevent gas line freeze. No extra cost. They were caught on minnows and spoons directly off the Ironton Ferry landing. (The ferry has shutdown for the winter.) Mearle said the perch are hitting right on the bottom—40 to 50 feet. Council Decisions Are Expected On Retirement, Hiring Planners

Employees Ask City Join Plan

City Council Jan. 11 is expected to tackle two expensive issues that could have influence on city government for years. Up for Council action are whether a professional planning consultant should be hired, and if so which one, and whether the city should become a member of the State Municipal Employees Retirement system.

MAYOR E. D. Hawley has asked councilmen to come to the Jan. 11 meeting prepared to make a decision on the planning question. "We'll have to take some action on that (retirement) too, sometime in January," Hawley said. "Either a yes or no."

Four planning firms have submitted bids, ranging from $18,000 to $25,000. The city will pay one-third or one-fourth of this with the Federal Govt. paying the rest.

If the city hires one of these firms a nine-member planning commission will be appointed to work with the professionals in preparing a master plan to guide future building and improve existing conditions where possible.

Rev. L. E. Tenhopen Cong. Church Pastor

Rev. Lawrence E. Tenhopen, 58, has moved to Charlevoix as minister of the First Congregational Church.

Rev. Tenhopen (pronounced 10-hope-n) becomes pastor of the First Congregational Church after 30 years as minister of the South Haven, Mich., Congregational Church. HE REPLACES Rev. Robert A. Harrison who died unexpectedly last April. The church has been interviewing ministers since Rev. Harrison's death. During the interim Rev. Harold E. Kohn, and visiting ministers, have filled the pulpit at the church.

Rev. Kohn's voluntary retirement last year was delayed while the church sought a pastor to replace Rev. Harrison. Now, Rev. Tenhopen reports, Rev. Kohn is expected to be able to settle down to his nationally syndicated writing and his consulting work at his Hidden Brook retreat on Lake Charlevoix.

Rev. Kohn remains Minister Emeritus of the First Congregational Church.

RAMBLING with a sheep

IT'S A GOOD thing the value of Charlie Robinson's office in the County Building isn't measured by its obscurity. The Intermediate School District Supt.'s office in the northwest end of the second floor is one of the least pretentious in the building. Not only is a long walk from either of the building's two major entrances, but when you enter it you always find the desks piled so high with work you doubt there is anyone in the place.

I always feel a bit guilty when I leave Charlie's office. It's rare that he doesn't get two or three long distance calls during the course of our semi-weekly visits. As we chat at least a half-dozen matters are brought to him for immediate decisions.

Charlie, it is fair to say, is one of the few men in the County Building who cannot afford to take an hour out for only half-serious conversation. Yet he always makes time.

For a reporter, who generally finds the County beat barren of anything but dry statistics, the chair across from Charlie's desk is a heaven-sent escape to a few moments of thought provoking philosophizing.

What brings this up is a conversation we had last week. Charlie remarked that a law may soon be proposed that would eventually require all children at the age of three to begin nursery school in preparation for kindergarten. The state-subsidized nursery school would end up being mandatory.

The thought behind kindergarten, of course, is that children come from all types of homes and need a year to get together to learn to conform before they begin first grade. The nursery school would simply start teaching them to conform a couple years sooner.

This lead to something of a disagreement. Conformity, there was no debate, is the objective of those who advocate centralized government and state controls over even more of our activities—which is Socialistic government. But is Socialism good along with my suggestion that if you asked a couple leading questions of all the public school teachers in Michigan you would find 90% of them knowingly believe in Socialism. The percentage, Charlie maintains, isn't that high, I hope, and wouldn't doubt, he's right.

As things became more and more involved, and we found ourselves in agreement on most of the major issues, the suspicion (or maybe fear) cropped up that our public education program is unwittingly channeling the thinking of our future voters into acceptance of an international government.

Most schools, no one denies, no longer teach youngsters a passionate conviction that only freedom and individual

Questions Land Loss On Channel

Arthur E. Steinbrecher, manager of the Northern Michigan Electrical Cooperative at Advance, this week said he is hopeful the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers can come up with a plan to widen the Pine River Channel that will not require cutting away large amounts of land from the present channel banks.

Steinbrecher told the Courier widening and straightening the channel may not require enormous changes because bigger ships have more flexibility, due to bow thrusters, than the freighters now carrying coal through the channel to the Advance steam generating plant.

STEINBRECHER has asked the Corps of Engineers to consider widening and straightening the channel so it will accommodate freighters up to 60 feet wide and 600 feet long and requiring 22 feet water depth.

He said the biggest ships that are now able to carry coal through the channel are 56 feet wide, 440 feet long and with 18 feet of draft.

Though the channel is supposed to have depth enough for boats with a draft of 18 feet, Steinbrecher said that due to low water, several ships this summer have only been able to load to 16 feet.

If the channel could accommodate ships with a bigger load, Steinbrecher said it would mean a considerable transportation savings for his plant.

STEINBRECHER said there is no collusion between the electric cooperative and agencies of the Federal Govt. The cooperative is a Federal Govt. REA affiliate.

"We've simply asked for a study. If the study shows it's feasible (to improve the channel) then we want to move ahead to accomplish it," he said.

Cribbage Tourney

The 35th annual cribbage contest between the Oddfellows and Masonic Lodge starts Thursday evening, Jan. 7, at the Masonic Hall.

This year's captains are Alvin Cunningham for the IOOF and Alie VerWys for the Masons. Co-captains are Alvin Durance for the Masons and Ted Bergman for the IOOF.

REV. TENHOPEN knew both Rev. Kohn and Rev. Harrison before coming to Charlevoix. However, he was not familiar with Charlevoix.

Rev. Tenhopen and his wife Mildred will live at the church parsonage, 204 Park Ave.

They have three daughters: Mrs. Marion (Carol) Easterly and Mrs. Jack (Althea) Warfield, both of South Haven, and Laura, 20, a student at Olivet College.

A native of Grand Rapids and graduate of its public schools and junior college, Rev. Tenhopen received his degrees from the University of Chicago and Chicago Theological Seminary.

BEFORE ASSUMING the pastorate at South Haven 30 years ago he was minister of the Congregational Church in Three Oaks, Mich., for five years.

He is an active member of the Kiwanis Club and has participated in South Haven community activities, including the City Charter Commission.

County Hits New Business Record

Charlevoix County's business community grew by 2% in 1964, according to Dun and Bradstreet.

Thomas C. Roberson, manager of Dun and Bradstreet's Grand Rapids office, reports there are now 249 businesses listed in the firm's reference book.

Roberson said the firm's records show this is a 2% increase over 1963 and the largest number of businesses in the county's history.

Island's Docks To Have Showers

BEAVER ISLAND—The public pleasure boat harbor at St. James will have new and deeper facilities for 16 more boats next summer. There will also be hot and cold running showers for boaters.

Keth Wilson, Michigan Waterways Commission director, reports bids have been awarded for $37,585 in new dock facilities at St. James.

THE CONTRACTOR is Superior Sand and Gravel Co. of Hancock, Mich. Superior Sand and Gravel was the lowest of six bidders. The highest bid was $71,710.

Wilson said the project's total cost will exceed $65,000. This includes engineering and administrative expenses.

The total cost will be paid by the state, Wilson said. St. James and Peatne Townships, according to Wilson, cannot afford to pay the usual 50% share of such a project that is expected from the local community.

It is doubtful, Wilson said, that further improvements or expansion will ever be made at the harbor.

COMPLETION is scheduled for July 1. This will give St. James public slips for 24 boats.

Part of the job includes dredging the area into and around the docks to a minimum of six feet.

Superior Sand and Gravel Co. will also build restrooms and showers onto the present dock-master's building. These will be for the use of boaters.

Another addition includes facilities for sale of gasoline at the public docks.

THE NEW SLIPS will allow larger boats to tie up at the public docks, Wilson said.

According to Wilson, St. James has been classified as a "refuge harbor" by the Federal Govt. This means, he said, that the State is responsible with Federal funds.

Cities that maintain their own police departments would get $2 of the $3 paid by vehicle owners in their municipality. The other $1 would go to the Sheriff.

All money collected from persons living in townships, or villages without law enforcement programs, would go directly to the Sheriff.

Rose predicts such a tax would bring approximately $30,000 into the county. The money would be earmarked for patrolling county roads and streets.

HOW MUCH OF this Rose's department would receive and how much would go to Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan police departments is unknown. Rose's present budget is just over $30,000.

However, Rose feels his department would at least get enough to double its traffic patrols.

The highway accident toll is reported to be rising sharply on county roads patrolled by sheriffs. On main trunklines, patrolled by State Police, the accident rate is reported to be falling or holding its own.

Rose contends the added tax on license plates is justified because highway accidents are the direct product of the increasing number of vehicles on the roads.

Rose Backs Plan to Tax Each Car $3

Sheriff Glenn Rose last week announced he has thrown his support behind a new tax plan that would raise an additional $30,000 for local traffic enforcement.

ESTIMATES ARE that the tax would raise an additional $12 million in Michigan for rural road highway patrols.

Individuals can lend their support to the bill by writing Representative Roy Spencer in Lansing, or Rep. Clayton Morrison in Pickford, Mich. Spencer is backing the proposal and is expected to introduce it for legislative action.

What Made News in Charlevoix

By GLEN SHEPPARD

Stacking the 52 issues of the Charlevoix Courier published in 1964 on your desk and preparing to briefly review the year's news highlights is a formidable task.

But since the Courier is the only chronicle of Charlevoix's history, it's a job that must be done if 1964 is going to be closed-out and a new year in Charlevoix history is to receive its proper perspective.

The following month-by-month report is gleaned from Courier headlines and stories published during 1964.

JANUARY

The old year (1964) began with the Jan. 2 edition of the Courier reporting the hiring of Jack P. Fitzgerald, 38, of Dowagiac, Mich., as the County's new Road Commission superintendent. Fitzgerald came to the county job from a post with the Michigan Highway Commission. As of Jan. 7, 1965, he is still on the job.

The Board of Education announced in January that it was cracking down on misbehaving students. Any student known to drink, aid others in drinking, or do anything else embarrassing to the school, the new board policy decreed, would be barred from student activities.

Nominating petitions were filed by seven men seeking the city's three expiring City Council seats. All filed as Republicans. Candidates seeking votes in the primary were: First Ward, incumbent William Fochtman and rival Hal Forbrigg; Second Ward, Dr. Walter Hoffmann and Robert Lieberman; and Third Ward, Incumbent Jack Grubaugh and rivals Delbert Terrill and Jerry Whitley. Mayor E. D. Hawley and other candidates were unopposed. County Democratic Chairman George LaBlanc at that time stated the 1964 City election would be the last in which no Democrats would be entered. However, there were no Democrats file for the 1965 election.

REALTOR AND developer Charles Holtcamp of Grayling predicted Charlevoix was on the verge of a boom in the construction of medium-priced new homes. City Supt. James Taylor's review of the City's activities in 1964 (published elsewhere in this week's Courier) indicates Holtcamp's prediction was correct. Intermediate School District Supt. Charles Robinson launched his campaign to get voter approval of a half-mill tax levy for special education. The State Dept. of Corrections, the Courier revealed, had cited the County Jail as needing improvements and expansion. On Jan. 23 the Courier unveiled Medusa Portland Cement Co.'s plans to begin development of its South Point property. The story was denied nationally through the big city press, but has since been proven true.

THE SAME WEEK Hal Forbrigg announced he had purchased the old sugar beet plant near the Ferry Ave. beach and would tear it down to make room for a marina and subdivision. The Board of Education appointed an eight-member study committee to determine the school's future tax millage needs. The Courier had editorially urged creation of such a committee. Members were James Hiller, Russell Curtis, Alvin Bevan, Ted Brown, Dean Davenport, Carleton Smith, Phyllis Gill and Leona Bartlett.

FEBRUARY

SHERIFF GLENN Rose announced the County Jail set a new three-month record from November through January. Rose said he has an average of 15 prisoners nightly during the three months and that seven to nine was normal. Jerry Oleson announced he had completed purchase of the block on the south side of Antrim St. from Bridge to State streets and that a supermarket and shopping center complex would be constructed with summer completion scheduled. Winners in the primary election to determine candidates for Aldermen were Bill Fochtman, Jerry Whitley and Dr. Walter Hoffmann. The Charlevoix County State Bank announced it had purchased its two neighboring buildings—Williams News Stand and Florence's Gifts—and would rebuild them to allow bank expansion.

MARCH

A PRIVATE developer from the Detroit area announced plans to build a campground for 300 campsites on Lake Charlevoix just outside the city limits toward the Loeb farm. The plan was later defeated when neighboring property owners objected to rezoning. Midwest Airways, a commercial airline, announced

Re-opening 1964

It was studying the possibility of running scheduled DC3 flights from Charlevoix's new airport. The plan failed to materialize.

The political arena came to life. Boyne City school teacher Irving Smith announced he would seek the Democratic nomination to the State House of Representatives. Incumbent Republican Representative Don Gordon the same week announced he would not be a candidate for re-election.

A Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad executive told the Courier area residents need not worry about the railroad discontinuing service to northern Michigan. At the time the north country was concerned because two other railroads had asked for permission to pull out.

APRIL

WRITE-IN CONTESTS were revealed for first and second ward aldermen. Gordon Barlett in the first ward and Robert Lieberman in the second ward said they would challenge nominated candidates Bill Fochtman, first ward, and Dr. Walter Hoffmann, second ward. However, Fochtman and Hoffmann won.

Cheboygan Circuit Judge Edward H. Fenlon decided that William J. Marne and William G. Marne can legally operate their sanitary land fill in Marlon Township without violating the zoning ordinance.

Big league political action made its first appearance in Charlevoix County during 1964 with a visit by Democrat Neil Stuebler.

Lee Sneathen Jr., Hayes Township, was elected to his third term as chairman of the County Board of Supervisors.

County juvenile court, health, welfare and social aid officials made a plea for elimination of the slum area on the southwest corner of the city.

MAY

CHARLEVOIX HIGH School announced that John Ochs was the Valedictorian of the 1964 class. Salutatorian was Richard Getz. City Council agreed to accept bids of not less than $10,000 on the Colonial Club property. No bids that high were received and sale of the property is still pending, with considerable discussion about keeping it for city recreation or museum use.

Greensky Hill Indian Methodist Church was dedicated a Michigan Historical Site. An appropriate marker and dedication ceremony were held at the church on top of a hill overlooking Susan Lake north of town.

Charlevoix doctors, at the Courier's request, made an all-out effort to publicly urge residents to take their oral polio vaccine at the health department clinic. Some 3,000 persons responded.

May 18 found Mayor E. D. Hawsey in Hudson, Mich., and Hudson Mayor Robert Onweiler in Charlevoix for the annual Michigan Week Mayors Exchange Day.

The Michigan Conservation Commission gave Medusa Portland Cement Co. permission to construct a large dock into Lake Michigan from South Point.

The Charlevoix Garden Club urged merchants and other Bridge St. property owners to decorate their store fronts with flowers during the summer season. Many business places went along with the suggestion. The club expects to push its project again this year.

Ellsworth Community School District joined the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District.

The City audit revealed profit from the Electric Utility was under earlier estimates of $57,000. The actual profit during the 1963-64 fiscal year was $41,689. The audit, however, revealed the city was in sound financial condition.

JUNE

CHARLEVOIX HIGH School graduated 67 students on June 3.

Plans for a $1 million, nine-story hotel on the site of the present Holiday Terrace Hotel were announced by a group of Detroit business and professional men. The group was counting on the Federal Govt. to give it a loan and the loan has not yet been approved. Indications as 1965 begins are that a group of private investors will build a motel or hotel on the site.

Charlevoix grocer, City Councilman and former State Policeman Robert Neff announced he would challenge incumbent Glenn Rose for the Republican nomination for Sheriff.

Voters approved a 2.5-mill tax levy for Charlevoix Public Schools and a .5-mill levy for special education in the Intermediate District. Darrell Dinwiddle and Burr Blanchard were re-elected to the Charlevoix Board of Education. They had no opposition at the polls.

City Council agreed to order at least one property owner in the city's southwest corner slum area to clean-up the frame buildings he was renting. When the property owner, Harry Marlin, took no action the city burned what it described as some of the worst of the filth and dilapidated buildings.

It was announced that the Weather-vane Inn, luxury 36-unit motel across from the Weather-vane Inn, would be completed this winter. The building is expected to open for business sometime in February of 1965.

Postmaster Pete Timmer announced he would retire July 30. Timmer died Dec. 26, four days before he was to finally be allowed to retire, with Dan Genelt replacing him as postmaster. Timmer's retirement announcement in June touched off a five-months long clash for the job among leading County Democrats. The County Democratic Committee finally agreed to appoint assistant Postmaster Genelt in November, but he didn't take office until Dec. 30.

liberty and responsibility are the RIGHT way. Instead they teach that we should understand and even trust forms of government that suppress the individual.

The good old patriots that was pounded into even my young generation has passed from most classrooms. Only one history book in 20, or maybe less, quote and praise Nathan Hale's extremist remark, "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country," or Patrick Henry's immortal, "Give me liberty or give me death."

The anti-United Nations notion that the United States is the best and owes nothing to no one and will take no guff from any other country has little place into today's classroom.

Charlie and I didn't settle the matter. It's bigger than any of us. But it is good to know the top educator in our three county area is thinking about it and still stands tall and straight for the impracticality of individual liberty and refuses to blindly accept the educational philosophy dictated by Washington and Lansing.

SEVERAL PEOPLE, including those of us at the Courier, were plagued during the holiday season by vandals stealing outside Christmas lights. Police report they think they're on to who did it, but probably can't prove it.

The whole business seems ridiculous. Why would anyone—even a kid—steal the lights. Surely they don't want to use them. People who go to the trouble and expense of putting up decorations deserve better treatment than this.

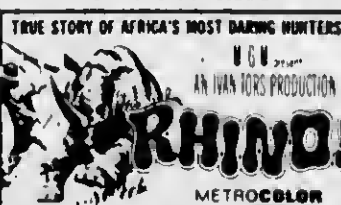

If kids would only unscrew the lights enough to put them out for a prank it wouldn't be so hard to understand. But stealing them is just plain lousy.

The world's leading acoustical experts made the test.
The U. S. Auto Club certified the results:
at 20 mph ... at 40 mph ... at 60 mph ...

The 1965 Ford rides quieter than a Rolls-Royce!

...and now let's talk about some other Ford surprises...

Test-drive a Ford—and you're in for some surprises. Leading acoustical consultants conducted tests in which 1965 Fords (Galaxie 500 Sedan, XL and LTD Hardtops) with 289-cu. in. V-8 engines rode quieter than a Rolls-Royce. These tests were certified by the U. S. Auto Club.

When you feel a 1965 Ford in action—with the strongest Ford body ever... a revolutionary new frame that "tunes out" vibration... new ultra-soft coil spring suspension—you're bound to be impressed. But the ride is only one of Ford's surprises...

■ New sweep-back instrument panel adds five inches extra knee room. ■ Transmission tunnel is lower for extra foot room. ■ Trunk has more space than ever—holds four 25-liters standing upright. ■ Handy new "reversible" ignition key—works either side up.

■ Hot, but hushed, 289-cu. in. V-8 is standard equipment in XL and LTD models. ■ Smooth, thrifty all-new Bix Six in other models—the most powerful standard Six offered by any car in Ford's class. ■ V-8 options to 425 hp.

■ All Ford automatic transmissions have three speeds, not two as in some competing cars. Result: you pass faster, shift smoother, save on gas. ■ Fully synchronized manual transmissions—you can even shift down to first without clashing gears. ■ New Ford LTD 4-door hardtops have 10 courtesy lights, 5 ash trays. Upholstery treated to keep its beauty with Scotchgard® stain repellent. ■ Luxuries you'd expect only in the highest priced cars.

Surprised? You will be... when you visit your Ford Dealer and test-drive the Quiet One. Do it soon!

Harold Totten Takes Kiwanis Club Reins

Charlevoix Kiwanians will join those from Harbor Springs and Petoskey 7 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 13, at the Harbor Inn, for installation of new officers.

Harold Totten will become President of the Charlevoix Club, replacing Richard Richards.

STEPHEN T. CZARNECKI, Ham-tramck, Governor of Michigan Kiwanians, will address the clubs as the highlight of installation night ceremony.

The tri-club installation has become an annual event. Next January it will be held in Charlevoix.

Another feature of the installation program next week will be induction of new Kiwanis members. Rex Davis will join the Charlevoix club. Members will attend with their wives.

Czarnecki, a commercial manager for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., will outline some of the major goals of Kiwanians for their Golden Anniversary Year.

As head of the Michigan District of Kiwanis International, Czarnecki is the official spokesman for approximately 9600 Kiwanians in 207 clubs in the lower peninsula and the three eastern counties of the upper peninsula of Michigan.

Church Women Set Joint Meet

The Womens Circle and Missionary Society of the Charlevoix First Baptist Church have done many things in the past months.

In November they started working on their quotas for White Cross Overseas missions. This included making quilt blocks, cutting gauze bandages, buying clothes and meeting other mission needs.

DECEMBER INCLUDED the annual Christmas party at the Arnold Copeland residence. Twenty-five cent gifts were exchanged and each guest brought a pair of mittens for needy children of Charlevoix.

A family potluck dinner was planned and served on New Year's eve. This was followed by fun, fellowship and a Communion candlelight service to bring in the New Year.

January 11 is the Annual Business meeting of the church. The women plan on serving lunch following this meeting.

The first meeting of the combined circles is planned for January 13 at which time new officers will be elected and plans drawn up for 1965.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Tollas had as guests her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Hanslovsky, her brother, Jules, and his guest, Miss Glenda Simpkins, all of Lansing.

The Patrol Leaders of Boy Scout Troop II, Charlevoix, held a training session at Mr. Leonard Burns' cabins on the Boyne City Road December 27-29. Patrol Leaders participating in the three day session were Joe Hayes and Bob DeYoung, with Paul Fiedorek and Terry Blisset pinchhitting. Scoutmaster, Louis Edwards, Asst. Sr. Patrol Leader Larry Anders and Troop Scribe Gordon Solomon also attended. The boys were shown how to lead a patrol on a hike, which they took during the session. The training program consisted of films on "So Now You Are a Patrol Leader" and "The Patrol Leaders Council", which helps solve problems in the troop and makes the scouting program. Other films were on meeting with patrols, learning by doing, hiking with the patrol and patrol camping. There were talks on patrol spirit, games and game leading.

Fifteen Boy Scouts of Troop II attended the Wednesday night meeting, which wasn't too bad a turnout considering the holiday season. The Scenic Trails Council Commissioner introduced the new Neighborhood Commissioner, Mr. Thomas Lawton, who gave a very nice greeting to the boys. The Neighborhood Commissioner's position is as liaison officer of the Council and the Unit. He works with the leaders and committees as well as the boys themselves.

The last portion of the meeting was handled by Steve Wilson who demonstrated lashings.

The troop hopes everyone had a very Merry Christmas and wishes everyone a very Happy New Year.

The uninsured man isn't mellow. He's apt to get mad and to bellow. But if he would insure, He'd feel more secure And of course he'd become a nice fellow!

Ellsworth Has Ups, Downs In Traverse City Tourney

By Kathi Wieland
And Suzi Pether

ELLSWORTH -- In the final game of the Christmas Tournament, the Lancers lost a very close game to the Gladiators, from Traverse City St. Francis 74-49.

The Lancers did hold the lead 5 times, while the Gladiators held it only 4, but Ellsworth didn't have it when the final buzzer buzzed, and that's when it really counts.

SCORING IN THE first quarter was just about as even as it can get, being tied at the end of this period 21-21.

In the second quarter the Lancers took over control of the scoreboard, and held a 40-36 lead at halftime. Then came the third quarter in which the Lancers really goofed big. Neither team scored a lot, but St. Francis definitely had the edge throughout this period, and were ahead at the end 55 to 51.

The Lancers were determined to come back in the 4th quarter, but the Gladiators surged ahead during the last few minutes of the game.

Ken Richardson led the Lancers scoring with 24 points. Mike Donley led the Gladiators with 25 points.

ALTHOUGH THE Lancers failed to bring home a trophy, on Tuesday night, they beat a strong Suttons Bay team 70-67 in the first quarter, the Lancers came within three points of tying the score but the Norsemen boosted their lead to seven points at the quarter when the score was 20-13.

The battle really began early in the second quarter when the Lancers came up from behind and Gary Torgna led the score at 23-23. This was the story throughout the quarter, in which the score was tied eight times. The Norsemen led five times and the Lancers led four times. Just before the halftime whistle blew, Jerry Sand dropped in two points to put Suttons Bay ahead, 35-33. The third quarter was more of the same thing. The score was tied 40-40 at the end of the quarter. At one point the Lancers held a seven point lead, but at the end of the third quarter the lead was only four points. The score was now 53-49.

THE LANCERS held this four point lead in the early minutes of the last quarter until the score was 55-59. Then the Norse-men closed in and tied the score at 59-59. Then in a few terrible seconds they jumped ahead 67-64.

Marv Ruis narrowed the margin to one point and with six seconds left in the game, Chel Boss put Ellsworth in front 68-67. While making the basket, Chel was fouled. He sank two free shots and the game ended Ellsworth 70, Suttons Bay 67.

Chel was top scorer for Ellsworth with 26 points and Bill Green led Suttons Bay with 18.

As Loops Action Resumes Rayders Tackle Grayling

Teams of the Northern Michigan Class C league will return to the hardwoods Friday to open the 1965 season of the current basketball season.

For four of the teams, including the Charlevoix Rayders, it will mean a brand new start for the Rayders, along with Gaylor, Grayling and Harbor Springs are presently tied for first place with identical records of three wins and one loss in league play.

AS THE SEASON goes into its final 10 loop games, Charlevoix will travel to Grayling, Gaylor will invade Mancelona, Harbor Springs will host East Jordan and Pellston will travel to Boyne City.

As mentioned before, Charlevoix and Grayling have identical records. Both have been defeated by Gaylor, the Rayders by a score of 76-72 and Grayling by a score of 56-45. On the credit side of the scorebook, the Rayders have defeated Mancelona (79-43); Pellston (77-56) and Boyne City (51-38) while Grayling won over Boyne City (59-43); Pellston (60-50) and Mancelona (59-42). In other words, both teams have lost to Gaylor by similar scores and have defeated the same opponents and have yet to meet Harbor Springs and East Jordan in the first half of their respective schedules.

In non-league play, Charlevoix has defeated Petoskey (62-55) and Grayling has won over Roscommon (63-29).

Grayling boasts a scoring ace in Walt Nielsen 6-6 center who has accounted for 54 of his team's 223 points. He is followed by Terry Smith who has 44 points. Other starters are Richard Smith, Curt Feldhauser and Roy Neal, a 6-4 sophomore who is following in the footsteps of his older brothers who were well known in league circles in past years.

COACH DON Carey will likely start Jim Uhrick, the Rayders' top scorer with 58 points in four games, Doug Winnell, who started in the Petoskey game and who seemingly has recovered from an ankle injury, Dave Norton, 6-5 center who has 43

The Challenge Ahead For Charlevoix in '65

THIS WEEK Charlevoix enters another year. Most of us, we hope, started 1965 with confidence and determination that we can and will do better than last year in our efforts to better our home, community and treat our neighbors as we would have them treat us.

Not that we didn't do a good job in 1964. The past 12 months have, by all tangible indications, been good ones for Charlevoix, Charlevoix County and its people.

IF YOUR MEMORY has dimmed, take a gander at the feature starting on this week's Courier front page reviewing 1964. From this you will see that the economy was good, more and more people are talking about Charlevoix's great future, that the city's public officials are coming to grips with problems that have been ignored for years and that our schools are making every effort to keep astride of the complex future that faces our children.

But we cannot long bask in the success that was 1964. We must accept the challenge right now of 1965. It is here. Either we tackle it, or it will pass us by.

As the Courier settles down to face 1965, we feel it is our responsibility to outline specific action that is needed on a community level to better Charlevoix. We do not do this with the pretense that we have some magic formula for the future, or that the Courier can provide all the answers.

But as the institution historically assigned to professionally keep tabs on the public interest, and the only one that delves into the intricacies and moods of all levels of government, education and community life, the Courier, like all newspapers, has this responsibility. We will not shirk it.

PERHAPS THE community's foremost concern in 1965 should be further progress in eliminating the slum conditions that some families continue to live in on the southwest corner of town. Thanks to the courage and foresight of our City Council some of the worst of these slum dwellings have already disappeared. With an assist and advice from the State Health District more can be accomplished. Unfortunately, health dept. people seem more inclined to talk about the problem than to step in and legally demand action. However, through employment of a professional planning firm (which appears to be only a few weeks away) City Council may work out the problem through its own initiative.

Other issues pale in our view when compared to the slum problem. But they are still here and must be dealt with. Not to be lightly dismissed is the continuing inequity of representation on the County Board of Supervisors. As long as a majority of the supervisors continue to represent a small minority of the population most of the county's people cannot expect their needs to receive just treatment.

Why Secrecy on Teachers Pay?

THOUGH IT IS difficult to get information on the matter, it appears Charlevoix teachers will again be asking for a pay raise in the near future.

Last year teachers asked for a raise, and got it. Some administrators deny the faculty actually received a raise. They prefer to say teachers were "brought up to the pay schedule." Which is true, but is no more than a roundabout way of saying they found more money in their pay envelope.

HOWEVER, DON'T MISUNDERSTAND, the Courier favors salary increases for Charlevoix teachers. What we do not like is the secrecy that surrounds the subject.

The Courier feels teachers should make a comfortable living. Our teachers are as important to us as our doctors, lawyers, engineers, etc. Yet they under receive a laborer's wages.

True, raising their pay will not assure us we will have good teachers. But underpaying them is certainly a surer way of getting poor teachers.

People argue that teachers only work nine months a year and consequently should make less money. We find this a flimsy point. Teachers are not to blame because the school-year ends in June and begins again in September. And they should not be penalized for it.

CHARLEVOIX HAS been fortunate in that

There is also need for reorganization of city government through election of a charter commission and adoption of Home Rule status. Until this is done the city must continue to operate under the thumb of the state and put up with the absurdities of annual elections and the resulting lack of continuity and clumsiness of an antiquated form of government.

THOUGH COURIER and city efforts have failed to guarantee us protection against future air contamination from Medusa Portland Cement Co.'s proposed South Point plant, those of us concerned with what coming decades hold for our beautiful community must not forget the issue. Though it has been wrested from control of the majority, we must continue to scrutinize the ordinance Medusa is dictating to Charlevoix Township.

The Chamber of Commerce's second attempt in less than two years to create an active winter sports program should be pressed to success. The Chamber's Retail Committee should also be encouraged to continue the aggressive, wide-awake, program it started at Christmas under chairman Don Kowbel.

Other matters that should concern the chamber include active efforts to encourage construction of more campground facilities in the area, a better publicity program and imaginative efforts to stop some of the 98% of transient tourists who are passing through town without leaving their cars.

IT SEEMS TO US that city employees warrant a retirement plan and, certainly, the state controlled program is the broadest and most practical. However, this will cost taxpayers money, so it only seems reasonable that city employees should publicly explain their request.

Vocational education continues to be one of our primary needs. Through state and federal programs this is becoming more and more a possibility. However, it will require alert leadership not only on the part of Intermediate District Supt. Charles Robinson, but also from local school administrators and boards of education.

Pressure continues to mount for improved public library facilities. Proposals to construct a new library are worthy of community support. However a new building will not assure us of the library services Charlevoix deserves. Also needed is continued emphasis on additional books, better display of these books and longer library hours. The Board of Education is doing everything possible to improve conditions with the resources it has available. Patience may be required, and should be given as long as progress continues.

Of course, there are other matters that will come to our weekly attention during 1965. These are only a few of them, but they are worthwhile goals.

It has an outstanding public school faculty. But with metropolitan area schools paying wages that are 50% higher we may not always be this fortunate.

Charlevoix can afford the best for its children. Every critique available of our school system indicates we are now getting the best. So let's pay for it.

Perhaps teachers will find the public more inclined to listen to their reasonable requests if they are brought out in the open and fully explained.

OUR READERS WRITE

Dear Editor:

Servicemen Make Great Sacrifices

DEAR EDITOR: I would like to defend the U.S. Servicemen against the slur in your Rambling Column of 17 December. You stated, "Lifetime Civilians and disgruntled former soldiers have a habit of classifying professional military people as misfits, who couldn't make it on the outside. Of course this is true of many." On what authority can you make such a statement? In my opinion, there are very few civilians who have this conception and there are very few career servicemen of whom it may be true. You go on to say, "But not of my sergeant friend who didn't want anything to do with killing animals who weren't out to do him any harm. Nor is it true of most of the career Infantrymen I knew. Of the other services, and branches of the Army, I cannot speak." Why can't you speak? Or do you think the many career Air Force and Coast Guard men stationed in Charlevoix are also misfits who can't make it on the outside? You have been in Charlevoix long enough to meet a number of the servicemen, but if you can't speak, I suggest you contact some of the other townspeople for their opinions. I think they will tell you that our local military men are fine upstanding citizens who have what it takes to perform long hours of duty and make many personal sacrifices to serve their fellow men and their country. I am confident they could make it on the outside in a number of occupations.

Continuing in your column, you proceed from the "professional military misfit" to "the men who are fighting our useless war for us in Viet Nam know full well there can not be a victory." How many of them have interviewed to arrive at this bit of biased presumption? I am enclosing a letter from an Army Captain in Viet Nam entitled "Why I'm Here" which was published in the Navy Times newspaper on 3 December. I hope that you will republish it in your paper for those many Americans who disagree with (and the few who support) your biased Republican opinions of the Viet Nam situation.

Such phrasing in your column as "this column and its readers are..." "We, too, can see..." and "we know..." are excellent examples of twisted journalism or due to the fact that you are naive enough to believe that a majority of your readers share your misinterpretations. I am larger in size, but the quality is rapidly degenerating.

SINCERELY YOURS,
C. A. MILLARDT
LIEUTENANT COMMANDER, USCG

Doctor Doesn't Like New Courier Editorial Policy

DEAR EDITOR: I feel that the December 30 issue of the Courier reached a new low in poor taste and irresponsible journalism, a goal not easy to attain in the light of past performance. I refer specifically to the revolting headline of the editorial on the channel, and to the editorial on the proposed library. Regardless of one's stand on these issues and many others that have appeared previously in the Courier, there is such a thing as dignity in journalism. These poorly informed harangues should not be dignified by any other name.

An editor should have sufficient respect for his readers' intelligence to present a paper reasonably free of misspellings, poor grammar and inaccurate, bear-say reporting. "Folksy" slang has no place in news reporting, editorials, and headlines. I am not proud of the new Courier. It is larger in size, but the quality is rapidly degenerating.

CORDIALLY,
ROBERT G. MARTIN, M.D.

Farmers Watch Lansing

DEAR EDITOR: It is a foregone conclusion that the 73rd session of the Michigan legislature, due to convene January 13, will be of special interest to Michigan farmers. In the words of one veteran lobbyist, the November election, based on the new state apportionment, has caused "fruit-basket upset." More than 80 out of the 140 members of House and Senate will be new this year to the seats to which they have won election. A few members of the House have moved over into the Senate, and several former members of the legislature will be returning this year after periods of absence.

In contrast, the new Michigan legislature will be composed of a majority of people who know little about farming from first-hand experience.

This means that the farmer's job will be mostly one of education and information to help these men and women understand. Farm leaders will have to work hard at this job. They will have to be careful and sharp in presenting their facts.

By FRAN MARTIN

One week of 1965 has passed as you read this...How many of those resolutions have already gone by the board?...I'll wager that most of them have...Why do people, in all good faith, make out a list of resolutions that they have every intention of keeping and then...wbam-o...there they go...But it's always fun while it lasts...

What do you think of the new cancellation stamp that the city is boasting these days? It's on the postage meter and bears the legend "Birthplace of Water-Winter Land"...which is certainly a most clever as well as a very appropriate tag line...for Charlevoix, back in the mid-20's was truly the birthplace of winter sports in the state and with its three lakes, is also a water wonderland...The nearby ski resorts have done much to make it a winter resort...and with so many of our summer residents opening their homes during the holidays...and other times during the winter, Charlevoix's fast becoming a year-around resort...

IT WAS GOOD to see the Frank Rothschild home on Michigan Ave., lighted during the holidays...among those on the Belvedere were the Ransoms...on the Chicago Club the Pews and out at Evergreen Point the Bill Schade gang...Had a chat with the charming Mrs. S...She said that the family thoroughly enjoyed their stay here...They'd come up as soon as school was out...and spent all their time on the ski slopes or out-of-doors...before heading back home and to the classroom...It's always a happy surprise when we see these people between summers...

Just finished a basketball story...This week will launch the 1965 part of the schedule...for Charlevoix it will mean 15 games in a period of less than two months...so if you're a round ball fan you'll be plenty busy during the coming weeks...And then, as though it's the frosting on the cake, come the tournaments...This year the district tourney will be in Boyne City and the regionals at Petoskey...So how about following those Raydars...they're a grand bunch of guys...from Coach Don Carey right down to the student managers...You'd love knowing them if you don't already...

Was so surprised the other day when I received a letter card...On the back was a picture of the "Carman" on the Cunard Line...and I couldn't help but wonder who my "travel" friend was...I'm sure you'll be as surprised as I was for it turned out to be Mrs. Harold Gekko who wrote that she and Mrs. Ellis VanSickle of Lansing and Holy Island were enjoying a cruise of the West Indies...When she wrote they had done San Juan on Dec. 26...I've changed my opinion of Puerto Rico...It is a modern city and the slums are fast disappearing as low-cost housing takes over...She concluded by saying she was getting a "terrific tan...at Christmas time"...Doesn't that make you turn a little green?...and wished everyone a happy New Year...AND NOW bring you up to date on our other "travel" friends...namely, Dave Rader and Howard Majors...I think I mentioned earlier that they'd arrived in Belgium and had gone to Brussels to visit Dave's uncle and aunt...On a card from there they wrote "We bought motorcycles last week. As soon as the papers are ready we will leave for Switzerland to get in a little skiing...Then South to the Mediterranean...Spain and then double back to Greece. Later next year we head back up to the Scandinavian countries...Get that basketball team rolling this year...Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to everyone..." So consider yourselves greeted...along with me...

Did you hear about the dog that went to the concert?...As a sub-title I'd like to call it "What Not to do when you see a dog that looks as tho' he is lost"...I went to the recent Veepers Concert presented by the Community Choir...It was at the high school gymnasium...about a third of the way through the concert, I wandered a big black shaggy dog with a face very much like that of a bear...He was whimpering so I reached down and petted him in an effort to quiet him...We put him out for this certainly was no place for a sad pooch...but he was smart, he waited till someone opened the door and got back in...The second time he ambled about the big room as tho' looking for someone and then settled down at the feet of Elaine Martin...leading people to believe he belonged to the Martins...When we left the building, he either spotted me as a "soft touch", a fellow Martin or a friend...and followed me home...I made like I didn't know him and left him at the door-step...but after several hours I relented and let him come in...gave him some food and a bed for the night...Meanwhile, I'd notified the Sheriff's and Police Departments...I forgot to mention that one of the first things I'd done was call Dr. Martin's house and inform them that their dog was at my house...only to be told they didn't own such a dog...

THE FOLLOWING day I again called the sheriff's department and asked the Petoskey station to broadcast a lost dog...Then, as I talked to people and told them of the dog, I started calling people who had black dogs...by night I'd made at least 20 calls and when others heard my voice they merely said "No, the dog is not ours" (after having heard the appeal on the radio)...So another night spent with a very sad dog who wanted nothing more than to be returned to his home...Come Tuesday and another call to the Sheriff's department...This time I was told the dog might belong to some people at North Point...And it did...to a family with four children who had shed many tears while they looked every place for their "Smoky"...It seems the family had come here from Texas in October...The father is with the RBS site...and Smoky was one friend they had in this new land...they came right down and picked him up and four youngsters looked as tho' they'd never let go of the pooch again...I'm sure he was equally as happy to be home with his family...

But unless you have a soft heart (or should I say head) and want to spend a lot of time looking for the owner, don't pick up with strange dogs that are lost....

FROM ROY

Many events have taken place this holiday season. Happy? Yes. Exciting? Yes.

Prayers were sent in behalf of a girl who met with a serious accident December 29. The auto accident in which, Madeline Taylor and her nephew, Art Miller were involved saddened this community. Madeline was operated on. At this writing her condition is improving and the doctors are keeping her under heavy sedative. No visitors.

The incident that happened during the holiday season was of poor character. This writer will defend the young people when ever possible, but ruining Christmas decorations has no excuse. There are other things to do to keep yourselves out of trouble. Why don't you guys go up to the dance near Harbor? Or is this more of a disgrace than the act that you pulled? You young people are getting less appreciative all the time. The people are trying to meet your recreational needs and yet this is not suitable. Along with your spiritual training you need to learn respect. When you lose respect for the teacher, the community, the law, yes even your parents, how can you have respect for God.

The people of Michigan were of high spirits, after the Rose Bowl victory, when U. of M. trounced their opponent. I heard several MSU fans give praise for their rivals on the victory.

The Cadets completed a three day camp-out, the boys and their counselors were out in the woods when the old year left and the new year came. A cold way to start the year 1965. The Cadets are still trying to find, who the one person is who kicked over the kerosene can. After that incident occurred, the group was without heat. Did someone say the pioneers lived a rough life?

Those of you who are interested in out-door sports, the ice skating rink is available when the green flag is up.

Ice fishing is in full swing. The most important question now is, where can they buy bait? It would be proof of you getting that big one if you could have Sam take the picture of the one that didn't get away. The spears have been sharpened and the sportsmen are eager to use on a muskie. Sam is ready. SMILE!

The Antrim County Farm Bureau National Affairs Committee attended a dinner in Clare Dec. 29. The group had the pleasure of conversing with the 10th Congressional District Congressman Elford (Al) Cedarberg and his assistant Walter G. Nakula. Mr. Nakula will visit each County and is the person with whom you can make contact. Members of the committee are: Roy Staudenmeyer, chairman, Merrill McPherson and Doris Wieland. The County President, Lloyd Mayne, also attended.

The Ellsworth Extension Club will meet at Mrs. Hazel Edson's and co-hostess Laura Wilson, at 8:00 p.m. Jan. 12.

Denny's Shopping Center will close about January 15. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Denny will take a two months vacation.

Jay Essenberg is still in Munson Hospital and is spending a very uneasy time.

Have you noticed how Miss J. S. was beaming during the New Year holiday. What perfume does she use?

The weather conditions lately, would make one think it is southern Michigan. Slipping and sliding from one side to the other, but not the right condition for skiing.

Proponents of the Medicare plan for providing certain medical benefits to people drawing social security payments intimate, if they don't actually state, that next to nothing is being done to meet the medical problems of the needy elderly.

Nothing could be farther from the truth.

Sometime ago, the federal Kerr-Mills law came into being. This is a joint federal-state project, which puts the administrative responsibility where it belongs--at the local instead of the national level. It offers health care to all elderly people who are actually in need. And it is a complete program, encompassing hospital, nursing home, medical, dental, surgical and drug care. In this all-important respect it offers much more than Medicare.

The taxpayers are meeting the bill for this. If Medicare also became law and the strongest kind of pressure will be put behind it when Congress next convenes--we'll be paying twice, unnecessarily. And the Medicare bill would be no small one. It would increase the social security tax, borne by employers and employees, to 10.4 per cent of the first $5000 of annual income by 1971. That works out to $582.40 for each covered worker. Many think that even this wouldn't be sufficient to meet the costs, and Medicare would undermine the whole social security system.

We have, in other words, under Kerr-Mills, a well conceived method of aiding the ill and infirm elderly. It can be further broadened and improved if that is found necessary. In addition, there are all manner of public and private welfare plans. The medical profession itself is pledged to provide care for all in need, regardless of their ability to pay. The case against Medicare is overwhelmingly strong.

ROY SAYS...

The Holiday season tournament, played at Traverse City is now history. The crowning of the Champions was Wednesday night, Dec. 30. East Jordan carried away the winner's trophy as well as their coach. Their total points were not excessive, but enough to win the game. Ellsworth was beaten in the consolation game by St. Francis. The game was a see-saw affair, it could have been anyone's game. St. Francis 74, Ellsworth 69. The night before Ellsworth came out ahead against Suttons Bay. This was the most exciting game of the tournament, Ellsworth behind by one point, with several seconds left in the game and then winning by three points. The final score Ellsworth 70, Suttons Bay 67.

OF ALL THE TEAMS playing in the tournaments, Ellsworth fans gave the Lancers the largest support, not only in noise but also in numbers. The Tournament sponsors told Coach Bob Danforth, "Your fans should be congratulated on the support they gave your team. They are making this tournament a success."

This Friday, Jan. 8 Rapid City will visit Ellsworth with Varsity and a Junior High team. The Lancer Varsity squad will be plenty of action. It is going to be difficult for my broadcaster to keep up with the substitutions.

The Tuesday night games will be more interesting when Ellsworth will host Elk Rapids. Larry (rough guy) Fielstra is looking forward to seeing action in this contest.

The Junior Varsity is scheduled to play also. This will be their first game in four weeks. A layoff of this length can hurt, and then some of the Varsity players were complaining about too much action during the vacation. You can't stay on top by being idle.

Denny's Shopping Center will close about January 15. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Denny will take a two months vacation.

Jay Essenberg is still in Munson Hospital and is spending a very uneasy time.

New Snag Hits Plan For South Pt. Dock, Might Block Hotel

The conflict between Charlevoix tourist and industrial interests is quietly brewing this week in Cleveland, Ohio and Lansing and Birmingham, Mich.

Investor Henry Hogan of Birmingham last week told the Courier plans for development of a nine-story hotel on the site of the present Holiday Terrace Hotel hinge partially on Medusa Portland Cement Co.'s plans for developing its property on South Point.

THE MICHIGAN Conservation Dept. announced it is holding in abeyance the permit to build a dock it previously approved for Medusa. A committee from Charlevoix

RAMBLING with abop

The Courier, you may have already noticed, this week has a new correspondent, Mrs. Ross Alexander of Ironton.

Mrs. Alexander's rejoining the Courier fills a gap that has seriously troubled us for months. Ironton is one of western Charlevoix County's most important rural communities. Not being able to provide local news for residents of the home of the nationally-known Ironton Ferry, has caused considerable dismay for the Courier editor.

However, now it appears the wait was worthwhile. Being able to enlist Mrs. Alexander in our cause makes it so. Oldtimers in both Charlevoix and Ironton who know Mrs. Alexander will agree with me, you newcomers who haven't yet crossed her cheery path will also fall victim to her warm smile.

So how about all of you giving her a hand by calling her with any news about Ironton families and clubs?

Some Charlevoixites will remember Mrs. Alexander as their second grade teacher in 1923 at the old Lincoln School (now the American Legion Hall). Among those she taught is Deputy City Clerk Herb Campbell.

How does she remember our buddy Herb? "Herb was a nice little fellow," Mrs. Alexander recalled as we sat in her living room chatting the other afternoon.

IRONTON, AS you must know is also the home of the incorrigible William (Sandy) Sanderson.

After 38 years as Eveline Township Supervisor, you would expect Sandy to be ready to turn things over to younger men without a thought of the future. But at 80 some odd years of age (and you can interpret that "odd" in any way you want to and still come out ok) Sandy is worried about what the County Board of Supervisors does.

Though he will officially retire from the board April 1, Sandy had some advice for supervisors and voters at last week's meeting.

Sandy told this column the board's biggest weakness is that supervisors are too intent on agreeing. He quoted a candidate for supervisor as saying that when he got elected he would go to the meetings and find out how the wind was blowing and go along with it.

"That's the kind of s-o-b we don't need!" Sandy exclaimed.

He figures a good supervisor ought to question everything that comes up and do

Michigan Ave. To Be One-Way

Michigan Ave., tentatively, will be a one way street next summer. On Councilman Dr. Walter Hoffmann's suggestion, councilmen Monday decided in favor of limiting traffic on Michigan Ave. during July and August.

DR. HOFFMANN, who received immediate support from Mayor E. D. Hawley, said making the street one way, so traffic can only move south, will eliminate the dangerous intersection at the junction with Petoskey Ave.

Under the plan, traffic from Michigan Ave. will be able to merge with southbound US-31 (Petoskey Ave.) traffic, but will not be able to enter Michigan Ave. when going north on US-31.

City Supt. James Taylor announced that the State may erect a flasher signal on the curve at the Michigan Ave-US 31 intersection.

Mayor Hawley, Sheriff Glenn Rose and Police Chief Joe Smith this winter asked that the State do something to make the curve safer.

LOPSIDED VICTORY--Ellsworth's Carl Goemon (number 44) tips in another two points in the Lancer's 90-24 victory over outclassed Rapid City Friday. Lancer coach Robert Donforth kept the margin down by putting his second string in for much of the game. Speculation is the Class D league will be reorganized so that smaller members like Rapid City and Frederick do not compete with Ellsworth, Belleaire and Central Lake.

City Ok's New Channel Plan Requiring Only Minor Change

City Council Monday gave its support to plans that would require only minor changes in the present Pine River Channel.

In their action councilmen put specific limitations on what work they will favor the Army Corps of Engineers doing to make the channel wider and straighter so it can be used by large freighters.

COUNCILMEN ALSO refused to spend any city money on the project and requested minor changes that have been proposed by local property owners and pleasure boaters.

The council was asked to approve a tentative plan submitted by District Engineer Lt. Col. Edward C. Bruce, of the Corps Detroit office.

The plan is considerably more modest than that originally described to the Courier.

It calls for widening the channel on both the north and south sides by cutting away undeveloped property.

THE PLAN DOES NOT propose deepening the channel, or moving the highway bridge.

Widening the channel would be accomplished by cutting approximately five feet off the south bank from just west of the bridge to the abandoned Coast Guard Station, and taking 15 to 18 feet off the north bank from a point west of the Weathervane Inn to the present stone pier.

The cut off the north bank would also reduce the curve in the channel which makes it difficult for large boats to navigate, Col. Bruce explained.

It is estimated the project would cost between $1 million and $2 million. Congress will have to give its approval before work can begin.

BRUCE SAID THE Corps would like to begin work this year. Councilmen asked that no work that will hamper boating be done during July and August.

The council's resolution supporting the plan, as shown on a drawing from Col. Bruce's office, specifically limits the Corps to cutting away from the banks only in the two sections described.

The drawing also indicates new revetment walls will be installed along some sections of the channel. Not, however, in front of the rapidly eroding area directly below the Weathervane Inn.

COL. BRUCE reportedly told Hawley the project will include extending the "several hundred feet" into Lake Michigan. This has been the major request of the City and other local interests.

The council asked that a revetment wall also be constructed along Park Island and in front of Belvedere Club property on the south side of the upper channel.

IRONTON -- Mrs. Ross Alexander's folksy notes on the people and events of Ironton have returned to the Courier.

Mrs. Alexander has enlisted as the Courier's Ironton correspondent. Her telephone number is LI 7-2037. Call her with your newsy tidbits about comings and goings of your family and clubs.

IT WAS ABOUT 1930 that Mrs. Alexander's byline first appeared in the Courier as Ironton correspondent. She supplied the people of Ironton with news until about 1950, when she and her husband moved to Petoskey.

Now, living back in Ironton, she is taking up where she left off.

Mrs. Alexander is a member of the Ironton First Congregational Church. She lives directly across the street from the church's front door. She also belongs to the Charlevoix Garden Club and Dickens Club.

Born in East Jordan, Mrs. Alexander attended Central Lake public schools and Charlevoix Normal and Eastern Michigan Normal College.

SHE TAUGHT school at Ironton from 1920-22 and then taught one year at the Lincoln School in Charlevoix.

How to Spend Million?

How do you build and furnish $1 million worth of facilities for handicapped and exceptional children so that you get the most for your money and can afford to operate them once they are built?

This question has been getting top priority at the Intermediate School District office for several weeks. And the answers are only beginning to unfold.

SINCE RAY HERRICK, Tecumseh, Mich., industrialist, offered to give the Intermediate District up to $1 million for these facilities, Supt. Charles Robinson's staff has been devoting every possible minute to figuring out how to best spend the money.

The problem isn't that the district doesn't need the money; it has to grope for ways to use it.

"We want to make sure that what we build will provide the facilities needed by our children, that they will be located where we can efficiently use them and that we can afford to run them once they are built," Robinson explains. Herrick's offer has certain strings to it. As many of the facilities as possible must be near his old hometown of Central Lake. They must be for children with mental, physical and emotional handicaps, for delinquent and homeless children is up to the probate courts in Antrim, Charlevoix and Emmet Counties. He said he has heard nothing positive from the courts yet.

Speculation is that all, or most, of the rest of Antrim County will join the district. Most of Robinson's planning is based on the possibility this will happen.

Lee H. Janssen, coordinator of special education services, who joined the Intermediate District last year, is doing the bulk of the research.

ACCORDING TO Janssen, there are six basic categories of special education. They are programs for: 1 - slightly mentally retarded children who are "educable," 2 - severely retarded "trainables," 3 - the blind and

Voters to Decide City Retirement

City Councilmen Monday evening decided to ask voters if they favor city employees having a pension plan.

In a busy, and somewhat unique, four hour session, the six councilmen twice called on Mayor E. D. Hawley to break a tie vote. Hawley said it was the first time in "more than two years" that he has had to break a tie.

COUNCILMEN appeared to be in good humor about their two deadlocks. And, as Mayor Hawley said, "I don't think there are any hard feelings."

A decision on whether to hire a professional planner to help develop a master plan for the city was postponed, or perhaps killed indefinitely.

The first tie came when Don Parsel, supported by Jerry Whitley, moved that the State Employees Retirement System plan be adopted by the Council for year-round city employees.

Voting yes were Parsel, Whitley and Robert Gill. No votes were William Fochtman, Robert Neff and Dr. Walter Hoffmann.

HAWLEY DEFEATED the motion by breaking the 3-3 tie with a no vote.

Neff then moved that the public be asked to decide the retirement question at the April 5 city election. He was supported by Fochtman. The only no votes were Parsel and Whitley. Because the other four councilmen voted yes, Hawley did not have to vote.

A second tie vote developed when Hoffmann moved that the name of Central Ave. be changed to Golf Rd. The street runs beside the Municipal Golf Course. Whitley seconded the motion.

A 3-3 tie developed when Parsel, Neff and Fochtman voted no and Gill joined Hoffmann and Whitley in voting yes. Hawley again broke the tie with a no vote.

HOFFMAN was asked to resubmit the motion after he has received the consent of all property owners on Central Ave. Voters will find the retirement plan proposal on the ballots with city officials April 5.

Councilmen who favored putting the question to a vote of the people said they were not opposing retirement for city employees, but feel that because it will cost approximately $10,000 a year taxpayers should make the decision.

Such a plan should be submitted to a vote of the people because it is a perpetual cost," Hawley said.

THE PLAN WOULD cost the city $10,000 a year for 31 employees the first year. Employees would pay an additional amount from their income.

Benefits would range from approximately $75 to $125 a month, depending on a retired employee's number of years service and his income while working.

Hawley said the additional $10,000 would probably have to be raised by increasing the present eight-mill property tax by one-half to one mill.

Councilmen do not need voter approval to raise property taxes, Whitley said.

FOCHTMAN SAID he doubts the present budget could be cut by $10,000. "We're already $54,000 in the hole on this year's budget," Fochtman said. He added that $40,000 of this will be covered by transferring electric profits to the general fund.

"Pensions are good and I guess it's generally being done," Hawley said. "The intention is to keep a good caliber of employees."

DEEP THINKERS--Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club president Frank Zednick, left, and Treasurer Vernon (Babe) Mathews contemplate the club's financial position at last week's regular monthly meeting. Twenty-five members attended the meeting and pancake supper. They were told that 24 of last year's 85 members have paid their dues. Until more dues are paid the club is temporarily unable to pay some of its bills. (COURIER PHOTO)

Local Ice Boaters May Form New Club

Charlevoix's growing clan of ice boaters may be on the verge of organizing in hopes of generating more interest and more support for their sport.

Phil Lawrence, who with Dave Parrie, owns one of the six ice boats in Charlevoix, says the thrill-hungry fraternity is considering forming a club of sorts.

It appears that proposals to organize an ice boat club came about due to concern over the Coast Guard breaking up ice on Lake Charlevoix that the sportsmen need.

Last winter ice boaters several times complained that the Coast Guard had needlessly broken up good ice. This, they said, endangered their lives, or made it impossible to sail their ice boats.

Coast Guard Group Commander Charles Millard told the Courier nothing will be done this year that will interfere with the ice boaters.

City Payroll Dips in 1964

Charlevoix's City payroll violated the general trend of things in 1964.

Deputy City Clerk Herb Campbell reports that instead of following the general spiral of rising costs, the city's annual payroll actually decreased.

IN 1964 THE City paid a total of $108,840 in wages. This is nearly $3,000 less than the $171,787 paid in wages during 1963.

When this is done the Intermediate District and State Dept. of Public Instruction must determine how many and what type rooms are needed for each and where they should be located.

Robinson said that every facility possible will be at, or near, Central Lake, in compliance with Herrick's wishes. However, State requirements and transportation will make it necessary to locate some of them in other areas.

TO DATE JANSSEN reports his research indicates the following numbers of children with each type of handicap: 1 - Severely retarded, trainable; 20 in grades Kindergarten through Sixth and 16 in grades 7-12.

School Asks To Annex

The Charlevoix Board of Education Monday agreed to accept 24 elementary students from the Murray School in Hayes Township, if the annexation is approved by the State and Murray District voters.

The Murray Board of Education asked the Charlevoix board to accept the annexation. Murray board president is Andrew Anderson. Dorothy Zipp is secretary of the board.

THE DISTRICT has an equalized valuation of $223,500. It levies 13.375 mills in operating taxes and no debt retirement tax. Charlevoix levies 11.375 in operating taxes and 3.25 in debt retirement tax.

Before the annexation is authorized Murray voters must approve it and agree to accept their share of the Charlevoix district's bonded indebtedness. It must also be approved by the State Dept. of Public Instruction.

The Charlevoix Board of Education also decided to build a new public library with two-thirds Federal assistance. The board will determine what type of building is needed and get definite cost estimates before anything else is done.

Credits on Wage Ok'd For Motels

How Michigan's new minimum wage law will influence wages paid by Charlevoix's restaurants and motels was settled last week by the Wage Deviation Board.

Restaurants and motels will be allowed to credit tips, board, meals and other items furnished by the employer as part of the employee's wages.

THE MINIMUM hourly rates established by Act 154 of 1964 are $1 beginning Jan. 1, 1965; $1.15 beginning Jan. 1, 1966; and $1.25 beginning Jan. 1, 1967. These rates apply to persons employed for more than 13 weeks in any four consecutive three-month periods.

Schedules for permissible deductions have been established as follows: Permissible deductions for meals provided by the employer, are: For drive ins, lunch counters and luncheonettes, 3 light meals per day, 12 1/2%; 2 light meals per day, 5%; and 1 light meal per day, 2%. Gratuities (tips) in these establishments may be credited toward the minimum not to exceed 10%.

For hotels, motels and other establishments serving a regular selection, complete with entrees, two vegetables, salad, beverage, and bread and butter, a deduction is permissible as follows: 2 meals per day, 12 1/2%; and 1 meal per day, 6 1/2%. Gratuities in these establishments may be credited toward the minimum wage not to exceed 25%.

UNDER OFFICE manager Hans Wiener, it replaces Begrow and Brown's former northern Michigan office located at Bellaire. Begrow, who is president of the firm, reports the Bellaire office has been closed.

Begrow lives at 502 Michigan Ave. Wiener lives at 108 Oak St. According to Begrow the firm has several residential and resort jobs in northern Michigan.

The main office is in Bloomfield Hills, Mich., with another branch located in the Virgin Islands.

Begrow said he has located an office in Charlevoix because he likes to live here rather than for business reasons. "With air transportation you can do work any place in the world," he said.

BEGROW RECENTLY returned from a three week visit to his Virgin Island office and Oklahoma City, where the $5 million National Cowboy Hall of Fame he designed, has been completed.

Dream Realized With Purchase of Local Bar

W. R. (Dick) and Jean Wood, new owners of the Moonlight Gardens tavern on US-31 at the north city limits, have been searching for years for a way to move to Charlevoix.

Their search ended when they purchased the Moonlight Garden. MR. AND MRS. Wood, both 43 years old, sold a prosperous Lansing wholesale lumber company to make the somewhat speculative entry into the bar business. They owned the W. R. Wood Wholesale Lumber Co. in Lansing. It is still in the process of being sold.

They bought the Moonlight Gardens from Mr. and Mrs. James Lawyer. The purchase included the ten-month state liquor license.

Dick said he has been looking for a chance to get in business in Charlevoix for several years. Though he has no experience at the bar business, he bought the Moonlight Gardens confident of the potential for financial success in Charlevoix.

The Woods have owned a summer home on Oyster Bay for 15 years. They have winterized the home for year-round use. He has been coming to Charlevoix for Hospital Guild.

Charlevoix Hospital Guild met with 13 members present, with President Mrs. Robert Neff presiding.

The Resuscitator has arrived and is ready for use, the cost of the resuscitator was $950.00. The Guild ordered another High Low bed which brings their total to twelve beds at the cost of $529.80 each.

Another wrought bench has been ordered for the lobby.

Deduction for standard uniforms furnished and laundered by the employer is permissible throughout the industry at the rate of 4%. For employers furnishing lodging, a deduction of 9% is permissible for single occupancy and 4% for multiple occupancy of quarters as agreed upon at time of hiring.

In no instance may the combined deductions exceed 40% of the minimum rate. Accurate records will be necessary to comply with the law and as evidence for determinations in case either party requests a hearing before the Board.

Begrow Moves Office Here From Bellaire

Jack Begrow has moved his permanent architectural office to Charlevoix.

The firm's new office is located at 215 1/2 Bridge St., over Lieberman's Department Store. It includes six rooms, where three to four architects, one secretary and an office boy will work.

New Snag Hits Plan For South Pt. Dock, Might Block Hotel

The conflict between Charlevoix tourist and industrial interests is quietly brewing this week in Cleveland, Ohio and Lansing and Birmingham, Mich.

Investor Henry Hogan of Birmingham last week told the Courier plans for development of a nine-story hotel on the site of the present Holiday Terrace Hotel hinge partially on Medusa Portland Cement Co.'s plans for developing its property on South Point.

THE MICHIGAN Conservation Dept. announced it is holding in abeyance the permit to build a dock it previously approved for Medusa. A committee from Charlevoix

RAMBLING with sheep

The Courier, you may have already noticed, this week has a new correspondent, Mrs. Ross Alexander of Ironton. Mrs. Alexander's joining the Courier fills a gap that has seriously troubled us for months. Ironton is one of western Charlevoix County's most important rural communities.

Not being able to provide local news for residents of the home of the nationally-known Ironton Ferry, has caused considerable dismay for the Courier editor.

However, now it appears the wait was worthwhile. Being able to enter Mrs. Alexander in our cause makes it so.

Oldtimers in both Charlevoix and Ironton who know Mrs. Alexander will agree with me. You newcomers who haven't yet crossed her cheery path will also fall victim to her warm smile.

So how about all of you giving her a hand by calling her with any news about Ironton families and clubs?

Some Charlevoixites will remember Mrs. Alexander as their second grade teacher in 1923 at the old Lincoln School (now the American Legion Hall). Among those she taught is Deputy City Clerk Herb Campbell.

How does she remember our buddy Herb? "Herb was a nice little fellow," Mrs. Alexander recalled as we sat in her living room chatting the other afternoon.

Ironton, as you must know is also the home of the incorrigible William (Sandy) Sanderson.

After 38 years as Eveline Township Supervisor, you would expect Sandy to be ready to turn things over to younger men without a thought of the future. But at 80 some odd years of age (and you can interpret that "odd" in any way you want to and still come out ok) Sandy is well about what the County Board of Supervisors does.

Though he will officially retire from the board April 1, Sandy had some advice for supervisors and voters at last week's meeting.

Sandy told this column the board's biggest weakness is that supervisors are too intent on agreeing. He quoted a candidate for supervisor as saying that when he got elected he would go to the meetings and find out how the wind was blowing and go along with it.

"That's the kind of s-o-b we don't need!" Sandy exclaimed.

He figures a good supervisor ought to question everything that comes up and do

City Ok's New Channel Plan Requiring Only Minor Change

City Council Monday gave its support to plans that would require only minor changes in the present Pine River Channel.

In their action councilmen put specific limitations on what work they will favor the Army Corps of Engineers doing to make the channel wider and straighter so it can be used by large freighters.

COUNCILMEN ALSO refused to spend any city money on the project.

The council was asked to approve a tentative plan submitted by District Engineer Lt. Col. Edward C. Bruce, of the Corps of Engineers.

The plan is considerably more modest than that originally described to the Courier.

It calls for widening the channel on both the north and south sides by cutting away undeveloped property.

THE PLAN DOES not propose deepening the channel, or moving the highway bridge.

Widening the channel would be accomplished by cutting approximately five feet off the south bank from just west of the bridge to the abandoned Coast Guard Station, and taking 15 to 18 feet off the north bank from a point west of the Weatheravane Inn to the present stone pier.

The cut off the north bank would also reduce the curve in the channel which makes it difficult for large boats to navigate.

It is estimated the project would cost between $1 million and $2 million. Congress will have to give its approval before work can begin.

BRUCE SAID The Corps would like to begin work this year.

Councilmen asked that no work that will hamper boating be done during July and August.

The council's resolution supporting the plan, as shown on a drawing from Col. Bruce's office, specifically limits the Corps to cutting away from the banks only in the two sections described.

The drawing also indicates new revetment walls will be installed along some sections of the channel.

Not, however, in front of the rapidly eroding area directly below the Weatheravane Inn.

COL. BRUCE reportedly told Hawley the project will include extending the north pier "several hundred feet" into Lake Michigan. This has been the major request of the City and other local interests.

The council asked that a revetment wall also be constructed along Park Island and in front of Belvedere Club property on the south side of the upper channel.

the present budget could be cut by $10,000. "We're already $54,000 in the hole on this year's budget," Fochtman said. He added that $40,000 of this will be covered by transferring electric profits to the general fund.

"Pensions are good and I guess it's generally being done," Hawley said. "The intention is to keep a good caliber of employees."

COUNCILMEN appeared to be in good humor about their two deadlocks. And, as Mayor Hawley said, "I don't think there are any hard feelings."

A decision on whether to hire a professional planner to help develop a master plan for the city was postponed, or perhaps killed indefinitely.

The first tie came when Don Parsel, supported by Jerry Whitley, moved that the State Employees Retirement System plan be adopted by the Council for year-round city employees.

Voting yes were Parsel, Whitley and Robert Gill. No votes were William Fochtman, Robert Neff and Dr. Walter Hoffmann.

HAWLEY DEFEATED the motion by breaking the 3-3 tie with a no vote.

Neff then moved that the public be asked to decide the retirement question at the April 5 city election. He was supported by Fochtman. The only no votes were Parsel and Whitley. Because the other four councilmen voted yes, Hawley did not have to vote.

A second tie vote developed when Hoffmann moved that the name of Central Ave. be changed to Golf Rd. The street runs beside the Municipal Golf Course. Whitley seconded the motion.

A 3-3 tie developed when Parsel, Neff and Fochtman voted no and Gill joined Hoffmann and Whitley in voting yes. Hawley again broke the tie with a no vote.

HOFFMAN WAS asked to re-submit the motion after he has received the consent of all property owners on Central Ave.

Voters will find the retirement plan proposal on the ballots with city officials April 5.

Councilmen who favored putting the question to a vote of the people said they were not opposing retirement for city employees, but feel that because it would cost approximately $10,000 a year taxpayers should make the decision.

"Such a plan should be submitted to a vote of the people because it is a perpetual cost," Hawley said.

THE PLAN WOULD cost the city $10,000 a year for 31 employees the first year. Employees would pay an additional amount from their income.

Benefits would range from approximately $75 to $125 a month, depending on a retired employee's number of years service and his income while working.

Hawley said the additional $10,000 would probably have to be raised by increasing the present electric property tax by one-half to one mill.

Councilmen do not need voter approval to raise property taxes, Whitley said.

FOCHTMAN SAID he doubts

How to Spend Million?

How do you build and furnish $1 million worth of facilities for handicapped and exceptional children so that you get the most for your money and can afford to operate them once they are built?

This question has been getting top priority at the Intermediate School District office for several weeks. And the answers are only beginning to unfold.

SINCE RAY HERRICK, Tecumseh, Mich., industrialist, offered to give the Intermediate District up to $1 million for these facilities, Supt. Charles Robinson's staff has been devoting every possible minute to figuring out how to best spend the money.

The problem isn't that the district doesn't need the money and has to grope for ways to use it.

"We want to make sure that what we build will provide the facilities needed by our children, that they will be located where we can efficiently use them and that we can afford to run them once they are built," Robinson explains.

Herrick's offer has certain strings to it. As many of the facilities as possible must be near his old hometown of Central Lake. They must be for children with mental, physical and emotional handicaps, for delinquent and homeless children in up to the probate courts in Antrim, Charlevoix and Emmet Counties. He said he has heard nothing positive from the courts yet.

Speculation is that all, or most, of the rest of Antrim County will join the district. Most of Robinson's planning is based on the possibility this will happen.

Lee H. Janssen, coordinator of special education services, who joined the Intermediate District last year, is doing the bulk of the research.

ACCORDING TO Janssen, there are six basic categories of special education. They are programs for: 1 - slightly mentally retarded children who are "educable," 2 - severely retarded "trainables," 3 - the blind and

Voters to Decide City Retirement

City Councilmen Monday evening decided to ask voters if they favor city employees having a pension plan.

Governor Cites East Jordan Firm

EAST JORDAN -- Ken Diller, owner of the new East Jordan Plastics Co., has received a letter of recognition from Gov. George Romney.

Signed by the governor the letter stated:

I TRUST THE new company which you established in East Jordan a few months ago to manufacture containers for greenhouses is going along at a very satisfactory rate. May your business continue to grow in the years ahead.

Michigan is enjoying a fine economic growth. The many companies starting in business or expanding their operations are continuing evidence of the confidence we all have in the future of the State.

Best wishes for continued success.

Local Indians May Share Settlement

An undetermined number of Charlevoix Indians may share in the Federal Government's $1 million land settlement to the Grand River Band of Ottawas, John Winchester of Belleville, Mich., a member of Gov. George Romney's Indian Commission, last week told the Courier some Charlevoix area Indians are expected to be eligible for individual shares of the money.

WINCHESTER said this has not yet been determined, and may not be for some time.

The Government awarded the settlement to Ottawas and Potowomies (Winchester's tribe) for land taken over by the U.S. through treaties in 1921. The Indians claimed they were paid less than the land's real value.

Local Men Can Apply for Job In State Police

Young Charlevoix men interested in careers in the State Police may again make application for positions as troopers. Applicants who qualify will be eligible for a trooper training school tentatively planned to start in the spring.

CURRENT PAY scale ranges from $199 to $246 every two weeks in the Trooper classification. Automatic promotion in two years to the Trooper II rank increases the biweekly scale to $228 to $288.

Eligible to apply are young men 21 to 29 years of age, married or single, who have a high school education or the equivalent.

Candidates must be at least 5 feet 10 inches tall and weigh from 150 to 230 pounds in proportion to height.

Applications for these positions and more complete information may be obtained from the Petoskey State Police post.

The land is south of the Grand River in southwestern Michigan. Winchester said that if any Charlevoix Indians benefit it will probably be because they, or a former member of their family, married into the southern Ottawa or Potowotomie tribe.

Aviator New CG Executive

James C. Seidl is second in command of the Charlevoix Coast Guard group, which includes several stations and lights along northern Lake Michigan and Lake Huron.

As executive officer of the Charlevoix group, with headquarters in the Charlevoix Coast Guard Station, Seidl holds the Coast Guard's top Warrant Officer rating, CWO-4.

The Charlevoix Coast Guard Station, Beaver Island and other installations in the group are commanded by Lt. Cmdr. Charles A. Millard.

SEIDL CAME TO Charlevoix from the 13th District Office in Seattle, where he was a reserve training officer.

The group's new second-ranking officer is living with his wife "Toni," and family in a rented home at North Point. He reports they hope to build a home in the North Point area as soon as possible. His tour here, he hopes, will be at least two or three years.

The family consists of daughters Kathy, 18, a student at Bradley University, and Christine, 15, a junior at Charlevoix High School, and son James, 11, a sixth grade student.

Seidl has spent 18 of his 23 years in the Coast Guard in its Michigan has 19 ports on the Great Lakes that handle a million, or more tons of shipping annually, reaching all parts of the world through the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway in 1959 made Michigan the principal maritime state on the nation's fourth seacoast. Now 80 percent of the world's merchant fleet can reach Michigan's seaports.

Michigan has four times as much water area as any other state--4,037 inland lakes, 36,350 miles of streams, and 3,251 miles of Great Lakes shoreline. Nearly half of Michigan's 83 counties have frontage on the Great Lakes.

Michigan's longest state highway is U.S. 31, which extends 368 miles from the Michigan-Indiana state line near Niles to Mackinaw City. The shortest is highway M-209 in Leelanau county, four-tenths of a mile.

Council

their support for asking voters to decide the issue does not mean they are against retirement for city employees. Both said they favor it.

Councilmen after long discussion, decided to put off making a decision on whether to hire a professional planning consultant and appoint a planning commission.

MAYOR HAWLEY had asked that councilmen come to the meeting prepared to make a decision.

"If we were a city that needed extensive federal aid I could see the need of it (planning consultants)," Hawley said. "But it is hard for me to justify the expenditure."

Four planning firms had submitted bids ranging from $19,530 to $26,536. The Federal Govt. would pay two-thirds to three-fourths of the cost. The city's cost would be between $8,000 and $6,000.

The consultants, working through a local planning commission, would spend two years developing a master plan to guide the city's future growth.

COUNCILMEN, WITH few exceptions, supported the mayor's position that Charlevoix has no great problems of retaining a professional planner. He said other communities that have employed planners have found they are better prepared to face unexpected developments.

The question never came to a vote. No date was set for further discussion of it.

BIDS WANTED:

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix will accept bids until 8:00 p.m., E.S.T. February 8, 1965, for:

EAST JORDAN Supervisor Bill Taylor cited some of the pitfalls of running for office at last week's Board of Supervisors meeting.

As Taylor told it, this fella in East Jordan decided to make a bid for election. When the ballots were all counted he only got one vote.

From that everyone in town, Taylor pointed out, surmised that even the guy's wife didn't think much of him.

Ice Boats

THE COAST GUARD tests its small rescue ships by breaking ice in Lake Charlevoix, Cndr. Milrad said. However, he promised, that this year's tests, would be conducted on the north side of the lake.

The ice boats generally are sailed on the south side of the lake, starting at the Ferry Ave. landing. The South Arm is also used.

Lawrence said Charlevoix probably has more ice boats than any other town in the northern Lower Peninsula, but this cannot be confirmed.

The ice on Lake Charlevoix, he said, is excellent for ice boating.

IN THE 1930's, Lawrence said, there were quite a few ice boats in Charlevoix. But interest in them completely disappeared until about eight years ago when Elmer Gibson built an ice boat. Since then five others have appeared. They are owned by Mayor E. D. Hawley, Robert Neff, Robert Hamilton, Dave Miller, and Lawrence and Patrie. Miller's boat is new this year.

Church Women Make Plans

The Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational Church met on Wednesday, Jan. 6, in Friendship Hall for a Dessert Luncheon with the new officers acting as hostesses.

The Rev. Lawrence Tenhopen opened the meeting with an inspirational talk based on the parable of the servants who increased the value of the talents entrusted to them, by making use of them.

ANNUAL REPORTS were presented by the officers, the four Circle presidents, and the chairmen of the Seven Areas of Service. Acting president, Mrs. Edward Shanahan then turned over the meeting to 1965 President, Mrs. Robert Hamilton for a discussion of various projects for church maintenance and improvement, which may be adopted by the Fellowship or the individual Circles, for the coming year.

Next regular meeting will be February 3 at the home of Mrs. Darrell Dinwiddie, assisted by Mrs. E. D. Hawley.

WORLD PEACE

WORLD PEACE! That cry comes straight from every heart today. We must not lose heart, we must continue to believe in God and His good will for His world. War is wrong! War is contrary to all the teachings of Jesus. God is no more satisfied than we are with our war torn earth. Our Lord is the Prince of Peace, His ways are the ways of truth and love. He is calling us to work with Him more faithfully and more intelligently. We have been war-making instead of peace-making.

HAVE we trusted that somebody else would make Peace? Have we trusted that Kings would bring about peace? Their very position makes them war-makers. Our demand that they bring prosperity to the people at the expense of another is a war demand. Have we trusted armies to make Peace? Again we have erred. Their very business is war-making; they must subdue other armies. Have we expected that economic treaties would make Peace? Again, the business of the world is highly competitive; investors demand profits from their money and their toil...profits that come from economic victory. INTERNATIONAL CONFLICT CAN BE SOLVED; WORLD PEACE MUST COME. How?

CHRIST is our answer, and we must answer to Christ. RELIGION IS OUR HOPE, RELIGIOUS PEOPLE WHO FOLLOW THE GREAT TEACHER AND FRIEND AND SAVIOR WILL MAKE PEACE. The Cross is the symbol of Peace. WORDS MUST GIVE WAY TO PLOUGHSHARES, AND SPEARS MUST BE REFASHIONED INTO PRUNING-HOOKS. What is that word you spoke yesterday? Did it make for Peace or for strife? When you finished the business transaction, did you leave a friend on the other side of the bargain? THE PRINCE OF PEACE IS NOT A RULER OF MEN, BUT A FRIEND AND A SUFFERING SERVANT. Are you and I willing to suffer in the cause of Peace? We have suffered enough for war. Our boys want to live, and to live abundantly; to construct, not destroy; to love, not hate. Peace will cost us much; kind words, generous dealings, goodwill, helpfulness and patience and self-control. Do we pray first for our own success, or for Peace? God is the Peace-maker; Peace-makers are the children of God. Grace and Peace belong together; graciousness of spirit will go ahead of abiding Peace. Are you and I gracious toward every other person? PEACE IS A MATTER OF SPIRIT AND OF SACRIFICIAL BEHAVIOR. We are being watched. Shall we make sacrifice for Peace? Shall we forget the Crown and the Thorn? Shall we carry a cross?

E. Jordan Little Rayders Defeated by Harbor Lose Another

The East Jordan Red Devils lost a close game to the Harbor Springs Rams by a 64-60 score after the Jordanites had held the Rams to a 28-28 halftime tie. The Jordanites had held a slim 16-13 first quarter advantage. As the second half got underway, the Rams poured in 26 points to 15 for the Devils who never managed to overcome the 54-43 third period deficit though they did outscore the Rams 17-10 in the final eight minutes.

MICK BELL paced the game with 25 points for East Jordan followed by Tom Drenth with 12 and Jim Chak with 10.

George Lauer had 20 for the visitors with Dave Winegard and Bob Tippet contributing 17 points each to the winning cause. In other games Geylord trimmed Mancelona 64-53 and Pellston edged Boyne City 44-39.

East Jordan will close out the first half of its season at Grayling next Tuesday. At the same time Geylord will host the Pellston Hornets who are now being coached by Tom St. Germain who has taken over the coaching duties from Burt Matteson who will have the J-V squad and Boyne City will play at Mancelona.

Charlevoix's Little Rayders, outclassed by a bigger and more experienced Grayling five, lost their third game in five league starts Friday night as they were downed 52-49 in a game that was close all the way.

The young Hayders held a slim 12-11 first period lead but had a bad second period when they were outscored 21-10 for a 10 point 32-22 halftime deficit that they never managed to overcome though they outscored the Viking Reserves 11-5 and 16-15 in the remaining quarters.

Tom Webb dumped in five field goals for 10 points to pace the Rayders scoring. Bob Nelvers had 21 for the victors.

City Seeks Bids

On New Vehicles

Bids on two new work vehicles will be accepted by City Council Feb. 8.

Councilmen at Monday's meeting authorized advertising for bids on the vehicles. They put off a decision on whether the city should buy a front end loader, estimated to cost $16,000, for use on snow clean-up and summer haulage and loading jobs.

Bids will be accepted on a four-wheel drive vehicle to replace the 1941 jeep now used for golf course maintenance and light snow plowing, and on a new half-ton pickup for the electric department.

Against Jordan, Harbor Rough Week on Tap for Rayders

Charlevoix will be defending its first place standing twice during the coming week, against East Jordan there Friday night and host Harbor Springs in the first home game of the new year on Tuesday, Jan. 19.

Both are strong contenders for the title. East Jordan is presently in fourth place with a two win-three loss record while Harbor Springs is sharing the top spot in the standings with the Rayders and Geylord.

EAST JORDAN is the only team in the league to have upset Geylord (62-59) and is expected to come through as the schedule goes into the home stretch. With such players as Mick Bell, Fred Malpass, Chad McDonald, Tom Drenth and Jim Chak the Jordanites have a great potential, but thus far have not shaped up.

The Rayders will have their work cut out for them as they go against the Red Devils but if they can forget the loss to the Jordanites hold over them and play the type of ball they have been displaying they could retain their first place standing.

However, if they do get by the Jordanites they will meet head-on with the Harbor Springs Rams who boast such players as George Lauer, probably the finest floor manager in the loop, big Dave Winegard and Bob Tippet who have been sharing the team's scoring duties. If the Rayders can keep pace they could come up the victors for the Rams lack bench strength.

The Rayders held on to their first place standing last week by pushing the Grayling Vikings out of top spot by a score of 80-69 in a game that saw the Rayders trailing 17-14 at the end of the first period.

AS THE SECOND period got underway, the Rayders found the range and poured in 27 points including 10 by Doug Winnell and nine by Dave Norton to six for Grayling as they forged to a 41-23 lead at halftime.

Grayling tried for a comeback outscoring Charlevoix 22-17 as the second half got underway and 24-22 in the final period but their efforts were in vain.

Norton paced the game with 19 points before leaving the floor with five fouls at the end of the third period. His replacement, Randy Carey, collected his fifth foul with less than a minute remaining.

In the game marked by 54 personal fouls, Grayling's last three players late in the game including their top scorer, Curt Feldhauser who had 16 points, Viking center, Walt Nielsen, had 12 and Jim Robertson 11 before fouling out.

IN FACT, THE Rayders won the game on the free throw line where they hit better than 72 per cent of their shots of 32 out of 44 attempts while being outscored 26-24 from the floor.

Lancers Win Easily, 90-24 Over Rapid City

By KATH WELAND And SUE PETER

ELLSWORTH - The Lancers resumed conference play Friday when they beat the Bob Cats from Rapid City 90-24.

Tyre was a change in the starting line up, as Carl Goe man replaced Marv Ruis, who is out with an injured knee.

The first quarter started with lots of shooting but no scoring. Gary Torga finally put in two points for Ellsworth. This started the scoring for both sides; but throughout the quarter it was very light. The quarter ended with the score Ellsworth 12, Rapid City 3.

THE LANCERS did their most scoring during the second quarter.

They buried the Bob Cats, who scored five points during the quarter while the Lancers scored 34, making the halftime score 46-8.

At the start of the third quarter, the first string was replaced by the second string, who added 12 points to the score before the first string was put back in. Later the second string once again went in and played until the end of the quarter. Together, the two teams raised the Lancers' total 69 while Rapid City raised its to 16.

The fourth quarter provided some funny entertainment for the people in the stands. At one time, Fred Gibbs did a real cool backward somersault and ended it with a head stand. Rapid City's Gerry Hill shot and the ball got stuck between the rim and the backboard. While everyone was laughing, he was hoisted up to get the ball. He dropped it through the basket, but it didn't count.

With sluff like this going on, the Lancers still dropped in 21 points and beat the Bob Cats by the lopsided score of 90-24.

Yule is Over!

A request from the Chamber of Commerce that a small portion of the City's Bridge St. Christmas lights be left up during the winter for the enjoyment of visiting skiers was rejected Monday evening by councilmen.

Councilman Dr. Walter Hoffmann said, "I would say take them down. Christmas is over. It looks like we're too lazy to take them down."

He was supported by other councilmen.

The report breaks down the capital improvements and activities of each department. Accomplishments for the year 1964 in the City of Charlevoix.

STREETS

Constructed asphalt curb on both sides, and hard-surfaced State St. between Carpenter and U. S.-31.

Constructed new cement curb on both sides, and hard-surfaced Prospect between Crouter and Petoskey Ave.

Hard-surfaced approximately 1000 feet of road from Chicago Ave. to the Coast Guard Station. Re-caped with hot-plant mix asphalt, Belvedere Ave. between Bridge and Alice.

Widened, installed new curb, and hard-surfaced Mason St. between the County Jail drive and State St.

Eliminated a traffic and snow-removal hazard, at the corner of Mercer Blvd. and Cherry St. Cleaned up, graded, and hard-surfaced a 10 foot walk at the Golf Course, between Petoskey Ave. and Division St.

Opened up, graded, and re-surfaced with compacted road gravel; Grant St. between Garfield and Carpenter; and Westwood St. between Sherman and Sheridan.

Two new pieces of equipment were purchased for this department: a new heavy-duty truck with snow plow and underbody blade, to replace a 26-year-old piece of equipment; and a 105 lb. portable air-compressor, with necessary tools.

DOCKS AND HARBORS

Removed the old Laundry and Boat House buildings, from the lake front property recently purchased, graded and filled it in, for added parking space.

Designed and constructed a movable ramp for the boats' use at the Commercial Dock; and also did considerable repair to this dock.

There was installed at the boat slips, in cooperation with the Michigan State Waterways Commission, a complete new electrical system, to better serve the pleasure boats.

The Harbor and Dock Master greeted and registered at the Round Lake Boat Slips, 469 boats for an accumulated total of 2301 days in port.

PUBLIC HEALTH

We made two short 4" water main extensions for a total of approximately 400 feet.

Cleaned and washed all sewers in the City.

Made 21 new water taps; and 14 new sewer taps, which were all put to use.

Constructed three new catch-basins to eliminate water standing in the streets.

CEMETERY

We maintained a very attractive cemetery; opened up a new area, containing 51 lots; and had 49 interments.

ELECTRIC UTILITY

During the past year, approximately two miles of new 3-phase primary line was built; and one mile rebuilt (which makes approximately 80% of all 3-phase primary line in the local distribution system, is new or has been rebuilt within the last 24 years.)

There were three rural extensions, totaling approximately 4000 feet.

There were installed, three-300 KVAR of capacitors, raising our power factor about 20% which also helps to stabilize our voltage.

There was added, in the past year, to our Recreation Facilities: One new Diving Platform; and Four new Picnic Tables.

In cooperation, the Recreation Department and the Electric Utility, replaced the old open-grease trap and open ditch (near the Ferry Ave. Beach) with an enclosed trap, and the drain was tiled to the lake thereby eliminating an eyesore and adding more area to the Ferry Avenue Beach and launching ramp parking space.

Sure.

You might find another car as new as the Delta 88.

But not this year.

This is Oldsmobile's Delta 88. It's unique. Unique because it's new. New-clear through.

Styling is new. So new, not a line nor a highlight was borrowed from last year.

Power plant is new. Super Rocket V-8 is the biggest in Olds history: 425-cubic-inches big, up to 370-horses strong.

Transmission is new, too. Turbo Hydra-Matic, available on any Delta 88, provides up to 40% more torque from a standing start, superlative performance at all speeds.

New styling. New engine. New transmission. This year, only Delta 88 lets you have all three, all new. Other cars have a lot of catching up to do.

Supervisors Ask State to Loosen Per Diem Rules

The County Board of Supervisors, at its meeting last week, went on record asking the State to loosen controls on what a supervisor can collect payment from taxpayers for.

The board unanimously passed a resolution asking that the state authorize the county to pay supervisors per diem anytime they are "acting individually in furtherance of the business of the Board of Supervisors."

SINCE HIKING their own pay one - third last October, the supervisors draw $20 a day per diem.

Under present State law, supervisors can only draw per diem when attending a board meeting or meeting as part of an official committee.

Board Chairman Lee Sneathen said that if the State passes the new law it will be up to the supervisors to determine what kind of individual activity rates per diem.

Affair

RICHARD DONALDSON

DEAR DICK: I am 43, have gone with two nice guys for 7 years each, but gave up since neither one was serious enough to want to get married. I met an older man and we're now engaged to be married. I thought this was my last chance, but the first guy called and wants me to marry him. Shall I break my engagement? I love him the most.--HUSBAND HUNTER.

DEAR HUSBAND HUNTER: Forget them both, but don't give up. Where there's men, there's hope. You admit you don't really love your fiancée and you seem unsure of the first guy. It's a happy marriage when a hard working housewife and a new name brand appliance get together. PUFF'S APPLIANCE CENTER has been making women happy for years.--DICK.

(As different from other cars as they are from each other.)

CHEVROLET—As roomy a car as Chevrolet's ever built.

When you take in everything, there's more room inside this car than in any Chevrolet as far back as they go. It's wider this year and the attractively curved windows help to give you more shoulder room. The engine's been moved forward to give you more foot room. So, besides the way a '65 Chevrolet looks and rides, we now have one more reason to ask you: What do you get by paying more for a car—except bigger monthly payments?

CORVAIR—The only rear engine American car made.

You should read what the automotive magazines say about the '65 Corvair. They're wild about its ride. They think there's nothing else this side of the Atlantic that can touch its styling. They say if you haven't driven a new Corvair Corsa with a 180-hp Six Turbo-Chargaard! you just don't know what you're missing.

Conservation Dept. Moves to Our Benefit

TWO STORIES IN this week's Courier concerning the Conservation Dept. spell progress and the opportunity to take more complete advantage of our outdoor recreation potential.

The department's reduction in size of the forest land area to be administered by one man is a definite step forward. And, for those of us who know him, the appointment of Stan Lievease as district fish biologist is a boon of greater proportion than we dared hope for.

THE NEW JORDAN Valley State Forest area, administered from Boyne City, is only half the size of the old forest area. Though the forest boundaries haven't

Rev. Tenhopen Faces Big Challenge in Charlevoix

OUR CONGRATULATIONS and wishes for every happiness go this week to Rev. Lawrence E. Tenhopen, new minister of the First Congregational Church, and his parishioners.

Rev. Tenhopen has a big job ahead of him as he must fill the warm spot left in the community's homes by the late Rev. Robert A. Harrison. Rev. Harrison was well liked by everyone we know, no matter what church affiliation they subscribe to.

AND THOUGH REV. Harold E. Kohn has voluntarily phased himself out of active participation in ministerial duties, Rev. Tenhopen cannot help but be compared to this outstanding Michigan church leader. Our brief meeting with Rev. Tenhopen left us convinced the church has chosen wisely and has found a man equal to the challenge posed by the pulpit of the First Congregational Church.

New Docks, Showers on Island Should be Welcomed by Boaters

LAST WEEK'S STORY that construction of additional dock facilities, complete with showers, has been approved for Beaver Island's St. James harbor is good news for Charlevoix and hundreds of Lake Michigan boaters.

Indirectly there are several ways Charlevoix will benefit from the improved facilities at St. James. And, of course, the benefits to Beaver Island are obvious. THE DIRECT returns to Charlevoix are harder to measure, but they are there.

The fact that yachtsmen can now find suitable dockage at Beaver Island, will encourage many of them to make Charlevoix their home port for short cruises to the island. Others, who spend long periods at St. James because the facilities are available, will make excursions into Round Lake for supplies and marine repairs.

The possibility that Beaver Island's improved facility will lure some yachtsshrunk, one man is now responsible for only half as much as before.

This means that greater consideration and emphasis can now be put on developing the recreation potential of the State Forest lands along Lake Michigan in the Bells Bay and Norwood areas.

Due to the leadership and persistence of Charlevoix Township Supervisor Clarence Rabach, and city cooperation, the state has developed a minimum number of rustic campsites at Bells Bay. Now, with the forester located only as far away as Boyne City, he should have more time to work on this development and guide local cooperation and enthusiasm for expanding and improving campground facilities here.

The Courier rates better and additional camping facilities as one of Charlevoix's prime needs if we are to capture the thousands of vacation dollars that now avoid the area.

FISHING IS another of our virtually untapped vacation attractions. Lievease's bold, and sometimes unconventional approach to fisheries management is aimed at making the angling better and showing fishermen how to get the most of the sport available.

The fact that he has already planted rainbow trout in Lake Charlevoix streams, something that has been advocated locally for years, is an indication of the kind of program we can expect from him.

Fishermen have long suspected there is unbelievable bass fishing going neglected in Lake Charlevoix and along the immediate Lake Michigan shoreline. But they haven't known how to transfer this potential to the end of fishing lines. If anyone can break through this barrier we expect it is Lievease.

men away from Charlevoix isn't worth consideration. Charlevoix could, the trained observers say, double its facilities and still have to turn boats away.

OF COURSE, Charlevoix's many addicted and expert Garden Island and Hog Island bass fishermen will enjoy the improved docks and their auxiliary facilities. Charlevoix outboarders venturing to the outlying islands for a round with the smallmouths, have long grown arm-weary from toting gas cans to a St. James filling station. The new docks will have an always-operating gas pump handy for boaters.

Wives of bass fishermen might keep in mind their husbands will be able to take a hot shower before leaving St. James and return with the odor of fish only on their stringers.

The Courier hopes the new docks will help bring a fuller measure of financial comfort to Beaver Islanders.

Now is the Time to Plan Summer Gardens

FLOWER SEED companies are now sending out their 1965 catalogs. With the snow covering flower beds and bare treelimb standing stark against drab winter skies, it hardly seems appropriate to think about the beauty of next spring's gardens. But though it may not be timely, it would appear to be worth mentioning that January and February's long evenings are a dandy time to start planning your contribution to Charlevoix's beauty.

THE CHARLEVOIX Garden Club will again be encouraging homeowners to plant gardens that are worthy of public praise. It is also the club's intention to continue its program for beautifying the main streets with flowers.

The Courier joins the ladies of the Garden Club in urging businessmen to plant unique and interesting flower displays for next summer.

During the spring rush to prepare for summer's onslaught, there is hardly time to meditate on this matter. But right now there are unused hours that could be devoted to creating flower boxes and arrangements that would add to Charlevoix's reputation as the beauty spot of the Great Lakes.

Weren't you proud? Proud of that terrific Michigan team that did our state proud in the Rose Bowl game? And that Michigan Band!...They did a bit of alright too...but you must admit they weren't at their best at the mud bowl that developed at the East-West Shrine game...But football fan or not, I think that every Michigander held his head a little higher after that display of power... Sports writers in the west were blaming everyone for Oregon State's poor showing...I'm wondering when people are going to get hepped to the fact that they just don't play football elsewhere like they do in the midwest...and especially in the Big Ten...I don't think any team could have stopped Michigan last week... or was it the week before?...And for once I think all real fans got their fill of the game (for one day, that is) what with three good games on tap....

Don't know if you ever notice them, but seagulls always fascinate me...they are so beautiful and graceful...but they do such stupid things...Was watching a flock of about 25 or 30 on an ice floe in Round Lake one morning recently...There was a wind out of the east that was cold-cold...and these silly birds, instead of seeking shelter from the wind and certainly finding a bit more comfortable underfoot, no matter where they'd chosen to go on land, would have been warmer... But no, there they sat, flapping their wings and moving about occasionally...so their feet wouldn't freeze into the ice, no doubt....

AND SPEAKING of birds (or are gulls considered birds? They fly so they should be)...don't forget to feed our feathered friends...though the weather's been good for most of us, it's still pretty hard for the birds to find food so why not set up a feeding station and give them a hand-out... you'll learn to love them...and as I've said a million times before, they'll repay you many times over for your generosity....

One day recently I had a call from my friend, Archie LaFreniere, on Beaver Island. He was telling me about the fabulous rabbit hunting on the island this winter....He and a party of hunters from Baltimore, Md., and points around the north came up with the most wonderful catch (?) of snowshoe rabbits you can ever imagine...I knew the hunting there had been good for several seasons but never dreamed it was like what he described... But if I had any doubts the were soon shattered by Peaine Township Supervisor Jack Connaghan...I met him at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors and mentioned that I'd talked with Archie recently and that he'd told me about the rabbit hunting there...Jack gave me an understanding statement of the situation...that every time you drove down the road you saw these big white rabbits skittering off in every direction...and that his boys went hunting just about every night after they came from school (and they live seven miles from school) and always come home with at least one...He also told me what good eating they were and has promised to send me a couple...I haven't eaten rabbit in years so I figure I'm in for a real treat....

WE ALSO TALKED about the big beaver colony on the island...I knew a little about them but he told me more...and told me I should come over there and tour the island in one of those snow-mobles that puts over the top of the snow to just about any place you'd like to go...Then I'd have an opportunity to see the mud-huts in which the beavers live and witness, first hand, the results of their hard work...I asked him what they lived on and he said the bark of aspen trees, roots and similar

Dear Editor:

Potential Tragedy Lurks on Sled Hill

DEAR EDITOR:

It is apparent that the good parents of Charlevoix are unaware of the hazards and potential tragedy that abounds on the Grant St. Hill winter playground. I have lived beside the hill for 30-odd years and to me, the risk has been constant and ever-present.

Many times I have held my breath in alarm while a stunned child recovered his senses when his racing, uncontrollable "flyer" came head-on into an immovable object such as a parked automobile wheel, a street sign post or the electric utility pole on the corner. I have also dried the tears and wiped the bloody noses from many such encounters.

THERE IS ALWAYS the danger of a skidding car on Antrim St. even though the guard on duty is constantly on the alert to protect the youngsters and divert them from the Antrim thoroughfare.

But danger begins high on the hill itself. Children are such adventurous little people: They are never content to follow the accepted pattern of sliding downhill—they must improvise and it is not uncommon to see three take off at one and the same time—one (or more) from the road-bank adjoining the old hospital grounds, another from the bank supporting the Assembly of God parsonage, while others start right down the middle.

The "near-misses" that are brought about when they come close to collision is guaranteed to turn anybody's hair gray. It accounts for many of the younger fry lapsing into panic and losing control of flexible steering apparatus with the aforementioned bloody noses and various bruises and contusions.

The gallant men who stand guard at the traffic intersection cannot be placed at once. Consequently, the lack of order and discipline on the hill itself is something to behold on a Saturday or the after-school hours in winter.

TO ADD TO THE physical dangers, a sudden thaw brings slush that accumulates on the unplowed portion of the street which the children use. The day before Christmas the youngsters' sleds were awash with slush as they careened through the slough between Newman Alley and Antrim Street. Only the very young could survive such exposure, without bringing on a double case of double pneumonia.

There must be a safer place for the children of our town I believe there is in our city park overlooking Lake Michigan beach where the children make daily treks to swim and play in summer.

Perhaps we cannot afford to lose the beautiful trees to a safer "freeway" for children's sleds but we have already lost some very beautiful maples on the corner of Antrim and Bridge to the parking facility in the new business expansion, which has seemed to many of our citizens as unnecessary sacrifice to a functional addition to our town.

Can we not now, make a further sacrifice to provide our children of today and those of tomorrow a safe and sane sled-hill where the guards will have only the children to watch.

I DO NOT HAVE children of my own on the hill but I am still interested in their welfare and have been all my life. I worked in Sunday School while my own son was growing up and much later as well as putting together two published story books for children's enjoyment. Old people who once lived on the opposite side of the Grant Street playground have long since sold their property and moved away because the chaos on the hill was more than they could bear.

But the Wexstuffs are harder: I have now fortified myself against shock of impending disaster with a pair of very dark glasses, (so I cannot see the mayhem on the hill) ear-plugs, (so I cannot hear the mayhem on the hill) and a large, economy size bottle of tranquilizers to suppress my feelings of anxiety and concern so this is my final word on the subject.

Drenth Bros. is Growing

Years ago, when a person wanted building work done the place to call was Drenth Bros., or sometimes better known as Brick-crete.

The firm was established in 1948. The original owners, George, Harvey and John are still active.

At their small plant on the Lake Shore-rd., a machine was installed to make brickcrete. A very interesting operation but awful noisy.

The brothers could see the needs of the community and surrounding area for bulldozing, excavating, snowplowing, trucking and selling sand and gravel.

George operated the bulldozer this work was limited with a dozer T16 International and his thoughts were for a larger piece of machinery. George's goal was realized. In 1951 a HD5 Allis Chalmers dozer was purchased. That same year Gerrit, another brother was added as a partner and they began construction work.

Before this time they hired one of two men and when construction started four to six men found employment. Many buildings constructed in the area showed the use of brickcrete. Gerrit set the pace for the company, and from 1950 through 1959 added a complete line of masonry building materials.

They acquired a backhoe and in 1956 went to the use of a fork lift with all brickcrete materials on pallets.

Gerrit's health was failing but his faith gave him the ability to work and manage the firm. The town mourned his death in 1959.

The Drenth brothers continued their progress and in 1960 hired Clarence VanderArk as manager. One year later he died.

When you see a grain of sand very little consideration is given to it, then one sees a huge sand pile and you realize the importance of sand. This is the picture a person receives when they remember the time Gerrit started working for his uncle.

He was a school boy and spent most of his out of school time working at the brickcrete machine. A small figure, similar to that grain of sand.

Upon graduation from Ellsworth High School, Gerrit decided to attend Michigan Tech. Two years at the Soo and two years at Houghton, he graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in Mechanical Engineering. Now like this huge pile of sand, his life became moulded to take on more responsibilities.

In January 1961, knowing the enthusiasm of their nephew and his confidence in the future, the Drenth brothers decided to hire Gerrit as manager and engineer.

In 1961 the firm began manufacturing Otis Well Drills and Terra-Crete Patio Blocks. These items were wholesaled to dealers and sold retail. Another new type of brickcrete was manufactured the same year. Modular Height and "Wire-Cut" texture. One year later they became dealers and installers for Bermuda swimming pools. Along with the other items manufactured they added Otis-Walk precast steps, to wholesale and retail lines.

The Drenth Bros. hauling service cannot be overlooked for several years their trucks have hauled beets and carrots for the canning factory. In 1963 they hauled 2174 tons, and last year less tonnage but more acres of beets and carrots.

Sand and gravel is used and sold in large quantities, having access to sand and in need of gravel they purchased in October, 1962 forty acres of land where there is gravel and top dirt.

With a gravel pit in one location and the sand pit in another, a movable gravel screen is used for screening brickcrete gravel, concrete gravel and mortar sand. A homemade loader tractor is used at both pits. The area of land for fill dirt and mortar sand is ten acres.

The firm's snow plowing of the city streets and snow removal for private home owners, keeps trucks, tractors, grader and snowplow in use during the winter months. A four wheel drive crab tractor with loader and backhoe is used in various jobs, such as digging trenches, holes for septic tanks, and other excavating jobs.

The work force has increased to 15 men and many times during the season uses 20 men. These men do different types of work such as, carpenters (rough and interior), masonry (cement work, cement block and brickcrete) and truck drivers.

Among jobs the firm points to with pride are the completion of a 60'x235' warehouse for the canning factory in Ellsworth, 7,000 square feet addition to a restaurant in Mackinaw city (now in process), remodeled Hastings Funeral Home, also several homes, cottages, garages and miscellaneous jobs. Besides using their own manufactured products for construction of Drenth Bros. sold concrete products to 24 dealers from Alpena to Newberry and brickcrete to several jobs throughout northern Michigan.

The company has acquired the manufacturing franchise for a nine county area. The Brickcrete sales area is in 20 counties.

Their main construction area covers a 20 mile radius. Future plans call for added concrete products.

With the increase in of the business, their present building (5,400 square feet) has become too small so an additional building, with 3,500 square feet, is being constructed for storage area and repair shop.

Drenth Bros. has plans to make concrete products during the winter. With the new room, sand can be stored under cover of the weather.

This firm has not only grown by good management but with hard work. George, Harvey and John have set their clocks for the wee hours of the morning to start a job, there must be some "farmer" left in them. Whatever it may be, this firm's growth shows the opportunity a free enterprise system can offer.

In 1957 Michigan united its two great peninsulas with the $100 million Mackinac Bridge, the world's longest suspension bridge—its span 8,614 feet, its total length five miles, its cable towers rising above water the height of a 46-story building.

I can't leave out the experiences of my two girls Friday. At Friday night's game Kathi won a beautiful pink coconut cake to match her pink slacks. Susi had the thrill of having a ride in Mr. Jarema's airplane (and she didn't even need a pilot).

Wedding Bells were ringing for two couples Friday and Saturday of last week. Betty Vandenberg tying the knot with Bob Carpenter and Margaret Smith saying "I do" with Don Wilson. Congratulations.

Once again Willard VanderArk is in the hospital, not by an accident but as a victim of a hernia. He is taking residence at Charlevoix Hospital.

Franklin Stucker spent a few days having his picture taken and testing the food at Little Traverse Hospital last week. He blew out the flash bulb and the camera will be put to work again Monday of this week.

Mrs. Elsie Timmer underwent major surgery at Little Traverse Hospital on Wednesday January 6th.

There are three fellows in our neighborhood who are giving out with talk about pretty girls, sunshine a football game, Texas hats, relatives, many miles and a good time. The lucky chaps were Ed Drenth, Bernie DeVries and Dane Drenth, they made a trip to California for the Tournament of Roses. Mr. John Drenth was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Don Drenth and daughter in California. The five men enjoyed the Rose Bowl game.

County Crime Rate Up One-Third During 1964, Rose Reports

A more than one-third increase in crime in Charlevoix County was indicated this week by Sheriff Glenn Rose's annual report for 1964.

Rose's statistics for 1964 reveal that 330 prisoners were registered at the County Jail. This is 130 more than the 200 prisoners in 1963.

ACCORDING TO Rose the increase is largely in drunkenness and breaking and entering. He said nearly 50% of the increase is caused by breaking and entering. Most of these were in rural areas.

The second major increase in arrests was for crimes related to drinking. Much of this, according to Rose, involved minors. "These young bucks from the city come up here for a fling," Rose said.

He noted, however, that the increase is statewide and not isolated to Charlevoix County.

THERE WAS NO increase in crimes involving violence, Rose said. There were no murders or other headline producing crimes in 1964.

Rose said the increase in breaking and entering and violations involving alcoholic beverages could be reduced with more police patrolling.

"Our manpower is so short, that's the heck of it," he said. Rose and his three deputies work seven days a week, around the clock, he said.

HE RECENTLY asked the County Board of Supervisors to endorse a proposal that $3 be added to every car license plate fee and this money be returned to the County for local law enforcement.

RAMBLING with sheep

THE OLD FARM house at Idle Acres reminded me of a ship in a storm fighting to stay erect.

But, oh, it looked good to the Sheppard clan (three humans and three dogs) as the not so merry Oldsmobile grunted into the snow-drifted driveway at 6 a.m. Sunday. Even as the frost fiend sought its victims through the drafty walls Mrs. Sheppard whooped for joy at being back. A day in Detroit had been more than we could take.

The return drive to Charlevoix was planned for Sunday afternoon. But all day Saturday we kept asking why anyone would come from Charlevoix to Detroit? So by midnight Saturday we could take it no longer. While relatives protested we packed the car and began the tortuous journey up sterile expressways for Charlevoix. Our State's grand super highways surely make travel much easier. But they become ugly because they are so uniformly barren of life and so terribly efficient.

As the first rays of dawn peeked through the quieting storm we sat basking in our relief to be back at Idle Acres and watching the birds descend on the feeder.

Down came the chickadees, nuthatches, tree sparrows, downy woodpeckers and others to gorge themselves on our early morning offering. A fox squirrel scampered from behind one of the large maples and sat sashily on the stump that was generously covered with kernels of corn. I couldn't help but wonder how many Charlevoixians who have never lived and worked in the big city know how fortunate they are to be here. The dollars may be more plentiful, and easier to come by in Detroit. But there are so many wonders they can't buy that we get absolutely free in Charlevoix.

Then again, maybe the denizens of Idle Acres have a distorted sense of values. A former Detroit area colleague got me to wondering about this when his expression turned to one of almost outright horror as I described the view of woodlands and snow-scaped hills that we enjoy from Idle Acres. The contrast between nature and prim suburban dwellings didn't appeal to him. How nice it is that everyone doesn't want to live in the north.

Fear Loss of Bureau

The estimated 2,000 persons who every year get their drivers license issued, renewed or changed in Charlevoix may have to drive to Boyne City or East Jordan in the future, Sheriff Glenn Rose reports.

Under new State regulations there will only be one drivers license issuing office in Charlevoix County, according to Edward Elzinga of Kalkaska, district supervisor of license operations for the Secretary of State.

THERE IS A good possibility the new office will be located in East Jordan or Boyne City, Rose said.

Elzinga told the Courier that the County will have to provide a 100 square foot office and adequate personnel to operate it.

If it wants to keep the driver's license bureau in the county seat, Charlevoix.

Rose asked the County Board of Supervisors to provide adequate space and a clerk to operate the driver's license office. The Supervisors took no action.

Elzinga said the new office will be in operation by May. It will mean discontinuing two of the three offices now in the county. Offices are located at the Boyne City Police Dept., Charlevoix City police and Sheriff's office behind the County Building.

BOTH BOYNE CITY and East Jordan officials are reported by Rose to have offered the State adequate facilities for the new office.

If the state has not already selected Boyne City or East Jordan, the Board of Supervisors may reconsider the issue at its April meeting.

Rose contends there is adequate space in the County Building at least temporarily house the office. The office must have room for a camera that will take pictures to go on all licenses.

A temporary office in the County Building would suffice until a small addition could be added to the jail, Rose said.

ACCORDING TO Rose the County's share of license fees would probably pay for the addition he is proposing in one year.

The fees, however, would not pay the salary of the fulltime clerk Rose feels will be needed to operate the office.

The Sheriff said he now handles approximately 1,500 license transactions a year. The City police, he said, take care of about 500 more.

Another 1,500 to 2,000 are processed by the State.

Sales Tax Increase Ranks 3rd in State

The Michigan Dept. of Revenue's report for fiscal year 1963-64 reveals Charlevoix County has the third fastest growing economy in the State.

According to the annual report, sales tax collections in Charlevoix County showed the third highest percentage of increase in Michigan.

COUNTY SALES tax collections increased 11.62% in 1963-64 over 1962-63. The total in dollars was $846,875. This was only 17% of the State's total.

The report also reveals that Charlevoix's per capita sales tax collections are slightly above the state average. Per capita collections here were $63.10. The state average is $62.08.

The only counties with bigger increases in tax collections were Alcona, 16.10% and Macomb, 14.61%.

Charlevoix County, the report shows, ranks seventh in sales tax collection increase since 1954. In the last decade the county's collections have increased 57.59%.

Michigan levies a 4% sales tax.

THE REPORT goes into detail on SKI LESSONS FOR CHILDREN.

"From teenagers to grandparents, Charlevoix County Republicans are on the move in 1965," Mrs. Genett said.

The Executive Committee heard a report from Dawn Sayles of East Jordan, chairman of the Young Republican Club.

Fewer Jobless In Charlevoix State Reports

Unemployment in Charlevoix is down compared to the winter of 1963-64, according to Leo Kelly, office manager of the Michigan Employment Security Commission branch in Petoskey. Kelly told the Courier 67 persons are collecting unemployment checks in Charlevoix.

Though he didn't give a specific figure, Kelly said this is down from last winter.

KEELY IS IN Charlevoix every other Tuesday to distribute local unemployment checks. His next visit here will be at 2 p.m. Jan. 19 in City Hall.

In other years the checks have been distributed weekly in Charlevoix. Now persons who want their unemployment check every week must go to Petoskey.

According to Kelly the every-two-week schedule was set up due to the reduced load and as an economy measure.

He also goes to East Jordan and Gaylord only once every two weeks. Most Boyne City people go to Petoskey for their checks, Kelly said.

IN EAST JORDAN, Kelly said, 108 persons are drawing unemployment. This, he said, is about the same as last year.

Sees Harmony in Lansing

Prophecies that dark days are ahead for the north because big city Democrats are in control of the Michigan Legislature are lightly dismissed by Clayton T. Morrison.

Morrison, a Republican from Pickford in the U.P., is Charlevoix County's new State Representative. He has served six terms in the Legislature. Reapportionment made Charlevoix County part of his district and he was re-elected in November.

MORRISON, who often passes through Charlevoix between his Pickford home and Lansing, told the Courier he believes north country representatives can work with down-state Democrats.

During his six terms in the House, Morrison said he has built up a good working relationship with Democrats.

Until the session that opened last week, Republicans have been in control of the Legislature for three decades. Reapportionment, and the almost total defeat of Republicans in November, gave metropolitan area Democrats control of the Legislature.

However, both of Charlevoix's representatives--Sen. Thomas Schweigert of Petoskey and Morrison--are Republicans.

Morrison said that duo to his willingness to cooperate with Democrats while they were in the minority he feels he will be returned to his former committee. They are Roads and Bridges, Education, Conservation, Tourist Industry Relations and Tuberculosis Hospitals.

He asked that anyone from Charlevoix having problems or questions that can be handled through the Legislature contact him by writing to the House of Representatives, Capitol Building, Lansing.

Morrison also invited individuals and groups to contact him if they are in Lansing. He said he will show them around and see that they meet the department heads and officials that can help them.

Charlevoix's as yet-futile efforts to get the State Waterways Commission to pay more than 50% of the cost for new pleasure boat docks will also receive his attention, Morrison said. He suggested the City and Commerce send a

WEATHER

It's easy to agree on last week's weather. It was just plain too darn cold.

Temperatures recorded at the Couriers reached 16 below zero. Thursday and Friday the thermometer lingered around, or below, the zero mark until late afternoon when the sun, blessing brightly from a clear sky, sent the needle soaring to 40 degrees.

However, the sun's brightness was misleading. It had little actual influence on the temperature. As soon as the thermometer was turned away from it the needle rapidly fell back to zero.

Sunday evening was perhaps the most treacherous for driving of the winter. The wind howling in off Lake Michigan limited visibility to 100 feet or less in some places as it choked vision with thick snow.

At the Couriers gate to press the temperature stands at 24 degrees under amber skies with a light snow falling delegation to Lansing to discuss the issue at a joint meeting with the Michigan Waterways Commission.

MORRISON is backing the bill to put the State's faith and credit behind Mackinaw Bridge bonds. This, he said, would reduce the annual interest on the bonds by $1 million.

Both the northern Lower Peninsula and Upper Peninsula tourist industry will benefit if more people use the bridge, he contends.

Lobbyists for education are asking the Legislature for a $70 million increase in state aid, Morrison said. He doubts they will get more than $35 million. Even the more liberal Legislature cannot provide money it has no way of getting, he explained.

As a member of the House Conservation Committee, Morrison admits he is in disfavor with the Conservation Dept. because he often disagrees with its requests and sees that they do not get through the Legislature.

THOUGH HE said he favors preservation and utilization of our natural resources, Morrison contends the Conservation Dept. is becoming too powerful and is infringing on the rights of individuals.

He opposes removing the bounty from fox.

He would have the Conservation Dept. sell much of the land it now holds that gets little or no recreation use. Money from these sales, he said, could be used to improve campgrounds and other facilities.

baby handled in Boyne City, Rose said.

THIS, ACCORDING to Rose, means the county's one licensing bureau will take care of about 4,000 persons annually. He considers this a fulltime job.

Charlevoix Mayor E.D. Hawley told the Courier he will look into the situation to see if the City should take some action.

Elzinga said the State's unofficial position is that the office should be in the county seat. But unless required facilities are provided for the camera it cannot be.

Local Kiwanians Join in Marking 50th Anniversary

Charlevoix Kiwanians today are joining those in the rest of the free world to celebrate the service club's Golden Anniversary.

Ten Charlevoixians expect to attend the 50th Anniversary dinner in Detroit tonight (Thursday). Kiwanis International was founded in Detroit.

ATTENDING THE anniversary fete in Detroit will be Mr. and Mrs. Barney Engelhart, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Totten, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Willis, Robert Richards and John Schmidt.

Mayor E.D. Hawley has issued the following proclamation, commemorating Kiwanis on their Golden Anniversary.

WHEREAS January 21, 1965 is the Golden Anniversary of the founding of Kiwanis International, and, WHEREAS achievement of this milestone represents more than the completion of fifty calendar years, but is, in truth, the golden anniversary of community service.

And, WHEREAS the men of Kiwanis have contributed unselfishly to the good of this community, aided in their work by the citizens,

I, therefore, call upon the citizens to join me in honoring the Kiwanians of Charlevoix, as those Kiwanians have honored us in countless ways throughout the years, and I declare this to be Kiwanis Golden Anniversary Week in Charlevoix, urging each and every citizen to join me in wishing this organization of our fellow citizens a happy birthday and many more to come in the years that lie ahead.

Witness my hand and seal,

Elmer D. Hawley
Mayor

Do you ever consider the meaning of a day?... Just a single day?... One day out of the 365-day year? With you, what does a day mean??? Actually, it means 1440 moments of opportunity. It means 24 hours of precious fleeting lifetime. It means that life at best is short... that it is only a little while we have to make the journey down through the valley of time. Just what are you doing with this day and every day? You sin when you uselessly spend the days God gave you. Each day on the calendar is like "a sheet of paper white whereon each one of us may write his word or two and then comes night... though thou have time but for a line, be that sublime; not failure but low aim is crime." Go to church this week and ask the Lord to help you keep your aim high. Ask Him to help you plan well every moment of every hour of every day. What does a day mean to you?

Ellsworth Wins To Stand Alone On Top of Loop

By Kathi Wieland
And Suzi Pether
ELLSWORTH -- The Lancers are all alone in first place in the league after trouncing their chief rival Bellaire, 76-75, Friday night.

In non-loop action during the week the Ellsworth cagers rolled to an easy 73-48 victory over Elk Rapids.

The Junior Varsity wasn't as fortunate. It beat Bellaire 60-33 but lost 38-26 to Elk Rapids. The game between the Bellaire Eagles and the Lancers Friday was the most exciting and noisy of the season. The gym was packed and as Coach Danforth predicted, the tension was so high you could cut it with a dull knife.

From the beginning the game was close, and this condition got worse as the game wore on. Scoring by quarters was, 20-17, 38-35, 56-55, and finally 76-75, with the Lancers in the lead in each case.

The starting five really got a work-out as there was only one substitution in the entire game.

HIGH POINT man for Ellsworth was Ken Richardson, who had 22 points. Jerry Ash, with 24 points, led the scoring for Bellaire.

The Lancers made 22 points from free throws, and Bellaire made 6.

As the game progressed into the last few minutes of the fourth quarter, it was a really see-saw battle for the lead. The climax was in the last 15 seconds. At this point the Eagles scored, putting them in the lead 75-74.

Things looked sad for the Lancers until with only about 3 seconds remaining Gary Tornga saw foul and given a free-throw. He missed the shot but Ken Richardson got the ball and dumped in the winning basket for Ellsworth.

The Eagles were given the ball on the Lancers end of the court, and they were mass confusion. The clock ran out, and people were yelling, crying, and laughing all at once.

Then word got back to the fans that Bellaire had called a time out, and those two wretched seconds had to be played over. They called 3 time outs before the game resumed, with the Eagles taking the ball at the center of the court. The ball was passed in, and the Gary Tornga intercepted the ball, and thus the game ended with Ellsworth in possession.

ELLSWORTH'S J. V. team got back in the win column when they defeated Bellaire 80-33, Friday. The Lancers scored the first two points and led throughout the game.

From the second quarter on, Coach Albright did lots of substituting.

Four players from Ellsworth should be mentioned for their scoring: Daryl Kaley with 14, Duane Drenth with 13, St. Doctor with 12, and Harold DeYoung with 11. For Bellaire, Terry Mahan and Danny Lambert each had 6 points.

ELK RAPIDS gained an early lead in Tuesday's game and held it throughout the first quarter but the Lancers narrowed it to 19-15 before the end of the quarter and were on top 78-48 when the game ended.

Early in the second quarter, Walt Kooyer tied the score at 21-21 and Marv Rute sank two free shots to put Ellsworth out in front. Elk Rapids' Bill Edwardson tied the score up again, but Ken Richardson broke the tie, putting Ellsworth out in front 25-23. The Lancers pulled away and at the half, they led 38-27.

From there on, the Lancers increased their lead, without the Elks ever posing a serious threat to take over the lead. Both sides scored quite heavily in the third quarter and at the end of the period the score had been raised to 53-39.

This score was raised to 73-48 at the end of the final quarter, giving the Lancers another star in their win column.

Top scorer for Ellsworth was Chet Boss who dropped in 22 points. For Elk Rapids, it was Larry Fleistra who scored 17.

IN THE preliminary game Tuesday night, Ellsworth's J. V. team lost to their opponents from Elk Rapids, 38-28.

Harold DeYoung led the Lancers with ten points and Rob Green was tops for Elk Rapids with twelve.

THE CHARLEVOIX Rod and Gun Club pistol team lost by 24 points in a postal match against the Gladwin pistol team.

Six members from each team fired and mailed their scores to the other club.

GLADWIN'S shooters fired 1,337 points to beat Charlevoix's 1,613.

Shooters from Charlevoix were Paul Johnson, 291; Bernie Ward Jr., 286; Frank Zednick, 276; Harold Lang, 255; Ken Boss, 254, and Herb Boss, 251.

AT CONFAB

William Parsons of Charlevoix, secretary-treasurer of the Top O'Michigan Rural Electric Co., Boyne City, expects to attend the annual meeting of the National Rural Electric Co-operative Assn. at Miami Beach, Fla., Jan. 24-28.

E-J Cagers Face Test At Pellston

East Jordan with a three-win-loss record will travel to Pellston Friday to take on the Hornets (3-3).

Elsewhere Harbor Springs will invade Gaylord and Boyne City will host Grayling as the teams of the Northern Michigan Class C league open the second half of their current schedule.

Friday's game should be a "cliff hanger" for Jordan's Red Devils will be out to avenge their initial 73-59 loss to the Hornets who, before Tuesday's game, shared second place with Grayling.

The Hornets, because of their record and the fact that they are playing on their home court, will be favored over the bigger Jordanites. However, the Hornets chances will be lessened by the loss of Denny Bielas, benched with a fractured cheekbone suffered in the Petoskey-St. Francis game when he collided with an opponent.

Lancers Hit On 23 of 25 Free Throws

By Roy Staudenmeyer
ELLSWORTH -- Joy was on the face of Ellsworth fans after Friday night's game against Bellaire. Bellaire's Varsity, Junior Varsity and Junior High teams bowed to the Lancers. Excitement was greater than at a tournament contest. Both teams showed they had power to score from any position.

Jerry Ash was the leading scorer with 24 for Bellaire and Ken Richardson led Ellsworth with 22.

The Ellsworth Lancers made 21 consecutive free throws. Practice almost makes perfect. The Lancers hit on 23 out of 25 free shots.

Ellsworth Coach Bob Danforth used only one substitute, Coach Don Smith of the Eagles had made two subs.

THE ELLSWORTH Junior Varsity played their best game since the season started. Not because they won, but the way the game was played. They were more aggressive and the good backboard work proved their ability on defense. Daryl Kaley was moving and poured in the points. Keep up the good work Daryl.

The other day I had a fan from Bellaire tell me that the Ellsworth Junior High team was developing into a fine team and that Roy Staudenmeyer and Ron Boss turned in an excellent performance. The win over Bellaire listed Ron 14, Fred Taylor, Randy Rute and Roy with 10 points each. The Lancers Junior High team is in first place in the conference.

Alba's loss to Rapid City puts them in the cellar and they will meet the leader of the Conference this Friday, Jan. 22 in Ellsworth. We know they are coming to win. Alba has everything to gain but nothing to lose.

The Lancers travel to McBain for Tuesday night's game the 28th. On Friday January 29th, Central Lake once again plays at Ellsworth. The Trojans have been winning the important games but have two tough games in a row, First Bellaire then Ellsworth. By the way, Central Lake is playing Bellaire in Ellsworth, Saturday January 23rd.

Mancelona Could Be Troublesome for CHS

The Charlevoix Rayders will launch the home stretch of their 1964-65 season Friday when they travel to Mancelona to take on the Ironmen whom they defeated 79-43 in the opening game of the season.

The second meeting, however, is not expected to be the easy win the first one was. The Ironmen have shaped up into a pretty fair team and, with one game remaining in the first half of the schedule, was the only team to halt the title-minded Gaylord Blue Devils. However, if the Rayders are at full strength and play their usual brand of ball they should come through with a second win over the Ironmen.

THE RAYDERS came through Friday's crucial game with East Jordan with a 74-58 victory to keep them in first place along with their Tuesday night opponent, Harbor Springs and Gaylord.

In the game at East Jordan, the Rayders rolled to a 19-15 first period lead over the Jordanites who were held to a 35-28 halftime score before the Rayders broke loose with a red hot third period to go ahead 55-43. Charlevoix continued to out-point their hosts for the 16-point victory.

Five Rayders hit in double figures paced by Doug Winnell with 17 points. Dave Smith and Jim Uhrick tallied 12 points each.

Dave Norton, playing with a lame ankle, had 11 and Warren Bolding 10.

Tom Drenth came through with 20 points for the Jordanites while Mick Bett was held to 14.

Comment Fact Opinion

County Should Provide Drivers License Space

FAILURE OF THE County Board of Supervisors to respond to Sheriff Gismn Rose's request that room be provided in the County Building for a drivers license bureau may result in Charlevoix area citizens having to drive to Boyne City to get permission to drive.

As Rose explained, the County must provide 100 square feet of space, and a clerk, if it wants to get the license bureau. The present license bureaus in the Sheriff's office, City Police Dept. and Boyne City will all be consolidated into one. It will either be in Charlevoix, the county seat, or, most likely Boyne City, but possibly East Jordan.

THE STATE, ROSE said, is inclined to favor putting the bureau in county seats, if all other things are equal. All area counties will only have one bureau by next summer, Ed Elzinga, district supervisor of the Secretary of State's drivers license program, supports Rose's statement.

However, if this county fails to provide the required space, and personnel, the bureau will go to Boyne City, which has agreed to make both the room and clerk available.

The Courier cannot help but admire the Boyne City Council for taking the initiative in this matter. By doing so it is putting forth its best effort to provide the most convenient service for its citizens.

Because the Courier's first interest is Charlevoix, we, naturally, favor having the license bureau here.

HOWEVER, THERE are other good arguments for putting the office in Charlevoix. The most obvious may be that as the county seat this is where most county residents must come at least once every three years (which is how often a license must be renewed) during office hours to transact official business.

On the other hand, there are many Charlevoix people who seldom, or never, get to Boyne City during business hours. Persons from other sections of this county would find the license bureau only another stop during their otherwise necessary visit to Charlevoix.

The State, we gather from our conversation with Elzinga, recognizes that functions concerning all county residents should be located in the county seat for the convenience of citizens.

The most difficult part of the whole issue to swallow is the fact that there is room available in the County Building and yet supervisors failed to take action to put it in service for this use. Charlevoix supervisors, were among those who heard Rose ask for the space and they did nothing.

THERE MAY STILL be time to act at the April meeting of the supervisors. However, it may also be too late by then as Elzinga says the new office should be in operation by May, meaning a decision will be made soon.

Supervisors appear inclined to hesitate because they suspect operation of this office may cost the county some money.

Fees returned by the state from drivers license costs may not pay for the complete cost of running the bureau. If they do not, this is only one of many services government must provide through taxation. Boyne City officials, apparently, are aware of this.

Perhaps the City of Charlevoix should step in to fill the gap left by inaction of the Board of Supervisors. At least we hope Mayor E.D. Hawley and Councilmen will give it serious consideration.

If Charlevoix, either through the county board or this city, cannot provide the facilities reportedly being offered by Boyne City, we would suggest East Jordan be considered as the location for the bureau. Not to spite Boyne City, but because it is more centrally located for the majority of this county's population.

Let's Call a Meeting to Get Going on Plans for Museum

A GAIN AND AGAIN we have people ask us what is doing on proposals that a Charlevoix museum be established. Our only answer has to be that nothing has really been started.

These people tell us they have various items relating to Charlevoix's early era as a lumbering center or harbor or sailing ships that they would like to contribute to the museum. Many also add that they would like to do their share of work in starting the museum and operating it.

WHY, WITH ALL this evident interest and enthusiasm, hasn't some sort of organization been established and concrete plans started to make the museum a reality?

This is an easy question to answer. No one has yet called for a meeting of interested parties. It, obviously, isn't due to lack of desire that nothing has been done. Probably, only because no one has thought of it and those who would like to see the first step taken are hesitant to set themselves up as leaders.

Perhaps the first move should be made by this Chamber of Commerce. Not that the museum should be a chamber responsibility. But it certainly is in the chamber's interest and it could provide the initial direction to get things rolling.

Chamber Manager Dean Davenport and secretary Mrs. Dorothy Kohler are both strong supporters of a museum plan. It does not seem to us that they would be stepping out of bounds to call for a meeting in the next few weeks of all persons interested.

FROM THIS FIRST gathering the foundation could be established for a Charlevoix Historical Society that would schedule its own future meetings.

It would seem timely to begin now if plans are going to be far enough along by July to present firm proposals to our summer residents, who, certainly, would be interested in lending their support.

Retirement Up to Employees

C HARLEVOIX CITY Council has thrown to its employees the responsibility for determining whether they will get a pension plan. By calling for voters to decide if city employees should have retirement benefits, the council, as the Courier sees it, left the fate of pensions up to the people who will benefit from them.

It is now up to city employees to put their bid for retirement benefits over to the public. If employees want pensions they must expect to work to convince voters they should have them.

SPECIFICALLY THE Courier feels employees should tell the public how the $10,000 a year pension fund costs can be paid. Should this money be raised by levying more property taxes? Or should something be cut from the budget to provide the money, and if so what?

Further, employees should show city voters that they are now earning less than the average for the area. This is a big argument on their behalf, because the pension plan is really a pay raise in the form of a fringe benefit.

The Courier believes employees can answer all these questions, and others, and that if they do, Charlevoix people being fair-minded, will approve the pension plan. We personally favor pensions for city employees, but if they are not willing to fight for them neither are we.

The Courier welcomes the chance to deliver the city employees' message to the public.

It might be worthwhile to add that if employees had been more active in outlining the answers to these questions, City Council may have approved the plan without putting it to voters.

Local Preparations Begin Now

Charlevoix County
Michigan Week Chairman

Woodward C. Smith, vice president of Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant, is general chairman of Michigan Week, 1965. He and his colleagues with thousands of Michigan Minutemen have kept the march in a vigorously forward direction in an all out effort to justly further promote the local communities, counties and the end result the marching forward State of Michigan as it really is in every phase humanly possible.

Now it is again time for organizing and planning the celebration climax this year as in the past, MICHIGAN WEEK MAY 16th-22nd. The theme for Michigan Week is "MICHIGAN--DYNAMIC IN WORLD PROGRESS". Indeed quite fitting.

As Michigan Week Charlevoix County chairman, your writer was encouraged by the year's response, cooperation and willingness of the interested persons, various groups etc., however this year I look forward to greater success county wide. Through the Farm Bureau-Coop to prevail upon the farmer and the allied various phases, and by means of special committees there will be an effort with education and the variety of industries. Something of great importance during Michigan Week is "Our Youth Day", Saturday, May 22. These young people of tomorrow with whom one day we will rest the oars of today, should be a big part in this, their day. This should not be delt with lightly.

IN THE VERY near future I expect to get underway with Charlevoix County contacts, sincerely hoping to stimulate greater community interest and arouse talent.

No doubt because of earlier outside news paper articles and other communications persons and groups with previous experience already are alerted and likely are in early stages of planning.

It is a pleasure to announce that well qualified Dean Davenport Manager of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce has not only again accepted appointment as City or Community Chairman of Charlevoix but already has a head start. He has assembled co-chairmen who with assistance will arrange the variety of programs and allied matters fitting to the specific days of Michigan Week. Davenport's co-chairmen are: Roy Bennett, retired school superintendent; Rev. Ray McBratnie, pres. of the Ministerial Ass'n.; Franklin Ochs of Central Drug; Louis Edwards of Edward's (IGA Mkt.); Mrs. Frank Courter, president Dickens Study Club; Mrs. Wayne Bellet, president Shakespeare Study Club and Mrs. Curtis Burlin, president Garden Club.

In no way does this list of names indicate the limit as there are many more of our local talent to be contacted. In the meantime should persons feel the like to volunteer please do not hesitate, you will be very welcome as will your ideas and efforts.

The process of needed and necessary organization is in the making. Accordingly other announcements are to be expected little later. There is plenty of talent here, hidden and otherwise, as there are willing workers needed for such an important and good cause. These people should come forward as there is a part for everyone. The bleacers, so to speak should be cleared of those who oftentimes want to run the game from there as they remain seated. Let's all come out, get up to the plate and take our turn at bat. Charlevoix and its neighboring county communities can do a fine job if they will, but it takes a great deal of combined individual efforts.

Seven Special Days of Michigan Week, May 16-22, are: Sunday, May 16-Spiritual Foundation Day; Monday, May 17-Our Government Day; Tuesday, May 18-Our Hospitality Day; Wednesday, May 19-Our Livelihood Day; Thursday, May 20-Education Day; Friday, May 21-Our Heritage Day; and Saturday, May 22-Our Youth Day.

There are several worth while contests for this Michigan Week program, the details of which are expected to be announced soon with great appeal to participate.

Very attractive promotional material is already available upon order. The details can be had by calling 647-2224, or contact Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce. It is not too early to get things going.

odds 'n ends

By FRANK MARTIN

Viewers of the Ted Mack Amateur show got a surprise last week when they saw a familiar face and heard an even more familiar name....The name was Helen Armstrong and the gal was a very talented violinist...the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Armstrong who now live to Rockford, Ill....She had been an earlier winner and had returned to last week's show in Miami....Of course her aunt, Mrs. Edward Shana... was beaming with pride as she watched the show...and rightfully so....And isn't it fun to see someone you know or know about appear in the limelight now and then?

And weren't you equally as proud of our own Edna Peters, a student at Northern Michigan University, where she appeared as cornet soloist with the Northern Michigan orchestra during its winter concert....The field of music is a difficult one for a gal but it looks as tho' Edna's cracked it....And where did she receive her initial training? Where else but right here under the guidance of our own Odie Odmark....

Among the unsung heroes in our midst are a couple young members of the crew of the Cutter Suodew....Seems the quarter-master spotted a little pooch as it fell from the city dock into the chilling waters of Round Lake and started to swim toward the channel....They tried to call him back but he wouldn't heed their calls and whistles....The young seaman grabbed the life preserver from the adjacent building and tossed it ahead of the dog....It stopped him momentarily and, as they started to pull the ring back in, the dog turned and started for the dock....AS he neared the ramp at the dock, one of these young heroes laid on his tummy and reached out over the water in an effort to rescue the pooch....and missed....With no place to crawl out of the water, the dog started swimming in circles so they threw the life preserver in again and maneuvered him back to the dock where the young sailor, this time secured to the dock by a buddy who held his ankles as he slithered out over the water, grabbed the pup as it swam by....The dripping pup and the young seaman were then pulled back into the dock, both were rushed to the ice shack where they were dried out and warmed and the dog's owner noticed of its rescue....Involved in the rescue operation were Cliff Drake, SA, and Carl 'Doc' Wiersum, the corpsman who held Drake's ankles and administered first aid to the pair....

I'd like you to do me a personal favor....As you cross the bridge these days, look toward Lake Michigan and notice that the lights on the pier heads are burning....Last winter when we looked out we saw only the black of night and, when you're used to seeing the lights, it can look mighty black....This winter they've been left on after several local residents asked that they be turned on nightly to mark the harbor's entrance....which, until last year, was always marked by the familiar lights....So won't you tell Lt. Cmdr. Millrad and, through him, the U.S. Coast Guard that you appreciate this courtesy....

Now that Michigan's own Gerald Ford has been named House Minority leader in Washington, Michigan ski resorts, especially Boyne Mountain, have been getting plenty of national publicity....Pictures appeared in papers across this great land showing the Ford family 'retaxing' at Boyne Mountain while he, colonel was in this snow country....breakfast at the Weather-vane Inn, and almost before it's daylight, their gear is packed and they're off to the slopes....where they spend the day before departing directly from the various resorts for their homes....In La-Grange, Chicago....name it and you'll find a ski club here sometime during the winter....The thing that amazes me the most is the fact that these kids....and most of them are young men and women in their late teens and early 20's....have spent a good part of Friday night on the road, all day Saturday on the slopes and, come Sunday, they're as fresh and well groomed as tho' they'd had all the rest in the world....Isn't it wonderful to be young?

I've asked you to do me one favor....May I ask you to do a second one? Dig out the January 16 issue of the SatEvePost, turn to page 10 and read the article under the heading "Speaking Out" entitled "We Treat Our Military Shabbily"....I think the article, written by a former officer, is terrific....Since we've become a military community and many of us have scars of important that all of you read it....And, if you can't find the issue, I'm sure you'll find it at the Library....

Dear Editor

Teacher Relates Her Views on Nurseries

DEAR EDITOR: Your "rambling" Column of January 7th dealt with certain aspects regarding the education of our young people today. I have had seven years of teaching experience in Northern Michigan. Might I take this opportunity to reply to some of your statements?

The thought behind our nursery school for three year olds is not, as you state, for earlier and more conformity, but rather to take youngsters from slum environments at this early age in an attempt to give them the background for success in regular school when they are of age to enter. Two experimental Early Admissions Schools opened in Baltimore in 1963 with two more opening the next year. The experiment seems to be a definite success but it is too early to tell yet. The program is just that--an experiment, in four schools in one city, handling deprived children only. Hardly what you conveyed in your column: that of "state subsidized nursery schools" that would end up being mandatory!"

I CANNOT speak for History and Social Science instructors whose fields the major portion of your comments dealt with, but I find it very difficult to believe that the thinking of our young people is being channelled into acceptance of any form of undesirable attitude. With the world as it is today, and becoming even more closely bound by constant improvements in transportation and communication it would be sheer folly to ignore the international implications! The extremists of the militant right-wing organizations, who attempt to impose their views on teachers and students as the only road to truth and the only measure of loyalty, constitute one of the largest threats to American education.

One of the aims of our education system today is to produce independent and thoughtful men and women who are responsible and informed citizens. Fortunately, there is, as yet, no philosophy dictated to us by either Washington or Lansing, but the mistaken generalizations and unwarranted implications such as fostered by your column could play a small part in leading to Federal control. When local communities can no longer handle their educational programs responsibly a void will be created and you cannot but it will be the Federal government who steps in.

May I also tell you that every school has a salary schedule set up several months in advance of the school year for which it is intended, and this schedule is available upon request to all interested parties. Any member of the salary committee is prepared to fully explain all aspects of the schedule and indeed is delighted to have the chance to do so through the media of the Press.

VERY TRULY YOURS,

Dogs are Neighborhood Pests

DEAR EDITOR: It really makes one wonder what kind of people there are here in the city that want to own a dog but don't want their dog to be tied up. Just let them run at large to mess up other peoples yards, wet on their shrubbery and kill it, tip over their rubbish barrels, scratch everything out that had to be cleaned up and put back.

It seems that these dog owners get a big kick out of pestering others with their dogs, but these same people wouldn't want anyone to do half what their dog does to others before they would let the other person know they didn't want to be bothered.

Some people want a dog but they keep them at home, take care of their dog. Then there are those that let their dog loose early in the morning so the dog gets back before the dog catcher gets out, then they let the dog loose again at night.

Just because the city retakes on dogs now these people take advantage of letting their dog loose.

Voters Give Opinions On Coming School Issue

By Roy Staudenmeyer
How do the voters and parents of Banks Township stand on the proposal to vote in 17 mills for school operation?

Children were asked for their opinion on the Feb. 17 special school millage election. Their comments, both pro and con, follow. In the interest of promoting open discussion the individuals making the remarks are not identified.

--PRO--
The 17 mills we as taxpayers will be voting on is a must. I am in favor of it. We cannot operate an efficient school on a sewer budget. If this can't be done, then the time is now to consolidate. It is coming sooner or later anyway.
I can't see how we can afford to lose the school. Without a school, industry wouldn't even think of starting in Banks Township.

I am for the new millage, with its increase for operations. The school is needed in this community.

It is not sensible to cut teachers salaries to meet the budget. These teachers can sign contracts for larger wages in any other school. It has been a problem to keep the higher caliber of teachers. We need this operational millage to maintain our school system.

I am a senior citizen, my children received a good education at Ellsworth and I am willing to pay the taxes for other pupils to learn.

Yes! Our tax structure for the school is high but it is more of an advantage to have the educational system in Ellsworth than to transport them somewhere else.

We owe it to our children to vote for the 17 mills. If the vote is turned down, the school cannot operate. Under those circumstances the school board would have but one choice, to send the students to another school district.

Do you people know of a better way to spend that money than on youngsters, our future citizens. This community has supported the school in the past and they can do it now.

I only hope that the people take a good look at what would happen if the vote was defeated. Banks Township would not only lose a school but their P.T.A., Christmas Program at the school, school plays, sports activities, (this alone gives many students a chance to be active). We know in a larger school system the number of these students participating will be small. Then again, not very many people will travel to take an active part in that school's program. It is up to us as parents to strive for a YES vote.

--CON--
I am thinking of the past voting on elections on operating money for the public school. The difficult time trying to have it pass. The time has come for Ellsworth School officials to decide to disband that school, and to make it known legally and publicly. If this is not completed before voting I know of many who will turn this vote down and will make plans for the students to attend another school district.

The students from the Ellsworth Community School have been deprived from many activities, and by sending them to a larger school they could choose their activities.

The school across the tracks has been asked to join the public school system for the last ten or twelve years. The revenue for one year, ten years ago would have been $12,000 to $14,000. The school realizing the sum of money, could have decreased the load on the taxpayer.

Council will be nominated at the caucus 8 p.m. Feb. 15 in the Community Hall. If only one slate of candidates is nominated they will have no opposition in the March 15 election.

Incumbents whose terms expire are Village President Marvin Wynsma, Clerk Neil Kruse; Treasurer Anthony Shooks; Assessor Henry Elzinga. All serve one year terms.

Three two-year trustee terms also expire. Incumbents are Walter Rood, Maynard Alward and Arthur Drenth.

Mr. Orcutt, manager of the Ellsworth Farmers Exchange told me that the Farmers Petroleum and the Ellsworth Coop are planning a Power Farming Day Feb. 3, 10 a.m. at the Community Hall. It will be an all day program, ending at 3 p.m. A tire will be made the day of the program and given away free to some lucky person. A test of motor oil is scheduled for a spot on the days events. Throughout the day prizes will be given away.

Power Farming Day will introduce the new diesel fuel. This fuel is now sold by the Ellsworth Coop, and several farmers as well as commercial users are using this fuel in their equipment.

The public is invited and at noon a free lunch will be served. The Farm Bureau Community Groups have planned on doing the serving.

Madeline Taylor has returned home. Madeline said, "I am grateful for the prayers that were given, I know this is the reason for my recovery. I also want to thank everyone for the cards they sent, the words of comfort and all who were so concerned. It is wonderful to be back in Ellsworth." Prayer and Faith is still the working power.

It was great once again to see Willard VanderArk at the ballgame Friday night.

The Ellsworth Community Public School Board of Education members agreed that they will not operate the school at a deficit. Like it had to be operated several years ago.

The former Ellsworth Extension Club is now known as the Town and County Hobby Club.

The Ellsworth Firemen are having a Pancake Supper Wednesday Jan. 27. The serving time is scheduled for the hours 6 p.m. till 8 p.m. at the Ellsworth Community Hall. The proceeds from this supper is for the purpose of purchasing fire fighting equipment.

The skating rink is being used by those people with hot blood. The below zero weather has made the ice perfect for ice skating.

His father's '65 Ford.....rides quieter than his father's Rolls-Royce

We know it's hard to believe a Ford could ride quieter than the famed Rolls-Royce. But it's a fact. Leading acoustical consultants conducted tests in which three V-8 powered Fords (Galaxie 500 Sedan, new Galaxie 500/XL and LTD Hardtops) with automatic transmissions rode quieter than a new Rolls-Royce. The tests were certified by the U.S. Auto Club. Of course, the best test of all is to get behind the wheel yourself...and listen to a '65 Ford in action.

That's what Chuck's father did. Ford's quietness really impressed him. But it wasn't the quietness alone that sold him. He shopped around and found that Ford offers features and models and quality that simply aren't matched by other cars in its class. For example:

- 100% new body—strongest Ford body ever.
- New frame "tunes out" vibration.
- Decorator-appointed interiors in LTD's, thick nylon carpeting.
- More luggage space than in most competing cars—trunk holds four 2-suiters standing upright with room left over.

- Thrifty, quiet new Big Six—the biggest Six offered by any car in Ford's class...289-cu. in. V-8 in XL's and LTD's.
- All automatic transmissions have three speeds, not two as in some competing cars—smoother shifting, more economy.
- Silent-Flo ventilation (in 4-door hardtops) provides fresh air in car with all windows shut.
- Handy reversible key works either side up.

There's more...much more in a Ford than you'd expect for the money. Visit your Ford Dealer and take a test drive soon.

"Contemporary Renaissance" Style in Bridge St.'s Future

Facelifting Slated for Bridge Street in 1966

The drawing above by Begrow and Brown Architects is what the three buildings from the southwest corner of Bridge St. and Park Ave. south will look like in 1966, according to Jack Begrow.

Begrow this week announced that Henry Hogan and his partner Dale Winnie have approved the above design for the Bernkrantz, Oddiflow and Gelken buildings. They recently purchased the buildings. The building on the left end belongs to Abstract and Engineering. It may not go along with the plan.

WORK ON THE project will begin next week, Begrow said. Initial stages of the work will be remodeling inside the buildings and will not show outside, he said.

Total cost of the project, including interior and exterior, was estimated at approximately $70,000.

Begrow, who recently opened his office in Charlevoix, said the design of the three-building front in "contemporary renaissance."

"You definitely will not see this exact sort of thing anywhere else, though you may see things that resemble it," Begrow said.

IN DESIGNING the building fronts, Begrow said his firm has tried to pick up some of the history and charm of Charlevoix. The architecture, he said, has a French feeling, which was inspired by Charlevoix's name.

"We tried to pick up some of the material and some of the feeling Earl Young has created for Charlevoix," he said.

"Both Hogan and I feel Young has done a wonderful job in giving an architectural style to Charlevoix," Begrow added.

The architecture of the Loeb farm also affected the design of the store fronts, Begrow said.

Thrills Will Highlight First Winter Carnival

Thrills and spills enough to keep away the chills.

That is Charlevoix's formula for a successful Winter Sports Carnival.

The Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce Winter Sports Committee Friday settled on an action-packed plan for a 1965 winter sports carnival.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS, on the recommendation of Chairman Bob Humphries, decided Charlevoix should dispense with the conventional queen contest and ice review that other communities feature in their winter carnivals.

Humphries told the committee queen contests and ice reviews are the most expensive part of a winter sports program. He added that he doubts Charlevoix could attract visitors on the strength of these programs because other winter sports carnivals offer the same thing.

Committee members, at their first meeting, decided Charlevoix should offer a program that will lure people to the carnival because they expect to see a wide variety of exciting winter activities, rather than the amateurish glamor of small-town ice reviews and queen competition.

It was stated that people don't have to go out in the cold to see professional ice skating or winter beauties as television offers the best of this type entertainment there is.

THE COMMITTEE decided to hold a two-weekend Winter Sports Carnival. Tentative dates set were the last weekend in January and the first in February, or the first two weekends in February.

Winter Sports Carnival activities tentatively planned to keep spectators in a state of excitement are:

--Dog sled racing.

--Horse racing on the ice;

--Sport car racing on the ice;

Chamber Seeks Room For Weekend Guests

Charlevoix's growing prominence as a central location for skiers has created a minor housing problem, Dean Davenport, Chamber of Commerce manager, reports.

According to Davenport there are some weekends when there are more skiers than can be accommodated in known motels, rooming houses and cabins.

HE ASKED THAT persons who have comfortable rooms they would consider renting to skiers call the Chamber.

If the Chamber has these rooms on record it will refer skiers to them when there is an overflow from regular guest facilities.

Davenport also announced the Chamber is preparing a new housing brochure. This brochure is sent in response to direct inquiries and to hundreds of potential visitors requesting information. He said it is the only such directory available in the area.

All persons with housing accommodations were asked by Davenport to contact the Chamber immediately to get listed in the brochure. This, he said, includes motels, hotels, resorts, lodges, rooming houses, cabins, cottages, apartments, campgrounds, marine services and real estate firms.

BEAVER ISLAND - Beaver Island is becoming more popular with sportsmen and cottage owners, Karl J. Erber, president of the Beaver Island Boat Co., reports.

Reviewing 1964 reports of passengers and vehicles carried on the ferry "Beaver Island," Erber said business for the year was down about 5%.

HE BLAMED the overall drop in business on bad weather beginning Aug. 8 and continuing through September making it impossible for the boat to operate some days.

The loss, he said, appears to be largely due to a decrease in the number of sight-seeing tourists traveling to the island.

During the major months for sportsmen the boat company's records show a considerable increase over 1963.

Erber said the boat carried 2,700 cars and trucks during the year and approximately 20,000 passengers.

Every month was ahead of last year except August, he said. Rather than carry passengers during rough weather the company keeps the ship in dock. Erber said that in the long run the company feels it is better off to lose a passenger for one day than have them get sick and never return.

THE ISLAND'S growing reputation for trout fishing in Fox Lake and bird hunting was reflected in the boat company's business. The report for May showed a 35% increase over 1963 and October was 30% ahead of 1963.

An increase in deer hunters.

State Police Order Crackdown On Bingo, Raffles, Lotteries

After ten years of getting with it, Charlevoix organizations are going to start obeying the law against bingo, raffles and lotteries, Prosecuting Attorney Harvey Varnum said last week.

According to Varnum the State Police have ordered strict enforcement of the law against these criminal activities.

AS LONG AS we had no complaints we didn't bother with it," Varnum said to explain why bingo and raffles have been allowed since they were outlawed by a vote of the people approximately a decade ago.

The prosecutor said his office has never had a formal complaint against bingo.

Varnum said St. Mary's Catholic Church and the Veterans of Foreign Wars are the only two local organizations he knows of that have held bingo games regularly. He said they have been informed of the crackdown and have agreed to stop playing bingo.

According to Varnum the hardest hit by the crackdown will be elderly people who "sometimes have no other form of recreation."

City Council Asks County Keep License Bureau Here

Charlevoix City Councilmen do not want to see the driver's license office moved out of Charlevoix to Boyne City or East Jordan.

Councilmen and Mayor E. D. Hawley Monday said they will urge the County Board of Supervisors to make room for the bureau in the Sheriff's office or County Building.

IF NOSPACE is made available in these buildings, councilmen will offer to lease space in City Hall to the county.

The State of Michigan has announced that two of Charlevoix County's present three license bureaus will be closed by June.

SELL IT!

HAVE THE little ones outgrown their ice skates, skis, sled or maybe even toboggan?

If they have why let them sit idly collecting dust in the basement, woodshed or barn? Glen Glick, 15, placed a People-Reacher Want Ad in last week's Courier and sold his now too small ice skates the day the paper came out.

Look around, you might be surprised at what you'll find that someone else would jump on the opportunity to have. So let them know about it by placing a People-Reacher Want Ad in Charlevoix County's largest, best-read paper.

Call Hilde at LI 7-6558.

According to Mayor Hawley the State would prefer to leave the bureau in the county seat, Charlevoix.

However, the Secretary of State's office has sent out a letter inviting both East Jordan and Boyne City to offer space for the bureau.

SHERIFF GLENN Rose reports East Jordan and Boyne City officials are actively bidding for the bureau as it would bring people to town from all sections of the county.

The State's letter requires that at least 100 square feet of office space be made available for the bureau because it will include an automatic portrait camera to take pictures for driver's licenses, as required under new law.

Rose asked County supervisors to grant him permission to use space in the County Building or to build a new office on the jail. The supervisors took no action on his request.

"I understand our (the City's) supervisors weren't even pushing for it," Councilman Dr. Walter Hoffmann told councilmen Monday evening.

CHAMBER OF Commerce Retail Committee Chairman, Don Kowbel said Charlevoix merchants will do everything they can to induce the City or County to take the necessary action to keep the bureau in Charlevoix.

Kowbel said that County agencies are now located in Charlevoix and it would be unwise to start spreading them around in different towns. With all county offices here, he pointed out, citizens can take care of all their official business in one trip.

Charlevoix has had some beautiful winter weather lately, but it seems determined to come of the wrong time.

Last Thursday and Friday were bright, clear days with the below freezing to feel like winter but not frost your nose.

Then came the weekend. And with it came snow, high winds and could! By Sunday morning snow shoes were needed to tramp the bonnies. And it is still snowing. There must be about 20 inches of snow on the ground once you get away from Lake Michigan.

The coldest temperature recorded on the Courier's minimum-maximum thermometer since last Thursday was 12 above. The highest was just above freezing. As the paper goes to press the temperature stands at 30 degrees.

Ski Lessons

Young Charlevoix beginning skiers can still take advantage of the free lessons being offered Saturday at Mt. McSaubia by the Kiwanis Club.

Chuck Meier, Mt. McSaubia manager, said young people who want to take the lessons should be at the ski hill at 10 a.m. Saturday. Lessons will be offered on two more Saturdays.

HOMESTEAD'S NEW specially designed, low-cost, home for farm families.

Design House for Farm Families

Robert VanSchoten of Petoskey, area representative, reports Homestead Corp. has designed a low cost home to fill the special needs of farm families.

From requirements suggested by Michigan State University, Homestead Corp., has created a residence that provides both an office for the owner and facilities for him to wash up without muddying up the rest of the house, VanSchoten said. VanSchoten's office is at 629 E. Mitchell, Petoskey.

CALL THE "American Farmstead," the house has a door at the back that opens immediately into an office which is connected to a lavatory, in from the fields and chores of the day, the busy farmer can enter his office without going through any other part of his home, shed his boots and work clothes, wash up in the connecting lavatory and don clean clothes before entering the "living" part of the house. The office, VanSchoten said, has space for the owner to conduct his farm business without interfering with activities in the rest of the house. Garage and full basement are optional.

CHRISTMAS SEAL DRIVE OVER TOP

Charlevoix County is one of 74 in the state reported to have gone over the top in the 1964 Christmas Seal campaign.

Contributions from residents in the county have reached the sum of $2,396 compared with total giving of $2,370 last year and more residents are responding each day, the Michigan Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association reported.

Michigan is probably the only state ever to have organized a state before being admitted to the Union, having at the same time a duly elected state governor and a federal territorial governor.

1 Card of Thanks

IN BEHALF of all my family and myself I would like to thank all those people who were so kind to us during my wife's recent illness. We want to thank the ministers and their congregations for their prayers; all those who did so much for all of us at Christmas time and all those who have remembered my wife with cards and other remembrances while she was a patient at the University Hospital. We cannot thank each of you but we want you to know how much your kind words and deeds have meant to us. We thank God that we live in a community where there are so many kind, generous and thoughtful people. May God bless you all. Dewey Bruce and Children. (7x1)

Hans Wiemer, of Begrow's Charlevoix office is in charge of the project.

ACCORDING TO Begrow, Hogan and Winnie expect to convert the three building into a skylighted two-story arcade called the Anchor-age. It will feature high-class shops and offices.

Mrs. Irma Schied, Charlevoix realtor, is handling leasing arrangements for the shops.

She was the realtor on the sale. Four of them are expected to be open this summer.

Among the shops Hogan and Winnie are reported planning for the Anchorage are a Victorian ice cream shop, bicycle and small sports car rental shop, Paris type cafe, travel agency, flower shop, and womens clothing shop.

Hogan has said he hopes other Charlevoix businessmen will pick up the theme created by the store front design and carry it over into their buildings.

Bingo

on raffles and lotteries to raise money will have to find some legal way to support their charitable projects, Varnum said.

Sheriff Glenn Rose said he will not seek violators of the no-bingo law, but will arrest any he finds disobeying it. Varnum said that if the Sheriff and local police do not enforce the law State Police from the Petoskey post will.

The Prosecutor was unable to explain why the State Police ordered the sudden crackdown. He suspects someone must have complained to Lansing, but does not know who it is.

THE GET TOUGH order effects all of northern Michigan.

Varnum was outspoken in his criticism of the law, but appeared in agreement that since it is law it should be enforced.

"It (bingo) is a lot less dangerous than para mutual betting, which is legal in Michigan," Varnum said.

"Bingo may be bad in the big city where syndicates hold it, but there's none of that here," Sheriff Glenn Rose said.

UNDER THE LAW, Varnum said, it is even illegal for club members to hold a low-cost raffle or lottery among themselves.

Persons can still play bingo as long as no money is involved.

--Motorcycle races, and --Skate sailing.

HUMPHRIES said the committee will welcome other suggestions and all the assistance it can get. He can be contacted during the day at Brown Motors.

It is expected that the 1965 Venetian Queen and her court will be asked to preside as Royal-ty over the winter carnival.

Humphries said a program such as the committee has decided on will be inexpensive. Several suggestions were made on how to raise funds, but not settled on.

The committee authorized Humphries to begin immediately lining up such outside attractions as the sports car race, dog sled race and barrel jumping. He already has an agreement from several sports car clubs to participate.

OTHER EVENTS--such as ice boating and motorcycle racing--will be handled by local groups interested in these sports.

Humphries, who for several years was president of the Petoskey Winter Sports Club, said the first meeting of the Charlevoix committee was better attended than any meeting he can recall in Petoskey.

The committee will hold its second meeting Friday, Feb. 5, at 7:30 p.m. in City Hall. All interested persons are invited, Humphries said.

Island

pushed the November passenger load 8% above 1963.

To accommodate the large number of people who are buying and now own cottages on the island, as well as sportsmen and sight-seers, Erber said the boat will make more frequent trips in 1965.

He estimated the 96-foot ferry will make 35 goetrips in 1965 than in 1964. From June 26 through Sept. 6 the boat will make two trips daily.

TO MAKE THE new schedule possible, the boat will be based in St. James Harbor, rather than in Charlevoix.

The twice-a-day schedule calls for the ship to leave St. James at 7 a.m., arrive in Charlevoix at 9:15 a.m. and leave Charlevoix at 10:30 a.m. The second trip will leave St. James at 2 p.m., arrive in Charlevoix at 5:15 p.m. and leave for the island again at 8 p.m.

The boat, which is now at its winter berth in Round Lake, will begin operating April 16, weather permitting.

A complete schedule for the 1965 season will be published later.

Licenses

Kowbel also said retail merchants could be hurt if the bureau were placed in another town.

Mayor Hawley suggested councilmen, and interested Charlevoix citizens, contact County supervisors to impress upon them their desire to keep the bureau in Charlevoix.

COUNCILMAN William Fochtman said supervisors should authorize construction of an addition to the jail to house the bureau.

He pointed out supervisors are considering adding a room to the County Building for the Equilization Dept. and expansion of the law library.

Rose said the bureau would largely support itself from fees the State returns from driver's licenses.

Charlevoix Has Most Substitute Teachers

Of the 75 substitute teachers approved by the Charlevoix-Emmet intermediate School District, 30 live in Charlevoix. This is twice as many as live in any other one community in the district.

The second largest number of substitute teachers from any one town are 13 from both Petoskey and Boyne City. Five are listed from East Jordan and two from Ellsworth.

INTERMEDIATE Supt. Charles Robinson said the direct has enough substitute teachers. It is sometimes difficult, Robinson said, to find substitutes for such subjects as commercial, science, math and English.

Substitute teachers from Charlevoix are Lyla Arvilla, Elaine Belfy, Roy G. Bennett, Mildred Colbentz, Barbara J. Cook, Carolyn DeMoore, Ann Fiedler, James Fiedler, Patricia Flett, Bonnie Fox, Janis Glass, Mary Haggard, Donna Hamilton, Herbert Hamlin, Joyce Hamlin, Arlette Harris, Joseph A. Hayes, Vada Hayes, Joyce Hosmer, Ruth Herberger, Lucile Martin, Robert Richards, Jean Swartz, Frances Tollas, Joyce Totten, Eva Tuomela, Mary Webb, Ardeh Wieland, Gail Wiemer and Eva Wilson.

Survivors include his wife, the former Marjorie King of East Jordan, four daughters; two sons; a brother, Clare of Grand Rapids; two sisters, Mrs. David Dick of Tecumseh and Mrs. James Anderson of Lansing and his stepmother, Mrs. A. J. Usher of Charlevoix.

Varnum Tells Lions Club of Rise in Crime

Prosecuting Attorney Harvey
Varnum was guest speaker Monday at the Lions Club's weekly meeting in the Weatherlane Inn.
Varnum said crime has been on a steady increase in Charlevoix County for the past five years, largely due to juvenile violations.

THE PROSECUTING attorney told Lions' that recent U. S.
Supreme Court decisions have hampered and impaired law enforcement and in some instances returned to society criminals who should be in jail, but who were released due to technical loopholes made available by the high court.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The Sea Scouts of Charlevoix
Ship 211 are working with Troop
11 to develop good formations for parades and reviews and are teaching the Scouts the proper types of drills. Jan. 6, the Sea Scout drill team with George Loomis as drill instructor attended Troop 11's meeting and showed the Boy Scouts various types of drills. It was brought out that "drills are not punishment" but are developed through the willingness of Scouts. To refer to a Navy phrase "the true meaning of discipline is not punishment but the development of self control and teamwork enables men to strive for perfection and thus accomplishes greatness".

Americanism

Liberty, as proclaimed by law and constitutions, can never have full meaning without the added ingredients of Fraternity and Brotherhood; without the spirit of friendliness and unselfishness... love for one's fellows. Those powerful qualifying attributes help spell out what Americanism is.

When one sees a family unit, parents and children, with Bibles in hand, attending church to worship as they please... then one is witnessing Liberty in its finest and most fullsome forms, for that, too, is American. Freedom of religious worship is equally important, along with economic freedom and freedom from oppression, in America. Then worship God as you please but be sure to worship... that is Americanism.

When Rayders Meet Gaylord

First Place on Line Friday

Dear Dick Affair

RICHARD DONALDSON

DEAR DICK: I messed up the fender on the car and tore up the side of another lady's auto. My husband was mad enough but he became enraged when he saw the name of another man listed on the accident report, as an occupant of my car. It was a casual friend (an appliance salesman) having a coke with me after work. --WORRIED.

DEAR WORRIED: You should BE! Couldn't you have had a coke without taking a suspicious-looking drive? Stick to your female associates. As for appliance salesmen, get acquainted with the fellows at PUFF'S APPLIANCE CENTER. You won't get in trouble buying quality appliances from PUFF'S. --DICK.

The tie for first place in the Northern Michigan Class C league will be broken Friday when Charlevoix and Gaylord clash on the local hardwoods. In their first meeting the Blue Devils edged the Rayders 76-72. The following week Gaylord was upset by East Jordan 82-59 for their only loss of the season. Since those set-backs both teams have continued to win to post records of seven wins and one loss in league play.

BOTH TEAMS won cliff hangers last week...the Rayders defeating Mancelona 76-72 in a double overtime and the Blue Devils edging Harbor Springs 66-64 with Tom Lick scoring the winning bucket with three seconds remaining. The meeting between these two teams will likely be another close game which will pit Gaylord's Lick, top scorer in the league with 204 points in eight games, against the team that held him to 22 points the first time around. By contrast the Rayders' scoring load has been shared by Dave Norton who has 129; Jim Uhrick, 115; Dave Smith and Warren Belding with 98 each and Doug Winnell, 63.

This is expected to be a defensive game all the way. However, Gaylord, because they have Lick, will be favored though Charlevoix will have the advantage of playing on their home floor.

If both teams are at full strength and playing their best brand of ball, this can be the outstanding game of the season.

COACH DON Carey, in commenting on this week's game said "It's going to be a tough game and if we want to stay in first place we will have to win it. However, with the way clubs in the league are improving as the season progresses, every game is going to be important from now on."

Friday's game at Mancelona found the Ironmen overcoming the Rayders' 14-13 first quarter lead to go ahead 36-31 at halftime. As the game went into the last period, the Rayders penetrated the Mancelona defense to pour in eight field goals including three by Norton plus a free throw thus tying the score at time ran out with Jim Uhrick dunking in the two-point shot that knotted the score 61-61.

With both teams battling for the ball in the first overtime, Mancelona made four trips to the free throw line, but capitalized on only one attempt as the Ironmen scored four field goals for seven points. Uhrick scored five points and Terrill one but it was Norton who kept the Rayders hopes alive as he sunk the second of two free throw attempts as time ran out. Mancelona lost Barry Moeke via the foul route in this overtime.

MANCELONA'S Ron Grody and Charlevoix's Dave Smith and Del Terrill went to the bench as they collected their fifth fouls as they fought for possession of the ball in the second overtime. Mancelona managed two field goals but the Rayders were held to one while making up the winning points from the free throw line for a total of eight and the victory margin.

Norton paced the pack with 25 points followed by Uhrick with 16, Smith with 13 and Belding with 10. Dave Prudden, playing an outstanding game, hit for 22 for Mancelona followed by Moeke with 17, Mike Schepperly with 14 and Terry Webster with 11.

On Tuesday night the Rayders edged Harbor Springs in a game that saw the Rams come from behind to knot the score 49-49 at the third period after going ahead briefly earlier in the period. The score was tied again at 51-51 midway in the last quarter before Charlevoix pulled away for a 73-64 win.

The Rams had overcome the Rayders' 22-13 quarter and 38-29 halftime lead to go ahead in Tuesday's game in which Norton set the pace with 20 points followed by Smith with 16 and Belding with 14. George Lauer had topped the Rams' scoring attack with 21 points followed by Dave Winegarden with 13 before he went to the bench with five fouls with 6:16 remaining in the game.

CHS Debaters Doing Well In Official State Contest

Charlevoix High School's debate team in its first year of official competition has won four of its six matches.

Debate Coach Mrs. Robert Martin reports this is the team's first year in official Michigan State Forensic Assn. competition.

MRS. MARTIN started the debate program last year. On the Board of Education's request she remained as coach this year, even though she has retired from active teaching.

All Michigan debate teams this year are debating the question: "Resolved that nuclear weapons should be under the control of an international organization."

Three of the CHS team's six members argue on the affirmative side of the question. The other three take the negative side. Those standing up for putting nuclear weapons under international control are David Osterbaan, Barbara Wood and David Dickinson. Opposing international control of nuclear weapons are Joseph Olsen, Jim Curtis and Joy Pierce.

PEOPLE WHO would like to get a first hand lesson in the pros and cons of this timely subject can do so by attending the Feb. 2 debate at 3:30 p.m. in the high school. The local debaters will meet Harbor Springs.

The Harbor Springs debate is the last in the preliminary meetings between area schools before the district tournament at Petoskey Feb. 27.

Charlevoix will oppose debate teams from the northern third of the state in the tournament at North Central Michigan College. Winners will go on to further competition.

So far Charlevoix has debated Alpena, Oquaw and Cheboygan. The negative side (opposing international control) won at all three meets. The affirmative side won against Cheboygan. Giving the local team a 4-2 record.

Kuebler Attends Training Course

Lloyd Kuebler of Charlevoix and Ellwood Cyr of Boyne City are attending a five-day laboratory training course for sewage treatment plant operators at the W. K. Kellogg Biological Station, Gull Lake, near Battle Creek.

Kuebler works at the City of Charlevoix's sewage treatment plant on Round Lake.

The course is sponsored and conducted by the Michigan Department of Health, in cooperation with Michigan State University and the United States Public Health Service.

Moved by Alderman Fochtman and supported by Alderman Neff that following communication be transmitted to the Army Corps of Engineers:

CITY OF CHARLEVOIX Office of Mayor Charlevoix, Michigan

January 11, 1965. We urge the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to improve and rehabilitate the existing channel from Lake Michigan by the construction of new walls, behind the existing walls and to widen and straighten the channel by cutting back on the north side by approximately 15 to 18 feet, more particularly described in the Corps of Engineers letter to Mr. W. E. Thorsen, Chairman of the Charlevoix County Planning Commission dated January 5, 1965, and shown on the map submitted with the letter.

In addition, we urge the Corps of Engineers to consider putting the revetment along the Belvedere Club on the South side of the channel leading to Lake Charlevoix on the land side rather than the channel side and to extend the present wall an additional 120 feet east. Also, to consider a revetment on the North side of the channel to extend from the East end of Park Island approximately 400 feet West. In addition, we believe it important to extend the North pier into Lake Michigan, for several hundred feet, in areas where property which is owned by the City of Charlevoix is involved, we are willing to grant the right necessary for construction.

We request that no construction that would hamper boat traffic be in progress during the months of July and August.

Alderman Hoffmann offered the following resolution and moved it's adoption, supported by Alderman Gill:

The Finance Committee having examined bills totaling $68,793.25, find them correct and recommend they be allowed.

Moved by Alderman Fochtman and supported by Alderman Gill that the bills be allowed and orders drawn for their amounts. Motion adopted by the following: Yea and Nay vote, YEAS: Alderman Parsel, Whitley, Fochtman, Gill, Hoffmann and Neff, NAYS: None, ABSENT: None.

Comment Fact Opinion

County Supervisors Must Face Up to Threat of Rising Crime

STATISTICS FROM Sheriff Glenn Rose indicate crime increased more than one-third in Charlevoix County in 1964. It is emphatically clear that action is called for.

This action, it would seem, must come from the County Board of Supervisors. Protecting law abiding citizens is one of government's chief responsibilities. Yet we notice that the 1964 County budget only allocates $31,500 for the Sheriff's Dept. This is less than one-tenth of the total budget of $342,133.

ROSE'S ANNUAL report revealed that 330 prisoners were in the County Jail in 1964. This is 130 more than the 200 in 1963.

Others may draw different conclusions from these figures, but those who face them squarely will recognize that they prove one thing: The amount of crime in the county has increased drastically.

Law enforcement officials make no bones about this. Neither does the Courier. True, these are not the hideous crimes you read about in the big cities papers. Most of them involve drunks and minor cases of theft.

BUT WOULD YOU push aside the evidence that small crimes lead to big ones? Isn't it all too possible a cottage owner may enter his cabin some weekend soon and surprise a burglar? What happens then? Do we have a murder? Of course, this is the way little things get to be big things.

Go a step further and you find Rose reports most of the increase is in rural areas. Obviously the police departments in our three cities are doing a good job of keeping crime from increasing.

The threat then comes from the rural areas, which are virtually impossible to adequately patrol with Rose's small force of deputies.

THE "YOUNG bucks," as Rose calls them, realize the Sheriff is spread too thin to keep an eye on them. As a result they feel free to break into a cottage, or get a group of teenagers in a drinking brawl.

Until someone comes up with a miracle sermon or drug that will make good guys of everyone society has but one answer to crime: More police protection.

This we must have. And we must have it before the county is shocked by a crime of violence that could have been prevented if only the Sheriff had adequate resources to have deputies do a thorough job of patrolling trouble spots.

Only the County Board of Supervisors can provide these resources. If the board cannot find the financial means to hire at least two more fulltime deputies the Courier is prepared to supply the answers.

WE HAVE HEARD it said that Charlevoix County now spends as much on its Sheriff's Dept. as do other counties of similar size. We refuse to give credence to suggestions that what is good enough for others is satisfactory for the citizens of Charlevoix County.

If, however, the crime rate should fail to decrease if more deputies are hired we will agree that the answer must be found through other channels.

Garden Club Rates Praise

THE CHARLEVOIX Garden Club again this week rates the Courier's applause. This week for its anti-litter poster contest in the Elementary School.

We can think of no finer way to educate our young people to their responsibility to keep our natural beauty clean from man's discards. By spreading the contest over several months the club is giving the children a more lasting impression of the ugliness of litter. This cannot help but rub off on parents and the community as a whole.

CHARLEVOIX MAY not be able to thank mortal human beings for its unique beauty, but it can thank the Garden Club for making a major contribution toward keeping it.

The Garden Club, it appears to us, is doing far more than any other local group to eliminate litter. Which makes it more than timely for other organizations to step forward with some program.

Where is Our Confidence in Charlevoix?

CHARLEVOIX'S ECONOMY is growing at a record-setting pace. Last week's report showing the county has the third fastest growing economy in Michigan should make this clear to all doubters.

As the story revealed, State sales tax collections here increased more than in all but two other Michigan counties.

Other recent indications of Charlevoix's healthy economy and great potential have been stories reporting Birmingham investor Henry Hogan's confidence in our town's growth. Hogan is far too shrewd to have taken a wild gamble when he bought four of the downtown area's biggest buildings.

Clevenger Comes to Grips with Problem

NEWLY ELECTED Congressman Raymond F. Clevenger is facing a problem. How does one man keep in contact with 405,000 people living in a 20,000 square mile area?

The mere fact that Clevenger frankly admits to the Courier that he recognizes the problem of fairly representing such a widely scattered population should be welcomed by all of us, Republicans and Democrats.

CLEVENGER IS starting his freshman year in Congress in the right direction. Whether you personally agree or disagree with him, if he honestly tries to measure the opinions and needs of his constituents and acts accordingly, democracy can ask no more of its representatives.

Should he find the burden of trying to keep in contact with the taxpayers of his district overwhelming, we can only point out that the Courier editorially objected to the one-man one-vote principle. But if he succeeds in his stated desire to accomplish the job our applause will be the most fervent he receives.

HE COULD HAVE spent his money anywhere, including in the mushrooming suburbs of Detroit where he lives. But he didn't. And he makes it clear his interest is in good investments.

These developments, we feel, add weight to the Courier's earlier suggestion that Charlevoix businessmen begin planning now to give dignity to the downtown district with uniform and unique storefronts, a wider variety of merchandise at competitive prices.

Such investments may seem unwarranted and risky to Charlevoix merchants. But if out of town investors like Hogan and Jerry Oleson are willing to invest in Charlevoix's future, shouldn't those of us who live here have at least equal confidence in our town?

Channel Plan Fills Need

IT IS INDEED encouraging to note the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers' prompt response to the desires of the local community in regards to making improvements in the Pine River Channel.

The engineers reacted soanhours after Mayor E.D. Hawley and the Courier objected to the possibility the Corps would come up with a plan to literally obliterate the present channel. Long distance telephono lines between Charlevoix and Detroit buzzed. The Corps was even so concerned about local opinion it ordered a subscription to the Courier.

THEN A FEW days later the Corps came across with plans that called for far less than the gigantic straightening, widening and deepening originally feared.

Our thanks to the Corps. The new plan appears to be practical and reasonable. It fits Charlevoix's needs. That a massive organization like the Corps of Engineers still considers the desire of the local community so important is certainly refreshing.

OUR READERS WRITE

Dear Editor:

Congressman Now on Job

DEAR EDITOR:

On Monday, January 4th, the Speaker of the House administered the oath of office to me as the Congressman for the Eleventh District of Michigan.

But a Congressman has to do more than take an oath of office to justify the faith and effort of persons like yourself and to do the best job possible for the District. The reason this letter is being sent as one of my very first official acts is because our District needs your continued help.

You can help by contacting me concerning any matter which may come to your attention on which you think I can be of assistance. You can write me as follows:

Congressman Raymond F. Clevenger
1319 Longworth House Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20515

As soon as possible I will be in touch with you and others concerning more specific ways my office can be of service to you and the people of the Eleventh District.

With my thanks and best wishes,

Yours sincerely,
Raymond F. Clevenger, M.C.

GUEST EDITORIALS

County Redistricting

(Menistiquie Pioneer-Tribune)

THE WISCONSIN Supreme Court's ruling that counties must follow the "one man, one vote" theory for their boards of supervisors means that some drastic changes are ahead for county government once the ruling is upheld.

There is little reason to think the U.S. high court will reverse itself and the Wisconsin court at this late date. "One man, one vote" seems to be here to stay.

It also means that township domination of county government is coming to an end in many areas—including Schoolcraft County.

Adoption of the "one man, one vote" principle would mean that the eight townships in Schoolcraft County would no longer have a majority on the county board. Presently they hold an 8-5 majority over the five city supervisors-four councilmen plus the city assessor.

If the "one man, one vote" principle were followed, the city should have a majority of at least one on the board. This would not resolve the inequities within the townships, however. Under the present system, each township is entitled to one supervisor, regardless of population. Seney, with 236 population, has the same representation as Hiawatha, with 695, or Germfask, with 650.

If "one man, one vote" becomes a reality at the county level, as it apparently will, then there will have to be major changes in township districting. It is even possible that in order to follow the rule strictly, special supervisor districts will have to be created that cut across township lines, much as the new state legislative districts that existed for years. One alternative would be to elect all of the non-city supervisors at-large, without any districts, but this would obviously be even less palatable to many rural residents than forced redistricting.

The ruling may eventually hit hard at the basis of township government. It will probably mean that the township supervisor, by virtue of his office, is no longer automatically entitled to a seat on the county board. Township government, already weakened by school mergers and the growing strength of independent school districts that cut across township lines, will probably serve as little more than a tax-collecting agency with some road maintenance and park and lighting development work.

One unfortunate thing is that such a change will undoubtedly weaken each individual's feeling of participation in government. The close personal relationship between a township supervisor and the voters may suffer badly under the change. On the other hand it may tend to make county government more effective and efficient, and enable the board of supervisors to act as a truly representative voice of the people.

While the changes will be interesting to watch. They may not be popular, but they seem inevitable.

As this is being written, I am watching (out of the corner of my eye) the inauguration of the 36th president of the United States. Regardless of your politics I think you will agree with me that this is, indeed, a solemn and impressive ceremony....

I don't think any of us aspire to such a position....It's a tremendous responsibility that I would not care to take on....Time was when everyone wanted his son to be president of the United States and his son had the same idea....But times have changed and now most youngsters decide for themselves whether they want to be astronauts, scientists or presidents of corporations....In fact, times have changed so much that I'll bet you can't remember when you heard a child say he wanted to be president....

BUT WOULDN'T it be great fun to be close to all the fuss and feathers that are the part of an inauguration?...And if I may be a bit facetious, didn't you get a kick out of all those wonderful commentators trying to describe the hats and fashions worn by the women close to the ceremonies?...I happened to get one who was color blind and he had to be prompted now and then by one of his cohorts....

I'm just a wee bit color blind myself so I can sympathize with people who have this difficulty....Some people have an awful time....I'm always reminded of this friend of mine who went into the shop to get a sweater as a gift for his fiancée who had admired it a few days before as the pair had passed the shop....Came the birthday and he presented the gift, real proud of himself since he'd been so alert as to have selected something he'd heard her admire....

It wasn't until after they were married that she had the courage to tell him that the sweater was the same style as the one she'd admired but in the interim, a horrible orange rust color had replaced the one she'd admired....but she hadn't wanted to hurt his feelings and, not knowing he was color blind, hadn't said anything but had worn it....

AND THEN I have another color blind friend who knits and if you think that isn't something, especially when she's using a variety of colors as one does in knitting a design....Someone has to wind the bobbins and label them before she can get going....

Many of you have seen the name Dr. William Southern mentioned in the Courier on occasion....Either he and his wife, the former Beverly Looze, are visiting here or her folks, the Fred Loozes, as they did at holiday time, went to DeKalb to visit them....Then they come here it is sometimes mentioned that they are enroute to or from the U. of M. Biological Station on Douglas Lake just below Mackinaw City....and just north and east of Pellston....In a recent issue of the Northern Star, the publication at Northern Illinois U. at DeKalb, Ill., his work along these lines is the topic of an article....It starts out "The Biology Department is going to the birds and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (N.A.S.A.) and the Air Force and Navy are all watching." It goes on to tell that Dr. Southern, assistant professor of Biological Sciences, has been attaching transistorized radio transmitters on birds in an effort to determine how they navigate during their twice-yearly migration. Each transmitter weighs about 20 grams....has a range of 150 miles, a life span of two years and shuts off automatically after two weeks to allow the frequency to be used again. Voters Have Their Say

By Roy Staudenmeyer
This week we continue with the remarks of Ellsworth voters favoring (pro) and opposing (con) the Feb. 17 school millage election.

The purpose of the election on 17 mills is soundly logical to me. Everything around us is going up and it is only natural for school expenses to be higher. Sure, I can see that the farmer and the elderly people on Social Security are in a pinch, but the rest I can't see where they have a complaint.

1. I FEEL a person has the right to send their children to the school of their choice but how much more united this community would be with only one school.

2. The amount of tax it would cost to send the students to another district. The difference between the schools should be shown.

3. To present the subjects to be offered, as well as extra curricular.

I don't want to see the students go to another school.

THE COST OF operating a school are similar to that of a business or a homeowner. Each year the cost of operating that business or maintaining a home increases. The same is true of a school. Take any category in a school budget; instruction, operation, maintenance, or transportation and you will find that it costs more each year to get the job done.

Next year alone, salaries and wages will require between $3,300 and $3,800. Add to this $5,000 that the district will owe on a bus, which should be paid so that consideration can be given to the purchase of a new one, without having to borrow and pay interest. These two items alone, just about equal the total amount of extra millage that is being voted on this year.

The qualified electors of Banks Township face an important decision as to the future of your school.

Home Additions
The City of Charlevoix has issued building permits for two home additions, totaling an estimated value of $800.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Left, 805 State St., took out one of the permits to build a $400 12 by 12 foot utility room on the rear of their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McPhillips, 205 Petoskey Ave., were issued a permit to construct a $200 12 by 20 foot carport.

Explain School Tax Vote

Decide Fate Of 17 Mills On Feb. 17

By JERRY ALBRIGHT
School Superintendent

At the January meeting, the Ellsworth Community School Board of Education passed a unanimous resolution to call a special election for Wednesday, February 17. At that time the qualified electors of Banks Township will be asked to approve 17 mills for operation for the next two years. This will replace the 14 mills that expire this year.

Of the 14 mills, 2 mills were passed in 1962 for 3 years to pay off the operating deficit which had accumulated. The other 12 mills were passed in 1963 for two years.

MANY COMMENTS have been expressed about the 17 mills, both pro and con. The main objective seems to be the fact that this is an increase of 5 mills for operation from 12 to 17 mills. Actually the millage is only 3 mills -- from 14 to 17 mills. Why the big increase in operating millage? One reason is that the Ellsworth School District lost over $96,000 last year in property valuation. There were no businesses or industries that moved out of the district, nor were there any losses due to fire, etc. The loss in property valuation is due to the tax structure in Antrim County. In the process of equalizing the whole county, some school districts gained in valuation and some lost. Ellsworth just happened to be in the unfortunate position of losing this year.

Because of this tremendous loss in property valuation last year, the school district lost over $2,500 in local tax money in our current budget.

The question as to whether or not the school district will recover what it lost this year in property valuation is hard to answer at this time. It is known that the State Tax Commission has been in Antrim County for the past six months or better studying the whole tax structure of the county. But, even if the property valuation were to increase in the very near future it is not known by how much or when the increase would be come effective. Consequently the budget must be prepared on the figures that are available at this time.

FROM ROY

The Chamber of Commerce held a meeting, which was scheduled for January 18 but a notice did not appear in the paper. The attendance was very poor, with only 15 members, plus the directors attending.

President, Doug Way thanked the committees for their work. The members gave a report on the progress made so far.

Chairman of membership, reported 63 members signed and several people as prospective members.

The publicity chairman thanked the members for their support and would try to keep Ellsworth in the news.

The members were in favor of an Information Booth at the four corners.

The entire membership is scheduled to meet three times a year. The president asked for suggestions from the audience.

and discussion followed. Lunch was served after the meeting.

A STATE OF Michigan competitive Scholarship program was available to Ellsworth Seniors. Ten Seniors took the test, with the following seven qualifying: Carl Coeman, John Hastings, Darlene Klooster, Walter Kooyler, Nancy Peebles, Chori Taylor, and Mary Beth Wallick. The Seniors taking the exam in the state were, 15,061 and the number passing the test were 9,847.

Darlene Klooster has been chosen by her teachers and classmates to receive the DAR Good Citizenship Award. Congratulations Darlene.

SO FEW WORDS are expressed when a team wins a game by an enormous score. You start cheering when the underdog scores. Coach Bob Danforth had the bench playing most of the game. Everyone of the players looks their best on nights like these two this week. Boyne Falls put up some defense but Albahad less to show.

The Lancers will get a workout this week. Earlier this week Mc-Bain was host to Ellsworth. The Lancers won over the Dutchman at the beginning of the season, in Ellsworth.

Friday the 29th Central Lake will visit the Ellsworth Gym. Never count the Trojans out until the final whistle blows. The school has spirit. With courage and fight a team can overcome large obstacles. The Lancers better be on their toes. The fans would like to see the JV's win over the Trojans. The playing of the Lancers Junior Varsity in their last two games indicates they have the ability to play good ball. They have a good chance to end the season a winning ball club. The schedule for the month of February has only Friday night games listed. Fredrick will meet Ellsworth the first Friday at Ellsworth.

By their expanding and amazing research programs, our industries and universities together, are fast making Michigan the leader in space age advancement.

You are invited to a Power Farming Day to be held in the Ellsworth Community Hall Feb. 3, 1965 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

NORTHERN MICHIGAN'S FINEST NEWSPAPER

Vol. 68 No. 8 12 Pages

CHARLEVOIX, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1965

Publishers Judge Courier North's Finest Newspaper

Michigan newspaper publishers Saturday cited the Charlevoix Courier as the north's finest newspaper.

In competition with papers from around the state, the Courier won five honors, to emerge with more than any other in northern Michigan.

THE AWARDS were presented by the Michigan Press Assn., the professional organization of the state's 300 weekly newspapers.

Judges screened newspapers in several categories in the annual competition for the state's top press honors. Judging the entries were metropolitan newspaper editors and university journalism professors.

Papers ranging from those of a few hundred circulation to the country's largest weekly and daily suburban Detroit weeklies, with large professional editorial staffs, were in the competition with the Courier.

Due to the awards for excellence bestowed on the Courier, Charlevoix, for the first time in its history, has been declared by the peers of the journalism profession to have the best community newspaper in the north country.

THE COURIER'S top award was second place in general excellence. First place winner in this category was the East Lansing Towne Courier, which has a staff and population many times larger than the Courier's. More than 50 papers were eligible for this honor.

Other awards won by the Courier were second place in editorial writing, second place in news coverage, third place in use of pictures and honorable mention for advertising idea of the year.

Topping the Courier in these categories were other southern Michigan newspapers. "We were, of course, greatly honored to receive such honors and recognition for Charlevoix's Courier from the leaders of our trade," Tom McDaniels, Courier manager said.

"But more than that we were darned surprised. The odds against the Courier seemed impossible to us when we considered the large, specialized writing, editing and advertising staffs against which we were competing."

"NOW THAT we've done it once, though, we're going to be satisfied with just being northern Michigan's best. Next year we're going after Michigan's best!"

"What pleased us most, I think, was being able to bring this added distinction to Charlevoix. Our town and its people have long been considered outstanding in many categories. Now we are glad that we have been able to give it a newspaper that is also looked up to as the best in our area."

Rayders Squash Gaylord

Nightmarish weather and winter-clogged roads weren't enough to keep the fans away Friday as Gaylord came to Charlevoix expecting to collect the league lead all for itself.

Some 1,200 fans jammed the CUS gymnasium and roared it with howls and applause as Charlevoix's Rayders stopped Gaylord 63-50, to upset the experts' predictions. (Details on Sports Page)

THE VICTORY temporarily put Charlevoix out front, as the lone team on top of the loop standings. Pre-season forecasts gave Charlevoix's cagers and mentor Don Carey little chance of attaining such prominence.

Lacking individual stars, like Gaylord's big Tom Lick, the Rayders have put their stock in hard driving team work in hard driving team work and canny coaching. This formula, plus the added incentive sparked by the most loyal fans in the league, put the Rayders on top of the heap Friday.

Four league games remain on the Rayder schedule. Though none of them should be as rough as Friday's clash, any one of them could topple the Charlevoix squad. Two are home games.

There is also one non-league game left, against Petoskey Tuesday, Feb. 23, here. League games are: Feb. 5, Boyne City, there; Feb. 12, Grayling, here; Feb. 19, East Jordan, here, and Feb. 26, Harbor Springs, there.

Politicians Hold Confabs

Charlevoix County Democrats approve of bingo as a means to raise funds for charitable use. Republicans approve of Gov. George Romney.

These are the conclusions drawn from the non-controversial annual county conventions of both parties.

DEMOCRATS PASSED a resolution asking the legislature to enact laws legalizing bingo and raffles by church, fraternal and charitable organizations.

Republicans passed a resolution supporting Gov. Romney's State-of-the-State message.

Both parties elected delegates to their state conventions. Michigan Democrats hold their convention Feb. 13-14. The Republican convention in Lansing will be Feb. 19-20.

Delegates from Charlevoix County to the Republican convention are Harold Totten, Dawn Sayles, Ben Ellis and Art Rouse. Alternates are Mrs. Abe VerWys, Mrs. Rouse, Marshall Sayles and Mrs. George Lusk.

DEMOCRATS WILL send Archie Murphy, Peter Johnson and Mrs. Theodore Tunison. Alternates are Arthur Osborn, Quinton White and Mrs. Clyde Warner.

Evidence May Indict Alewives New Wrinkle in Perch Riddle

A group of student biologists may have unknowingly stumbled on the explanation for the mysterious disappearance of Charlevoix's once fabulous perch runs.

If so it took an alert, veteran State fisheries scientist to put together the long sought pieces of the puzzles.

THOUGH NO one is saying so for sure, it suddenly looks like perch that once brought thousands of anglers to Round Lake in the spring and fall have lost out in competition with invading alewives. Until District Conservation Dept. fisheries chief Stan Lievens picked up a student research report the other day alewives were thought to feed largely on plankton.

Now Lievens has reason to believe alewives in this area may be feeding on wigglers, blood worms, erabs and other food perch required.

If this is so—and no one is absolutely sure it is at the moment—it could explain the disappearance of the perch runs that literally filled the surface of Round Lake with boats up until less than a decade ago.

LIEVENS uncovered a section in a research paper done by Central Michigan University, (CMU) student biologists on Beaver Island which stated the food content in the stomachs of the four alewives examined proved to be largely wigglers, blood worms and crabs.

This, Lievens says, is extremely limited evidence. But it is enough to indicate further study is needed in this area of Lake Michigan.

Beaver Island also boasted renowned perch runs until about the same time Charlevoix runs trickled down to nothing.

If the scant findings of the CMU biological team prove out in bigger tests, Lievens said the alewives would also be taking food needed by fingerling lake trout.

ALEWIVES ARE a shad-like trash fish of the herring family. Commercial fisherman John Cross Jr. describes them as, "Very thin" and bony between four and six inches long.

"There's really nothing to them. No weight at all," Cross told the Courier.

He said Charlevoix commercial fishermen are finding them more and more abundant and a considerable nuisance as they create a problem by plugging up nets.

"Just a few years ago we hardly knew what they were," Cross said.

Cross figures they may even eat the spawn of perch and whitefish.

ALEWIVES invaded Lake Michigan in hordes from the Atlantic Ocean after the sea lamprey eliminated the lake trout.

Walter Crowe of the Conservation Dept.'s Lansing fisheries office, told the Courier alewives were unchecked when they swarmed into the lower Great Lakes because the lake trout were not here to prey on them.

Crowe who had not heard of Lievens's findings in the CMU report, said the perch population could be affected if alewives are eating wigglers, blood worms and other food required by perch.

He, like most biologists, indicted alewives eat plankton, which would not put them in competition with perch.

Mothers March Tonight In Dimes Drive Finale

A small army of local mothers march into the cold tonight doing their part in the battle to overcome birth defects and respiratory diseases.

Mrs. Tom LaBlance and Mrs. Tom McDaniels will lead the mothers march for the March of Dimes. Joining them will be women from the various neighborhoods in the city.

THEIR OBJECTIVE is to raise approximately $1,300 to make the 1965 Charlevoix

March of Dimes a success. Mrs. William Fochtman, Charlevoix March of Dimes general chairman, reports approximately $500 has been collected to date.

The mothers march this evening is the big event of the March of Dimes campaign. Mrs. LaBlance and Mrs. McDaniels asked that people leave their porch lights on so women participating in the mothers march will know where to call.

LAST YEAR the March of Dimes raised $1,800 in Charlevoix. Mrs. Fochtman is hoping the campaign will do better this year.

Though conceived to aid the quest for a cure for polio, now that the battle has largely been won, March of Dimes contributions are used to pay for research seeking answers to birth defects and respiratory diseases that continue to plague man.

According to Mrs. Fochtman $270 was raised in the first big event of the March of Dimes campaign, the buffet dinner at the Weatherman Inn Jan. 27.

Winning cakes at the dinner were Rex Milligan, Art Heilig and James Smith.

Unemployment Is Lowest Here

Charlevoix continues to have the lowest unemployment figure in the area, according to Leo J. Kelly, Michigan Employment Security Commission branch manager in Petoskey.

The January claim load in Charlevoix, Kelly said, was 78, compared to 439 in Petoskey, 140 in East Jordan and 98 in Gaylord.

THERE WERE 3,658 total claims for unemployment insurance during January 1965. Compensable claims totaled 2990 and $100,633.50 was paid out during January 1964.

Total claims for the week ending January 28, 1965 were 792. This was for the Tri-County Area of Emmet, Charlevoix and Oshtemo.

During January 1964 there were 4,844 total claims filed. Compensable claims were 3,965 and $136,419.50 was paid out during January 1964.

"Hates to See it Go"

Grant Furgeson, after serving 37 years on the Board of Education of Hayes Township's one-room Murray School, will "hate to see it go...but it's for the best."

Murray school district residents vote Mar. 22 on whether to annex to the Charlevoix Public School District.

THE MURRAY Board of Education, from which Furgeson stepped down last year, has asked the Charlevoix district to accept it.

The Charlevoix Board of Education agreed. The State Board of Education and Intermediate District followed suit.

Mrs. Dorothy Zipp, Murray board secretary, said the school, like others "is having a difficult time financing and recruiting teachers."

The decision to call for annexation of the rural district was prompted by new state law that makes it mandatory that all non-high school districts be eliminated in the near future.

THE RED BRICK Murray School, on the corner of Murray and Bay Shore roads, about a mile inland from Bay Shore, was constructed in 1930, Furgeson said.

The original frame building burned around Christmas 1928, Furgeson recalls. For the next two years students used an empty house in the area.

Furgeson doesn't remember when the frame school was built, but says it was there in 1906. In the old days, he estimates there were between 40-45 students at the school. "It's a beautiful school," Furgeson says of the brick building the board of education has asked voters to authorize vacating. "It's got everything in there but a rocking chair."

Divorce Rate Sets Fast Clip

The County Clerk's business in births, deaths and marriages is on the downswing. But things are booming in the divorce category.

Clerk Fenton R. Bulow's annual report for 1964 shows a decrease in births, deaths and marriages in Charlevoix County. To offset this, divorces increased more than 50%.

THIRTY-SEVEN divorces were granted in 1964, Bulow reported. This compares with 24 in 1963 and 22 in 1962. Sixty divorces were started during the year, compared to 36 in 1963 and 34 in 1962.

Births were down in 1964 to 162, 40 less than the 202 in 1963.

Deaths registered by Bulow's office last year totaled 119, compared to 156 in 1963. Marriages totaled 34 in 1964, compared to 140 in 1963.

PLAN FOR ACTION—Members of Charlevoix's Winter Sports Committee make plans for next winter's action-packed carnival. Chairman Bob Humphries reports up to 100 sport cars will be in Charlevoix to race on the ice the first weekend in February 1966. The weekend before or after dog sled races will be featured. School Report Card

Written by Charlevoix Public School Educators

Back in "the old days," when parents got a note telling them to come to school, they assumed it could only mean one thing: "Get here quick! Your child's causing us trouble!"

In those days the only communication between school and home was the report card. A note home simply had to mean that a child had done something too drastic to wait for the next report card period to tell the parents.

MODERN PARENTS and teachers are in much closer communication with one another. Notes home today often carry conference appointment slips. This means a routine checkup, not an emergency repair. What modern parents and teachers are saying tells a more optimistic story:

"Let's you and I be partners in this business of education. It's a joint enterprise between home and school. If we do our jobs well, the children will be happy and more likely to reach their full potential."

According to the National Education Association, a teacher-parent conference is a two-way exchange of information about a child. In certain communities it is the only means of reporting to parents. In Charlevoix, starting on a school-wide basis in March, it will supplement the regular report card procedure. Because the parent-teacher conference can do so much more than a report card alone, it is becoming a part of more and more school programs. Parents like the feeling of playing a deeper role in their child's education and training. Children like the idea, too. Youngsters like to feel that their teachers and their parents are teamed together instead of on opposite sides.

THE VALUE OF A face-to-face conference between parent and teacher is as obvious as the number of words that can be put on a report card and the number of words that can be exchanged during a get-together talk. A report card is one-sided and contains relatively few words. A conference is a two-way swapping and sharing of information and opinions, and, in a 20-minute conversation, parent and teacher can exchange from 2,000 to 4,000 words. They each have a chance to speak their minds, to clarify misunderstandings, to adjust differences, to put themselves and the child on the right track, one that will carry him through school pleasantly and profitably.

Parents are generally eager to know the score on their children. But they do have normal apprehensions. As one mother put it: "Getting a report on your child is like looking at a photograph of yourself. You are dying to see the picture, but you know ahead of time that the photo will not do you justice. Or like hearing your voice on a recording. You want to hear it, but when you once hear it, you say: 'Why, that doesn't sound like me at all!'"

A face-to-face report gives the parent a better chance to see herself and to hear herself, to express herself and to ask questions that she has been wondering about school.

"WHAT ARE SOCIAL studies? ...How does cutting out colored paper help my child? ...When do you start teaching science? ...How do you teach reading now? ...Why do you teach printing instead of writing? ...When are children taught in groups rather than as an entire class? ...What will my child be learning this year in arithmetic? ...What do you do to help the child who learns faster or more slowly than the rest of the class? ...Isn't reading books other than textbooks in class just a way to kill time? ...How do you teach spelling? ...Is my child working up to his ability? Does he get along well with the other children? Have you noticed any special interests of aptitudes in him? Does he eat his lunch? What is his IQ? How can I help at home?"

These questions, and many more, will be discussed by parents and teachers in the Charlevoix Elementary School during the month of March. The 6th grade and kindergarten conferences are scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, March 23rd and 24th; 5th grade, Thursday, March 25th; 4th grade, Friday, March 26th; 1st grade, Monday, March 29; 2nd grade, Tuesday, March 30;

Snow, snow, and more snow. We are wondering if Mr. Groundhog will see his shadow, Tuesday.

Next Sunday night, there will be a family supper in the church dining room at 6:30. There will be entertainment following the supper, and Rev. Harmon will also show the pictures he took of the Christmas program. Everyone is invited.

Mr. Jack Jentzen has returned home after spending the past ten days redecorating the interior of a drug store in Jackson, Michigan. It is nice having an interior decorator in our community. They purchased Albert Edward's cottage, near the lake.

There was no school Wednesday due to the stormy weather. The William C. Peck family have the sincere sympathy of everyone in our community, in their recent bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Williams and daughter Linda were dinner guests Sunday, of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jentzen, the occasion being Ada's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Neilson left Sunday for a three weeks vacation in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Chak and family have moved from Grand Rapids, and will make their home in East Jordan. At the present they are on the farm with Barbara's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Neilson. Mr. Chak has accepted a position with Courter Products in Boyne City.

Bruce Kroll returned to Lansing, Monday after enjoying the weekend with his parent, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kroll.

During this cold stormy weather, everyone misses not having a local garage to call on for help.

Harry Hunter passed away Friday at his home in Grand Rapids, after a severe heart attack in 3rd grade, March 31.

There will be no classroom studies for the children on the dates scheduled for their grades but plenty of learning is expected between parent and teacher!

Petition to Return Bingo

Petitions are being circulated asking the State Legislature to legalize bingo. Prospecting Attorney Harvey Varnum reports, Varnum said he drafted the wording of the petition on the request of several Boyne City women.

THE PETITIONS, Varnum said, ask that legislation be instituted to "legalize bingo for fraternal and charitable organization fund raising."

According to the Prosecutor, the petition does not mention raffles or lotteries.

The State Police, two weeks ago, after years of looking the other way, ordered all area bingo, raffles and lotteries shut down.

perch productivity of Lake Michigan does not appear to be down. Fishermen in the southern part of the lake are still catching plenty of perch, he said.

It is possible that the northern portion of Lake Michigan might not produce enough plankton for alewives, forcing them to take to eating other food.

"Alewives and chubs have sort of taken over the whole lake," Crowe said. "The basic productivity of the lake is going into trash fish."

He pointed out part of the perch problem in some areas is the lower lake level which is causing them not to frequent their customary haunts. But because the perch runs dwindled here before the current low water problem this is not the case in Round Lake or Beaver Island.

Thorough investigation of the alewives affect on area perch probably won't come until the Great Lakes Fisheries Commission is ready to begin earnestly restocking Lake Michigan with lake trout.

Then, Crowe said, studies will have to be made to determine how the alewife will affect the young trout.

If the alewives are eating wigglers and other such foods they will also be competing with the small trout.

Lievence said the Conservation Dept. would be in the better position to study Lake Michigan area perch if Great Lakes fishermen were required to buy a fishing license. The department has asked for this legislation for years.

BECAUSE GREAT Lakes fishermen are not required to buy a license, the department does not feel it can justify spending money on the Great Lakes.

Lievence said one of the most practical solutions to reducing alewives may be to plant Atlantic Ocean striped bass in Lake Michigan. Alewives are the favorite food of striped bass.

Fire Victims Find Reasons for Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wieland of Barnard woke up at 2:45 a.m. last Thursday because they heard what sounded like "muffled gunshots."

Instead of gunshots, they found their 80 by 100 foot dairy barn in flames.

WHEN FIREMEN from Charlevoix and Ellsworth left at 9:30 a.m., the barn was completely destroyed, but Mrs. Wieland figured the family had plenty to be thankful for.

"It was wonderful," Mrs. Wieland said, "the way people came to help."

Throughout the day neighbors pitched in to help feed and move Wieland cattle to relatives' barns. They loaned feed and some equipment that was destroyed in the fire.

Mrs. Wieland said she sat in the house during most of the fire watching sparks and flames debris blow over the house. The tireless work of firemen -- in spite of the cold -- and a layer of snow on the house roof saved it, she said.

ONLY TWO COWS were injured. They are being treated by a veterinarian. Other cows that were kept in the barn were taken out before flames reached them. The Wielands have not decided if, or how, they will rebuild. Their dairy farm is considered one of the largest and most

NO MALICE

No American who ever lived had a greater grasp of the true meaning of Freedom than Abe Lincoln, the kindly and rugged-featured man who described this nation as having been "conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

But Abraham Lincoln knew that Liberty could not be won and maintained by men alone. He acknowledged Divine power. The Great Emancipator made that clear in all his classic utterances. The closing lines of the Gettysburg Address is our best example: "...that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom...and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth." ...that is Americanism

Feed Grain

Support Rate

Varies in Area

Area farmers taking part in the 1965 feed grain program may get the top rate of payment on the entire acreage diverted into conserving uses if they sign up and actually divert at least 40% of the farm's feed grain base. Robert W. Heldel, chairman, Charlevoix ASC Committee, reports.

The key figures for estimating diverted acres and diversion payments are 20, 40, and 50, the chairman explained. The minimum diversion under the feed grain program is 20% of the base. And there are two diversion-payment rates.

IF THE GROWER signs up and actually diverts at least 40% of the base, the higher rate will apply to the entire acreage diverted.

Farmers signing up in both the wheat and feed grain programs may divert either feed grains or wheat under the program's substitution plan.

The feed grain program for 1965 is basically the same as in 1964. It is voluntary and applies to corn and barley only in this county.

Chairman Reidel points out that signing up is a necessary first step in taking part in the feed grain program. The sign-up covers the period of February 8 through March 26. It will be held at the county ASCS office.

OUTDOOR RAMBLING

with GLEN SHEPPARD

IT MAY NEVER develop, and if it does it's still a far place in the future. But at least there is a chance that Lake Charlevoix will once again have good fishing for big rainbow trout.

The odds are even better that there will be large runs of big 'bows into the Jordan River and Boyne River.

THE SEED FOR rebuilding Lake Charlevoix rainbow trout sport fishing was planted late last month and in the first days of this month. The Conservation Dept. stocked 10,000 sub-legal size 'bows in the lower reaches of the Jordan River and 10,000 more near the mouth of the Boyne River.

The planting, under new district fisheries biologist Stan Lievense, may be just a shot in the dark. Or, as Lievense says, it may be the first step in bringing tackle-busting trout fishing back to Lake Charlevoix.

Lievense, who replaced Don Peterson, is one of the department's best known and most respected fisheries field men. As fish division chief for years of the department's Traverse City district, he became nationally known in fish research circles for his initiative in creating new sport fishing opportunities.

Rather than wait to take the safe and proven course, Lievense seemed to have the daring and sixth sense to know when to plant a lake with brook trout, or what have you, and end up with new fishing that had not before existed.

FOR YEARS THE department has appeared to semi-ignored pleas from Charlevoix fishermen that something be done to restore trout fishing in Lake Charlevoix. Oldtimers tell this columnist that up to 20 years ago catches of 5 to 15 'bows by trolling anglers were not uncommon. During the steelhead runs the Jordan River and Boyne River became famous for their big trout.

But for years now catching a rainbow of any size in Lake Charlevoix has been newsworthy. And the steelhead run in all Lake Michigan feeder streams has tumbled off to nothing.

If the 'bows can be re-established through continuation of Lievense fledgling program, it could bring back the days when charter sport fishing boats operated out of Round Lake. This, of course, also depends on the Great Lakes to come back with lake trout. And, don't forget, it's some time in the future.

BEFORE THIS column embarrasses Lievense, it is only fair to point out his planting of trout in Lake Charlevoix's two major rivers is part of a department-wide "new look" in fisheries management.

LIEVENSE PREDICTS there will be no catches of the newly planted trout until next fall. By then they should be 10-14 inches long.

He expects they will move into Lake Charlevoix this spring and stay there until fall. During the summer he doesn't see much chance of fisherman catching about actually catching fish or bagging game. Well, don't pull that one on Stan. My experience is he'll match you cast for cast.

The Charlevoix area is fortunate to have Stan shifted to our district, rather than to a desk job or laboratory.

AND, INCIDENTALLY, Stan has an interesting notion about the absence of Lake Michigan perch in Lake Charlevoix. Though he points out this is nothing but theory, he suspects alewife (a small herring) may be driving perch from northern Lake Michigan. The alewife competes with perch for food, and apparently, completely overwhelms the yellow bellies in numbers.

Stan says he may be all wet... nobody really has the low-down on alewife yet. But he fears the alewife may someday develop into as big a problem as the lamprey.

Only if fishermen lend a hand by reporting their catches of 'bows in Lake Charlevoix and the two rivers will the department know if the program is worth continuing. Lievense points out. He asked that anyone catching a 'bow in the lake or streams report it to the Conservation

WINTER ROCKHOUNDS--These sturdy lads, Shonnan Rotigan, left, and Steven Michael show off Petoskey stones they dug out of the Lake Michigan beach during the holidays. The boys claim rockhaunting is an exhilarating winter sport and should not be confined only to summer. Shonnan is reported to have quite a collection of local stones that he sells during the summer at the Dockside Press on Belvedere Ave.

Ellsworth Dumps Cent. Lake 81-52

By KATHI WIELAND and SUSI PETTER

ELLSWORTH--The Lancers remain unbeaten in conference play after defeating the Central Lake Trojans last Friday, 81-52.

The fact that these two teams have been arch-rivals for many years added to the excitement as the game began with even scoring on both sides. The quarter passed with a one point lead going back and forth between the two teams several times. In the last few minutes, the Trojans began to lose ground and the Lancers jumped to a 27-18 lead.

Remind Boaters Of New CG Rule

The Coast Guard reports it will no longer accept lifesaving devices in which kapok or fibrous glass buoyant material has not been encased in sealed plastic bags.

This action is the result of extensive tests made by the Coast Guard which have shown that kapok or fibrous glass lifesaving devices without the protection of plastic bags lose their buoyancy after several years and cannot be depended on in an emergency.

THE COAST GUARD URGED boatmen to carefully check their lifesaving equipment during the winter lay-up in preparation for the 1965 boating season. In addition to the regular chores of cleaning, painting and overhauling his boat, the boatman should make certain that his fire extinguishers, buoyant cushions, buoyant vests, life preservers and ring buoys are in ready-for-use condition. This kind of preparation can avoid needless loss of life and property, the Coast Guard stressed.

Because buoyant cushions are used both as seats and lifesaving devices, they tend to wear out more rapidly than other equipment. Therefore, they should be inspected more frequently.

Election Board

Election inspectors for the Feb. 16 City primary election have been appointed. They are: Democrats--Edna Miller, Edna LaBlance, Billy Smith, Lillian Trimble and Jean Loper; Republicans--Helen Meggison, June Helise, Irene Seymour, Janis Glass and Herb Campbell.

Marriage

Harold W. Mapes, 20, Boyne City, to Alma J. Graves, 18, Boyne City.

Scoring improved slightly in the second quarter and the score at half-time was 18-16 with the Trojans holding the edge. Central Lake kept this lead throughout the rest of the game. The score at the end of the 3rd period was 29-24, and the final score was 33-26.

High point man for Ellsworth was Harold Deyoung with 9 points, followed by Bruce Chellis with 8. With 14 and 9 points respectively, Rick Guld and Chuck Gordon lead the Trojan scoring.

Dear Dick Affair

RICHARD DONALDSON

Dear Dick: I had one date with this "Creep" named Jerry. After a movie, we danced to records at my house and when I started to say goodnight, he tried to go in for a lot of kissing and necking. I refused, so now he's telling everyone I am a prude, and that we live in a dump. Our house is neat, but our appliances are old. Mother says she can replace it soon. I am, EMBARRASSED.

DEAR EMBARRASSED: Forget about this spoiled brat. He'll put his foot in his own big mouth. Tell your mother about Puff's Appliance Center. She'll appreciate their good prices on appliances. Their quality name brands will spruce up your home.--DICK.

SPORTS

CHIPPER TERRILL goes up for a rebound while Gaylord players look on, seemingly stunned to find Charlevoix fighting so hard and successfully against the confident Blue Devils.

DOUG WINNELL fires one of the basket.

E-J Downs Boyne City

East Jordan, starting a line-up of juniors and underclassmen, came up with their third win of the season Friday night, a 71-49 victory over Boyne City.

This week the Red Devils will host Mancelona in a game that will find the Ironmen, a victim of several close games against top teams, trying to dump the Jordanites and better their standing, a cellar position they now share with Boyne City.

IN OTHER GAMES Friday, Pellston will travel to Harbor Springs and Grayling will host Gaylord while Charlevoix is playing at Boyne City.

In Friday's game, the Jordanites jumped to a 16-8 first period lead but the Boyne City Ramblers started to hit and matched them basket for basket, 17-17.

Boyne's Dave Hunt scored 24 but his efforts did not match those of Fred Malpass, Tom Drenth and Bill Snyder who contributed 17, 15 and 14 respectively toward the winning margin.

While Charlevoix was ousting Gaylord from a first place tie, Grayling defeated Pellston 78-58 and Harbor Springs dumped Mancelona 74-59 to protect their third place standings with records of 6-3 each. Pellston was in fourth (4-5); East Jordan fifth (3-6) and Boyne City and Mancelona sixth (1-8) before Tuesday's games.

Campers Pour $5 Into State Tills

Persons using state parks routed an estimated $47.2 million into the tills of Michigan grocery stores, gas stations, and other businesses during 1964, the Conservation Dept. reports.

This figure is based on spending by 235,000 camping families plus day users of state parks. It does not include money spent by persons who used state and national forest and recreation areas.

Now Fight to Hold Loop Lead

Charlevoix Licks Lick and Co., 63-50

The Charlevoix Rayders, fresh from a victory over Gaylord to move into sole possession of the top spot in the Northern Michigan Class C conference, and a Tuesday game at Pellston, will return to the hardwoods Friday for a game at Boyne City.

The Rayders had no trouble with the Ramblers in their first game here when they dumped the visitors 57-38. However, this need not be indicative of the results of Friday's game as the Rayders are well aware for in their first game with Mancelona they won in a 'breeze'. The second meeting required a double overtime before the Rayders won 78-72.

THOUGH THEY are currently sharing the league cellar with Mancelona, the Ramblers could be up for this meeting with arch rival, Charlevoix, and thus give the Rayders a tough game.

The Rayders played one of their hardest fought games of the season Friday night as they clashed with Gaylord for possession of the league lead.

After 32 minutes of heads-up ball during which they trailed only twice in the second period overcoming an early Blue Devil lead, the Rayders proved their right for possession of the top spot by dumping the visitors 63-50.

Big Tom Lick (6-10 1/2) put the Blue Devils ahead 2-0 with 7:12 remaining open the game. Charlevoix's Dave Norton stepped to the free throw line at 8:40 to give the Rayders their first point. Lick countered with a field goal for a 4-1 lead for Gaylord before Warren Belding and Norton

Gaylord, 61-47

The Charlevoix reserves continued along the victory trail Friday as they upended the visiting Gaylord Reserves, 61-47.

Fourteen young Rayders saw action as they fought to an 11-6 first quarter lead which was increased to 30-17 at halftime and 50-32 going into the final period.

Steve Smith accounted for 27 points followed by Bernie Ward with 15 points.

Mark Allen had 12 and Bill Jenkins 10 for the visitors.

Nimrods Safer Than in Church

LANSING--Hunting may be safer than church socials, says the National Wildlife Federation.

A five-year study by the Travelers Insurance Company showed that more people who took part in recreational activities and games at church socials filed accident claims than did hunters and shooters, according to the NWF.

The study further revealed that hunting and shooting mishaps were 16th on the list of accident claims--far below baseball, football, golf, fishing, and other sports.

put the Rayders ahead 5-4. Lick then came back with a double-point shot but the Rayders, finding the range, pulled away for an 18-13 first quarter lead.

AS THE SECOND period got underway, Gaylord's Mike Warner dumped in six quick points to put his team ahead 19-18. Warren Belding put the Rayders in the lead with a field goal but Warner countered to make the score 21-20. However, this was the last time the visitors led as Charlevoix took an 11-point 38-27 halftime advantage.

Gaylord came back in the third period to trim three points from the Rayder lead as the quarter ended 49-41.

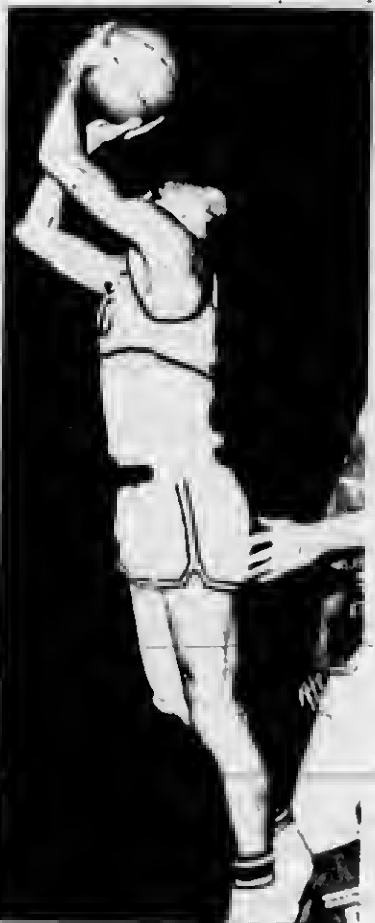

With only 4 seconds gone in the last period, Bill McBride went to the bench with his fifth foul.

With victory within their grasp, the Rayders went into a stall and controlled the game, forcing the Blue Devils to come out for the ball. As they did they fouled, giving the Rayders eight trips to the free throw line.

least, following the decisive 83-50 win over the team that, until Friday had never been out of first place in loop standings though they had lost one game earlier.

Lick, who is almost impossible to stop if he gets the ball, tallied 27 points including 12 field goals, to pace the game. Mike Warner had 10 points, all scored in the second period. Charlevoix's scoring was more scattered with Doug Winnell, playing his best game of the season, leading the point-makers with 20 points followed by Norton, Urick, Jim 10, 0, 1, 2, who did an excellent job guarding Lick even though he had collected three personal fouls in the first half with 7, and Belding with 13.

Comment Fact Opinion

Rabies Vaccination Should be Required of all Dog Owners

GETTING OUR annual County dog licenses the other day we were again surprised to realize the Treasurer's office did not demand proof that our pets and hunting companions have had their rabies vaccine.

Perhaps our concern was brought on by recent stories about rabid varmints and dogs in other communities.

We sort of took it for granted that all Michigan counties are required to demand that dog owners have their animals vaccinated and that they demand proof of this when purchasing their mandatory dog licenses.

WE ASKED COUNTY Dog Warden Joe Etienne and he said he thought rabies vaccination was required by State law but that the Board of Supervisors does not support it. (Joe would have no authority to enforce such a law.)

So we checked further and found we were wrong. The State recommends that all dogs be vaccinated, but leaves it up to the Board of Supervisors in each county to pass the law as a local option ordinance.

Excitement Brewing!

ALIVELY TWO weekends appears to be on tap for Charlevoix and a host of guests next winter. If the energetic and imaginative plans made by the Winter Sports Committee at its first meeting ever materialize Charlevoix will have the most exciting winter carnival in the state. There will be none of the foppish and disillusionment that characterize so many winter sports carnivals where a big time is promised by little is ever seen.

THE CHARLEVOIX committee has dared to be a little different by planning a program that calls for action and daring (ice boating, sports car races on the ice, motorcycle races, etc.) instead of the conventional queen pageant and amateurish figure skating.

Now the committee needs your support. If you have any ideas why not volunteer them? The committee has no notion that it has thought of everything.

City Sides With People

THOUSANDS of Charlevoix area residents, it seems to us, owe the City Council a nod of thanks for its stand last week in asking the County Board of Supervisors to provide space for keeping the driver's license bureau in Charlevoix.

Whether or not the City's plea has any influence on the supervisors, the councilmen are doing everything they can to serve the interests of local taxpayers. We can ask little more than this of our elected representatives.

Now let us hope the county will give the matter more deliberate consideration, and, if necessary, call a meeting to allocate space for the office in Charlevoix.

For the county board to let the driver's license bureau go to another community by default would be an outright violation of its responsibility to keep county services centralized in the county seat. If there is to be only one license bureau in the county it obviously belongs in the county seat. To deny this is to suggest the County Clerk's office should be in Boyne City, the Treasurer's office in East Jordan, the court room in Ironton, the Sheriff at Bay Shore and the Probate Court at Horton's Bay.

New Store Front Enhances City's Beauty

EVERYONE WHO loves Charlevoix is indebted to Henry Hogan and Jack Begrow for their very appropriate design for new building fronts on Bridge St. To Hogan and his partner Dale Winnie goes our thanks for being concerned enough about Charlevoix to direct Begrow's architectural firm to design a front that is in keeping with out town's heritage, charm and natural beauty.

BEGROW AND HIS associate Hans Weimer get our applause for being up to the assignment. Their "contemporary renaissance" design will give Charlevoix even greater beauty and grace.

Why the Board of Supervisors has not taken this action is a mystery to us. We expect that board members, like most of us, realize that the inconvenience and small expense of being protected against rabies is far outweighed by security it gives everyone.

Throughout the civilized world the discovery of a successful vaccine against rabies has been hailed as one of mankind's major achievements. But in Charlevoix County it is not officially recognized.

WE ASSUME THAT most dog owners join those of us at the Courier in caring enough for their pets and other people to get rabies protection without pressure from the law. The three of us at the Courier office own six dogs which are properly inoculated.

Counties that do have laws requiring rabies vaccination often reduce the cost to dog owners by holding clinics.

The Courier has learned that area veterinarians would cooperate in such a clinic for Charlevoix. The veterinarians would contribute their services and dog owners would pay a nominal cost for the vaccine.

The Northwestern Michigan Veterinarians Assn. is reported eager to cooperate in helping counties establish such programs. It points out dogs can carry rabies for months without owners' realizing it.

Rabies vaccination, one veterinarian told us, "is awful cheap peace of mind." Rabies vaccine, we learned, is one of the few that is 100% sure, leaving no chance whatever to contract the dreaded disease.

RIGHT HE IS. For centuries the sight of a dog acting in the least bit peculiar terrified people. Rabies was dreaded like the plague or war.

In Charlevoix County mothers still have cause to be concerned. Before a rabid dog turns up in your backyard where the children are playing why don't you tell your supervisor you support a county law requiring vaccination?

Thoughts that Lead Nowhere

WE'RE NOT SURE just what it proves, but the story that 30 of the Intermediate School District's 75 qualified substitute teachers are from Charlevoix is certainly worth mulling over for a couple of minutes.

The story notes that the most substitutes from any other town is 13, from both Petoskey and Boyne City. Of course the population of both Petoskey and Boyne City is larger than Charlevoix.

SO WHY DOES Charlevoix have more than twice as many trained teachers in reserve as these larger towns? The Courier doesn't know the answer. And neither did Intermediate District Supt. Charles Robinson when we asked him.

Furthermore, the answer probably isn't important. It may just be a quirk that is worth no more than a passing thought.

But, then again, in our perhaps biased way we might conclude that it is because Charlevoix attracts a unusually high caliber of people. We may not be able to prove it, but we'll go on thinking this way.

OUR READERS WRITE

Says City Hunters Intrude in Country

DEAR EDITOR:

Let's get with it country folk, things are moving. Hunting and promotion of it is here to stay. Of the 50 hunters sneaking on the back of our farm, one actually asked my husband if he could hunt, and we sure thank him. Yet look at the odds, as one hunter said, there are seven in our group. Now at five to six cars parked on the land, morning, noon or night, in or out of season, we have it made! These are our natural resources! (Where's our cut?) The cash registers jungle in town, these people know how to make a dollar. So take seven times seven hunters at say-fifty cents a head, it might be worth while to put up a hot dog stand in the woods. Let's not be sold short, there's your percentage.

I understand one of our immediate neighbors was highly perturbed that one car was parked on her property. Well! Now let's see that's one car in one year? So--just what should Mrs. Seddow think about, three to six cars and remember some of these are reliable people. Why Now! (after five years of trespassers?) It is a fact that for the third time this year the children walked down the hill of their own property to watch Mr. Supernatural horse and scoured right back, fearful of the fire of gun shots.

Now let's get this equal rights business Righted. Remember your "Ramblin with Shep" column on Spiritual Value hunters attain, (while trespassing) now that is partly true, but where do the farmers go for their spiritual benefits? (without cost)--

We send our children to school, church, here they are taught the fundamentals, respect of private property etc, etc, yet if we parents do not value this heritage, how in the Holy High Heaven's do you believe our children will become upstanding citizens, on a don't do as I do, do as you're told basis.

If there are hungry people who need food, let them come first--the farmers could do the processing at a reasonable rate and sell it to needy folk. We had one elderly gentleman come to the door and he asked if he and another reliable party could hunt, just two, Sunday morning 7:30 six cars, four to five men in a car--well! Ha Ha and Bang Bang. If laws are made just for the clever to manipulate them they are a farce.

Now I should like to thank the young man who did come back and clear away the rubbish he left--

Sure was wonderful to note, that this young man could admit the truth, it is in these young people that the sincerity of character thrives, let us not stifle it.

CECIL SEDDOW

A Scholarly Viewpoint

DEAR EDITOR:

The good old patriotism that was pounded into your young generation recently, unfortunately, in other important areas of neglect, I suspect that the reason: "The anti-United Nations notion that the United States is the best and owes nothing to no one and will take no gift from any other country has its place in today's classroom" is because there is a double negative in the sentence.

It is entirely possible that 90% of Michigan's school teachers do believe in Socialism. If you ask the question first and define the terms later broadly enough to encompass the self-serving percentage desired. The Rambling column of 7 January equates state controls over more of our activities in order to secure conformity with socialism. The New Century Dictionary defines socialism as: "a theory or system of social organization which aims at securing better distribution and more effective production of wealth by the vesting of the ownership and control of the means of production, capital, land, etc. in the community as a whole." Accepted definitions stress the economic organization of society as opposed to your use which apparently refers to the political organization of society. I personally don't care how you label things, people or institutions so long as you take the time to give reasonable definition to the labels that you have used. I believe that the code of the journalism profession would require that much.

To collect all or most of the evils of society and place them under a label which, strictly speaking, is neutral in that there are no implicitly evil value judgments in the technical definition and then brand everything which does not square with one's own value judgments by that label is to engage in the rawest kind of deprivation of individual rights. Such action is very much akin to the proceedings conducted by the late and unlamented Senator McCarthy during the period of that latter-day Court of Star Chamber that he presided over.

Precautionary words only, as it is apparent by past readings of Rambling

Wait for Courier

DEAR EDITOR:

It is with great pleasure to enclose my check in the amount of $5.50 for an additional year subscription of The Charlevoix Courier.

My wife and I are very interested in this particular area since enjoying our last two summer vacations there.

We anxiously await the arrival of each issue with enthusiasm.

Very truly yours,

Foundation Maps National Program

DEAR EDITOR:

Each year at this time, Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge sponsors the Freedom Roll Call, to focus the attention of all citizens on the true values and responsibilities of our Constitutional form of government.

This year, Colonel John Glenn, Jr. is Roll Call Chairman, presiding over a nationwide call to Americans to keep our freedom strong by exercising it.

IT SEEMS ODD that such a campaign is necessary. With tyrannical manning the guns at Viet Nam, Cuba and East Germany--a mention only a few danger spots around the world--one would think that the freedoms we enjoy would appear more precious than ever.

Yet, a peculiar malaise is abroad in our land. Crime is on the increase. Truants stand idly by while a woman is killed in the street, a gang of young hoodlums "mug" an old man on a public thoroughfare, or a child is attacked and beaten in the midtown area of a large city. All of these are actual cases--and all, unfortunately, are recurring constantly in towns and villages throughout the United States.

The Foundation at Valley Forge wisely has selected a slogan that maps the way to victory in our fight to preserve our liberties: Freedom, all our freedoms, wither away if not exercised. Like the muscles of the human body, freedom, unless exercised, atrophies, withers, and becomes weak and useless.

If you wish to know more about what you, an individual American citizen, can do to protect your freedom, by exercising it and enjoying it in your own life, it's easy to ascertain. Write to Freedoms Foundation, Valley Forge, Pa., and ask for a free copy of "Freedoms Handbook."

odds 'n ends

By FRANK MARTIN

That long awaited day came last Wednesday...the day when the youngsters heard the news they'd been waiting for since last September.... No school today!...Why is that day more precious than any other?....There are various times during the year when there is no school but for some reason the day that there's no school because of a storm or some similar reason is always more special than any other....Now I don't remember being like that when I was a kid! (Hold it...never mind the flying bric-a-brac....I do remember!)....But wasn't it great weather for snowballs, snowmen and forts?....I don't too often get into controversial issues of any great importance....Not that I don't have opinions on most everything, but I just don't do it....I'm really not going to get involved in this one except to ask "What do you think of the idea of a chairlift along the west bank of Round Lake?"...I'm sure you read about it in this week's Courier.

MEANT TO MENTION this before....Do you remember reading recently about the controversial painting of Gov. Swainson that was to be hung in the capitol building?....The controversy was in regard to the life-sized portrait itself....was it or wasn't it completed by the artist....My point about the whole is this (since I'm no art critic)....Did you notice who the artist was?....None other than Steve Davis, a fabulous person who had a studio here a few years ago (in the old Washington school on the north side)....He'd been ill and sort of dropped out of sight for a while but now he seems to be his old self again....A scrapper all the way, he was right in there defending his picture which critics were apparently tearing apart....

Clay Smith stopped by the other day and before he left we got around to discussing trapping in general and beaver trapping in particular....You probably know that he does all sorts of trapping....He was telling me about the beaver colonies on Beaver Island....Pd sure give a lot to see them....only thing is they do their work and foraging for food and all that at night....and who's going to sit along a beaver pond in this kind of weather....Never having seen anything but photographs of their housing projects I never realized they were as large as they are....several feet high with the base built accordingly....It certainly would be fun to learn, first hand, more about these energetic little creatures....But how could anyone trap them?....I know we'd be overrun with them if something wasn't done, but I wouldn't have the heart to do it....I'm afraid if control of wild life were dependent on people who would have to move out of this country!....

MOST FAMILIES have a pet or pets at one time or another and I've heard scads of reasons for having them....I've also heard many reasons why people select a certain pet or one of a certain color....But last week I heard what I feel is the ultimate in the selection of a color....A friend of mine who shall remain nameless has a new puppy....a cocker spaniel....She was telling me about him how cute he was....you know, the usual pertinent info....When I asked what color he was...."Oh," said she, "he's a tannish red....a little lighter than the color of an Irish setter....I could have gotten a black one but this one sort of matched my furniture....I didn't get it and said so....her answer was simple: you know how dogs shed and get their hair on the furniture....When you get a pooch that matches the upholstery it just isn't as noticeable....Now how's that for good thinking?....

There are headlines and there are headlines....but one of the cleverest I've seen recently was the banner on the special Orange Bowl edition of the Miami Herald....If you're a football fan you know that Texas defeated Alabama in this big game....And the headline? "Steers Fall on Alabama 21-17"....How's that for a take off on that popular song?....Incidentally, I don't know to whom I'm indebted but many thanks for the copy of the special edition....Sorry I was so late in acknowledging it....really enjoyed it....

AND SPEAKING OF headlines....like countless other football fans, was saddened by the headlines on the sports page recently telling of the death of one of Notre Dame's famous Four Horsemen, Harry Struhldreher....I think I mentioned in this column in November that I, along with several others from here, had heard him speak at the annual meeting of the Seneca Trails Boy Scout Council dinner in Traverse City....

He had been with the public relations division of U.S. Steel in recent years and, since I have a very good friend who is with them, I spoke to him after the dinner and mentioned this fellow who is now in the west with the company....He told me he's just returned from a week's stay in Salt Lake City, had spent a lot of time with this fellow and really filled me in on the family for he'd apparently stayed with them while there....We had quite a chat....And whether he realized it or not I was thrilled to pieces at meeting such a tremendous guy....though this did not apply to his size....In fact, I was amazed when one considers the initial requirements of today's football players, that he had been the great player that he was for he might have been considered a small man....As we talked others in the party came up and we were introduced....I think that all of us, after having heard him speak, felt that we were indeed fortunate to have heard and, later, met such a personality....Not because he was famous but because we had a brief glimpse at the things that made him great as a person....And I think our lives were made richer because our paths crossed for one brief moment....

And the headline that left everyone more than a little sad was the one that told of the passing of probably the greatest man of this century....the man of all ages....the man who belongs to history....Sir Winston Churchill....Those who remember the days of World War II will never forget that voice that kept hope alive in the hearts of so many when all seemed lost....The voice has been stilled but his words will long tell of those days that are now history....

cal and state teachers organizations and the First Congregational Church of Charlevoix. Terrill was in the U.S. Army from 1940 to 1945.

"I believe it is a duty of each citizen to serve his community. I do believe that leadership on our council is needed and I hope that I can help supply this leadership," Terrill wrote.

Terrill said his "background as a citizen, voting record and interest in the community and educational background," help qualify him for the position.

Terrill said he feels the city needs more and better recreational facilities. He supported retirement for city employees, addition to the public pleasure boat facilities on Round Lake and adoption of a stringent building code.

LUTHER RUSSELL

Luther (Cass) Russell, 31, 508 May St., a Republican candidate for third ward alderman, has lived in Charlevoix eight years.

He and his wife, Patricia, have two children, Gordon, 6, and Kay, 1. He is a sales representative for Fochman Motor Co. He graduated in 1951 from Mancelona High School.

Russell was in the Army from 1953 to 1955. He is commander of the local VFW post.

revoix-Antrim Artificial Breathers Assn. are valuable in my present association with rural supervisors.

"The major issue in most elections is to elect officials who will maintain financially sound government and provide governmental services within the means of our taxpayers.

"The City of Charlevoix and the County of Charlevoix are presently the envy of many counties and cities in the state. Let's maintain this status.

"The second issue is to comply with the State mandate to establish only one drivers license bureau in the County. Such a bureau should be a unit within the Sheriff's Dept. The Secretary of State has been notified that the County will provide space for the bureau. I have discussed this issue with a number of supervisors and personally toured the County Building to find a suitable location. It is my opinion that a temporary space will have to be provided and the mechanical operation worked out with the Sheriff's Dept.

"You are asking if the Board of Supervisors should be re-apportioned on a one-man, one-vote basis. That may have advantages in some of the heavily populated counties with an overwhelming city population. There are many other counties, possibly Charlevoix, where a proposal on that basis would immediately start a conflict of selfish interests. This would undo the progress that has been achieved over the years in establishing a closer relationship between rural and urban people. The consolidation of school districts has in reality made the residents of rural areas a part of the community in which their school is centered. I am inclined to think these rural people are more interested in the well being of the urban people than visa versa. Relative to your statement that the "present city delegation is nearly mute in matters involving Charlevoix taxpayers", it would be interesting if figures were presented to show discrimination on between city of Charlevoix taxpayers and other taxpayers in the county. The county is assessed on the state equalized valuation as determined by a state tax commission study made in 1961. Prior to the study the city was paying 26 percent of the county tax. Following the study the city tax share has been reduced to about 15 percent. It should be remembered that many township supervisors supported Charlevoix taxpayers in requesting this study which has resulted in a more equitable tax assessment.

"The creation of a county Assessment Equalization Dept. has been a step forward in holding the line on equitable tax assessments throughout the county. The Charlevoix city assessors works with this department to maintain equitable assessment of city property.

"Your city supervisors are available to hear suggestions or complaints from any or all of the Charlevoix taxpayers. This delegation is ready and willing to take any suggestion or complaints before the board. I feel safe in speaking for the other two supervisors in this respect.

"I am a firm believer in advertising and will go along with reasonable expenditures for Charlevoix County bill board advertising. I do not believe, however, that county taxpayers money should be appropriated to promote any one specific area or community. If county taxpayers want to foot the bill, I would consider a plant to place county bill boards in central and southern Michigan."

City Attorney John Michael and Councilman Robert Gill said city zoning outlawed such a facility. Zoning in the East Park area makes it illegal to build anything higher than 12 feet.

DOWNSTATE developers had proposed building the overhead ride as a tourist attraction.

questionnaire, "On the prompting of close friends who have been longtime observers of local government and its relationship with the people of our city."

Wallace said he will work for the following if elected:

1.--Retention of the drivers license bureau in Charlevoix.

2.--Reapportionment of the County Board of Supervisors to give the many taxpayers in the Second Ward at least an equal voice in county affairs.

3.--STRENGTHENING the sheriffs department in effort to stem the fast rising crime rate in the county.

4.--A better road sign system directing tourist traffic off the expressways to Charlevoix. Many recreational facilities.

5.--A promotion and selling program that would inform industry and business of our many assets and growing economy and help bring more skilled labor and higher payrolls to our area and enable us to provide jobs for our young unskilled with an opportunity to advance.

Bandsmen Win Top Honors

Charlevoix High School bandsmen captured 17 firsts, 16 seconds and four thirds at the District Solo and Ensemble Festival at Gaylord.

First place winners in the senior division were: Sharon Sugden, and Diane Moore, snare drum solos; Janice Sundberg, xylophone solo; Carol Annis and Bruce Livingston, clarinet solos; Larry Hutchinson, trombone solo. Drum quintet, Sharon Sugden, Ellen Cunningham, Betty Klooster, Diane Moore, and Clyde Allison; brass sextet, Paxton Warner, Steve Smith, Alan Kroll, Paul Martin, Larry Hutchinson and Larry Feindt; saxophone trio, Pattie Penn, Gail Allison and Linda Supernaw; Woodwind quartet, Nancy Hoffman, Erin Arvilla, Carol Annis and Ellen Arvilla; flute-clarinet duet, Roberta Hiller and David Smith.

City Forbids

City Councilmen Monday rejected a proposal to build an elevated ski chair lift type above the west shore of Round Lake.

as aide to the Commandant.

In 1948 he returned to Coast Guard Headquarters as assistant chief of the Aviation Division. Then, following six months as a student at the Armed Forces Staff College, in Norfolk, and a course in Loran operation and basic aids to navigation at the Coast Guard Training Station, Groton, Conn., he became commanding officer of the Coast Guard Depot on Guam Island and commander, Western Pacific Section.

In 1954, following his duty on the Mackinaw on the Great Lakes, he became chief of the Administrative Management Division at Coast Guard Headquarters.

From June 1957 until July 1960, Admiral Smith served as commandant of cadets at the Coast Guard District, in Seattle. He was nominated by the President for the rank of rear admiral on January 31, 1962, and became superintendent of the Academy in June of that year.

Admiral Smith is married to the former Harriet Lary, of Los Angeles, and they have a son and a daughter.

The date of the change of command has not yet been set, but it is expected to take place late in June, at the Academy.

The Jeeps Are Favored

The Scouts may be ahead in numbers but the Jeeps are still winning. Monday evening City Council received bids on four International Scout four wheel drive trucks and two Jeeps. Three of the Scout bids were lower than the Jeep bids.

AFTER considerable discussion councilmen wound up buying one of the Jeeps. They decided the Jeep would better serve the city's purpose. It will be used at the Municipal Golf Course and for light snow plowing. The Jeep was purchased from Carson Kibbe of Petoskey for $2,150. Scout bids ranged from $1,878 to $2,420. The bid prices were after trade-in of the City's 1948 Jeep.

Councilmen also purchased a new half-ton Chevrolet six cylinder pickup truck from Charlevoix Oil Co. for $1,980, including trade-in of the present half-ton truck. Charlevoix Oil Co.'s bid on the Chevrolet was the lowest received. Errol Auto Co.'s bid of $1,529 on a Ford pickup was high. The third bidder, Pierce of Petoskey on an International pickup, was $1,498.

COUNCILMAN William Fochtman abstained from voting on the truck bids.

Saint Valentine's Day

Let's make Saint Valentine's Day unanimous. Let's say "I love you" to at least one other person. It is a bright and good day in the Christian calendar. Every one of us is the better man because he dares to love. The heart and the cross belong together. You cannot truly love without honoring the principle of sacrifice. Saint Valentine was a Christian martyr, beheaded by Claudius, emperor of Rome about the year 50 A.D. He loved enough to surrender his life in the service of God. The heart and the cross tell us that God is love, that he loved enough to give all for us. Will St. Valentine succeed in winning you and me to a genuine love for God that will not count the cost? The best text for St. Valentine's Day is John 3:16.

Ellsworth Continues to Lead League after 84-43 Victory over Frederic

By KATHI WIELAND and SUSI PETTER
ELLSWORTH-The Lancers played host Friday to Frederic's Eagles, trouncing them 84-43.

The victory gave Ellsworth a 7-0 league record, keeping it on top of the heap. Bellaire is second with a 6-1 record. Ellsworth's starting five played the entire first quarter. Though slow to start, once the Lancers got moving there was no stopping them.

COACH ROBERT Danforth used substitutes and the entire second string in other quarters.

Frederic made its biggest push in the fourth quarter, when it scored 17 points. The score by quarters was (all in Ellsworth's favor) 22-9, 44-17, 61-27.

Chet Boss, lead Lancer scoring with 19 points, followed by Ken Richardson with 14 and Marv Ruls with 13. Steve Weaver, with 22 points, was top man for Frederic. THE ELLSWORTH Junior High squad did equally well against Frederic, winning 42-17.

The Lancers scored more points in the first quarter than Frederic did during the quarter game. The first quarter score was 21-1. At halftime the score was 29-6.

Top scorers were Roy Staudenmeyer, 10; Ron Boss, 8, and Dan Wieland, 7.

JV's Win
The Little Rayders posted their eighth victory of the current season Friday when they dumped the Boyne Reserves 47-35 on the latter's floor Friday night.

Paced by Steve Smith who celebrated his birthday by scoring 20 points, the young Rayders jumped to an 11-3 first period score, increased it to 22-12 at halftime and 42-24 going into the final period. Jay Benser had 13 for the Rambler reserves.

Rayders Return Home to Take on Grayling Squad

The Charlevoix Rayders return to their home court this week for the first time since Jan. 29 when they took on the Grayling Vikings, holding down third place in league with a 7-4 record.

The Rayders with a 9-2 record are tied with Gaylord for first place.

Red Devils Ready for Harborites
The East Jordan Red Devils will entertain the second place Harbor Springs Rams Friday as the Northern Michigan Class C schedule goes into the home stretch.

Elsewhere, Gaylord, tied with Charlevoix for first place hosts Mancelona and Pellston on Friday night.

THE RED DEVILS will find the going rough when they take on the Harbor Springs Rams who have an 8-4 record. The Rams, because of their record, will be favored though the Jordanites could pull an upset if they play good ball.

Last week the Red Devils racked up their fourth win of the current season by dumping the Mancelona Ironmen 62-46.

Three Jordanites hit for double figures including Fred Malpass with 15, Jim Chah with 12 and Tom Drenth with 10. Barry Moeke had 14 and Ron Grody 10 for the Ironmen.

At Harbor Springs, the Rams found Pellston tying the score 40-40 at halftime before they pulled away for the 94-71 Ram victory.

Rayders dumped the Vikings 80-69 in a game that saw the Rayders in control all the way.

This week's game will see a change of Viking personnel, according to Coach Bruce Smith who said that Curt Feldhauser, a big forward, was ineligible and therefore would not be appearing with the team for the remainder of the season. Guard Terry Smith, hospitalized with an attack of appendicitis since Thursday, did not see action last week. His father, Coach Smith, said early this week that whether or not Terry would see action against Charlevoix would depend on his doctor.

A sophomore, Pat Thompson, replaced Feldhauser and on Friday Coach Smith said he was considering bringing another sophomore, Dave Nethers, up from the reserves to give the team more depth. With these changes, the Vikings will not be the smooth operating quintet the Rayders met earlier. However, they will be an ambitious outfit and will be out to upset the Rayders, a feat they almost accomplished when they went against Gaylord last week.

If the Rayders are to stay on the victory trail they will have to play better ball than they did at Pellston last week and during the first half of their game at Boyne City when they trailed 18-15 at the quarter and 30-27 at halftime.

As the game went into the second half, the Rayders outscored the Boyne Ramblers 15-6 to go ahead for the first time in the game.

As they continued their offensive attack, they poured in 27 points in the final period to six for Boyne for the 27-point victory.

Dave Norton paced the game with 18 points followed by Doug Winnell with 17 and Jim Uhrick with 13, 10 of them in the first half.

Scott Hall and Dennis Gunderson shared scoring honors for the Ramblers with 14 points each.

Ellsworth Joins New Loop For 1965-66 Cage Season

By ROYSTAUDENMEYER
ELLSWORTH--Ellsworth Community High School has joined a new basketball league. Next season Ellsworth officially becomes a member of the Northern Lakes Conference.

Two old rivals, Bellaire and Central Lake, joined Ellsworth in moving to the new league.

RAPID CITY, Frederic and Alba will no longer be in the same basketball league with Ellsworth.

Class D teams in the new Northern Lakes Conference with Ellsworth are Mackinaw City, Inland Lakes, Vanderbilt, Wolverine, Johnsbury, Boyne Falls, Alanson, Bellaire and Central Lake.

The new league will be split into two sections, southern and northern. With Ellsworth in the southern section will be Alanson, Boyne Falls, Bellaire and Central Lake.

Teams in the southern section will play each other twice, plus one team from the northern section twice and all others once.

TEAMS IN THE Football Conference will remain the same, Ellsworth, Central Lake, Bellaire, Inland Lakes, Mackinaw City, and Vanderbilt. This league will continue to play eight-man football, which it enjoyed last year for the first time. The Northern Lakes Conference will participate in other sports.

Friday night when the Ellsworth team plays Rapid City will end a basketball rivalry which has lasted many years. Rapid City has been hanging on by a thin thread. The last couple of years the Bobcats have had a tough time keeping in the race. After this semester Rapid City voters choose to send their High School to another school. We the fans of Ellsworth, enjoyed the games against the Bobcats and wish them well wherever they plan on continuing their High School education.

Next week Friday is the big one again. Bellaire moves into Ellsworth to show they can come back after a defeat. Coach Don Smith figured the Eagles had the game won until Richardson came up with a quick move. Coach Bob Danforth of the Lancers has the first five moving much faster. Marv Ruls is playing the backboards with more fight and effort. Gary Torgna has shown more power since the Tournaments. Both teams have a sensational scoring punch and the Lancers will have to set up a tight defense to beat them.

The following Tuesday, on the 23rd, the Lancers will play their postponed game against McDan. They haven't lost since the Lancers defeated them earlier in the season.

Sales Tax Deductions

R. L. Nixon, Detroit District Director of Internal Revenue, issued the accompanying table for use in preparing 1964 Federal income tax returns. Nixon emphasized that the table has been revised and that any chart issued or published last year should not be used in preparing 1964 tax returns.

This table may be used as a guide to arrive at the average amount of Michigan State Sales Tax of 4% which may be claimed as a deduction in the absence of definite proof of payment. Nixon pointed out that the table takes into consideration taxes paid on the purchase of large household items, but does not include either gasoline tax of 6¢ per gallon or the sales tax on the purchase of an automobile. These items must be itemized separately and may be taken as a deduction in addition to the amount shown on the sales tax table.

Taxpayers are reminded also that the Michigan State tax on cigarettes is not deductible. Nixon suggested that taxpayers save this table for use when they prepare their tax return. Taxpayers having additional questions on this subject should telephone their local Internal Revenue Service office.

MICHIGAN 1964 AVERAGE STATE SALES TAX TABLE

This table is based on the Michigan general sales tax of 4 percent. It may be used when deducting sales tax on Form 1041. If the table is not used, sales tax deductions must be itemized and substantiated. Deductible sales tax on the purchase of automobiles and gasoline tax of 6 cents per gallon are not included in the table and must be itemized separately.

Arthur Colloher, son of former Beaver Island commercial fisherman Ari Colloher, is the new president of the Michigan Press Assn. Colloher is editor of the Ann Arbor News. He is a first cousin of James Colloher, manager of the Beaver Island Boat Co. Arthur and James Colloher's mothers were sisters and were married in a double ceremony on the island.

OUTDOOR RAMBLING

With RICH SHEPPARD

The happy shrieking of beagle hounds hot on a rabbit track will fade from swamps Mar. 1. It seems too soon.

BEAVER ISLAND BAG--Rabbit hunting on Beaver Island is reported to be fabulous. These hunters display their bag in front of the Shamrock to the point.

HEY! THAT'S MINE--A beagle swipes a dead rabbit off the cleaning block. Many hunters claim the best way to keep your hounds enthusiastic about tracking is to give them plenty of chance to mouth the rabbit after it's shot. They advise that the rabbit be left where it is shot until the dog tracks it down.

Not only does it seem unfair to hunters to close the rabbit season while there's still snow on the ground, it also seems a terrible miscarriage of justice to the poor hounds.

MAYBE THE Conservation Dept. should consider leaving the season on snowshoe rabbits open as long as there is snow on the ground. Biologically you would have an awful time proving the rabbit population is going to be endangered by lengthening the season.

For those of us who love to tramp the cedar bogs when they are stacked high with snow, the temptation to turn the beagle loose is almost too much to resist.

If there are winter thrills more wonderful than the yapping of a beagle close on a rabbit's tail, it must be the howling of a fox hound as the cold track turns to a hot one.

There being no closed season on fox, we can keep the hounds running through March. Which takes some of the sting out of the Mar. 1 closing of rabbit season.

BUT IT ONLY eases the pain slightly. The poor beagles—who always seem so happy when they bring their quarry within shooting distance—don't get any comfort from knowing the bigger hounds are enjoying themselves.

You can drop down into the swamp at 4 p.m. on a weekday afternoon and have a good time running rabbits. But not fox. It is only a quirk of good fortune when 90 minutes is enough to run one reynard down.

Charlevoix area rabbit hunters have, from all reports, had no trouble finding game this season. Only the weather has failed to cooperate.

Low temperatures and deep drifts have kept the rabbits from moving on many weekends. Only the best of hounds have been able to root them out. And then the dogs have had to fight deep drifts, which is hard going, especially for the short-legged beagles.

WHICH, SINCE we're rambling around so much, gets us around to a favorite subject: What is your choice of weapon for rabbits, a .22 rifle or shotgun?

Shotgunners most often contend a rabbit is moving too fast, through too much cover, to hit with a rifle. However, I can't recall ever seeing anyone kill a rabbit with a shotgun that they couldn't have nailed with a rifle. But they do take more wild shots in the blind hope a stray pellet will hit a vital spot.

Not long ago I asked Oscar Ward if he's killed any rabbits this year with a shot gun he couldn't have hit with a rifle. After a few minutes thought Oscar admitted he could have got them with a rifle.

Of course, the advantages of a rifle are that it is lighter, cheaper to shoot and when you do hit a rabbit you invariably

Hopes Dim for Introduction of Stripers

Chances of the Conservation Dept. planting striped bass from South Carolina in Lake Michigan don't look promising.

District fisheries chief Stan kill it. Even if the 40 grain .22 slug only wounds a rabbit it does a good enough job so that it can't get far without the dog catching it.

Lievens has supported plans for introduction of the striped bass in Lake Michigan. He feels the Atlantic Ocean import would feed extensively on alewives, which may be the cause for the decline of Charlevoix's former perch runs.

STRIPED BASS are a top sport fish on the Atlantic Coast. The department has obtained a small number of striped bass from South Carolina and is holding them for study as a possible "new fish" for the Great Lakes.

But that doesn't mean introduction of the striped bass, a prime saltwater game fish that has adapted to fresh water in some southern states, is close at hand, the department said last week.

Many problems remain to be solved before a decision is made. Sources of striped bass stock are scarce, and rearing these fish in hatcheries is tricky at best. There is a question whether Michigan waters are suitable for stripers, because of low winter - time, water temperatures. Finally, the role of the striped bass as a possible competitor with lake trout has to be carefully evaluated.

EXPERIENCE to date, the department reports, suggests the South Carolina striper may not be able to tolerate water below 40 degrees for extended periods. This raises a question about its ability to survive in the Great Lakes. Other trials may be made with specimens from more northerly waters.

Experience Counts

That is logical when you select a lawyer, doctor, mechanic or a Supervisor to represent you on the County Board. You are entitled to a Supervisor best qualified to represent all of the people. Carefully consider the following qualifications. If they come up to your standards, vote accordingly at the City Primary Election next Monday.

- DO YOU WANT A SUPERVISOR WHO
- has been active in the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce since it was organized and formerly a director;
- is a director of the Charlevoix Development Corp. and was president when plans were made to bring the Hoskins Mfg. Co. plant to Charlevoix;
- a former editor-manager of the Charlevoix Courier and actively associated with your home town newspaper for 13 years;
- has been active for ten years in an organization dedicated to community service and this year is president of that organization;
- has been a resident and property owner in the Second Ward since 1951;
- has been a resident of the community since 1943 -- served on the Norwood township board -- former president of the Charlevoix County Farm Bureau -- helped organize and was the first president of the local Michigan Milk Producers Association -- former director and vice president of the Antrim-Charlevoix Artificial Breeders Association;
- has been your Second Ward Supervisor the last year and a half.

If this background of experience meets your qualifications, I ask for your vote next Monday. My objective is to represent ALL of the residents of the Second Ward and not just a minority clique that might have an axe to grind.

Michigan Week Competition Is Underway

In the product-of-the-year and related contests of the 1964 Michigan Week, Charlevoix County has until April 10 to select its winners, Wally Loder, County chairman reports.

The related contests are for agricultural development of the year and community economic achievement of the year.

Judging in the 16 Michigan Week regions is to take place on April 15. All information on the regional winners is to be in the hands of the state committee April 24 ready for the three teams of state judges to begin their work.

ANY COMPANY manufacturing in Charlevoix County may file an entry in the product-of-the-year contest, so long as its entry is a consumer product, new or recent, now in production and on the market and with a potential for national distribution and for economic benefit to the community. Iron-ton

By Mrs. Ross Alexander
LI 7-2037

It was a beautiful morning last Tuesday the sun shone bright. "Mr. Groundhog," came out and roamed around until noon, when it started to snow and it snowed and the wind blew until Saturday, so he went back to his "nest," for six more weeks of slumber. How I wonder who of we modern people really believe that old weather prediction, but isn't it nice to dream, of what might of been if the sun had stayed behind a cloud that morning.

Mr. and Mrs. James McNeil of Boyne City were dinner guests Saturday at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Wayne Saunders and family. On Sunday, Sally's aunt, Mrs. Amanda Shepard from East Jordan, spent the day with them.

Alan Kroll and Sharon Nelson, participated in the annual Solo and Ensemble Festival at Gaylord on Saturday. Straight A's were received in the Sixtette and Quartet, the two took part in. Mrs. Earl Kroll took them over to the festival.

Seven members of the local Extension Club met last Tuesday morning with Mrs. Sam Alexander. Plans were made for their future lessons and Evelyn served delicious rolls and coffee.

The Junior Choir meets at seven o'clock every Thursday evening at the church, under the leadership of Mrs. William Harmon. It is nice having them substitute for the adult choir at the morning service. The adult choir meets at eight o'clock the same evening.

Mrs. Joe Howe entertained with a birthday and card party Friday afternoon. The honored guests were Ada Williams, Hilda Crowe and Lorena Beyer. Other guests were Helen Miner, Mable Meyers, and Ellen Jensen. Edna presented them with a lovely birthday cake and other refreshments were served.

Mrs. Zella Bacons spent Sunday afternoon with Mrs. Elwyn Johnson.

Mort Neff's photographer spent last Tuesday at Merle Scott's Boat Livery getting material and taking pictures of the fishing industry, which will be shown on their Thursday evening TV program the eleventh or eighteenth. Keep this in mind and you will see our city on Ice, Barbara Scott, said a fisherman returned to Mt. Pleasant with 75 nice perch which he caught on Saturday, but Ralph Price said Sunday that a week ago some would take a 180 home for a day's catch, so if you like to fish and if you like perch, Iron-ton is the place to come. And, you might see yourself on TV, who knows.

Mrs. Glenn (Mable) Cummings, who had been a patient at St. Joseph's Hospital where she was being treated for a fractured hip, was returned here and admitted to the Charlevoix Hospital. Her daughter, Mrs. James Martin, and John J. Martin went to southern Michigan for her.

Ted Tunison, who has completed two years at North Central Michigan College, has transferred to Northern Michigan University in Marquette with the beginning of the second semester. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Tunison.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Miles reported a six robins in their yard at 202 Belvedere ave. Sunday morning, brought north, no doubt, by the false spring that hit the area over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Browe, their daughter, Mary and sons, Tom, Jim and Ray, were in Cadillac Friday to attend the play "Send Me No Flowers" presented by the Footlights, a Little Theatre Group, in which their son, Wilfred, an announcer at a local station there, and Rod Creede of the staff at the television station had roles. The play was presented to full houses, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

CHARLEVOIX winners were Mrs. Tony Wojan's standard French Poodle, Mr. and Mrs. William Fochtman's miniature schnauzer pup and Ellen and Erin Arvilla's German Shepherd pup.

The Wojan dog won three first place ribbons and a trophy. The Fochtman and Arvilla dogs each won one first place ribbon.

This brought the Wojan poodle's winnings to nine first place ribbons. The dog is three years old.

SECOND WARD VOTERS

VOTE FOR A LEADER TO REPRESENT YOU ON THE COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

Here, briefly, are some of the problems of this county Larry feels should be brought to everyone's attention. If elected, he will make sure that the second ward and its interests will be well represented on the Board of Supervisors.

1. Retention of the Drivers License Bureau in Charlevoix.
2. Reapportionment of the County Board of Supervisors to give the many taxpayers in the second ward at least an equal voice in county affairs.
3. Strengthen the Sheriff's Department in an effort to stem the fast rising crime rate in the county.
4. A better road sign system directing tourist traffic off the expressways to Charlevoix County's many recreational facilities.
5. A promotion and selling program that would inform industry and business of our many assets and growing economy and help bring more skilled labor and higher payrolls to our area and enable us to provide jobs for our young unskilled with an opportunity to advance.

Church Women Plan Shower To Aid Kitchen

Eighteen members attended the meeting of the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church at the home of Mrs. Darrell Dinwiddie.

Representatives of the four circles reported on circle activities. The group discussed a suggestion made by the Mary Burns Circle that the Fellowship sponsor a kitchen shower for the church kitchen. A list of needed items for the kitchen will be compiled, including a new coffee urn and additional cups and saucers. Mrs. Robert Lieberman, the kitchen custodian asked that anyone taking something from the church kitchen make a note of it on a pad provided in the kitchen for this purpose.

PERSONS WISHING to provide memorial flowers for the church altar should contact Mrs. Lester Smith.

Fruitcakes being sold by the fellowship are available from Mrs. P.D. Campbell.

"Thankoffering" boxes were distributed. Money to be collected from these boxes will be used for Christian World Missions.

Mrs. Charles Duerr gave the Devotions and Mrs. E.D. Hawley presented a program on "Stewardship" based on the book "Twelve Baskets Full" by Apple-garth.

Comment Fact Opinion

Second and Third Ward Voters Have Decision to Make Monday

CITY SECOND ward and third ward voters have a decision to make in Monday's (Feb. 15) primary election. The first ward, meanwhile, is without a contest. The at-large election for mayor is also uncontested, assuring Mayor E.D. Hawley of his fifth term.

As the most faithful observers of the city political scene, the Courier can unabashedly understand and give its support to citizens who did not feel it was necessary or in the city's best interest to challenge first ward incumbent Robert Neff or Mayor Hawley.

THAT TAXPAYERS feel Hawley and Neff are doing their job well enough so they need not be opposed in the primary came as no surprise to us. The fact that they are not challenged is clear indication to us that the majority of their Charlevoix constituents feel they are doing a good job. We concur.

When we said this last year at least one person told us they were cancelling their subscription to the Courier because we endorsed Hawley. So, now that those who disagree on this point have already censured us, we repeat our position without fear of further financial loss.

As readers of this page know, there are times when we disagree with both Hawley and Neff. And, we suspect, they must disagree with us even more often. But we have no qualms about their sincerity and qualifications for positions in City government.

Obviously there are citizens who question whether they are being ably represented by third ward Alderman Don Parsell and second ward Supervisor Harold Totten.

DEL TERRILL and Cass Russell are challenging Parsell's bid for re-election. Larry Wallace is opposing Totten.

Having spent more hours than anyone else in town during the last year watching the City Council in action, we cannot question Parsell's integrity as an alderman. If we can find any criticism of his performance it is that he certainly is not a leader on the council, and seldom seems to be greatly interested or completely informed on some issues. This, however, is commonplace for elected representatives who receive little pay and must spend long hours making a living.

Ellsworth Has Little Choice But to Ok School Millage . . . Then Seek Better Answer

ELLSWORTH COMMUNITY School District voters have an expensive question to answer when they go to the polls Wednesday (Feb. 17).

If parents vote for the Board of Education's requested 17 mills for thousand-dollars of property valuation. This year it was 26 mills. This is far and away the highest school tax rate in the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District. The next highest is Boyne Falls with 25.375 mills. Almost all others are less than 20 mills. Charlevoix's rate is 15 mills.

IF, ON THE OTHER hand, parents turn down the millage request, the cost will be even greater as they will be bankrupting their school district.

There is no doubting this. As sure as there is going to be more cold weather, Ellsworth cannot operate its school system if voters do not authorize the millage. It is that simple.

However, critics who charge that approval of the millage will not solve the school's problems, only keep them stumbling along for another few years, cannot be dismissed. Ellsworth, as even its top educators admit, is not giving its children the education some other area districts are. The 17 mills will not change this.

If voters reject the millage request they will only be destroying what the school system now has, not improving the situation.

THE COURIER, ALONG with most of

As to Parsell's opponents, Del Terrill and Cass Russell, our limited contact with Russell tells us he is a hard working, sincere young man who would try to do his best if elected. He enters the contest admittedly lacking in understanding of city government and its complex problems. Russell says he will learn after he is elected. And we believe him. But it hardly seems kosher to us to apply for a job when you know little about it. Let us hope he will do his homework in the next year or two and then re-apply.

Terrill, on the other hand, has long experience in politics and a practical understanding of local government. He has long taken an interest in these matters. Furthermore, Terrill is well known as a leader in activities he is concerned with. As a math teacher Terrill will have the ability to work with complicated city financial matters.

WHICH GET US to the contest for second ward supervisor. Here too, voters do not have a clear-cut choice.

Larry Wallace's experience is by no means as broad as Harold Totten's. He has, however, long been active in local political matters. And his dedication is second to none. Being in business in both Charlevoix and East Jordan and a resident of the second ward his interests are widespread and he can be relied on to represent the best interests of a large portion of the county.

Perhaps Wallace's strongest asset is that he does not represent the status quo on the Board of Supervisors. If elected, he will bring the voice of youthful vim and vigor to the board. This will, we would hope, attract more young people to the Board of Supervisors, which for years has been largely the domain of older men.

At present the city's three supervisors are so impotent their position can be completely neutralized by any one of several supervisors from other areas. We would like to see this changed as it seems absurd to see the majority of supervisors turned against the city's position by one supervisor representing only a few hundred people.

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE for Wallace to guarantee us that he will reverse this situation. The fact that he at least intends to try may, however, sway many voters to give him the chance.

the Ellsworth parents and educators we talk to, feels right now is the time to start seeking a more lasting and beneficial solution. We recommend that voters give the school the millage it wants, and then give it a mandate to come up with a more palatable answer before another millage vote is needed.

It is quite apparent the solution will have to be some kind of consolidation with another school district. This, obviously, is not a pleasant way to solve the problem. But it is in the best interest of Ellsworth children and financially is the only reasonable answer.

A citizens group should be formed to come up with a plan that will make consolidation as acceptable as possible.

But first the 17 mills must be approved.

We're Proud of Them!

IT ISN'T SO MUCH the cause that warms our hearts as it is the sight of the many people who turn out to unselfishly give of their time for such things as the March of Dimes.

Mrs. William Fochtman and her volunteers put in many long, and sometimes cold, hours that they could have spent leisurely sitting in front of the tv set in a warm living room.

WHAT INSPIRES these people is sometimes a mystery to us. But we never doubt that Charlevoix is better for it.

Charlevoix of Yesteryear

THIS LINE DRAWING of the Charlevoix Lumber Co.'s buildings and yards, complete with sailing ships and horse drawn wagons, is off a company statement dated Jan. 20, 1904, to Louis Sharrow. It has been kept over the years by Sharrow's son John, of Warren, who sent it to the Courier. The lumber company was formed in 1868, according to E.J. Hiller and named the Charlevoix Lumber Co. in 1891. Mr. Hiller joined the firm in 1907 and became president in 1923. The main building was destroyed by fire in 1930. The 1904 statement's heading reads, "Charlevoix Lumber Company; Hardwood, Hemlock, Pine Lumber; Shingles, Lath, Lash Doors, Building Paper."

OUR READERS WRITE

Dear Editor:

Totten Defends Bd. On License Bureau

DEAR EDITOR:

I agree with you in general on your editorial of Jan. 21 regarding the location of a driver license bureau at the county seat but I think you did not present a clear picture of the situation when you state, "The most difficult part of the whole issue to swallow is the fact that there is room available in the county building and yet the supervisors failed to take action to put it to use. Charlevoix supervisors, were among those who heard Rose (county sheriff) ask for space and they did nothing."

The matter of space was discussed by a number of supervisors between formal sessions and various suggestions were made.

I FEEL YOU should have specified the room available in view of the fact that you did not qualify that statement. This week I made a tour of the county building from the basement to the second floor, accompanied by the custodian to answer questions, and I did find a space large enough for the necessary camera and equipment—the boiler room. I question the acceptability of that location on the part of the public or the sheriff.

I am certain, however, that satisfactory space can be made available which will require a little time for planning along with a small outlay of the taxpayers money.

I have been informed that the statute requiring the picture of a driver be part of the driver's permit became effective last June with a year of grace to put the plan in operation. The board of supervisors, however, were over informed of the set-up and the operation until the January meeting of this year although they were in session for a week last October.

THE SHERIFF appeared before the board in January and briefly outlined the requirements—a room with a minimum of 100 square feet for camera and other equipment. I am advised this presentation was at the request of the sheriff committee, two members are city supervisors.

The sheriff told the board he did not have sufficient deputies to handle the extra work if one license bureau had to serve the whole county. He also had doubts about the revenue received by the county covering the cost of a full time employee in the bureau. He gave a "guesstimate" of the possible revenue but he was at as much of a loss as the supervisors about the cost of setting up and maintaining the bureau.

I believe the supervisors were justified in not buying a pig in the poke and delaying action until they had more information about the cost involved. For the benefit of our readers, the office of Secretary of State has been advised that the county will provide space for the bureau and indicated a desire to co-operate.

THE DRIVERS license bureau should definitely be operated by a county-wide law enforcement agency, which is the sheriff's department, and any deficits incurred should be borne by the county. I believe most supervisors will overlook special community interests and support a plan of operation which will best serve the interests of the county as a whole.

Those Who Benefit Most From Taxes Pay the Least

DEAR EDITOR:

We have just been assured by Mr. Zolton Ferency, Secretary of the Michigan Democratic Party, that the matter of "Fiscal Reform" would get scant attention from our lawmakers this year.

How anyone in his position can take such a callous and indifferent attitude to a situation of such importance to all citizens is beyond me. I cannot believe that all members of his party are as indifferent to their brother's welfare.

WE HEAR home owners, manufacturers, businessmen and farmers complaining of burdensome taxes. Of school officers begging for more and more money.

Of "distress areas" which are fast becoming slums partly because high taxes leave little or nothing for upkeep or improvements of property.

We know that advanced schooling is now a must for most kinds of employment, but we refuse to ask the people who have benefitted most to pay back to their local communities some part of the cost of those benefits.

THE "EDUCATED" and highly trained "worker" or "executive" with his higher pay is not even asked by the State of Michigan to "kick in" to pay for his many benefits at public expense unless he invests heavily in real estate or has a business.

Are we going to sit idly by while our cities and more populous counties enact income taxes on the rural people who work there while we provide them with police and fire protection, hospital service, and schools?

Governor Romney and too few others tried to get Tax Reform during the last session of the Legislature. We were content to sit back and "let George do it."

When will we learn that George can't do it alone?

When will we demand and work to get tax laws that "give a break" to corporations and individuals who provide jobs and payrolls for the people of our state?

When will we ask the people who have benefitted most from schooling to repay an amount commensurate with those benefits?

When will we quit taxing our senior citizens out of their homes?

Scanning the Magazines

Several articles of interest to Charlevoix people have appeared in magazines recently.

The "Lakeland Boating" magazine, published in Ann Arbor, carried the following piece on Medusa Portland Cement Co.'s plans for South Point.

CHARLEVOIX THE BEAUTIFUL

"Once called the Switzerland of North America, the area around Charlevoix is one of the top tourist attractions of Mid-America. The harbor itself is Round Lake, situated between Lake Michigan and Lake Charlevoix, and is regarded by sailors as a jewel in a region where beauty predominates. It is landlocked and a perfect natural harbor of refuge for boats of all types.

"Boaters and other habitués of the area will be shocked to learn that this fall the Medusa Portland Cement Company began the construction of a cement plant on South Point. Next to a dock that will stand 50' high and extend 1,400' into Lake Michigan, the company will build a rock-crushing plant, conveyors, kilns, and whatever else is necessary to make cement. The forests on South Point will be leveled, and the complex, it is reported, will work night and day. As one boater put it, "There go the beautiful sunsets of Charlevoix."

"Except for some protests by boaters, surprisingly little effort toward stopping the project originates with the residents of Charlevoix. Usually in a contest between beauty and the cashdrawer, beauty comes out a poor second best. But, if we are going to talk dollars, then how about the tourist dollars which are not incompatible with beauty?"

THE CHARLEVOIX County Building was featured in a picture on the cover of the January issue of the "Michigan Courthouse Review," published by the Michigan State Assn. of Supervisors in Mason.

A story about the history of former Charlevoix County buildings and the present building, opened in 1958, appeared on page 1 of the magazine, written by County Clerk F. R. Bulow.

The magazine also carried the following article on Eveline Township Supervisor William (Sandy) Sanderson.

"The dean of supervisors of Charlevoix County, William Sanderson, terminated his 38th year as Supervisor of Eveline Township when he attended the January meeting of the board.

"Mr. Sanderson is 82 years of age and settled in Eveline Township more than 50 years ago. He is credited with the early equalization of the county's tax rolls and establishment of the county's assessment and equalization department. Charlevoix County was one of the first of the smaller counties to institute such a department.

"THE MILITARY Engineer" magazine of November-December carried the following report on Great Lakes level variations.

"No cycle exists in the long-range fluctuations despite popular beliefs of '7-year' and '11-year' cycles. Historical records show that periods of low levels interspersed by periods of higher levels have occurred at irregular intervals since the records commenced. The most recent period of pronounced low levels occurred in the mid-1930's.

"Weather over the Great Lakes basin is the principal factor involved in long-range fluctuations of the lake levels. Recent low levels are attributable to deficient precipitation during the last three years as shown in Table II.

Some blame the current low levels on such man-made factors as dredging and diversions, and it is true that these factors have some effect. However, it is small in comparison with nature's effects.

"Seasonal fluctuations are the most predictable, with highs occurring in summer and lows in winter, and a normal range of 1 to 2 feet. Long-range fluctuations are of the greatest interest because of the low levels that are now occurring—after a general downward trend in the levels during the past three years.

"According to Lake Survey forecasts, the outlook is not optimistic. Continuing below-normal precipitation will cause the lakes to drop even lower.

NOT often in the story of mankind does a man arrive on earth who is both steel and velvet, who is as hard as rock and soft as drifting fog, who holds in his heart and mind the paradox of terrible storm and peace unspeakable and perfect. Here and there across centuries come reports of men alleged to have these contrasts. And the incomparable Abraham Lincoln... is an approach if not a perfect realization of this character.

During the 4 years he was President he at times, especially in the first 3 months, took to himself the powers of a dictator; he commanded the most powerful armies till then assembled in modern warfare; he enforced conscription of soldiers for the first time in American history; under imperative necessity he abolished the right of habeas corpus.

HIS WORDS at Gettysburg were sacred, yet strange: "We cannot consecrate-we cannot hallow—this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far beyond our poor power to add or detract."

He could have said "the brave Union men." Did he have a purpose in omitting the word "Union"? Did he mean to leave an implication that there were brave Union men and brave Confederate men, living and dead, who had struggled there?

Democracy? We cannot say exactly what it is, but he had it. In his blood and bones he carried it. In the breath of his speeches and writings it is there. Popular government? Republican institutions? Government where the people have the say-so, one way or another telling their elected leaders what they want? He had the idea. It is there in the lights and shadow of his personality, a mystery that can be lived but never fully spoken in words.

TODAY, we may say, perhaps, that the well-assured and most enduring memorial to Lincoln is invisibly there, today, tomorrow, and for a long time yet to come. It is there in the hearts of lovers of liberty, men and women—this country has always had them in crises—men and women who understand that wherever there is freedom there have been those who fought, toiled, and sacrificed for it.

Showdown Nears for Ellsworth Schools

By JERRY ALBRIGHT
Ellsworth School Supr.

Here it is just five days before the special school election, Feb. 17. Let's go back and try to clarify a few issues that still seem to be receiving a lot of attention.

First of all, who may vote in this election? Any person 21 years of age or over who has resided in Michigan for a period of 6 months and in the Ellsworth School District for 30 days preceding the election is entitled to vote. You do not have to be a property owner, nor do you have to be registered in order to vote. Any person fulfilling the above requirements may and should plan to cast his vote Feb. 17. The election will be held in the Kindergarten Room of the Ellsworth Community School and the polls will be open from 1 p.m. until 8 p.m.

WHAT ARE we voting for? We are voting for 17 mills for operation for the years 1965-66. This is to replace the 14 mills that expired last year. This will amount to an increase of three mills on your tax bills. A "yes" vote is a must if we are to keep the school operating on a sound financial basis.

Now let me attempt to clarify the loss in property valuation that I spoke about two weeks ago. It is true that the school district lost over $96,000 in valuation from 1963 to 1964. (However, this loss is only reflected in State Equalized Valuations.) This loss in valuation was not the fault of our supervisor or the Board of Supervisors, but it was the tax structure in Antrim County. We wrote the State Tax Commission about this matter and they responded with a letter and the figures for 1963 and 1964.

Let me present the figures that we received and see if this helps to clarify the issue. 1963: Banks Township -- County Equalized Valuation, $1,462,400; percent County Equalized, 8.52846; State Equalized Valuation, $2,773,933.

1964: Banks Township -- County Equalized Valuation, $1,463,000; percent County Equalized, 8.20380; State Equalized Valuation, $2,686,753.

As you can see the county equalized valuation of Banks Township increased by $600 from 1963 to 1964. But you will also notice that the State Equalized Valuation of Banks Township decreased by approximately $87,000 from 1963 to 1964. This is because the percent that Banks Township is of the total county valuation decreased from 8.52846% in 1963 to 8.20380% in 1964. This happened because the total county equalized valuation of the county increased by about $686,000 as compared with Banks Township which gained only $600. In other words, a township which gains approximately $325,000 in valuation (Kearney Township, where Shanty Creek is located) is going to represent a larger percentage of the county equalized valuation as compared to Banks Township which gained only $600 and consequently will represent a smaller percentage of the total county valuation. Banks Township is not growing at the same rate that Kearney Township is. This is actually the key to understanding our loss in valuation last year. If I have presented this in such a way that you can understand it, you have a basic knowledge of why our school Dis-

What Voters Say

The Courier's series of interviews with Ellsworth voters outlining their opinions on the Feb. 17 school millage issue concludes this week.

PBO I have always voted for operational millage whenever the public school asked for it and I will vote for it this time. I realize the need for additional money. One thing I can't see, every time the proposal strict suffered this past year.

I THINK this illustrates one very important point. The property valuations of counties, townships, and school districts are very complicated. If not impossible, to understand, it really takes an expert in this field to be able to explain the how's and why's of property valuation.

In closing I would like to remind you, the voters, that the Board of Education members are your elected representatives. They were put into office by your votes. In so doing, you have placed the responsibility for running the school in their hands. The decision to ask for 17 mills was reached only after the most careful deliberation. A "YES" vote on Feb. 17 will be a vote of confidence for your Board of Education.

Have any of you listened to these college students, while at home after their exams? They can really pour it on about their cramming and books, preparing for their test. Then each one ends up the conversation with, "If I had studied harder, listened to the instructors and made more of an effort while in High School some of my college classes could be easier." How many times have we told you so?

Ask Board for Increase

Teachers Cite Pay As Below Average

No matter how they look at it Charlevoix teachers see themselves working in a superior school system for sub-standard wages.

The teachers have asked the Board of Education to correct this.

TO SUPPORT their very politely worded request for salary increases, the teachers' Salary Committee has spent months putting together documented facts and statistics which prove they are among the lowest paid in the state.

This material shows that Charlevoix is a relatively wealthy school district, considering the amount of property valuation per student, but that while the district's wealth has been increasing teachers have lost ground on wages compared to others in the state.

Working through a county teachers salary committee, the faculty has asked the Board of Education to increase minimum starting pay from $4,500 to $5,000 and maximum pay with a masters degree and 12 or more years experience from $6,500 to $8,139.

TOP SALARY under the proposed new plan would be $8,381 for a teacher with a doctorate and 12 or more years experience.

Supt. Rex Milligan would not estimate how much it would cost the school district next year if the Board of Education adopted the teachers' request salary schedule.

Teachers' Salary Committee members Del Terrill and Robert Cook are careful to emphasize that they are not "demanding" but are "asking" the board to adopt the salary increases. The board has promised to study their request.

They point out that Charlevoix's operational millage tax levy is below the average. However, they do not make any suggestions as to how the school board should raise additional income to pay for requested salary increases.

THEY MAKE it clear that Charlevoix teachers are proud of their school system and feel the outstanding accomplishments of local students proves Charlevoix has a superior education program.

This, they say, has been accomplished with a comparatively low tax rate because teachers' salaries have been held below the average.

Charlevoix, they explain, is the wealthiest school district, except Alpena, in the northern Lower Peninsula, but the teachers' salaries are far below average.

Charlevoix's starting salary for teachers with a BA is in the bottom 7% of the state's school districts. The starting salary for teachers with a MA is in the bottom 4%. The top salary for a BA teacher is in the bottom 12% and the top for a MA teacher is in the lowest 9.6%.

THE STUDENT organization of the Michigan Education Assn. has adopted a policy that new teachers should not go to school districts paying less than a $5,000 starting salary, the teachers point out. Teacher graduates of Michigan State University, Central Michigan University, Western Michigan University, and Northern Michigan University took starting jobs at an average salary of $5,000 in 1964, the committee said. These schools supply most of Charlevoix's teachers.

Due to an influx of good paying industrial jobs into the area in the last five years, the teachers say, the cost of living has increased much faster than their salaries.

Using the MEA figure that teachers work an average of 47 hours a week, the committee points out the Charlevoix faculty is making less per hour than local building tradesmen.

MANY TEACHERS, they say, could not afford to raise their families or live in the community if they did not get summer jobs and evening jobs. This, they say, takes these jobs away from people who may have no other employment.

Taxpayers Not Told Who Paying $8,000

An $8,000 Charlevoix County tourist promotion and information brochure is expected to come off the presses next month.

James Porter, chairman of the County Planning Commission's Map Committee, reports the high quality four-color, 24 by 18 inch brochure will include a county road map and separate pictures and articles on the county's major vacation areas.

WALTER THORSEN, Planning Commission chairman, who is reported to be in charge of raising money to pay for the brochure, said he would not tell the Courier how much the brochures will cost, or who will pay what portion of it.

However, the Courier discovered that the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce has budgeted $1,000 as its share of the brochure. The County Board of Supervisors advertising committee has authorized spending $2,000 on the brochure.

Charlevoix Chamber manager Dean Davenport said he understood chambers at East Jordan and Boyne City are to pay the same amount as the local chamber, $1,000.

SECOND WARD Supervisor Harold Totten, a member of the County Advertising Committee, said he also understood each of the other two chambers are to pay $1,000. Thorsen, however, told the Courier he has no commitment from the East Jordan and Boyne City chambers on how much they will pay.

If each of the three chambers pay $1,000, plus the County's $2,000, only $5,000 of the brochure's total cost will be covered. This, according to figures confirmed by Totten and Porter that the brochure will cost approxi-

Clean Up Litter on Court Order

JAMES and John Bishaw clean up litter they dumped on Paddock Rd. south of Charlevoix last week. Making sure they do a thorough job is deputy Byron Stockwell. James, 18, of May St., and John, 21, of Ellisworth were fined $30 or 25 days in jail by Justice John Connolly, and ordered to clean up the trash they dumped beside the road. John spent one day in jail before paying his fine. Nels Johnson, 27, of State St. paid the same fine and cleaned up trash he dumped on Barnard Rd. last week. Jerry Drost and Gerald Johnson, whom the Sheriff's Dept. originally told the Courier were suspected of dumping the trash were found to be innocent.

Chamber's Membership Drops With 20% Failing to Rejoin

The Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, to date, has lost slightly more than 20% of its 1964 members.

A membership roster, released by Chamber manager Dean Davenport, reveals 41 of last year's members have not rejoined.

OFFSETTING the loss of 1964 members, slightly are 11 new members for 1965. Davenport said he is hoping more old and new members will join.

The Chamber launched its 1965 membership drive in mid-December of last year. It was billed as a three-day campaign.

Two months later the Chamber has 156 members, 11 of them new, and 145 renewals from last year. Last year total membership was 186.

New members, according to Davenport, are Dr. Walter Hoffmann, Dr. Robert Anderson, Dr. Robert Martin, Novak Insurance Agency, The Victorian, Garden's Guest Lodge, Vita Boy Potato Chips, Interiors of Charlevoix, Campfield's Music, Gilt's Appliance Shop and Shop of the Gulls.

IN SPITE OF the apparent loss of memberships, Davenport said he hopes the Chamber will raise the money to meet its proposed $16,669.92 budget for 1965. The City of Charlevoix pays $5,450 of the Chamber's budget.

Area businesses offering accommodations and meals for tourists have until tomorrow (Friday) to apply for a listing in the Chamber of Commerce's new housing brochure.

The brochure will list all motels, rooming houses, lodges, resorts, cabins, hotels, restaurants, etc., that apply.

Terrill in Upset Over Don Parsel

Charlevoix will have another Justice of the Peace and a new third ward councilmen due to votes cast in Monday's primary election.

Voters nominated Ira H. Olney to run unopposed for Justice of the Peace and Del Terrill defeated incumbent third ward Councilman Don Parsel.

Incumbent second ward Supervisor Harold Totten defeated challenger Larry Wallace 143-82.

Unless a write-in campaign develops to challenge Olney or Terrill they are assured of elected in the April 5 city general election.

Only 480 of the City's 1,739 registered voters cast ballots Monday. The unofficial vote by ward was 71 in the first ward, 225 in the second ward and 184 in the third ward.

Incumbent City Treasurer Annabelle Cunningham was the top vote getter with 424. She was followed by Clerk Hugh Mayne with 421 and Mayor E. D. Hawley with 403. They were unopposed.

Other incumbents who were re-nominated without opposition are:

FIRST WARD - Councilman Robert Neff, 67 votes; Supervisor Kil Carson, 68 votes. Second Ward - Councilman Robert Gill, 195 votes.

Third Ward - Supervisor Harry Gebeau, 151 votes. Olney beat John Wolf 107-63 votes. Both men were running for the vacant Justice of the Peace term which begins in July and ends in 1969.

Olney is vacationing in Florida and could not be contacted by the Courier.

JUSTICE OF the Peace John Connolly was not involved in the campaign because he holds another term.

Terrill, a Charlevoix High School teacher and coach, defeated incumbent Donald Parsel, 98-67. He also beat Luther Cassie Russell, who polled 19 votes.

CMU Will Probe Diet Of Alewife

Central Michigan University will send a student biologist to Beaver Island this summer in hopes of finding how alewives effect perch.

District fisheries biologist Stan Lieveense reports the Conservation Dept. has encouraged the university to make the study.

A CMU STUDENT biological team uncovered evidence last summer that alewives are direct competitors with perch for food. The importance of these findings were only recently revealed by Lieveense.

Lieveense feels that if the alewives in northern Lake Michigan are eating food required by perch that could explain the virtual disappearance of Charlevoix and Beaver Island's former perch runs.

However, before any definite conclusions are drawn the department must have information based on more extensive studies than were made last summer. It is hoped this summer's CMU project will provide this data.

City Council has called on the Conservation Dept. to begin a study to determine what has happened to the perch runs.

Winter Ball Tickets Going

Only about 50 tickets remain for Charlevoix's first Winter Sports Ball, Feb. 27 at the Argonne. Mrs. Donald White, chairman, reports.

The ball is being held to raise money for next year's winter sports carnival. Tickets are on sale from members of the Winter Sports Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and at the two banks. Live music will be provided from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. Tickets are $4 a couple.

BOB HUMPHRIES, Winter Sports Committee chairman, said news cameramen from the Cadillac station are expected to be on hand to film portions of the dance.

Auto Crash In the Works

A new wrinkle has been added to plans for the 1966 Charlevoix winter sports carnival.

Chairman Bob Humphries reports he and Ed Lindsay have worked out arrangements for a demolition derby on the ice of Lake Charlevoix.

SEVERAL OLD "junkie" cars—at least a half dozen—will "attack" each other in a skidding, crashing battle on the ice.

Humphries said the demolition derby will be perfectly safe as it will be conducted at relatively slow speeds and with high snow banks for a cushion.

The derby will follow the sports car races on the ice the weekend of Feb. 5-6, 1966. Lindsay is chairman of the sports car races and demolition derby.

on the Council after the April general election, unless he is opposed and unbeaten by a write-in candidate.

The second ward contest between Wallace and Totten appeared to generate the most election-day interest, in addition to generate the most election-day interest. In addition to newspaper advertising, the two candidates called house-to-house to solicit votes. Wallace also sent out letters to voters and put up signs.

AS IN MOST Charlevoix elections, there was considerable write-in voting, but none of it of a serious nature. Receiving write-in votes, but not enough to be nominated were: Connolly, for Justice of the Peace; Harold Lang and Robert Miller, for third ward constable; Ina (Mrs. William) Fochtman, for first ward supervisor; Charles Carey, for first ward councilman; Richard Fochtman and Robert Neff for first ward constable; James Willis, for Justice of the Peace; Frank Oleksy, for second ward constable; Ed Hansen, John Curtis and Howard Parsel for mayor; Lawrence Wallace and Ken Staley for second ward councilman.

Brochure

and Beaver Island, He did not know how much.

THE ROAD Commission, both Totten and Thorsen said, is expected to contribute to the brochure's cost.

Road Commission Secretary Ralph Hamilton said the commission has not, to his knowledge, agreed to contribute.

The brochure, Thorsen said, will replace the road maps distributed by the Road Commission this year.

Hamilton said the Road Commission paid about $1,100 for the maps and has distributed 7,000 of the 10,000 that were printed.

Porter said he expects to have all pictures and articles for the brochure ready for the printer this week. The brochure will be printed in Saginaw.

BETWEEN 100,000 and 150,000 of the brochures will be printed, Porter said this will be at least a year's supply.

Thorsen initiated plans for the county brochure last winter. At the time he urged the promotion of Charlevoix County, instead of the three separate communities of Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan.

Totten said the County Board of Supervisors has always distributed a county-wide brochure, though not as expensive as this one.

Band Parents Set Budget

George Hutchinson, president, officially took the reins of the Charlevoix Band Parents Assn. at its meeting last week.

Other new officers are Mrs. Ben Gill, vice president; Mrs. Gerald Lakies, secretary, and Judy Walker, U. of Michigan. Nursing career.

Ron Welslik, North Central Michigan College, Petoskey. Pre-Law.

Gary Zipp, Penn-Delco Construction Crew. ICS Welding School.

Mrs. Edith Stenman, treasurer.

IT WAS announced that $644.66 in profit was made at the fall band parents dinner. Eight-hundred persons were served. The association thanked Oleson's Food Store for donating meat for the dinner and Maxbauer's Creamery for donating the milk.

A tentative budget of $1,600 for the year was set.

The association set a band dinner and candy sale for spring to help meet its budget. The spring band dinner will be held April 1. The candy sale will be launched the same night.

The association has purchased new majorette hats, concert drums, four uniforms and ten trousers.

FUTURE BAND activities include the District Band Festival at Petoskey Feb. 27, the State Solo and Ensemble meet in Muskegon Mar. 20 and the April 14 spring concert.

Are you driving this vacation? If it is a long trip -- and expressway trips often are -- stop at the rest areas and take a good walk, the Michigan Heart Association suggests. Stimulating the circulation of blood is good for you.

Rayders Renew Rivalry With Red Devils Friday

With three games remaining on their regular schedule, the Charlevoix Rayders will take to the local hardwoods Friday against East Jordan in a league game and will host the Petoskey Northmen in a non-league match on Tuesday.

beat Grayling, 67-58, to remain tied for first place with Gaylord.

The Rayders will finish the season at Harbor Springs on Feb. 26.

THE RAYDER-Red Devil game will mark the renewal of one of the oldest rivalries on the Charlevoix schedule. Despite the fact that the Jordanians are in the second division with a four-win-eight loss record this could be a close game for the Red Devils have height, experience and the ability to upset any team on the loop which they proved when they knocked Gaylord off earlier in the season.

In the first game the Rayders came through with a 74-58 victory but the Red Devils gave them a good game before the locals posted the win. This week the Jordanians may cast themselves in the role of spotters; should they do this the Rayders, who are currently sharing the top spot in loop standings with the Gaylord Blue Devils, may find themselves battling to stay in the running for the title.

On Tuesday, they will host Petoskey in another series that dates back many years. Though this game has no bearing on the title, a win is almost a "must" for Charlevoix is to have a good season. Charlevoix came through with an 82-55 win during the holidays and will be out to duplicate the score next week.

Though Grayling had little to gain by stopping the Rayders in Friday's game, the Vikings gave the local quintet a good game as they overcame a 16-12 first quarter deficit to go ahead 24-23 at halftime after outscoring the Rayders 12-7.

AS THE SECOND half got underway, however, the Rayders found the range and, behind the scoring of Del Terrill who poured in six buckets, the Rayders came back to outscore the Vikings 24-15 for a 47-39 lead going into the final period.

Terrill continued to score for a total of 23 points for the game as the Rayders came through with a 67-58 win to remain in a first place tie with the Blue Devils who dumped Mancelona 74-56.

Dave Norton contributed 18 points and Doug Winnell 13 for the Rayders.

Walt Neilson had 20 and Pat Thompson 18 for Grayling.

Dear Dick: My husband, a doctor, treats the strangest cases. One of his lady patients got a toe stuck in the bath tub drain and he spent two and half hours at her home dressing her toe, giving sedatives, etc. (HE says). There are hundreds more of these similar incidents that make me, NAUSEATED.

DEAR NAUSEATED: Maybe your husband's patients should suck to shower baths. A doctor does have to treat unusual cases, but your hubby seems a little over-attentive. Lancers Must be on Toes Against Bellaire Squad

By ROY STAUDENMEYER

ELLSWORTH -- True blue fans, that is what the Ellsworth spectators were Friday night when the Lancers crept to Rapid City. The snow was blowing, the road was slippery and the cars looked like they were dancing with the wind. Everyone got there and back home safe and sound.

Lancer fans made up the largest part of the spectators as Ellsworth beat Rapid City, 85-39. The crowd saw the Lancers hold Atkinson to 13 points.

Harborite Hits 40 Points to Tounce Jordan

While Charlevoix was battling Grayling to retain its first place standing and remain in the title race, Gaylord was defeating Mancelona 74-56; Pellston was dumping Boyne City 78-44 and East Jordan was falling victim to Harbor Springs by a score of 81-58.

In the game that saw the Jordanians outplayed on every front, Harbor Springs increased their slim 15-15 first quarter lead to 48-31 at halftime and 64-42 going into the final period as Dave Winegard set a new individual scoring record for the season by tallying 40 points on 16 field goals and 8 of 8 free throw attempts. He was followed by George Lauer with 15 and Bob Tippett with 10. FRED MALPASS had 15, Tom Drenth 12 and Jim Chihak 11 for the Jordanians. This week will find Gaylord hosting Boyne City in what should be an easy victory; Harbor Springs traveling to Grayling for a game that will find the Rams out to protect their second place standing and Pellston at Mancelona for a game that could be the closest of the night.

Chet Boss moved fast and rolled in 31 points, he missed the third quarter and only played four minutes of the fourth quarter. Gary Torga would rebound and throw a quick pass to Chet and his sticky fingers would pull it in for the race to the basket.

Mary Ruls showed the fans what he is capable of. Walt Kooyer was off and needs to be sharper against the Bellaire Eagles this Friday. Carl Goeman and Larry Torga were working hard. Carl recovered ten consecutive rebounds. All of the Lancers chalked up playing time against the Bobcats.

The big question is can the Lancers stop Jerry Ash and company at Bellaire Friday. In the last game between the two teams Ellsworth had a lead and then bogged down. The Lancers defense has to be on their toes and make changes in their defense quickly.

Don Smith, coach of the Eagles, plays the breaks and percentages of the game, where Coach Bob Danforth plays cautiously.

Bellaire has but one gain, to win and tie for first place in the conference. Ellsworth has the ability to win, player for player, the Lancers rate three players above the Eagles quintet. The Eagles first man on the bench is classed better than the sixth man on the Lancers team. The Lancers can win but not without spirit.

Tuesday, Feb. 23, Ellsworth fans and players will pack-a-snack and hit the road for McBain. A tough game for the Lancers. McBain is on top of the heap down there and has been getting stronger every game. They have had more competition than the Lancers, so it should be an interesting game.

The last game of the conference is scheduled for Friday, Feb. 26, at Alba, and the fans are limited to a small gym. Ellsworth will be saying

Ellsworth Wins 85-39

By Susi Petter

ELLSWORTH -- The Lancers traveled to Rapid City last Friday night to take on the Bobcats.

The game got off to a slow start, with heavy shooting but very little scoring. The Lancers outranked the Bobcats and held a lead of 17-7 at the end of the quarter.

THROUGHOUT the second quarter the Lancers maintained control of the game, outscoring their opponents 28-11 and leading at halftime 45-18.

Many substitutions were made as the third quarter progressed and the Lancers continued to lengthen their lead. Once again, the Lancers did a large majority of the scoring, to give them a 63-27 lead going into the final period.

As the final quarter ended, the Lancers had widened the margin and dumped the Bobcats by a score of 85-39.

JV's Forced Into Overtime

After a close game that went into an overtime after the regulation game had ended 52-11, the Charlevoix Reserves came through with a 57-52 victory over Grayling Friday night.

The young Rayders managed a 14-13 first quarter lead and as the second period opened they pulled away for a slight lead only to have the young Vikings come back to match their scoring as the half ended 26-25.

As the second half got underway, Charlevoix was successful in picking up one point for a 40-38 advantage going into the final period when they were outscored 14-12 as Grayling knotted the score at the final whistle.

In the overtime, Steve Smith who had a total of 23 points for the game, came through with a bucket; Chris Wood added two and Tom Webb one from the free throw line for the winning margin.

Bernie Ward with 13 points was the only other Rayder to hit in double figures.

Chamber Asks Members to Use Decals

Chamber of Commerce Manager Dean Davenport has asked that all Chamber members display their 1965 decal.

This way the people know who is supporting their community," Davenport said.

The approximately five-inch by five-inch gold, orange and blue decal is meant for display in shop windows. Current members will have the year, 1965, above their regular membership decal.

DAVENPORT SAID the membership drive is nearing its conclusion. He predicted the Chamber will have as many, or possibly more, members in 1965 as it did in 1964.

He urged committee chairmen to assume more responsibility for getting their groups working.

The chairmen, he said, are responsible for their activities and programs. The Chamber will coordinate their efforts, and provide what assistance it can.

Davenport also said the Chamber office has a wealth of resource material that the public, and students, are welcome to use.

Work Starts On Venetian Book

The 1965 Venetian Festival souvenir program will have little resemblance to the first one published in 1964.

Harold Totten, chairman of the program committee, reports the 1965 edition will be pocket size (5 1/2 by 8 1/2 inches) and will be distributed free.

THE FIRST program measured 8 by 11 inches, it sold for 50¢.

Totten said the 1965 program will include several new articles and pictures and an improved cover.

Bill Carey was named chairman of a committee to get articles written. Also on the committee are Mrs. Art Woxstaff and Mrs. William Rattigan.

Bob Miles is chairman of the committee to select pictures. Serving with him are James Gallagher and Rev. Harold Kohn.

Industries of Hoskins Caliber Make Our Town A Better Place

CHARLEVOIX HAS been relatively fortunate in the caliber of industry that it has attracted. This was borne out again last week when Hoskins Mfg. distributed $40,000 in profit sharing benefits to its approximately 45 employees at the Charlevoix plant.

In northern Michigan's great lust for industrial jobs, many communities have not fared nearly so well as Charlevoix. Some areas have even been downgraded by the poor employee relations and hourly wages paid by their industries.

THAT CHARLEVOIXIANS can boast of such fine firms as Hoskins, American Mold, Will Flow, Paul Reed and others did not happen by chance.

As Hoskins President William H. Brown told the Courier last week: "We located here because we like the attitude of the people."

From this we deduce that Brown felt Charlevoix people are a fair minded bunch who would do everything possible to help an industrial firm as long as the firm treated them with respect and fairness.

It should also be pointed out that before community leaders put the welcome mat out for Hoskins they checked to see that it is the kind of firm we want in Charlevoix. Mr. Brown liked the attitude of Charlevoixians. And they, obviously, liked his attitude.

THAT COMMUNITY leaders would be selective and discreet before inviting an industrialist to set up shop here might seem out of line to some. But this is a gravely important function.

There are firms that bring such low pay scales, poor working conditions and seasonal ups and downs to a community that eventually they infest the town with shabbiness. This has happened in other communities.

When it does happen attractive industrial firms, like Hoskins, shun the community. They realize the labor climate is not healthy and do not want troubles brought on by another to infiltrate their plant.

Council Kept Faith With Dream In Rejecting Lake Chair Lift Plans

CHARLEVOIX Councilmen kept faith with almost ageless dream of many of our town's most ardent lovers last week when they refused to be tempted by proposals to build a chair lift over the west shoreline of Round Lake.

Promoters had asked for permission to erect the chair ride to give visitors an elevated view of Round Lake and a portion of Lake Charlevoix. We do not indict them for their idea. Frank M. Smith of Birmingham and Bill Dajnowicz were, we feel sure, convinced their plan would be a major contribution to Charlevoix's economy and reputation as a beauty spot.

HOWEVER, THEY were not aware, or did not understand, the lingering passion many Charlevoixians hold for seeing the day when the entire west shore of the lake will be virtually barren of man-made structures. For this they cannot be blamed.

It is even justifiable to thank Smith and Dajnowicz for paying Charlevoix the compliment of recognizing the unsurpassed beauty of our scenic Round Lake splendor.

The day appears to be nearing when buildings on the east side of Bridge St. along Round Lake will disappear. It may take a couple more years. But more and more the incentive and desire is there.

Coast Guard Part of Heritage

BEING SOMEWHAT securely isolated from the pretentious furor of the big cities, we sometimes tend to forget just how much Charlevoix has contributed to the Great Lakes and how far reaching is our town's environment.

We were reminded of this when we received the announcement that former Charlevoixian and Charlevoix High School graduate Adm. Willard Smith will soon take command of all Coast Guard activity on the Great Lakes.

By having a stable, even content, industrial and employee relations climate Charlevoix appeals to other firms looking for northern Michigan sites. We suspect there will be an announcement in the near future that another company has selected us for its new plant, at least partially for these reasons.

There are benefits other than those of a pure economic nature from having companies like Hoskins move to town. One of the biggest in the case of Hoskins is John Lachman, plant manager.

Lachman, a small-town boy with an addiction for fishing, left his Pennsylvania home to migrate to the big city, where he learned his trade. Then came the chance to move to Charlevoix to manage a new, and rather speculative, venture. He took it.

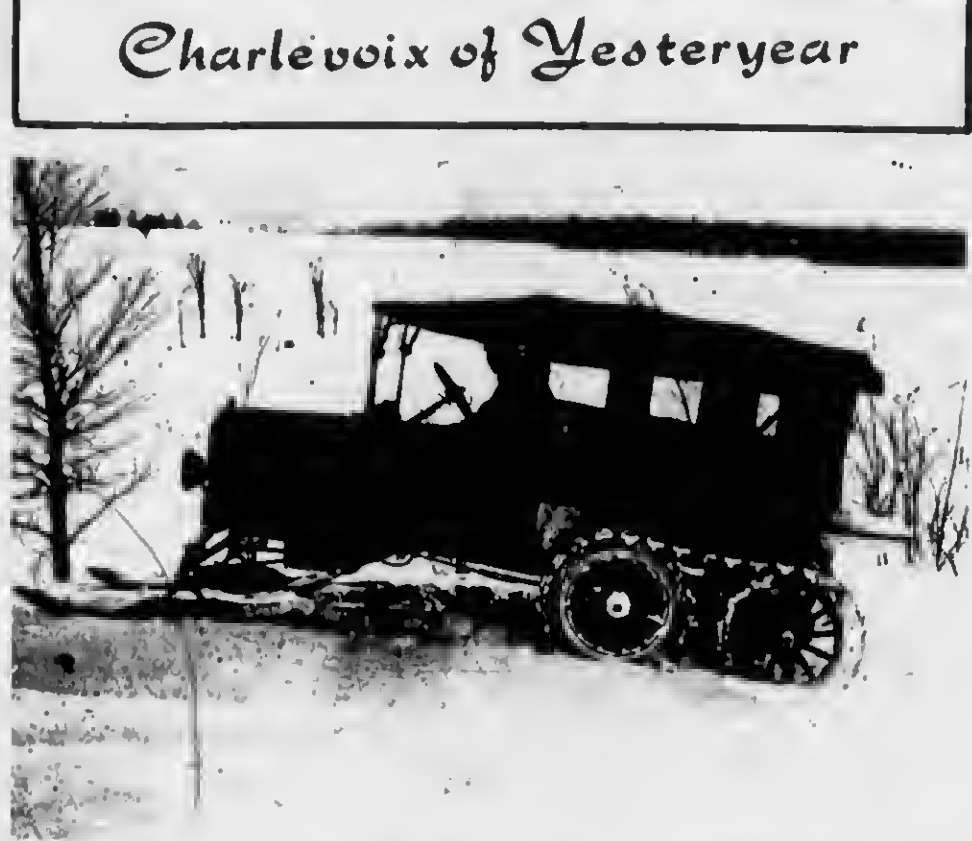

WE DON'T MEAN to infer that Hoskins was out on a limb gambling when it set up shop in Charlevoix. But anything new is always a gamble of sorts. It is something of the measure of Lachman that he was willing to risk his future security on making this gamble pay off.

Years in the Marine Corps and industry had tempered Lachman for the challenge. We cannot, of course, speak for Lachman's boss, Mr. Brown, but we suspect his confidence in Lachman has been repaid.

It has also borne rewards for Charlevoix. Lachman has been a leader in such activities as the Community Chest and Boy Scouts. He has also enriched a few of our hours as a fishing companion. It will endeavor him to many other Charlevoixians to know that Lachman keeps a golf club in the corner of his office so that when the time allows, or the tension demands, he can practice his swing or grip.

LOUIS SHARROW'S HOMEMADE 1920 STYLE SNOWMOBILE

Snowmobiles might appear to some to be a new innovation.

The picture above taken in the 1920's of mailman Louis Sharrow's homemade snowmobile proves, however, that the idea isn't new. The pictures come from Mr. Sharrow's son, John, of Warren, Mich. Sharrow used the machine to deliver mail to patrons on R-3, north of town. How many years he and the early snowmobile delivered the mail is uncertain. Sharrow died in December 1931, while still a postal employee.

That Sharrow's determination and ingenuity to get the mail delivered in all kinds of weather was appreciated by his patrons is evident by the following poem written by a R-3 resident and contributed to the Courier by his daughter Mrs. Curtis Dixon of Charlevoix.

THE MAIL MAN
Here's to Louie Sharrow of route number three,
The most looked for man
On this side of the sea.
From early morn
Until he arrives
We listen for the bells
And strain our eyes,
There's always a smile
On his pleasant face;
Many of us wouldn't
Were we in his place.

Through rain and snow
When the North wind blows
He's always on the job.
Through snow sunshine and rain
It's always the same,
You'll always see him come and go,
They picked out the back roads
As far as they could see
And gave it for his name
Route number three
In summer sand
But his car is a LIZZY.
And the way he goes through it Would make you dizzy.
Uncle Sam without Woodrow
Would be mighty small,
But without our mail man
I'd be nothing at all
He knows every hump
For many a mile
For on Route Number Three
They are right in style,
One winter day
King winter raged wild,
With fury to great
For man, beast or child,
Did he stay at home 'you say
He walked and pulled the mail
On a little hand sleigh,
They found the right man
To bring us our mail:
What's that? Not much
He's not for sale.

Dear Editor:

Senator Answers Bingo Petitions

DEAR EDITOR:

Recently I was presented with petitions bearing the signatures of 382 persons in support of legislation to legalize Bingo in Michigan. May I, by means of your letters to the Editor column, comment briefly on the subject for the benefit of your readers?

Section 41 of Article IV of the Constitution specifically states that: "The Legislature shall not authorize any lottery nor permit the sale of lottery tickets."

I am informed that the Michigan Supreme Court has interpreted this language to include Bingo.

THERE ARE, then, two courses of action open to those who advocate legalized Bingo, namely, (1) To seek a reversal of the action of the Court; or (2) to amend the Constitution.

If the former procedure is followed, one would have to invite prosecution and be prepared to carry the case through the Supreme Court.

Where Constitutional Amendment is concerned, there are two separate avenues. One of these is for the Legislature to place the question on the ballot. Inasmuch as this action will require approval by two-thirds of the members-elect of each House, I seriously doubt whether this can be done. Even then, eventually, a majority of the electors voting on the question must approve the amendment.

The other procedure is by means of Initiative petition, which requires the signatures of registered electors totaling at least 10% of the votes cast for Governor in the last general election. If sufficient signatures are obtained, the question then will be placed on the ballot for approval or rejection of the voters.

CLEARLY, THEN, legalized Bingo can be brought about only by means of widespread public support, which apparently did not exist as late as 1963, when the people of Michigan adopted the new Constitution.

With all good wishes, I am

SINCERELY,
THOMAS F. SCHWEIGERT

Sparkling the Wineries

Following is a condensed version of an article from the February issue of "Fur Fish and Game" written by John B. Gleason and titled "Boss on the Rocks".

I FIRST found out about this new cocktail last summer while attending a writer's convention on Beaver Island in the center of Lake Michigan. I was told this was one of the few places where one can find all the ingredients necessary for this potent mixture.

The after-effects of a weekend of "Boss On The Rocks" may leave one short of breath, weak of heart, with a marked tendency to mutter incoherently. The best remedy I've found is a return bout done in moderation, with the addition of a stout fishing rod (for mixing) and a goodly selection of bass lures (for those who like to switch).

After mixing all these together, you come up with the damnest bass fishing you've ever seen.

My bass fishing escapades include such places as Florida, Missouri, Oklahoma, Michigan, Minnesota, and a few Canadian provinces thrown in for good measure. Nowhere—and I do mean nowhere—have I ever gotten as full of bass fishing as I did in this Lake Michigan hide-away.

Let me say first that these bass are smallmouth. In this location are rocks from pea size to house size. Millions of rock bars, ledges and shoals offer lodging for the great hordes of smallmouth, who call Lake Michigan their "home lake". Even with this tremendous outcropping of stone there aren't enough to hide all the bass looking for a new housing project. Nor are there enough fishermen to dent this concentration.

From late June until mid-August this untapped fishing bonanza is stupendous. I use the word "untapped" mainly because in two weekends of fishing I saw exactly two other boats holding fishermen. And this was at the peak of the fishing.

I'd arranged to fly to Beaver from Charlevoix, Michigan after work on Friday afternoon. My contacts for the intended outing were of the finest quality. Erwin Martin, a commercial fisherman's son who runs the telephone service on Beaver, and Archie LaFreniere, Mr. Beaver Island, Archie runs a drinking emporium on the island.

An avid fisherman, Mr. C.A. Carlisle, took care of towing our fishing boat to Hog the following morning. By the time we reached the island it was 10:30 A.M. Hastily dumping the gear on shore, we managed to get fishing about an hour later. Fishing was good, not outstanding. As the day wore on, Bernie was beginning to look sideways wondering, "I'm sure, if I'd sold him another 'bill of goods'."

Bernie and I climbed into waders while Erwin cussed the fact he'd left his at home. Wading would be much easier than trying to hold a boat in the rough water.

Four cranks of the reel and I had a strike that almost separated me from my rod. The jolt snapped the rod tip under water before I realized what had happened. Right then my luck changed; Recovering quickly, I slammed the hooks home. A smallmouth rocketed out, clawing for altitude. The spial of his re-entry brought a shout from my partner, who was also tied to the business end of a fighter's mad bass.

The fish tore off line despite the stiff drag. Just for good measure I set the hooks again. I'd lost too many small mouths by not adding one for good luck. Out he came again making spray fly in all directions. He put up a fine fight for a spell, with neither contestant giving an inch. As the rod pressure began to take over, he wallowed on the surface, zipping his head from side to side trying to dislodge the hook. Every time I'd get him coming my way he'd do a quick ninety degree turn heading for the rocks. By the time I had him "whipped" my wrist ached like a sore tooth.

Finally I got within seeing distance. He was a beauty. At least five pounds, I guessed, easing him towards my waiting hands. A final surface flurry, then my fingers clamped over his gills.

I dug out the hook, took one more look, then slipped him in the water. My second cast connected as did the third and fourth. Each time they were smashed with a vengeance. I missed with number five but connected again on six and seven. From then on I shudder to think the number of bass we caught. I know we hooked and released a good forty smallmouth. It was seldom we didn't hook a fish on every cast. It's the first time I ever remember fishing with both hands. I'd hook them with my left, then play them with my right to ease the numbness in my wrists. Erwin filled us in on the merits of life on the Emerald Isle. Here, a handful of fishermen and women and children live as the rest of the world roars by. Only in the summer do things pick up on their island home. After this influx of new green, they settle back to await the handful of hunters who come seeking deer, grouse, and snowshoe rabbits.

The island sports a deer herd of ten thousand. These are packed into fifty-four square miles. Needless to say, the take is excellent. Only limited accommodations cut down on the participants. The Game Club, made up of local sportsmen, have planted wild turkeys on Beaver, and things look bright for their eventual harvest. Grouse shooting here and on Garden Island, some six miles distant, is the finest in Michigan. Snowshoe rabbits are coming close to becoming a nuisance. When I was there, the local boys were crying for help in harvesting these big-eared swamp stompers.

During two weekends, I never ran into fishermen where I wanted to fish. Hundreds of ideal campsites are available on the shores of these islands. Of course, there are no facilities, other than on Beaver. But there is nature as beautiful and as raw as anyone could desire. Sand beaches, stands of beautiful pine and birch, plus thousands of bays and nooks for those on an exploring kick. Cool Lake Michigan breezes held the insect population to a minimum while making sleeping, after a hard day of battling smallmouth, a welcome respite.

Million dollar sunsets flood the area making one forget the hustle and bustle of everyday life. The people are friendly and helpful, wishing only to make your stay one you'll long remember.

WITH ROY

Starting the week of February 15th the schedule is heavy and yet how can I write about it? There will be excitement, each day of the week. Some people will have determination, others will show their true colors and a few may not even care what takes place in the community. Village officials will be nominated, but by whom? The Public School PTA will have a meeting, how many will attend? The attendance has been poor for the last several meetings. Then the non-supporters are barking, "We want to keep the school in Ellsworth." The voting Wednesday was serious business. The taxpayer will become a sucker, or proud or regretful. Whatever the outcome, Ellsworth will continue to exist. The beginning of the week's activities and seriousness will all be forgotten Friday night, when the important basketball game will be played. Harmony will reign amongst the Ellsworth fans, and the divided line, is Ellsworth against Bel- laire. A "Friend" gave me this quotation: Any time you discover that neither your enemies nor your friends are saying unkind things about you, you have reason to be alarmed; You may be dead and not know it. This last week I received as a gift a four track electric tape recorder. The new machine was a complete surprise, to me and my wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lehrs were very thoughtful and sincere and God bless them both. Morwell Steel is letting me use a transistor recorder, which is attached to our telephone and I am able to tape messages. Thanks again, to these our friends.

There are people who hate snow, but what did you think about the ninth? Some folks, especially a few women had a sizzling miserable time getting home that evening. The Ellsworth Safety Meeting scheduled for April 23 will have a Queen. The Ellsworth Safety committee has three candidates thus far. The chairman of the committee, Levi Donaldson, is planning an interesting program. Sgt. Donner of Traverse City State Police says, "We are looking forward to Ellsworth's Safety meeting the largest annual safety meeting north of Lansing." Comenow! We of Banks Township, think this is the largest in the state.

CG Auxiliary Meeting Weekly

The Charlevoix Coast Guard Auxiliary Flotilla will be ready to operate early this spring. Lt. Cmdr. Charles Millard reports. According to Millard 16-20 local boaters have been attending Flotilla meetings every Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. m. in the Coast Guard Station. They are taking courses to qualify as Flotilla members. Others are welcome.

Farmers Urged To Get Share

Charlevoix County farmers are being encouraged to take part in the 1965 Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP). The County ASCS office reports $23,178 has been allocated by the Federal Govt. for ACP projects in the county this year. "YOU CAN'T afford to overlook this program," an ASCS bulletin tells farmers.

FIFTH AND SIXTH GRADES The fifth and sixth graders went to the Shrine Circus in Grand Rapids. They were accompanied by two Shriners, Mr. Guy McPherson and Mr. Dan Triplett; three mothers, Mrs. Arthur Carpenter, Mrs. Earl Denny, Mrs. Jake Torn- ra and their teacher, Mrs. Ruls and bus driver Levi Don- aldson. It was a long tiring ride but all thought the circus was worth it. They all wrote stories about the trip and the class chose the following ones for the paper.

By Danny Strange Sixth Grade "We fifth and sixth graders started out Monday morning at 7:30 from the school. We went to Bellaire first; because we thought we had to get some kids, so we stayed there for about 15 minutes. When Mrs. Ruls came back from their school, she said none of them were coming with us, so we went on. When we got on the way down, we ate our sack lunch.

When we got there, we had to wait a while and then we went inside. It was a very big place. We got our seats and saw some clowns. Then we saw Mrs. Romney, who spoke for a few minutes. Next, a man came out with a whip, stick and a gun and went into the cage. Some lions and tigers came out and he made them do different tricks.

The next act was a trapeze act which I really liked. Then there were trained chimpanzees, elephants, horses, poodles and bears. The last thing was a high wire act that was the best one of all, I think. When it was all done, we started home. We stopped at Bower's Restaurant in Big Rapids for supper. They had a special room for us. We got home at 10:30. The circus, my brother Greg had bought a Chameleon. On the bus on the way home, we took it out of its container and it got away. We looked and looked but could not find it. My brother Shooks had bought one so he gave it to us. We named it "Chameleon."

BY SHEILA FARRELL FIFTH GRADE I liked the circus very much. The show opened by David Hoover with his lions and tigers. The girl, Milikova, did her act on a high wire. There were horses and dogs and chimpanzees. Betty Peterson did an act under the chandelier. Karen Nyce balanced on her index finger. There were clowns too. There were aerial performers and elephants doing the twist, and acts on the trapeze and other exciting events.

BY JUDY FRISKE SIXTH GRADE I liked the tight rope act best because it was daring. Milikova was the one who acted it out. First she walked across it and then she ran. Next she put something like baskets on her feet and walked across. Then she took a sack-like thing and put it over her so she couldn't see and walked across. Then she got on a bike with no handlebars and drove across. Next is the most exciting one when she rode to the middle of the rope on a chair-like ladder and climbed up. Then she stood up. All the time she acted she had a long pipe or bar in her hands. She did not have a net under her. SOPHOMORES After a long wait, our frogs and dissecting pans came so for the next week, we will be busy cutting up frogs. Later on in the year, we plan on dissecting a cat. Our pet project, Jimmy Rabbit, is having more trouble with his teeth so Carolyn Denny is going to bring him back in and he will have another operation.

SENIORS Chet Boss and Nancy Peebles are going down to Lansing February 19 and 20 to take scholarship tests. We wish them both lots of luck.

The hootenanny turned out very successful and everyone there had a good time. We appreciate everyone's time and effort put into it. Joyce Canpu, Diane Vander Ark and Janice Evans are three Senior candidates for Safety Queen. Congratulations. John Hastings, our class president is taking care of the town's skating rink. He's doing a real good job, but lately the weather hasn't been helping him any.

Forest fire destroys every-

Ash Wednesday is Start of Lent in Christian Churches

By Rev. ALEXANDER WOOD
Vicar, Christ Episcopal Church

Ash Wednesday (Mar. 3) as a Christian observance has its origin in the custom of blessing ashes made from burning the palms distributed on the Palm Sunday of the preceding year. Those who kneel before the officiating minister were signed on their foreheads with a cross of ashes. As the minister dipped his finger into the ashes of the palms and made the cross on each person's forehead he used the words, "Remember, man, that thou art dust, and unto dust shalt thou return".

Ash Wednesday ushers in one of the important seasons in the church year—Lent. In the early church Lent was used as the principal time for the preparing of the Catechumens (candidates) for Baptism. Public shows were more or less strictly forbidden, and works of charity were engaged in all by who could undertake them.

IT WAS A TIME when sinners were called upon to do outward penance as a sign of inward penitence, that they might be received back into Communion at Easter. Lent was a season of humiliation of self, abstinence from pleasure, fasting, prayer, penitence, and general depression of joy and feasting on account of sin. It was marked on every side with the sombre tokens of mourning.

In our modern observance of Lent, the pendulum has swung from its early church severity to the other extreme of considerable laxity and non-observance. Yet the apparent indifference and laxness in keeping Lent does not change the real meaning and intent of the season, and its value in our lives as preparation for Easter.

As a Christian I like to think of Lent as an athletic would think of a special Spring training period prior to an athletic contest. In his special training an athlete knows he must undergo more than the usual exercise, to strengthen muscles, and to have himself in top notch form and readiness, it takes a "plus effort" to reach this peak of readiness.

So, too, in the Christian observance of Lent, our Lord calls us, as He did Himself, to come apart from our worldly cares, burdens, anxieties and frustrations, and seek in Him the spiritual strength needed to meet the tempter of our day. This means the plus effort of special training—fasting, attendance at the special services of the church, daily Bible reading, family devotion, grace at meals, and the increase and deepening of our prayer life.

BESIDES THESE specific spiritual exercises, Lent provides an excellent time to check upon our spiritual armor—an examination of ourselves as to our loyalty and devotion to Jesus Christ, to the church, and to our fellowmen.

In this self examination the Ten Commandments and our Lord's Summary of the Law serve as excellent guides. By these standards all of us must realize that our human weakness and frailty makes of us sinners. Lent gives us a special time to turn to Him in penitence, fasting, prayer, reading of God's Word, worship and discipline that we may make ourselves ready to share with Him in the great Easter triumph of His Resurrection.

Lent is the bugle call challenging every Christian to take intensified spiritual training—to come apart from the materialism of the world—to be strengthened by the power and grace of God to follow more closely the way of His Son, Jesus Christ our Lord.

Medals Awarded to 3 Coast Guardsmen

City Expenses

Top G-F Income

The City of Charlevoix will spend an estimated $61,000 more from the general fund during the current fiscal year than it takes in, City Councilmen were told Monday. The fiscal year ends Sunday, Feb. 28.

Mayor E. D. Hawley said the general fund deficit was estimated by auditor Darrell Dinwiddie and City Supt. James Taylor.

ON HAWLEY'S recommendation, and Dr. Walter Hoffmann's motion, Council approved transferring $61,000 from the electric fund reserve and current year profits to cover the general fund balance. This means the City will not have an actual cash deficit.

Councilman William Fochtman voted against the transfer. All others voted for it.

Weather

Northern Michigan has been living up to its least desirable reputation this week. It's been cold. Terribly cold.

Since Friday evening the temperature has stubbornly lingered around the zero mark. Adding misery to misery has been a high northwest wind that drove the cold right through the warmest down clothing.

As the Courier goes to press the thermometer indicates a warm spell is on the way. The wind has fallen and the needle reads 10 degrees above.

OH, CAN YOU SEE IT—The fascinated interest of her two sisters, Terese, 7, left, and Tami, 8, as they watch a squirrel eating in the backyard was captured on film by Toni Armstrong, an Ellsworth High School junior. The children are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Armstrong of Ellsworth.

Ellsworth Voters Give Nod to Tax Hike to 30 Mills

ELLSWORTH -- A complete primary and secondary public school system will continue to operate here for at least another two years.

Ellsworth Community School District voters last week approved levying 30 mills this and next year to keep the school system running.

SPECIFICALLY, voters authorized the Board of Education to continue levying 14 mills that expired last year and adding another three mills to it for school operation. Added to this 17 mills approved at the polls will be five mills for debt retirement and the eight mills allocated by Antrim County. Making the total school levy for 1965 30 mills.

Last year's levy was 26 mills. (Charlevoix's school tax rate is 14.4 mills.)

The millage increase was approved by 177 voters and opposed by 145. A total of 323 persons voted. One ballot was spoiled.

Shopping for a good used car? If so the place to start looking is page 7 of this week's Courier. Chances are the car you want, at your price, will be found there.

Charlevoix auto dealers have joined forces to tell shoppers of the many good buys available on their used car lots. Committee Says Will Fight

Showdown Approaches On Medusa Dock Plan

The day of decision on whether Medusa Portland Cement Co. will build on South Point or, perhaps, abandon Charlevoix is nearing.

The cement company has re-applied for permission to construct its conveyor bridge and dock into Lake Michigan off the west side of South Point.

IF IT GETS the go-ahead on the dock chances are it will begin building it and a cement plant in the spring of 1966, a company spokesman said.

Objections to the dock plan will be reviewed by the Corps of Engineers before granting or denying approval. Protests must be received, in written form, by the Corps at its Detroit office no later than Mar. 18.

Frances Martin, chairman of the Keep Charlevoix Beautiful Committee, reports her group will fight the dock plan in every way possible.

Worth Loomis, Medusa vice president of administration, told the Courier Monday from his Cleveland, O., office that the new application is sought because the original dock plan has been changed slightly.

The Corps last April approved Medusa's first request for a dock permit.

ACCORDING TO Loomis the new dock plan is basically the same as the original. Changes are to extend the conveyor bridge 1,400 feet into the lake with a 1,000 foot dock at the end of the bridge. The first plan called for a 1,320 foot conveyor bridge and 680 foot dock.

Loomis said the new dock will cost approximately $2 million, compared to $1 million for the original plan.

The changes, he explained, were made necessary due to lake level and bottom conditions discovered after the original plan was submitted.

Medusa engineers have also completed studies to determine if the dock could be located on the east side of the point, out of sight from town.

THEY HAVE found, Loomis said, that this would cost approximately $3½ million and due to weather conditions could not be used as much as the dock on the west side of the point, the damage would also be greater, he said.

The Corps of Engineers will grant or deny the permit on the basis of its effect on navigation, Loomis said. He doubted that persons objecting to the dock can present valid evidence that it will block ship traffic. There will be passage space under the conveyor bridge for small boats.

He said, however, that he does expect the Corps to receive objections from citizens.

Miss Martin said her committee is asking all boatmen and others interested in Charlevoix's beauty to oppose the dock in writing to the Corps.

THE COMMITTEE, she said, feels the dock would damage the area's major economic asset, its natural beauty, because it will clutter the scenery and there is the danger of foreign matter polluting the water from the freighters that will use the dock.

Loomis said the company's major stumbling block appears to be getting permission for the dock from the Michigan Dept. of Conservation.

The department last year authorized construction of the dock. But after receiving pleas from the committee to have the permit withdrawn, the department refused to issue it to Medusa this winter.

The Conservation Dept., Loomis said, has promised to study the matter further before making a final decision to deny Medusa permission to construct the dock.

LOOMIS SAID he feels the department's decision will be based on public opinion in Charlevoix.

If permission to build the dock is received from the Corps and Conservation Dept., Loomis said there remains the possibility of total action to stop Charlevoix Township from issuing a building permit.

Should the company fail to receive approval for its dock from any one, or all, of these agencies, there is the strong possibility it will be forced to scrap all plans for Charlevoix, Loomis said.

Without a dock that is economic.

THIS IS IT—That smile on Mrs. George LaBlance's face will fade by the evening of Feb. 27, which, as she points out on the calendar, is the last day to get your 1965 auto license plates. She estimates hundreds of last minute motorists will jam into her office to get plates Saturday.

Saturday Deadline Nears For 1,500 to Get Plates

The price for procrastination is going to be mighty high in the next three days.

An estimated 1,500 people have put off buying their 1965 vehicle license plates, Mrs. George (Edna) LaBlance, reports.

THE DEADLINE for new plates is Saturday, Feb. 27.

They must be on your car by Mar. 1.

That means there are going to be some nerve-racking moments for hundreds of people as they stand in line to get theirs.

Plates are sold at the LaBlance Insurance Agency, 402 Park, where Mrs. LaBlance operates the branch office for the Secretary of State.

The office will be closed Sunday, Feb. 28, which means persons without plates have until 8 p.m. Saturday to get them.

"WE'LL BE tearing our hair out," Mrs. LaBlance remarked.

As of Tuesday morning this week Mrs. LaBlance said she has sold 2,000 license plates. She estimates at least another 1,500 vehicles must be licensed before the deadline.

By closing time Saturday Mrs. LaBlance estimated she will have taken in $80,000 for the State in license plate fees since 1965 plates went on sale Nov. 1, 1964.

Other Secretary of State Branch offices are located in Boyne City and Petoskey. Mrs. LaBlance has also held temporary office hours in East Jordan.

Charlevoix auto licensees for 1965 will carry the letters XZ. The 1963 plates were UZ. Commercial plates for 1965 will be lettered DY.

Mrs. LaBlance reminded motorists they can bring either their titles or last year's registration when they buy plates.

Hearing Set on Zoning Request

A public hearing has been set for Mar. 22 by City Council on a request to rezone the southeast corner of Petoskey Ave. and Prospect St. to allow construction of a service station.

Thomas Carey Monday asked Council for permission to construct the service station on the corner now occupied by Gordon's Port restaurant. Carey said he will also purchase the home behind the restaurant, owned by Lyle Miles.

Frances Martin Named to Head Dem. Affairs Here

Newspaperwoman Frances Martin has been appointed to handle the Democratic County Committee's local affairs in Charlevoix.

Party County Chairman Archie Murphy of East Jordan announced the appointment after Saturday's meeting of the committee in Charlevoix. It was the first committee meeting of 1965.

MURPHY SAID Charlevoix area residents should refer matters pertaining to the party to Miss Martin. This, he said, will assure them of prompt attention and understanding of local problems.

Mrs. Charles Leist has been named to a similar post for Boyne City.

Fund is Growing

Approximately $120 in cash donations had been received Tuesday morning by the Charlevoix Volunteer Fire Dept. for the Dewey Bruce family fund.

Mrs. Bruce died Saturday, after months of illness, leaving seven children at home and hundreds of dollars in medical bills. (Obituary page 8.) The fund was started to help pay the medical bills. The family is reported able to take care of its other needs.

Murphy took over as County Chairman in January from George LaBlance.

County Democrats decided at the Saturday meeting to hold a meeting the third Saturday of every month. The next meeting will be at 8:30 p.m. Mar. 20 in East Jordan.

TENTATIVE arrangements were also made for a county dinner in Charlevoix sometime in March. Miss Martin is chairman of the dinner. Murphy said an attempt will be made to have State Democratic Chairman Zolton Ferry and Congressman Ray Cleveland at the dinner.

Murphy also announced that he has accepted an appointment to the State Democratic Executive Committee on Agriculture. He has been active in party agricultural activities for several years. The appointment was made at the State Democratic Convention.

Mrs. Clyde Warner of Boyne City have been appointed as alternates from the 11th Congressional District on the party's State Central Committee. Murphy said he believes this is the first time Charlevoix County has had a representative on the State Central Committee.

BIOS ON M-66 WORK

The State Highway Dept. reports it will open bids Mar. 10 on 5.5 miles of widening and 6.7 miles of surfacing on M-66 north of US-131 and in and around the city of East Jordan. Cost is estimated at $180,000.

Unless we can find an economical way to convert salt water to fresh, America will soon run short of water, reports the National Wildlife Federation. By the year 2,000, the nation will need a trillion gallons per day, even though the maximum fresh water supply then will be only 650 billion gallons a day.

School Report Card

Written by Charlevoix Public School Educators

BY DR. WM. RATIGAN
Considering headline events in recent days, this seems to be an appropriate time to include the following story in our Report Card.

There were an even - dozen members on the admissions committee at St. Paul's School in Concord, New Hampshire. They had their thinking caps on and they were very painstakingly examining the cumulative record of a young candidate for admission.

The boy's name was Spencer C. Thompson, 13 years old. He wanted to begin his freshman year in high school as a transfer student from St. James School in Maryland.

BUT THE TWELVE members of the admissions committee at St. Paul's in New Hampshire were scowling and frowning at the boy's academic history. His grades showed 94 in English, 85 in history, 50 in mathematics, and 30 in Latin. In a class of 14, the record showed that he ranked 12th.

The boy's principal in Maryland was inclined to be favorable in his recommendation. "Probably can't wait to get rid of him and pawn him off on us," snorted a member of the admissions committee in New Hampshire.

At any rate the elementary school principal wrote: "Spencer is a little delicate, owing to a severe pulmonary illness two years ago, but he seems to have recovered satisfactorily. He is too small to be effective in contact sports, but he greatly enjoys riding and swimming."

"The boy is certainly no scholar and has repeated his last grade twice. He does well in English, however, and possesses an excellent memory. In fact, he won the school prize for reciting poetry last year."

"HE HAS ALSO, I regret to say, a stubborn streak, and is sometimes rebellious in minor matters, although he usually conforms. He is at once backward and precocious, reading books beyond his years, and yet ranking at the bottom of his class."

"He has, I believe a native shrewdness and is a manly little fellow, high - spirited and well-liked, who unfortunately has not made the most of his opportunities here. I can recommend him to you on the grounds of general ability."

So went the principal's report, but the boy's other mentors were less kind. A special - English teacher came right out and spoke her mind. She branded him as rather stubborn.

Spencer's Latin teacher found him "most difficult to teach. He seems to have little or no understanding of the subject except in the most mechanical way. At times he seems almost perverse in his ability to learn. I suspect that he has received help from other boys in his prepared work."

AS AN UPSHOT of all the unfavorable judgments from Spencer's previous school in Maryland, all twelve members of the prep school's admissions committee in New Hampshire voted unanimously not to admit young Spencer Thompson. He was nowhere near the calibre of student they welcomed. He would have to apply at some institution where his level of ability and pattern of behavior would be at least tolerated.

It was at this point that the director of admissions at the New Hampshire prep school revealed the truth. The boy had not been on trial at all. The director had been giving a little test to the twelve members of his admissions committee. They had failed, unanimously.

The school cumulative record that the committee had been given to examine consisted largely of verbatim transcripts of a boy's first years at Harrow in England. They boy obviously had gone on to overcome his earlier academic history and to make history of his own.

The twelve members of the committee traded sheepish glances. Finally one of them spoke an embarrassed silence: "Who is this Spencer C. Thompson we rejected unanimously as not good enough for our school?"

"SIR WINSTON CHURCHILL," replied the director of admissions, capping the climax to a story later told by the Reader's Digest and Newsweek.

Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Sly left Thursday for a 10-day visit with relatives in Port Huron.

The national Board of Directors has selected Dr. William Ratigan to membership in the American Psychological Association. The APA is the professional organization of recognized psychologists in industry, education, public service, and private practice.

Debra White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake White Jr. and a sixth grade student in the Charlevoix schools, was the winner of a Tall Tales contest sponsored by Montgomery Ward in Petoskey. As a winner she received a recording and a new Easter outfit.

New Soaps Better Than Elbow Grease

Modern cleaning compounds are making up for the lack of elbow grease over the past 20 years at Charlevoix Elementary School.

Marvin Sugden, chief custodian, told the Board of Education that by using new cleaning compounds his staff is removing wax and dirt from the baseboards and walls that has accumulated in the last two decades.

THE NEW compounds, Sugden said, work faster and clean better than old materials.

He told board members black marks from shoe soles and heels are no longer a problem on floors at the high school since custodians started mopping them with a plastic base oil.

Elementary Principal Glenn Snider said lighting at the school is insufficient. He and Sugden recommended that fluorescent lights be installed. Sugden estimated the classrooms would have better lighting with one-sixth the wattage by doing this.

Supt. Rex Milligan told board members Sugden is to be commended for the fine job he and his staff are doing.

Annual Report

Churchwomen Prepare For World Prayer Day

Preliminary planning the World Day of Prayer Service in Charlevoix is underway. Christ Episcopal Church will be the host church for this service Friday, Mar. 5, at 2 p.m.

THERE WILL be six other churches participating: The Assembly of God, the First Baptist, the Community Church of God, the Community Reformed, the First Congregational, and the First Methodist churches will participate in leading the service.

Arrangements are being made also to have a baby sitting service available at the Baptist church for the preschool children of women attending the service. The committee in charge of arrangements from the host church includes Mrs. Percy Woodcock, Mrs. Stewart Coleman, Mrs. Louis Hamlin, Mrs. Thomas Carey, and Mrs. Alexander Wood.

THE WORLD Day of Prayer Service, observed each year on the first Friday in Lent, has a history of more than 75 years. It traditionally is meant to bring people together across denominational, racial, national and cultural boundaries in prayer and in giving to carry out Christian missions around the world.

Basically the same service is used by groups in approximately 125 countries and areas of the world. This prayer service follows the sun around the globe, beginning with the first service on the Hawaiian Islands to the final services of the day on the westernmost island of Alaska, involving millions of women.

For Michigan Churchwomen, this year's service is of particular interest, as the author of the service is a former resident of the state, and a former state president of the United Church of Women of Michigan -- Mrs. Jesse Jai McNell, the wife of a Baptist minister now living in California. The Michigan House of Representatives named her, "Michigan Citizen of Superior Talents in Behalf of Humanity".

She was the second woman and the first Negro to receive the layman of the Year award from the Detroit Council of Churches. She was a member of International team of four churchwomen sent to Africa for the 1961 World Day of Prayer, and she has recently received the 1964 - 65 Achievement Award of the Pasadena Branch, American Association of University Women.

Mrs. and Mrs. Melvin Renaud and son have returned to Grand Marais after spending several days here as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Plum and visiting other friends. They also visited relatives in Gaylord while in the area.

Mrs. and Mrs. Alfred Kantola have returned from a weekend visit in London, Ont., with relatives.

Mrs. John A. Uhrick returned Wednesday from Madison, Wis., where she has been visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Beckman and family. The Beckmans are the parents of a daughter, Julie Ann, born Feb. 8, Mrs. Beckman is the former Sylvia Uhrick.

Geraldine Pesek and two guests have returned to Chicago after spending the weekend at the Capri Motel while skiing in the area. While here they also visited Miss Pesek's aunt, Mrs. Jerry Green, and other relatives.

In all the world no monument is more famous than Bartholdi's Statue of Liberty. Standing on an isle in New York harbor, it is the symbol of a nation that enjoys the ultimate in political and religious freedom. It is our Americanism landmark.

Since 1886, the towering statue has been the first welcoming beacon for countless thousands coming to these shores to find a better life... The life of Liberty, of Freedom, the American way. The inscription on its base carries a potent message of promise as significant as the monument itself:

"Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore,
Send these, the homeless, the tempest-tost, to me:
I lift my lamp beside the golden door."
Then, if we have in the past, may we never again take Liberty for granted... it wears a price tag.

Makel Prexy of Northern Judges

Charlevoix County juvenile and probate Judge John Makel has been elected president of the Top O' Michigan Judges Assn. The association consists of judges from 23 northern Michigan counties.

MAKEL, a former educator, is serving his second term, which now lasts six years. He has just completed serving as the association's secretary-treasurer. He has also been a member of the convention committee.

"The important work set up for the Top O' Michigan Assn. members for the coming year," Makel said, "is the re-evaluation of assigned portions of the probate code and rules."

"It is hoped this agenda will help bring about the revision of the recommended probate court practices as requested by the Michigan Supreme Court."

Tie Continues for CHS in Cage Loop

HE MADE IT—Jim Uhrick, right, gets ready to let go with another shot during Friday's game. Jim was top scorer for the evening with 21 points. This is one of the few shots he got where he was all alone. Other Charlevoix players are Chipper Terrill (10) and Randy Carey (42).

Charlevoix continues to be one of the principals in the battle for the Northern Michigan Class C basketball title after defeating East Jordan 77-49 Friday to stay in the running for the championship. Gaylord, tied with the Rayders for the league lead, dumped Boyne City 64-37 to remain a contender.

CHARLEVOIX, Pellston and Gaylord presently share the title. This week the Rayders will be put to one of their severest tests as they go against the second place Harbor Springs Rams in a game to be played on the Rams court. It is the last game of the regular league season.

Harbor Springs has an eight-win-four loss record; having lost to Gaylord twice, Grayling (51-42) and Charlevoix (73-64). The Rayders, on the other hand, have an 11-2 record, losing only to Gaylord and Pellston.

But the Rams have Dave Winegarden, who poured in 40 points at East Jordan two weeks ago to set an individual league scoring record for the season, and George Lauer, outstanding floor manager. Bob Tippet has also contributed much to the team, especially during the last half of the season.

CHARLEVOIX is expected to go with its regulars, all of whom who paced the scoring at various times during the season. Coach Don Carey is hopeful that Dave Smith, who has been benched with a ruptured blood vessel in his ankle, and Warren Belding, sidelined by a flu bug, will be back in action for this game.

Every game has been an important one all season and this week's meeting with Harbor Springs will be no exception," coach Carey said. "We know this is going to be a tough game for Harbor Springs has nothing to lose while we could lose a share of the title. I am sure the boys are prepared to give their best though they know it will not be easy," he said.

In last week's game, East Jordan proved a stubborn adversary as they held the Rayders to a 17-14 first quarter lead and then, with 6:15 remaining on the clock, going ahead 20-19. A field goal and free throw by Del Terrill put the Rayders ahead 22-20 but East Jordan countered with a two-pointer to knot the score 22-22. The Rayders pulled away to a 27-22 lead but the Jordanites came back a second time to head the home team 29-27. Two free throws then put the Red Devils into a 31-27 lead but buckets by Jim Uhrick knotted the score. Two more by Terrill and one by Dave Norton gave the Rayders a 37-35 halftime lead as the Jordanites countered with two baskets.

AS THE SECOND half got underway, so did the Rayders with a total of 20 points for the period as they took a 57-44 lead going into the final period when they outscored the visitors 20-5 for the lop-sided victory.

Jim Uhrick led the pack with 21 points including 15 in the last half. He was followed by Terrill and Norton with 19 each. Doug Winnell accounted for 11.

JV's Win

Playing the East Jordan Reserves who had an experience and height advantage over the local J-V squad, Charlevoix's young Rayders did an excellent job of outplaying the visitors and defeating them by a score of 55-48.

As the second half got underway, the local lads pulled away to a 44-30 lead going into the final period.

Tom Webb with 18 and Larry Martin with 11 lead the local scoring.

"A woman driver is known by the fenders she keeps."

FIRES REBOUND—Randy Carey (42) grabs a rebound over the heads of East Jordan players, and fires it back up for a bucket. Other Charlevoix players in white are Chipper Terrill (10), Jim Uhrick, under basket and Doug Winnell (52).

Busy Week On Agenda

While Charlevoix is playing at Harbor Springs this week, the Gaylord Blue Devils will be at Pellston, East Jordan will be hosting Grayling and Mancelona will be invading Boyne City.

Gaylord's lot will not be an easy one this week as they go against the Hornets on Pellston's small floor which leaves little room for maneuvering. Charlevoix felt victim to the Hornets there and Gaylord will have to avoid a similar situation if they are to finish the season with another victory.

EAST JORDAN looked good at times against the Rayders last week and could, like Pellston, play the role of spoiler this week when Grayling comes to town for a return game. As has been stated so often this season, the Jordanites have a great potential that has failed to jell but when they do open up they could be great. The Vikings will have to play cautious ball if they hope to win.

Boyne City's single win was over the Mancelona Ironmen the first time "round while the Ironmen's single victory was over East Jordan who trimmed Boyne City twice during the season. With half a try Mancelona could average the earlier loss but it will not be easy for the Ramblers also would like to add one more win to their slim list to move out of last place as the season ends.

Ellsworth Classroom Report

The student librarians from Ellsworth and Mrs. Betty Potter, librarian, took a field trip last week to visit other libraries. Their first stop was at the East Jordan school library. From there they went to the East Jordan Public Library, but found it closed and headed for Charlevoix.

In Charlevoix, they went to the high school library. This is a new library and has many facilities the Ellsworth library lacks and the students found it very interesting. They drove to Petoskey where they had dinner and then went to the Petoskey Public Library. The next stop was the Petoskey High School library. The students were put on their own with sheets of questions to bring back answered. Their last stop was the Petoskey St. Francis library.

Ironton

By Mrs. Ross Alexander
LI 7-2037

We agree with the Sheriff's Dept. that the dumping of garbage and rubbish at the side of our highways is a most objectionable practice. We heartily commend the handling of these individuals, that were brought into court last week. It's the duty of everybody to keep the roadsides and picnic places clean, most people do this through habit, self respect and being a good neighbor. To my knowledge we have no litter bugs in our community, we want to keep Ironton clean.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Howe left Tuesday for the "sunny south", they will spend several days with Edna's sister Mrs. Jack McDermott and family in Jacksonville, Fla., then go to St. Petersburg to visit her mother, Mrs. Walter Williams.

The ladies of the church will have another "Bake Sale," Sunday, in the dining room, following the morning service. They always have some good things for your Sunday dinner. The church trustees will also meet with Rev. Harmon.

Flying somewhere for vacation? If it is a long one, get up and walk around a bit every now and then, the Michigan Heart Association suggests, to keep the circulation in your legs from slowing down. Stretch your legs on motor trips, too.

Charlevoix Boy Scout troop II appointed a drill team of ten boys. The purpose of a drill team, is to show types of formations. They will march in the memorial parade and in the Venetian Parade with the Canadian scouts who are going to visit Charlevoix in July.

CHS Bandsmen Perform In District Festival

The two Charlevoix High School band groups will participate next Saturday in the Annual District II Qualifying Band and Orchestra Festival, in Petoskey High School.

Appearing at 9:50 a.m. will be the Charlevoix High School Concert Band of 90 pieces, participating for the first time in Class B, because Charlevoix High School enrollment has exceeded the 349 student limit for participation in Class C. The Boyne City High School Band has also moved into the Class Branks, for the same reason.

THE 88 PIECE Charlevoix Reserve Band will appear at 3:55 p.m., the last band scheduled that day. The Reserve band will be playing in the Class C Junior High division. Bands receiving a First Division rating will be eligible to participate in the State Band and Orchestra Festival, the Senior Division on April 10 in Grand Rapids, and the Junior High Division in Midland April 24.

Judges who will hear the bands on Saturday include Leonard Falcone, director of bands at Michigan State University; Rex Hewlett, of Central Michigan University; Irvin Van Slyke, a past president of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Assn., and Gerald Bartlett, of East Lansing High School, president of the association, which is the parent organization sponsoring these festivals all over the state.

Each band performs three numbers in the concert portion of the festival a warm up march, the required number in each classification, and a selected number of free choice.

FOLLOWING The concert playing, each band goes to the sight reading room, where it will perform two numbers it has never seen. Three judges criticize and rate the bands in the concert playing, and one judge does the same in sight reading. The composite ratings of these four judges becomes the final and official rating given each band.

The entire event is open to the public, and no admission charge is made, according to Max Smith, of Petoskey, chairman of the festival. Any one wishing to hear the Bands of Northern Michigan at their finest, should plan to attend the festival next Saturday.

Obituaries

THE LATE MAJ. AND MRS. JOSEPH SIDOROWICZ

SOPHIE SIDOROWICZ

Mrs. Joseph (Sophia) Sidorowicz, 82, 214 E. Hurbit, died Feb. 17 at her home. Her death came approximately two months after her husband, retired Army Major Joseph Sidorowicz, died in December.

A ROSARY was held Friday, Feb. 19, in the Winchester Funeral Home here.

FUNERAL SERVICES were held Saturday, Feb. 20, from St. Mary's Catholic Church by Rev. E. F. Denay with burial at Brookside Cemetery.

Mrs. Sidorowicz came to Charlevoix in 1935. She and her husband lived on a farm in Marton Township before moving into the city.

THE MAJOR served in the Spanish-American War, the Mexican-Indian War and World War I. He served under both Gen. Douglas MacArthur and the general's father in the Philippines. He had been retired from active duty for 40 years when he died here last year.

They moved to Charlevoix from Detroit, where she lived for 40 years.

Mrs. Sidorowicz's father, the late Joseph Nowakowski, built 20 Catholic Churches in Detroit and Hamtramck. Mrs. Sidorowicz was a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church and the Charlevoix American Legion Auxiliary. She was a founder of the Detroit Polish Aid Society.

She is survived by a son, Thaddeus of Detroit; four sisters, Mrs. Sally Hase and Mrs. Stephanie Hase of Detroit, Mrs. Wanda Brudner, of Waterford, Mrs. Amalia Dombrowski of Highland Park and a brother, Julian Nowakowski, all of Detroit.

Births

A son, Edwin Lee, 9 pounds 14 ounces, born Feb. 13 at Charlevoix Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Serason of Charlevoix.

A daughter, 7 pounds 2 ounces, born Feb. 20 at Charlevoix Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Tony L. Martinek of East Jordan.

A daughter, 8 pounds 7 ounces, born Feb. 21 at Charlevoix Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Staley of Charlevoix.

In 1831, President Jackson appointed Steven T. Mason to the office of Secretary and Acting Governor of the Michigan Territory. Only 19, he was probably the youngest American ever to receive such an honor, and one of the state office buildings in Lansing is named for him.

Advance Pay for Feed Grain Plan

Advance payments are available to local farmers signing up to take part in the feed grain program, Robert W. Reidel, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said today.

According to Reidel, the advance payment is one-half of the estimated total diversion payment to be earned under the 1965 program. The rest of the diversion payment and all of the price-support payment earned under the program will be made next fall.

The 1965 feed grain program again covers corn and barley in Charlevoix county. A farmer may divert his entire base up to 25 acres or 50% of his base, whichever is the larger.

Sign up for the program will continue through March 28.

Comment Fact Opinion

Teachers are Short-Changed, But Expected to be the Best

CHARLEVOIX TEACHERS are to be commended on their approach to seeking an increase in pay. Few persons will find any grounds for argument with the teachers request if they will first study the reams of documented statistics and facts the faculty has prepared to support its cause.

Many factors, including these statistics, cause us to lend our support to higher pay for Charlevoix teachers. One of these factors that may be overlooked by many is the frankness and honesty with which teachers have approached the matter. Unlike some school districts that make the newspapers, Charlevoix teachers are not threatening walkouts or other retaliatory action. Instead they have very politely and sincerely presented their case to the Board of Education in the expectation board members will act on it in the same spirit.

WE ARE ALSO impressed by the faith teachers have indicated they have in the community. This has been expressed by their willingness -- even desire -- to put the facts before the public. Because their supporting statistics are extremely involved we might suggest they be given a chance to go through them at a PTA meeting.

Another factor which should be weighed heavily is the teachers' outspoken expression of pride in their school system and students and their loyalty to Charlevoix. Economic factors have forced many of the teachers to make a decision between moving to one of a great many higher paying districts or to fight for a chance to make a respectable living in Charlevoix.

If they were to move they would be extremely hard -- if not impossible -- to replace. But instead of doing this they have decided to stand and seek a solution in Charlevoix. It is always easier to run from a problem than to face it. We should all be impressed by their obvious willingness to make sacrifices to live and work in our town.

Should Charlevoix teachers get the pay raises they seek it will require an increase in taxes. This is always hard to swallow.

HOWEVER, WE should keep in mind that Charlevoix has been able for several years to give its children a superior public school system at a relatively low tax rate. How has this been possible? By keeping teachers pay down. Compared to 20 other similar school systems Charlevoix spends $55 less per pupil for education.

Whereas our teachers were receiving average pay for Michigan teachers a few years ago, in the past few years their salaries have slipped far below the average because others have risen so fast. It is going to cost us money to give our teachers a square deal and a chance to catch up.

Some of our teachers would have made $500 a year more had they accepted job opportunities in nearby school districts with higher pay. This means that in two years teachers who chose to stay in our Charlevoix lost $1,000 in two years, and in four years $2,000.

It should also be noted that the pay increases our teachers request figure out to about 4% annually. This is below the projected statewide teacher salary increase estimates of 5%. So they certainly aren't being hoggish.

THERE ARE those who will oppose the salary increase request on the basis that it is too high because it is figured on a state average and not on a northern Michigan average. If salary figures for northern Michigan alone are used our teachers are still far below average, but not as far below as when figured on a state average.

It seems only fair to us to put our teachers on a salary schedule that is figured on a state average. After all, we do not expect our school system to produce children who are prepared only for competition in northern Michigan. No. We want (and have been fortunate to get) an education for our children that will outfit them to step into life anywhere.

Along these lines it should also be pointed out that Charlevoix certainly isn't an average northern Michigan community. Not only is our economy healthier, according to actual statistical facts, than the average, but our standard and cost of living is higher.

Teachers, it is often argued, only work nine months a year. However, this point falls apart when you compare a teacher's hourly rate to that of a local journeyman in the building trades unions. Certainly, our teachers' time is worth more per hour to us than that of a tradesman. Which does not suggest that our tradesmen are overpaid. Only that our teachers are underpaid.

WE WOULD ALSO point out that teachers are not offered year-round employment. This is not their fault. The Courier would support a movement to put our education system in use 12 months a year. If this is done we would not expect teachers to demand higher pay because of it.

Just for the record, we cannot understand why school is not in session year-round (and we have heard all the arguments). We do not, however, feel students should go to school 12 months a year. Their vacation period should be rotated to relieve classroom loads and fully utilize expensive buildings and equipment.

Furthermore, the fact that due to low salaries our teachers are forced to take some of the community's best summer jobs, and even night jobs, and their wives are forced to work is not healthy for our economy. These extra jobs are ones that others could be holding. So if teachers salaries are increased we would hope they will have the good grace to leave these jobs to others.

Neither the Courier, or the teachers, wish to ram this salary increase down the Board of Education's throat. Instead we join the teachers in feeling it is a decision of such importance that the public should have a chance to scrutinize it.

WE WANT THE best for our children. The question is are we willing to pay for it or do we want it at a discount rate. If the latter is the wish of the people, they should keep in mind that they have been fortunate to get it in recent years, but the day of reckoning is bound to come. It always does.

What Was Hurry on County Brochure?

SOMEHOW, AND we're not quite sure how, we suddenly discover that through the impetus of the Charlevoix County Planning Commission an $8,000 tourist promotion brochure has reportedly been ordered.

The brochure, we feel confident, will prove to be one of the finest, if not the finest, that has ever been sent to vacationers from Charlevoix County.

In spite of this we have some serious questions we feel obligated to pose to readers:

1--WHY WEREN'T the facts involving financing brought to the public's attention? After all, the Charlevoix County Board of Supervisors is spending $2,000 of taxpayers money on the project and the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, which gets part of its support from city funds, is also chipping in.

2--If this much money is to be spent couldn't much more value have been received by using it for stenographs promoting Charlevoix County along the state's major highways?

3--Hasn't the Charlevoix County Board of Supervisors and County Road Commission been doing this same thing for years, but perhaps on a more modest scale? We feel the county has done a good job ... for a lot less money.

4--WHAT COULD possibly justify rushing such an expensive project? The Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce was pushed so fast it didn't know if it would have time to get its material in by the deadline.

Let's make it clear we do not mean to throw an obstacle in the way of county-wide cooperation. This we are glad to see coming about.

But we do object to having something like this ramrodded through with evident contempt for the public's right to know what is becoming of their money. We can only blame this on Walter Thorsen, chairman of the County Planning Commission.

Charlevoix of Yesteryear

THIS WAS BRIDGE St. during the winter in the 1880's. Notice the lack of outambles. There were none then. Note too, the comparatively crude construction of the Pine River Bridge and the limited number of buildings on Bridge St. This picture comes from Mrs. Eleanor O'Neill's collection.

How Our Teachers' Salaries Compare To Rest of State

The average beginning teachers salary in Michigan for teachers with a bachelor degree and no experience is $5,032.
In Charlevoix it is $4,500.

The average salary for a Michigan teacher with a masters degree and no experience is $5,341.
In Charlevoix it is $4,700.

The average maximum salary for a Michigan teacher with a bachelor degree is $7,708.
In Charlevoix it is $6,200.

The average maximum salary for a Michigan teacher with a masters degree is $8,200.
In Charlevoix it is $6,500.

This Means That

- 93% OF MICHIGAN TEACHERS TEACH WHERE MINIMUM BACHELOR SALARIES ARE HIGHER THAN IN CHARLEVOIX...
- 88% OF MICHIGAN TEACHERS TEACH WHERE MAXIMUM BACHELOR SALARIES ARE HIGHER THAN IN CHARLEVOIX...
- 96% OF MICHIGAN TEACHERS TEACH WHERE MINIMUM MASTER DEGREE SALARIES ARE HIGHER THAN IN CHARLEVOIX...
- 90.4% OF MICHIGAN TEACHERS TEACH WHERE MAXIMUM MASTER DEGREE SALARIES ARE HIGHER THAN IN MICHIGAN.

What They're Asking For

The following shows the salaries Charlevoix teachers are requesting. In parenthesis are the comparative salaries they are now receiving. Due to space the teachers' requests in such categories as those with a masters degree plus additional college credit is not shown, or for those with a bachelors and additional credit, but not enough for a masters degree. Also due to space limitations the complete schedule for each year's salary increase is not shown. However, this does give readers a comprehensive picture of what teachers are asking for and a chance to compare it with the state average shown above. Keep in mind that statewide teachers salaries are expected to continue to increase of about 5% annually and this proposal is based on 4% annually.

	Bachelors	Masters
Beginning	$5,000 ($4,500)	$5,400 ($4,700)
One Year	$5,200 ($4,700)	$5,616 ($4,900)
Two Years	$5,408 ($4,900)	$5,841 ($5,100)
Three Years	$5,624 ($5,050)	$6,075 ($5,300)
Five Years	$6,083 ($5,350)	$6,571 ($5,600)
Seven Years	$6,579 ($5,650)	$7,148 ($5,900)
Eleven Years	$7,325 ($6,100)	$8,139 ($6,400)

Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, and the Sheriff's office.

The public must be made aware of their obligation to preserve "America the Beautiful" Charlevoix the Beautiful.

LITTER IS A problem people can solve. Posters can be placed in establishments that sell beverages and food, reminding us all to be law abiding and thoughtful. Youth groups might make and distribute these posters.

Much of the litter I have seen on city and township beaches has been the beverage containers--broken and rusty--left from night beach parties and picnics. These glass and metal containers are a safety hazard as well as an eye sore. The beaches are not garbage dumps. I hope the use of returnable deposit required beverage containers will be urged. I hope active enforcement of anti-litter laws will remind the public to have better manners. The beaches cannot protect themselves.

Thank you for your service to all of us.
SINCERELY,

By FRAN MARTIN

Walker Mites, my faithful postman, was telling me of an unusual experience he had the other day. . . . He was out shoveling his walk and driveway recently . . . a regular occupation in this north country. . . . when a pigeon came out of nowhere and lit on his head. . . . It stayed right there as he went about the shore. . . . then hopped to his shoulder and clucked and 'talked' or whatever it is pigeons do. . . . I guess it's 'coo'. . . . When he finished the job and went inside, the bird, a deep gray with a ring of greenish hued feathers around its neck, went in with him. . . . and seemed right at home. . . . But he soon placed it outside for he figured it was someone's pet and was probably lost for the moment. . . . Later on it took off. . . . for heaven knows where. . . . because as far as is known there's no one in Charlevoix who raises pigeons. . . . He checked to see if it was banded but it wasn't so he had no way of knowing where it had come from or where it was going. . . .

I know they can become pesky things but I love pigeons and I sure miss them. . . . when I was a kid several people in town raised them and my family had a few at the farm. . . . There was once some at the old elementary school, I remember. . . . but in recent years no one seems to bother with them. . . . I think they're fun to feed and fuss with. . . . Gee, maybe if you had pigeons the starlings would stay away. . . . Do you suppose? . . . Well, it's an idea. . . . and maybe I'll take to raising some. . . . not the carrier kind. . . . just pigeons. . . .

Have I been having a bill. . . . thanks to Capt. and Mildred Paddock. . . . As you must know by now I'm mad for the circus. . . . and anything to do with this wonderful world of make-believe. . . . Recently the Paddocks whose winter home is at Venice, winter headquarters for the big one of the Big Tops, Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Sally sent a special circus 'edition' of their paper. . . . For the first time in history the Biggest show on Earth opened at its winter headquarters before taking to the road. . . . Venice, appreciative of this fact, put out a special edition of its newspaper, the Gondoller. . . . all of it dedicated to the circus. . . . Not only today's big show but the history of circuses in the United States. . . . I've snatched bits and pieces of it since receiving the paper and think more than ever if I have another time 'round on this earth that I'd like to give this way of life a whirl. . . . not as a performer for I have no talents along this line but just 'something' with the circus. . . . Not that I'm this smart, but the present public relations director of the show is a gal, the only one in the business today. . . .

Chances are you'll get a look-see on teevee while the circus is at Madison Square Garden in March. . . . You'll love the costumes and the theme. . . . Wizard of Oz. . . . Wonder if they'll have a 'horse of a different color', my favorite in the old movie. . . . And when I finish reading this interesting collection of circus lore I'll send it along to the library so you other circus buffs can enjoy it, too. . . . But don't look for it right away. . . . there's too much of it. . . .

One of my good friends Miss Edson, recently gave me a copy of "The Collected Poems of Sara Teasdale". . . . I like poetry. . . . not all kinds but some. . . . among them Robert Frost and Ogden Nash (if you can call him a serious poet) and now I've added the late Sara Teasdale to my list of 'likes'. . . . In many of her poems she mentions the sea, the gulls, the waves, the wind-blown grass and the sound of the waves. . . . I like to think that some of them were inspired by the beaches along Lake Michigan and the big lake itself. . . . As many of you know, her parents once lived in a house, a big old house with dozens of doors and rooms on very spot where the Messmore house now stands. . . . The McMills lived there briefly at one time. . . . must have been when they were waiting for the present home on Park-ave. to be readied. . . . and we used to have a ball roaming through the hallways with doors, doors, doors leading into heaven knows how many rooms. . . . I don't think that any of us at that time stopped to think that we might have been playing in rooms where one of this country's great poets once slept. . . . No one had posted a sign telling us that "Sara Teasdale Slept Here". . . . and if they had chances are we wouldn't have been too impressed. . . . If you have a minute, pick up one of her books and look through it. . . . I'm sure that you, too, will have the feeling that some of them must have been inspired by Charlevoix. . . .

Did a double 'take' the other day when I received a copy of the Michigan Court-house Review for there on the cover, just as beautiful as anything you've ever seen, was a picture of our county building. . . . and inside was a story of its history. . . . As I looked at the picture I wondered how many people in Charlevoix county really appreciate what a fine building it really is. . . . Few counties can boast one any lovelier or more functional. . . . We can thank the board of supervisors for the long term planning that resulted in this building. . . . tho' to my dying day I'll contend the action that set up the sinking fund wasn't kosher. . . . I meant to mention this before. . . . the first day cover stamps I received some time ago. . . . I'm not a stamp collector myself but I do pick up these now and then. . . . But I was surprised when I received these first day cover stamps from Anchorage, Alaska, honoring the 50th anniversary of the Amateur Radio Operators. . . . You remember it was these hams who were the contact between Anchorage and the outside world at the time of the horrible earthquake last spring. . . . thus the envelopes were mailed from there. . . . I am indebted to Phil Lawrence for this thoughtful gift. . . . For, as most of you know, Phil's just about the most dyed-in-the-wool 'ham' I know. . . .

The ice boating that got off to such a fine start has gone by the boards. . . . first with snow on the ice which made it impossible to sail.

Some Say City Kids Just Can't Take It

Should the open breezeways between the two wings of Charlevoix High School be enclosed to protect students from the elements?

You can get into a pretty nasty debate over this seemingly harmless question.

Ironton

By Mrs. Ross Alexander
L17-2037

Mr. and Mrs. Ole Neilson returned home Thursday from their three weeks vacation through the south, while in Florida, they visited Ole's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Tabor in Bradenton, and Edna's niece, Luanne (Baumbach) Best and family in Tampa, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Mathews in St. Petersburg, then in Charleston, S.C. with Ole's sister, Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Vincent. With all the sunshine, they are happy to be home with their family and friends and back on their job, working like the rest of us.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Allen from Cheboygan called last Sunday afternoon at the home of Mark and Elsie Saunders. Glen was born and raised in our community and attended our local school.

Nine members of the Extension club met with Mrs. Sam Alexander last Tuesday evening. After the lesson, "Pictures for the Home," they enjoyed refreshments of cake and coffee served by their hostess.

Steve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kroll, is in Lansing, living with his brother, Bruce and is employed at Oldsmobile.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Perry, of Lansing are vacationing at their cottage, had as guests, their son - in - law, James Palmer and son Timmy from Jackson, and their nephew, Wayne Mansfield and son Clifford of Lansing also their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Mattson from Lansing. While here, they all have been enjoying the fishing, and other winter sports.

OF COURSE, those who favor leaving the breezeways open on the sides, as they were constructed, contend it adds to the building's charm.

Persons who would have the breezeways walled-in argue that cold and rain sweeping through them are a discomfort for the students, and possibly even a threat to health.

The "extremists" on the side for leaving the breezeways open, counter this with suggestions that kids who complain about a little discomfort are "pampered brats."

If the youngsters who are complaining got outside, and did a little healthy work, this argument goes, they wouldn't mind the open air between the two sections of the building.

There are even those who got downright provincial about the thing and tell you its the city kids who are squawking, and that it doesn't bother the country kids one bit.

Anyway, the subject came up at a last week's Board of Education meeting. Marvin Sugden, chief custodian was asked what he thinks about the complaints.

Sugden agreed the open breezeways cause some discomfort, but he's not convinced they need enclosing.

Board member Dale Boss said some of his children have been soaked during a rainstorm blowing from the northwest.

No action was taken.

My Neighbors

Ellsworth

must face up to the reality that if the tax increase was rejected Ellsworth High School students would have to attend one of the neighboring high schools.

Without the tax hike it would have been impossible to maintain a school district in Ellsworth.

Approval of the millage levy, however, does not remove the possibility that Ellsworth's school district will have to consolidate with another in the next few years.

A NEW STATE law will make it mandatory for many small districts to consolidate with larger ones in the near future.

Albright has also pointed out that Ellsworth taxpayers face no relief from high school levies. This means the Board of Education will almost have to go back to the people in two years seeking renewal of the high tax rate.

Some observers have openly questioned whether taxpayers will continue to consider it worthwhile to pay so much to maintain a local school system.

They point out the high tax rate is not buying improvements in the Ellsworth school curriculum, but only continuance of the present program. Ellsworth has 285 public school pupils.

nomical to construct and operate Medusa simply could not do anything with its 1,000 acres on and around South Point. The company has paid taxes on the property since 1928.

IF PERMISSION to build the dock is received, Loomis said present indications are that a cement plant will be constructed at the same time. Building would probably start in 1966.

There are many factors which could change plans for the cement plant, he pointed out.

Kill your smoke and let the forest live.

CHS, Ellsworth Set for Tournament Cage Action

After closing their regular season Friday night, area high school basketball teams go into tournament competition next week.

Charlevoix drew Boyne City for the opening game of the District Class C tourney to open at 8 p.m. Tuesday Mar. 2, at Boyne City.

ELLSWORTH, considered the strongest team in Division 1 of the Class D tournament at Petoskey, will take on the winner of the Bellaire - Alba game at 7 p.m. Wednesday. Division 1 of this tourney will officially open at 7 p.m. Monday with Alba going against Bellaire; at the same time Tuesday, Central Lake will take on Boyne Falls.

AT THE SAME time Thursday, East Jordan who drew a first - round bye, will meet the winner of the Charlevoix - Boyne City game.

The winner of this game and the winner of the Petoskey St. Francis - Manvel game will tangle in the finals at 8 p.m. Saturday on the Boyne City floor. The winner will advance to the Class C regional tournament at Petoskey the following week.

Services at Greensky for Mrs. Walker

One of Charlevoix's oldest Indian residents, Mrs. Theresa Walker, 94, died Wednesday at her home, 510 W. Lincoln.

Mrs. Walker, the former Mary Wasquam, was born May 7, 1870, in Hayes Township. She has lived here all her life.

FUNERAL services will be held Saturday, 1 p.m., by Rev. Raymond McBratnie at the Greensky Hill Indian Methodist Church. Burial will be in Greensky Hill cemetery. A prayer service will be held at the Winchester Funeral Home 8 p.m. Friday. Mrs. Walker reposes at the Winchester Funeral Home where friends may call after 7 p.m. Thursday.

Surviving are her sons William of Muskegon, John of Chicago and Jerry of Charlevoix; daughters Mrs. Veronica Mitchell of Charlevoix, Clara of Charlevoix and Mrs. Joseph (Irene) Compo of East Jordan; brother, Andrew Wasquam of Pellston; 9 grandchildren, 11 great grandchildren and 1 great great grandchild.

Re-Hire Deano, Grant Pay Hike

City Council Monday approved re - hiring Deano Davenport as summer recreation program director for 1965.

Davenport will get a pay raise from $80 a week to $100. Mayor E. D. Hawley recommended the pay increase. "Any good recreation director is worth $100 a week," Hawley said.

Hawley said the City probably could hire a recreation director for less, but doubted they could do as good a job as Davenport.

Rayders Bomb Petoskey, 78-42

The Charlevoix Rayders came through with their second win of the season over Petoskey Tuesday night, 78-42.

The Northmen led only once early in the game before falling victim to the Rayders' fast break and shooting as they trailed 20-7 at the quarter; 34-17 at halftime and 59-26 going into the final period. Jim Urick paced the game with 20 points followed by Dave Norton, 18 and Doug Winnell, 10.

The Charlevoix J-V's won, 57-38.

Michigan was the first state to have a group of counties named after a president and his entire cabinet, namely Barry, Eaton, Ingham, Livingston, Van Buren, Calhoun, Berrien, Cass and Branch, all of which were designated in honor of the cabinet of President Jackson.

PTA Meet Wednesday

The Charlevoix PTA meets 8 p.m. Wednesday, Mar. 3, in the Elementary School cafeteria.

A text book company consultant will speak on "Elementary English." First grade parents will be hostesses.

IT WON'T BLOCK SUNSETS—George LaBlance, right, looks at South Point on a county road map and contends Medusa Portland Cement Co.'s proposed dock will not destroy the much acclaimed sunsets over Lake Michigan. Agreeing with him is Irv Drost, who is also circulating a petition, such as the one LaBlance holds, in favor of the dock and plant.

Citizens Leap To Support of Medusa's Dock

The possibility that local efforts will stop Medusa Portland Cement Co. from developing its South Point property brought instant reaction last week.

By early this week reports were that more than 1,200 local residents have signed petitions making it clear they want to see Medusa build its dock and plant on South Point.

PETITIONS were put in circulation Friday evening, after the Courier reported the Keep Charlevoix Beautiful Committee is out to veto Medusa's plans.

RELATED EDITORIAL TURN TO PAGE 11

The petitions put the signers on record as supporting Medusa and calling for all government agencies to give the company the go-ahead.

The nearly two-dozen persons circulating the petitions said they are running involuntarily no resistance. Mayor E. D. Hawley and Charlevoix Township Supervisor Clarence Rabach have signed the petitions.

Irv Drost said he had 32 signatures on his petition 30 minutes after he started circulating it. Others reported equal success.

State Writing Law To Control Smoke

The State Dept. of Public Health has stepped in to write an air pollution ordinance for Charlevoix Township that will assure safeguards from smoke and dust if Medusa builds a cement plant on South Point, Clarence Rabach, Charlevoix Township supervisor, reports.

Rabach said the State has put an air pollution engineer on the job preparing the ordinance.

ACCORDING TO Rabach the State Health Dept. will also install instruments to measure air pollution and administer the ordinance if it is violated.

Medusa has said its tentative plans are to begin construction of a cement plant and dock on South Point in the spring of 1966, if it gets permission from the State and Federal government. These plans, the company makes it clear, could change.

The plant and dock would employ an estimated 100 or more persons when at full capacity, which will be several years in the future.

Rabach told the Courier the Health Dept. is working with Medusa now to make sure the new plant has the proper equipment to control air pollution.

MEDUSA, Rabach said, appears willing to cooperate fully with the State and Township.

"I think Medusa has as much concern for Charlevoix as we do," Rabach said.

He added, however, that he feels an ordinance is necessary because the company's current management may not be in control forever.

Mayor E. D. Hawley told the Courier he is convinced the State is prepared and administered pollution ordinance will safeguard Charlevoix.

IN OCTOBER the CITY Council petitioned to annex the Medusa property. The City contended the township did not have the funds to hire an air pollution expert to write and administer such an ordinance.

With the State doing the...

THE KEEP Charlevoix Beautiful Committee has conducted an organized effort to stop the dock plan. The committee is headed by Frances Martin. Miss Martin said her group has launched no new tactic to counteract the petition drive.

Until the petition drive got underway last week Courier editorials endorsing the dock and plant and citing the opposition as a minority faction have been the main expression of public opinion that was on the record in favor of Medusa.

THE PETITIONS are to be turned in to either Irv's Cocktail Lounge or LaBlance's Insurance Agency no later than Wednesday, Mar. 10. A goal of 3,000 signatures has been set.

The petitions, George LaBlance said, will be used by Medusa to show the Corps of Engineers public opinion favors the dock plan. The Corps has set Mar. 18 as a deadline for presenting evidence for or against the dock.

The company will also use the petitions to prove to the Conservation Dept. that the majority of Charlevoix people want to see the dock built there.

The Conservation Dept. has withheld permission for Medusa to build its dock, reportedly on the basis that public opinion opposes it.

Cagers Win Tourney Opener

The Charlevoix Rayders will clash with the East Jordan Red Devils in the semifinals of the district tournament Thursday night after dumping Boyne City 90-49 in the opening game at Boyne City Tuesday night.

The winner of Thursday's game will meet the winner of the Mancelona-Petoskey St. Francis game in the finals at 8 p.m. Saturday.

After holding a slim 11-10 quarter lead, the Rayders broke the game wide open as they outscored the Ramblers 33-8 for a 44-18 halftime lead.

As the game went into the second half, the Rayders continued their blitz attack for a 74-39 third quarter lead before coach Don Carey pulled the bench in the final period.

Dave Norton with 26 and Dave Smith with 21 points paced the game. Ron Shepherd had 14 for the Ramblers.

After a silence of some 40 years the sounds of large scale lumbering operations are expected to return to Charlevoix County forests this year.

U. S. Plywood Corp. of Gaylord has opened up the area's first major timber market since the 1920's.

ROBERT G. Bahrman, U.S. Plywood's chief forester, told the Courier last week he expects to be buying $1 million worth of timber when the new $5 1/2 million Gaylord plant gets in full production, sometime early next year.

How much of this $1 million is spent in Charlevoix County depends on only one thing, Bahrman said. That is whether people here take the initiative in offering the timber to U. S. Plywood.

The firm will buy timber cut and delivered to its plant. It will not do its own cutting. On some large tracts of land it may be interested in establishing a forest management program.

Unlike the early lumbering era that died by 1920, the demand now is for aspen and jack pine, not hardwoods and white pine.

BAHRMAN SAID Charlevoix County is wealthy with aspen, but has little jack pine. Aspen includes big tooth aspen (yellow poplar) and trembling aspen (white poplar).

Aspen stands in this area, Bahrman said, have reached maturity and are on the point of deteriorating.

By cutting them landowners will be making money from a tree crop they would otherwise lose and will be providing improved cover and food for game, especially deer. They will also, Bahrman pointed out, be assuring themselves of a new crop because the aspen will re-seed itself.

State Forester Jack Lockwood hailed the new U. S. Plywood market for aspen as a lifesaving break for Charlevoix County, and neighboring, state forests.

IF LUMBERMAN buy cutting rights on state forest lands, which Lockwood is sure they will, it means the immense stands of mature aspen, which are choking out more desirable types of trees (hardwoods and pines) will begin to die.

Not only will this mean a new chance for other trees, Lockwood points out, it will also provide hundreds, even thousands, of acres of new cover and browse for deer.

Lockwood said, is a resource many landowners have on small plots but often overlook.

Bahrman said U. S. Plywood's timber needs will keep between 100 and 150 persons working fulltime in the woods. This will be in a wide area around Gaylord.

THOUGH WAGES paid woods workers vary greatly, Bahrman said $15-$20 for an eight hour day might be an average. Some very good timber cutters will make up to $40 a day, depending on their skill, stamina and timber conditions.

U. S. Plywood will pay $12.50 a cord for aspen delivered to its Gaylord plant. A cord is a tight packed pile of sticks measuring 100 inches long by four feet wide by four feet high.

Producers (timber cutters), Bahrman estimated, will pay landowners $1-$1.25 per cord for standing timber and the right to harvest it.

Bahrman said a rough average for aspen stands is ten cords to the acre. This can vary as much as 10 or 15 cords more.

IN THE SUMMER aspen must be delivered to the plant within two weeks after cut, and within four weeks in the winter.

The aspen must be a minimum of four inches in diameter and no more than 24 inches.

Bahrman said no one should cut timber for the plant without first contacting Lockwood or the company.

He said U. S. Plywood will discourage small-scale, seasonal timber cutting operations.

He is hoping to get several well equipped, year-round producers working. They would hire woods crews and contract with landowners and the state to cut aspen for the plant.

ACCORDING TO Bahrman a producer with the known-how is needed in the Charlevoix area.

The company must have these large-scale timber cutting operations to keep its plant going year-round.

It will make long-range contracts with these producers to schedule the required amount of timber at the plant at all times.

U. S. Plywood could not do this if it relied on small, seasonal timber cutting operations, he said.

State All Out For Camp

The Bells Bay State Forest Campground is now number one on the priority list for future development.

Jordan River State Forest administrator Jack Lockwood of Boyne City reports the Conservation Dept. feels enlarging Bells Bay facilities is the most important in the Charlevoix County - Antrim County area.

HOWEVER, DUE to lack of funds, Lockwood says it may be years before the Bells Bay campground is further developed.

Last summer Bells Bay was enlarged from ten to 20 campsites.

RELATED STORY TURN TO PAGE 10

The campground is located on the Lake Michigan shore south of town. The campsites are spread out along the road for about a mile.

Ultimately, Lockwood said, the department would like to see 100 rustic campsites at Bells Bay. This, he said, could be accomplished without destroying the natural beauty.

ACCORDING TO Lockwood expansion of the campground could be speeded up considerably if the City, Township and County would cooperate by providing heavy equipment and taking over routine maintenance and police duties.

In addition to clearing more campsites, Lockwood said more toilet facilities and another well are needed.

Bells Bay is the only campground on the Lake Michigan shore between Traverse City and Wilderness State Park near Mackinaw City.

The Conservation Dept. has repeatedly pointed out that family camping is one of the fastest growing outdoor recreation activities.

Urge Farmers Be Selective

BOYNE CITY--The farmer needs to know and understand what he is buying if he hopes to spend money wisely as possible.

This is particularly true of fertilizers, since the fertilizer bill represents a considerable cash expenditure that a farmer must make each year.

MIXED fertilizers are materials that contain two or more of the fertilizer elements that are manufactured by mixing two or more plant nutrient carriers together.

Generally, these materials contain nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium mixed into common ratios such as 8-24-24.

This type is made in such a way that individual nutrient carriers, such as urea, superphosphate and muriatic potash are all mixed together in the desired proportions. Dry mixed or bulk blended fertilizers have one particle each of nitrogen, phosphate and potash.

A WET MIX product popularly called granular fertilizer, is made of nitrogen and potassium added to a wet slurry material. The result is a mixture of superphosphate. When the materials are granulated, each particle will contain nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium.

From the standpoint of nutrient availability, field experiences have shown no difference in the availability of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash between the dry mixed and the wet mixed materials. If however, the dry materials are not selected carefully, they may separate.

Want Protection for Motorists on Corner

By Michael J. Tillotson

ELLSWORTH -- Something has got to be done about Strange's Corner.

Located two miles west of Ellsworth, at the intersection of the Atwood-Ellsworth Rd., this corner is stalked by the grim reaper. It is probably one of the most dangerous in Antrim County.

DUE TO THE hill on the Atwood Rd., drivers coming from Charlevoix to Ellsworth cannot see a car coming from Atwood until it breaks over the crest of the rise less than 100 feet from the intersection.

Many cars coming from Atwood toward Ellsworth come over the top of the hill at speeds of 60 mph, or faster. This means they are through the intersection in less than three seconds.

A driver turning onto the Atwood Rd. from the Ellsworth Rd. does not have time to accelerate fast enough to avoid being hit by a speeding car which comes into view from the west over the hill after he starts the turn.

A good driver might be able to stop before he got to the corner, on dry pavement. But when the roads are icy, or wet it's impossible.

LEVI DONALDSON has changed the Ellsworth school bus routes to avoid crossing the intersection. This adds to the bus mileage.

Think of the farmer who must cross the highway with his slow moving tractor and wagon, he wouldn't have a chance if a big truck happened to come over the hill at that moment.

We all know that something has to be done about Strange's Corner...and the sooner the better.

But what has been done, and what can be done? Roy Staudenmeyer, representing the Antrim County Farm Bureau, and Paul Doctor, representing Banks Township, went to a meeting of the Antrim County Road Commission to see just what could be done. A few days later the Commission put up a well needed stop sign at Dutchtown, and we thank them.

But as to Strange's Corner, the Commission said that they would make a survey...some time.

WE NEED action not words. There are at least three possibilities of what can be done.

Suggestion number one: Cut off the hill and make it level from the intersection back, and resurface. This would give the people crossing the Ellsworth-Atwood road a better chance to see approaching traffic from Atwood, and vice-versa. Cutting off the top of the hill is the best thing that could be done. It may cost the taxpayers of Antrim County about $20,000. But can we put a value on a human life?

Suggestion number two: Cut off the northwest and southwest corners thereby improving visibility considerably.

But in the words of one of the land owners involved,

ELLSWORTH NEWS

ROY STAUDENMEYER
LU 8-2919

"Cut off the corner! Don't waste your money! The trouble is with the attitude of the drivers. I have seen cars actually pass big trucks on the hill from Atwood, and not pull back until they were well past the crossroad." He went on to say, "You could cut the corner back until you took off half of my house, but it still wouldn't do any good. The people from the west just don't pay any attention to the traffic from Charlevoix or from the Eaton road."

Perhaps that's the problem in a nutshell. The traffic from the west apparently has little regard for the crossroad. If we could somehow stop this traffic, I think our problem would almost cease to exist.

THE THIRD suggestion proposed was to put in a big stop sign or a red blinker light, making the traffic from the west come to a complete stop. If the Antrim County Road Commission put in a stop sign it would cost $30 or less. On the other hand a blinker light similar to the one in Ellsworth, but with three way red, would cost the taxpayers about $5 per month. This is a small price to pay for the added safety it would bring. Most people I have talked to have indicated that they would be glad to stop when coming from Atwood, and there would be little trouble of getting started again since it's down hill.

We all know that something has to be done, but if the action taken by the Antrim County Road Commission during the past ten years, (when Mr. John (Johnie) H. Burns was killed there) is any indication of what we can expect in the future, little will be done about Strange's Corner.

If you are interested in having something done about Strange's Corner, call one of the following: Levi Donaldson, Roy Staudenmeyer, Paul Burnett, myself. Better yet, write Harold Smith, Antrim County Road Commissioner, Mancelona, and tell him what you think should be done.

WE MAY NEVER know how many lives cutting off the top of the hill, or putting in a stop light will save. But if something is not done about Strange's Corner, and someone is killed, who can we blame but ourselves.

Lip Service

FROM ROY

This last week Ellsworth enjoyed its basketball team. The performance the varsity squad gave Tuesday night against McBain Public was outstanding. The team was up against two obstacles, McBain and the flu. Gary Torgashad to stay home because the bed was a better place for him and several other players were bit by the bug. Walt's eyes were watering and his nose was dripping. Ken Richardson and Chet Boss were nursing a cold. Beside all of this they did play one of their top games.

Many fans agreed, when the Lancers were behind in the first quarter by ten points that the absence of Gary would hinder the team. Rich Ruus long overcame in his playing ability, put - out when his help was needed. With Rich filling in when Walt had to sneeze and Carl Gorman and Larry taking up Gary's task gave Marv Ruus, Ken and Chet the confidence to go on to win. Chet had the magnet pulling the ball into the basket, he hit on 80 per cent of his free shots, Rich was second high man to Chet in scoring honors. My two girls will give you a resume of the game in their column.

The ALBA game was like a horse pulling a buggy, the eveners broke and away the horse went. The first five only played 16 minutes. The points they scored would have been sufficient to win the game, for Alba only scored 33 points in the entire game. A big roar went up from the crowd when Fred Gibbs rebounded under his own basket and threw a quick pass to his teammate Ron Drenth. Ron was way out front on a fast break received the ball and put it in the basket for an easy lay-up. Only to find out that it was Alba's basket. The two points did not count for Alba because the referees whistle blew when the infraction over-and-back was made. Alba was cheering through-out the game, as if the score was tied. Three of Ellsworth's fans were winners of cakes but only one survived the trip home. I can't imagine how it arrived back in Ellsworth in one piece, they probably hid the cake under the hood of the bus. No matter how, when, or where, it tasted good.

The Ellsworth Lancers are 1964-65 Snowland D conference champions. With their ten victories and no defeats in conference competition gives them the trophy. This is the second consecutive season Ellsworth wears the crown. The Ellsworth Junior High also retains the championship. Congratulations to the Lancers. Central Lake Junior Varsity were winners in the same conference.

What's Your Story?

...what? You haven't written one? Then you'll be surprised to know that you write a line every day. God laid clean white pages before you and challenged you to give an accounting of your days on earth... one by one. What you write may embarrass you or it may make for happiness. One fact is sure. It becomes a permanent record. Every day comes from God. He offers us new opportunities with the dawn of each new day... opportunities to write with integrity and trust and genuine goodness. What will you write today? Were you a blessing to another? Did you attend church this week? Have you helped the poor? What are you writing? What's Your Story???

School Report Card

By WESLEY FLEET

Consultant for Vocational Education
The preparation of young people for life in today's complex society is a staggering task. Education for living, and education for earning a living must be considered together in a comprehensive educational program which equips youth for responsibility in our society.

One of the significant criticisms being leveled at our schools today is that they are not adequately preparing youth for the kind of world that they will enter as adults. In some instances these criticisms are without foundation;

however, in many cases they are true. The basic fact is that the schools have not been able to keep pace with the rapid changes that have taken place in the labor market.
IF WE WERE to analyze the demands now being placed upon the schools, we would find that demands have undergone considerable change in the past decade. The introduction of such innovations as automation, mechanization, and electronic computation are some of the major causes for these changes. Furthermore, we can expect change to take place at an even greater rate in the next decade.

In the past, securing salutary employment for the young person was a relatively simple task. Unskilled and semi-skilled jobs were abundant. This is no longer true.
Employers expect to hire people with at least a high school education; and in addition, they expect to hire people who possess the specific skills which are in demand in today's world of work. Thus, the diminishing number of unskilled jobs has caused a decrease in the market for unskilled labor.

It is interesting to note that in 1963, 2,000,000 fewer jobs produced the same Gross National Product as was pro-

CHARLEVOIX COURIER Thursday, March 4, 1965, Page 1

duced in 1962. This is a result of automation. At the present time there are 7 million individuals in the United States in the 17 thru 21 year age group who are either without jobs, or who hold "deadend" jobs. This number will increase to 20 million by 1970, unless we correct the situation... a rather striking figure when we consider the fact that 5 million skilled craftsmen are needed in the United States at this time.

The number of young persons entering the labor market in Michigan, every year is increasing at an unprecedented rate. Nearly 1,500,- 000 persons in Michigan will reach the age of 18 in this decade. This is almost 600,000 more than in the 1950's. Even more startling is the 27% increase in 18 year olds between 1964 and 1965, from 121,000 to 165,700 in one year.

THERE ARE OTHER labor market factors which have focused increased attention upon the need for more and higher quality Vocational Education. Unemployment among young people is much higher than among the population in general. The high dropout rate is another significant factor.
The demand for workers is and will continue to be in those occupations which require more education and training. Young workers will have to prepare themselves for a rapidly changing and more complex world of work.
It is eminently important that we be realistic for today the total responsibility for preparing young people for their place in society has been directed at the schools more than in anytime in past history.

Rayders Smash Rams to Nab 1965 Title

The Charlevoix Rayders, coached by Don Carey, closed out their 1964-65 court season Friday night with a 91-55 victory over Harbor Springs and in the same move wrapped up the 1965 Northern Michigan Class C Conference title when Pellston upset Gaylord 56-53. It was a repeat performance by the Rayders who with Bellston and Gaylord was the defending champion.

THIS WEEK found the Rayders, entering the Class C district tournament at Boyne City with the local team going against the Ramblers on Tuesday night. The winner of this game will meet East Jordan at 8 p.m. Thursday. At 8 p.m. Saturday the winner of this game will meet the winner of Wednesday's game between Potoskey St. Francis and Mancelona in the district finals. The district winner will then go into the regional tourney at Potoskey next week. Drawings for the regional meet will be held at Potoskey Sunday. In this tournament will be district winners at Onaway, Grayling, Traverse City, Frankfort and Boyne City. Gaylord is the defending regional champion. The Harbor Springs Rams who were assigned to the Onaway tourney this year are the defending district champs.

ON SATURDAY Coach Carey repeated what he has been saying all season when asked what he thought Charlevoix's chances are in the forthcoming tournament. "There are a lot of good teams. If Boyne City defeated Mancelona, they could conceivably defeat us. However, if we play good ball we have a good chance of coming out of the tournament as a winner". However, he warned that basketball tournaments, being what they are, anything can happen and too often does. Even though he was hopeful that his Rayders would finish on top in league play, he kept saying "there are a lot of good teams and every game is an important one. You can't overlook any team in this league for on a given night just about any team in the league could beat any other team". He was, of course, elated about winning the league title but added "You must remember we had a lot of good help." He went on to say that his club had earned it for they had, at times, played some very fine ball. He is depending on them to carry through in this same manner as they go into the tournaments. With the title at stake, the Rayders were confident and determined as they went against the Harbor Springs Rams who had the misfortune of losing their top scorer, Dave Winegarden, who was sidelined with the measles.

PLAYING inspired ball, the Rayders rolled to a 21-12 first period advantage, paced by Jim Uhrick who had nine points for the quarter. As the game continued, the Rayders dunked in 20 points including 11 field goals with Dave Norton taking over the scoring duties to go ahead 47-24 at halftime. Norton continued to set the pace as the game went into the second half as he scored 14 of the Rayders' 21 points for a 68-42 third period lead. Though the line-up changed as Coach Carey emptied the bench in the last period, the Rayders added another 23 points for the 91-55 win.

NORTON, who left the game early in the final period, scored 34 points to set the tempo for the game as all five starters hit in double figures. George Lauer had 17 for the Rams.

JV's Finish in Tie for Title

Charlevoix's young Rayders, like their older counterparts, concluded their cage season Friday night with a 63-42 win over the Harbor Springs J-V squad. The victory gave the young players an 11-win-three loss record for the season in league play. The Gaylord J-V's completed the season with the same record.

IN FRIDAY'S game the young Charlevoix outfit was in control all the way after taking a commanding 15-8 first quarter lead which increased to 41-21 at halftime and 55-30 at the three-quarter mark. As time ran out, Coach Don Peterson substituted freely with all 15 players seeing action and 10 of the total scoring.

Tom Webb with 19 points paced the game following by Steve Smith with 14, Burt Ward with 11, Brad Carey, Andy Peters and Al Veenstra, four each, Jack Bergmann,

Ellsworth Ends Season With Wins At Alba, McBain

By Kathi Wieland and Susi Petter

ELLSWORTH -- The Lancers ended the regular basketball season with a perfect, 10-0, season record.

The Ellsworth varsity kept their 1964-65 cage record perfect last week by beating Alba, 94-33 and McBain 77-57.

THIS MAKES the Lancers champions of the Snowland Class D Conference. Finishing in second place is Bellair with 8-2 season record. Central Lake finished third, 6-4. At Alba Friday the entire varsity squad saw action, after Ellsworth moved to a 28-5 first period lead. Chet Boss led the Ellsworth scoring attack with 20 points, followed by Larry Torga with 15 and Marv Ruus with 14. In the McBain varsity game the Lancers stumbled until the third half. At halftime the score was tied 34-34. Chet Boss was high point man with 34, Rich Ruus, Marv Ruus and Ken Richardson had 13 points each. The Ellsworth junior varsity was handed a defeat, 40-32, against McBain, St. Doctor was top point man with 12. The Lancer junior high team won 50-41 at Alba. It has not been defeated this year. High scorers were Randy Ruus and Fred Taylor, with 14 points each.

CHS to Lose Champ Squad

With the teams of the Northern Michigan Class C cage teams closing out the 1964-65 court season in tournament play, coaches are counting their seniors who will be competing their prep school careers at this time and taking a long look at the returnees who will form the nucleus for next year's squads.

At Charlevoix, Coach Don Carey will see all but one of his entire squad joining the 'cap and gown parade' in June. There is not one junior on this year's squad.

LEADING THE parade will be the team's top scorer, Dave Norton, who racked up an impressive 250 points in league play including 34 in last week's game; Jim Uhrick who had 165 points; Doug Winnell and Del Terrill who contributed 153 apiece; Dave Smith who added 122; Warren Belding who had 101; Randy Carey, Tom Maxwell, John Bleha and Ron Grunch all of whom have contributed their share to the season's successes.

As Coach Carey has said repeatedly, "They are a good bunch of boys. They have given much of themselves and they will be greatly missed."

Other teams will be hard hit by graduation but none as severely as the Rayders though Gaylord will lose four regulars including Tom Lick, top scorer in the league with 347 points in 100 play; Mancelona stands to lose its starting five plus two others while others will lose several, among them young athletes who have carved niches for themselves in league history.

Other players, besides Lick, who will be missing from Coach Jim Mongeau's Blue Devils will be Bill McBride, Mike Warner, Don Filzek from the starting five along with Jim Johnson, John Bergquist, Joe Tebo and Curt Cremons. Coach Bill Gregory of East Jordan lists Mike Bell, Chad McDonald, and Fred Malpass from among his regulars and Dan Peters as his seniors. Coach Paul Pfahler will lose four regulars including his top scorer, Scotty Hall, plus Dave Roof, Dave Hunt and Ron Hauser.

Dear Dick: I have a terrible phobia about closed doors. Last week the elevator in our office building stuck for an hour between two floors and who do you think was along in it? After this ordeal, I've been a nervous wreck. How can I overcome this thing?--JITTERY.

DEAR JITTERY: Use the stairs. As for other closed doors, it might be wise to meet behind a few of them with a good psychiatrist to see if the cause of your phobia can be found. The doors are always open at Puff's Appliance Center and anyone who has a phobia about SAVINGS will find plenty of them on name brand appliances.--DICK.

Girl Scout Troop 265 learned a dance and later had a Thinking Day Ceremony at its meeting last week. After that the girls enjoyed a "Scout's Own."

Sunday, March 7 is the beginning of Girl Scout Week. It is designated as Girl Scout Sunday for the thousands of Girl Scouts of the Crooked Tree Girl Scout Council, the more than 200 girls and adult leaders of Charlevoix, and for the almost 3,750,000 sister Scouts throughout the nation. The first day of Girl Scout Week underscores the first part of the Girl Scout Promise—duty to God. Throughout the weekend, girls will attend religious services in uniform as a dramatic demonstration of that Promise. Girl Scouts are encouraged to practice their own faiths and to respect the religious convictions of others. Protestant girl Scouts in Charlevoix will be attending the morning worship service at the Congregational Church on March 7. Catholic Girl Scouts will attend mass at St. Mary's Church.

SUPPLEMENTING the Promise are the ten Girl Scout Laws stressing loyalty, usefulness, courtesy, thrift, cleanliness and friendship. The Promise and Laws provide Girl Scouts of all faiths and backgrounds with an easily understood ethical code which they can put into practice in their daily lives.

Mayor E. D. Hawley has proclaimed March 7-13 as Girl Scout Week in Charlevoix.

The Girl Scout Week proclamation, signed by the mayor follows:

PROCLAMATION
WHEREAS Girl Scouts throughout the United States of America have rendered continuous service to their communities and their country since the founding of their organization 53 years ago on March 12, 1912, by Juliette Gordon Low in Savannah, Georgia; and

WHEREAS we the People of the City of Charlevoix are aware of the tremendous growth of the Girl Scout organization in this country to almost three and three-quarters of a million girl and adult members, thereby making it the largest organization for girls in the free world; and

WHEREAS all Girl Scouts make a solemn promise to do their duty to God and country, to help other people at all times, and to obey the Girl Scout Laws; and

WHEREAS Girl Scouts of the United States of America, through its continuous program for girls seven through 17, provides its members with a bridge to the future by developing good citizenship, teaching important skills, encouraging career exploration and increasing world understanding;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, E. D. Hawley, by virtue of the authority vested in me as Mayor hereby proclaim March 7 through 13 of this year 1965 as Girl Scout Week and March 12 as the 53rd Anniversary of the founding of Girl Scouting in the United States of America. I, therefore, call upon all citizens of the City of Charlevoix to give the Girl Scouts their continued interest, cooperation and support in the coming year, so that increasing numbers of girls may benefit from the Girl Scout program. I do also proclaim that the theme of Girl Scout Week, "Girl Scouting—A Promise in Action" shall be a reminder to all the citizens of our continuing promise to support Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. in furthering its purpose of inspiring girls with the highest ideals of character, conduct, patriotism and service so that they may become happy resourceful citizens.

New State Forest Area Created Here

Charlevoix County's 63,000 acres of state forest are due for what might be considered a little pampering when compared to the treatment they have had in the past.

A new state forester, Jack Lockwood, has set up headquarters in Boyne City.

A NEW STATE Forest area, the Jordan River State Forest, has been created as Lockwood's domain.

Lockwood's area of responsibility includes 78,000 acres in Charlevoix and Antrim County. Of this approximately 4,200 acres on the mainland in Charlevoix County and 21,760 acres on the Beaver Island group.

Until this month state forest lands in Charlevoix and Antrim County were part of the Pigeon River State Forest, which included approximately 150,000 acres of state-owned forest in Charlevoix, Antrim and Otsego County.

The Pigeon River State Forest was administered by one man out of Gaylord. Under the new Conservation Department organization the Pigeon River State Forest only includes the approximately 75,000 acres of forest land in Otsego County.

By shearing the Jordan River State Forest from the sprawling Pigeon River State Forest, the department feels it has made both areas more manageable.

THE OLD PIGEON River State Forest was too clumsy to run from one office, Lockwood said. The new forest areas are designed to get more foresters near their work, he added.

Lockwood has two state forest campgrounds in Charlevoix County under his administration. They are at Bells Bay and on Beaver Island.

"Bells Bay has a lot of potential and we sure would like to expand it," Lockwood said.

THE STATE, with federal tax money participation, has $6,000 budgeted for timber stand improvement in the county this spring and summer, the new forester said. This will be used to take out old trees that are holding back new trees from starting.

Deer will benefit as much as the trees, because new browse will be able to grow for them, Lockwood said.

Before moving to his office in the Boyne City Conservation

THE UNSHADED PORTIONS of this Charlevoix County map show the approximate location of 62,900 acres of state forest lands in the county. Though not all of the land in the clear-white sections of the map is state-owned, the areas do give a reasonably accurate indication of what part of the county is part of the newly formed Jordan River State Forest.

Dept. building as chief forester Lockwood was stationed in Otsego.

OUTDOOR RAMBLING

with GLEN SHEPPARD

Want to get into a real knock 'em down brawl with a usually nice guy?

If your answer is no don't get involved in the long-standing debate about whether the State should pay a bounty on fox.

THE ONLY reason the bounty controversy hasn't reached the proportions of the nasty feud over shooting deer is that there are no where near as many fox hunters.

If fox hunters numbered even a quarter as many as deer hunters the Conservation Dept. would think its antlerless deer season battle was mild.

The department and its public supporters (including this column) contend that paying fox bounties has not reduced the fox population. Game biologists have come up with figures to prove this. No matter how many fox are bountied in an area there are still plenty the next year.

Those who favor the bounty system contend it at least gets a large number of fox killed. If these fox had been left alive, they contend, just that many more partridge, rabbits, etc., would have died. And then you also get the argument a guy was giving me the other day. He is a fox.

His contention is that it's only fair that the department contribute the $5 bounty because it helps pay for feeding his fox hounds and covers the cost of expensive ammunition.

I COUNTERED by saying that if he can't afford to feed his dogs he should get out of the sport. He didn't like that one bit, so being a coward, I backed water a mile by suggesting that if the state subsidizes fox hunting it should help pay sportsmen for duck shooting and fishing. Certainly most fish prey on others and some ducks eat small fish.

Because I would rather clomp around on snowshoes behind a howling fox hound in the winter than do most anything else (except dream about the opening of trout season) I sort of resent the fact that this makes me a bounty hunter.

And maybe this is the solution to the whole thing. Fox hunters will tell you one thing—there is about as smart a critter as was ever put in Charlevoix County's swamps and hardwoods. Which means that hunting him is number one sport. Not only does it require a canny outdoorsman to bring the red fella down, it also demands tough muscles and stamina.

PERHAPS IF sportsmen were educated to accept fox hunting as sport, instead of bounty hunting, there would be more interest in it. Thus eliminating fears that no one would hunt fox if the bounty is removed.

My suggestion would be that the Conservation Dept. be given permission to begin an immediate education program aimed at getting more fox hunters in the field.

This could be financed by getting the legislature to temporarily remove the bounty and let the department spend a major part of the resulting quarter-million-dollar savings on informing sportsmen about the fun and thrills of fox hunting.

Using this money the department could buy a few good fox hounds and hire qualified handlers. Then go around to local areas, such as Charlevoix, and organize a fox hunt for all comers. After non-fox hunters had a few tastes of this challenging winter activity they would be sure to get interested.

IN ADDITION to this department could show tv films on fox hunting and distribute free movies on the sport. Doesn't it seem reasonable that this would result in even more fox being killed? Certainly more people would be getting enjoyment from the outdoors.

If it worked, the legislature could drop the bounty payments forever, giving Michigan another $250,000 annually for improvement of hunting and fishing.

Charlevoix's State Representative Clayton Morrison tells me he has, and will continue to, oppose removing the bounty because he figures the fox is an evil fellow who seriously reduces our rabbit and partridge population.

MORRISON HAS some darn good theories behind his argument. He's man enough to admit he may not be absolutely right. So it is only fair that those of us who oppose the bounty face up to the fact that could be wrong.

But if we could get more people hunting fox for sport—instead of dollars—we would accomplish Morrison's goal and save the money.

Comment Fact Opinion

The Silent Opinion

A GRAVE, BUT COMMON, violation of the intent of our democratic society appears to be in the making over Medusa Portland Cement Co.'s plans for South Point.

Persons who oppose construction of a cement plant and the necessary docking and loading facilities have organized. They will make their objections well known in the places where a decision will be made. It even appears as though they have brought powerful political pressure to bear on either the Conservation Dept. or the Corps of Engineers, or both, to block permission for the cement company to build its dock.

IN THE LONG run, however, a decision on the dock permit will be made based on what these public agencies consider to be the desires of the majority of persons effected.

The problem here is that public opinion is extremely difficult to measure. If the Conservation Dept. hears only objections to Medusa's plan it must assume that the people are against the dock.

The Courier can tell them that opposition to the dock appears to be limited to a small minority of residents who either prize their personal anxieties above the future of the community or have failed to fully inform themselves, due to prejudice or lack of interest.

This, we feel, is a fair appraisal. It may anger some people who do not want to see the economic status of their neighbors' improved. In spite of their anger, the fact remains that this is a decision that should be made by the majority... not the already comfortable minority.

AS WE HAVE previously stated, we do not believe the dock, or cement plant -- with proper controls -- will devastate Charlevoix's beauty or bring to an end our summer trade. If, as we now see happening, the state takes over the practical responsibility for controlling air and water pollution from Charlevoix Township, our only remaining fear has been eliminated.

But, what is to be done to see that the majority of us -- who are keenly aware of the value of a modern cement plant, limestone quarry and dock -- are heard? We cannot sit back and assume that those who are weighing the matter will know where we stand.

Leadership in this would be provided by the City Council if Medusa's property were part of the City's domain. But, since it is not, the Council must refrain from playing a dominate role. Councilmen can, however, and should repeat their official position that the cement company's plans are in our town's best interest.

THIS STILL does not clarify the opinion of the hundreds of individuals who have a stake in Charlevoix's future, but still are not being heard from.

These people should take the time to express themselves. This can be done with a simple, written note voicing approval with your name and address signed to it.

But where are you going to send this note? We would suggest the Chamber of Commerce step forward. The Chamber appears to us to be the logical agency to act as the spokesman for Charlevoix's future in this matter. After all, the Chamber represents all of us, including those with the biggest stake in Charlevoix and the surrounding area.

So why not take five or ten minutes tonight to send your note of approval of Medusa's plans to the Chamber. It might someday mean a job for your son.

If the Chamber will take this community responsibility the opinion of the majority will be well represented.

But don't you forget to give the Chamber the ammunition it needs by sending your note and getting your friends to do the same.

City Faces Facts

MAYOR E. D. HAWLEY again won our admiration last week when he frankly stated the City general fund ended the fiscal year last Sunday with a $61,000 deficit.

One of the harshest, most distasteful realities for a public official to admit is a deficit. They often try to avoid facing the public with this fact.

BUT LAST WEEK Mayor Hawley bluntly put the fact on the council table and recommended a solution by covering the deficit with reserve and current - year profits from the electric fund. Councilmen took his advice.

Actually in Charlevoix's case a general fund deficit can be justified, and perhaps even commendable. This is because the City has a cash reserve and profit from its electric utility. This money should be used to the general advantage of taxpayers, as long as electric service doesn't suffer.

Hawley could, however, have avoided openly admitting there is a cash deficit since it will be balanced out by the electric fund transfer. By airing the facts before the public Hawley again was displaying that he is genuinely interested in serving the public.

Council's openness in handling the deficit also indicates it will be prepared to face up to the inevitable day when there will no longer be an electric fund to bail out the general fund.

This day is bound to come. When it does spending will have to be sharply curtailed, or new taxes levied.

Either, or both of these alternatives, are acceptable as long as the public is squarely presented with the facts.

Winter Losing Ground

WE NOTE WITH considerable satisfaction that the harshest of winter's nasty habits is slowly losing ground. The days are growing longer.

When we arrived at the office the other morning at 7 a.m., there was actually enough light to see footprints in the snow. That evening, at 6 p.m., when we arrived home there was still light outside.

THOUGH WE MAY at times frown on winter's cold and snow, actually the lack of daylight hours is our biggest complaint. It reduces our days to work only. There is no chance to enjoy our great northern Michigan outdoors if there is no daylight when you go to work in the morning or when you return in the evening.

But now, with daylight forcing its way into our world for more hours, we can watch the birds feeding before leaving in the morning. In the evening there is light enough left to walk the dog, or what have you.

Do you ever wonder how much more precious our daylight must be to us compared to those southerners who enjoy it for long hours year-round?

The Torture Test

THE TORTURE test endured by outstate skiers who journey to our area for a weekend of adventure and described elsewhere on this page, has long been a marvel to us.

Just what it is that motivates young people to go through such trials to enjoy northern Michigan's ski slopes and winter beauty is a mystery to us. The idea of riding hour after hour in a crowded, stuffy bus, sounds like the ultimate in misery. Perhaps it is only that we become so used to having plenty of room and fresh air that we have a distorted idea of what these skiers are actually going through.

WE MUST, HOWEVER, tip our hat to the stamina and determination of these young people. And though we still don't understand it, the fact that they are enduring this hardship to visit Charlevoix makes more sense than anything else would.

Consider for a moment how much others are willing to sacrifice to enjoy what we take for granted.

Charlevoix of Yesteryear

THIS OLD POSTCARD picture shows people skating on Lake Michigan just outside the channel piers, at the public beach. Former Charlevoixian John Sharrow of Warren, Mich., who contributed the picture, says it is the only year he can recall Lake Michigan freezing so it could be skated on. But he didn't say what year it was.

How They Suffer on Trek to Charlevoix

The article is condensed from the Chicago Tribune.

BY JAMES FITZGERALD

Take the patience of Job, mix well with army basic training, and add the endurance of an ox.

The above recipe will guarantee a fun-filled week-end on any one of the numerous ski trips run by the various clubs in Michigan, usually to sections of Michigan.

We decided to take a trip with the Alumni club. The trip took approximately 52 hours, lasting from 6:45 Friday night until 10:45 p.m. on Sunday.

During that time, we spent about 22 hours on the chartered bus, going to and from Charlevoix, Mich., our headquarters and back and forth to two outstanding ski areas, Boyne Highlands and Boyne Mountain. The other 30 hours were divided into the following portions: 14 on the two ski slopes; 4 eating; 2 waiting and getting ready; one at church; 5 dancing or a reasonable facsimile, leaving the grand total of 4 hours for sleeping.

After leaving the Monroe street parking lot and heading south on the Dan Ryan expressway, the drinkers broke out their bottles and the singers broke out their voices while the veterans of earlier trips got as comfortable as possible for naps. They were the smart ones.

About 150 miles from Charlevoix the bus developed trouble with its air brakes, causing us to limp into our destination at 35 miles per hour, about two hours late.

After the group had checked into their room -- six men or six women to a room -- it was 6:30 a.m. (Michigan time.) Our group leader announced that we would have breakfast at 7:30 a.m. with the bus leaving for Boyne Highlands at 9 a.m.

With the unpacking, renting of ski equipment and the like, very few in our group got any sleep at all.

It was a rather sleepy and crowded group that arrived at the Highlands around 10:30 a.m.

We stayed at Boyne Highlands for about 7 1/2 hours.

The bus headed back to the Lodge of Charlevoix shortly after 5 p.m.

Arriving back at the Lodge, we had about an hour until dinner. Most of the group took advantage of the hour by heading right back to bed.

After Saturday's dinner members assembled in the lower lounge of the restaurant for a dance. Again, the smart ones headed back to the Lodges for a dip in the pool and sleep. The dance lasted until 3 a.m., and the pace was beginning to tell.

Sunday morning was a mad scramble with church at 7 a.m., and packing to be completed since the bus would leave from Boyne Mountain for home. We had a hurried breakfast, then took off for the mountain at 8:30 a.m.

One young lady who had never been on skis before Saturday, was making her second ascent on one of the gentler slopes when she dozed off.

The next thing she knew, her skis lifted the emergency cord, stopping the lift and she was marooned. The skier was removed from the lift with a ladder by the attendant who kept shaking his head and muttering something about "snow bunnies."

We left Boyne Mountain shortly after 4 p.m., and had an uneventful trip home, arriving tired but happy at the Monroe street parking lot close to 11 p.m.

Capital Flue Bites Ray

Special to the Courier

WASHINGTON -- Northern Michigan's new Congressman, Attorney Raymond F. Clevenger, of Sault Ste. Marie, has found his first two months in Congress "exciting, productive and challenging."

The 38-year-old Congressman, who defeated former Rep. Victor Knox last November, commented on his new job during a recent meeting with District constituents.

"WASHINGTON is an exciting city where decisions are made daily affecting not only the future of our District but of our country," Clevenger said. "Much of this activity centers around President Johnson and his legislative program, he said.

Clevenger cited the way Congress has moved into high gear to act on President Johnson's proposals for assistance to the nation's school systems.

"This is only one aspect of the Administration's overall program," the Congressman said, "but it is extremely important to our schools in the Eleventh District.

"President Johnson's program will give priority, in terms of more help, to those areas where we have suffered high unemployment; where annual income is low.

"UNDER THE new program, the 22 counties of the Eleventh District could receive up to $2,337,518 to help upgrade public school systems.

"Although the President's education bill has not come up for a vote yet, I have been urging our local school officials to familiarize themselves with the proposals so that they can act fast after the bill passes Congress."

Clevenger predicted that the measure will be approved.

The Congressman said that he also is hopeful that northern Michigan will benefit from the War on Poverty program.

"I was pleased at the announcement that a Job Corps Conservation Camp will be established near Marquette," he said.

"The camp will house some 200 young men between 16 and 21. The youths will work in forestry and stream improvements and construction and improvement of recreation areas.

"THESE ARE THE first tangible results of new federal programs. While they are important, we still must continue our efforts to expand the upper Michigan economy through use of other excellent programs under the Small Business and Area Development Administrations and 1963 higher education act."

"The greatest challenge facing Congress," Clevenger said, "is that of finding ways for everyone to share equally in the growing prosperity of the nation.

"Our national income is at an all-time high while unemployment continues to fall," he said. "But still we have many pockets of economic stagnation in the Eleventh District, which we must find ways to overcome.

"I think we are moving in the right direction -- but we've got a long way to go."

Clevenger said that his proposed Upper Great Lakes Development Authority is designed to tackle the economic problems of the lakes area on a region-wide basis. The measure, introduced by Clevenger on January 19, would establish an authority with members representing the States of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

ANOTHER ASPECT of Clevenger's job -- and one that takes highest priority in his office -- is service to constituents of the Eleventh District.

"Because my District includes virtually all of the former Eleventh and Twelfth Districts, mail has been exceptionally heavy," he said. Much of my day-to-day work involves helping constituents with problems that range from a claim for Social Security benefits to explaining how to participate in the emergency feed grain program.

"A Congressman not only helps make laws but also is in an excellent position to help insure that the laws are administered in the manner intended by Congress."

Clevenger, his wife Fran, and their five children -- Phil, Diane, Jeff, John and Sue Ann -- have moved into a rented home in the northwest section of Washington. Getting settled in their new home has not been without problems. The children and Mrs. Clevenger, along with most people here, have had repeated bouts with the flu. The baby, 11-month-old Sue Ann, had a close escape when she pushed open a door and tumbled down the basement stairs. Fortunately, she was not seriously injured.

CONGRESSMAN Clevenger said that one of his biggest problems is that of covering the distance from one end of his District to the other. The 22 counties of the new Eleventh District comprise all of the old Twelfth District and all but two counties of the old Eleventh District.

Clevenger said he hopes to return to the District at least once a month while Congress is in Session and more often thereafter.

By FRANK MARTIN

It's that time of year...the time when March madness...better known as tournament fever...hits the population...Unless you live in an area where are rabid fans, you just can't imagine how serious this illness might be...I'm serious when I say that nothing is sacred as these people battle for tournament tickets, rides, and games...And all of a sudden, basketball teams become the major force in the lives of all too many people and youngsters who have been enjoying this game up until now are expected to have the wisdom of Solomon and perform feats of magic....

Sure, everyone likes a winning team but please, won't you keep this in the proper perspective...I'll probably be accused of not having faith in the Raiders...But I have and I hope they'll go all the way...But if the cards are stacked against them and they don't make it all the way, please remember they're kids who are giving their best, they've given you a lot of good basketball all season and that no one wants to win more than they do.... And to Coach Don Carey and the Raiders...lots and lots of luck...I'm hoping, as you read this, you've made it through that first night at Boyne and that you're on your way to greater things...I have great hopes for you because I know that's what you want...But in case it doesn't turn up all roses I love you all just the same....

AND SPEAKING of basketball, I'd love to have been at the pep rally one day recently when members of the basketball team changed their garb from that of jerseys to cheerleader outfits...with Steve Smith, Al Lusk, John Dicha, Danny McKenzie and Dave Norton playing the roles of our cute cheerleaders...And I'm told they looked ever so "chic"...in their pretty pleated skirts and sweaters....

While everyone else is thinking only of that white stuff that we have in abundance, two gals about town are showing off their signs of spring...Mrs. Shelby Goss has the first crucifix we've heard about...not peeking out from under the nearest snow-drift but coming up in her enclosed breezeway-turned-greenhouse... And Mrs. Russell Mieras is one of those patient people who wades through the snow, takes cuttings from a bush and, viola! a lovely bouquet that looks and smells like spring...forsythia! She came carrying a darling little basket the other day to share her breath of a new season though the snowflakes were coming down at the time....

You know, you can meet the most interesting people in the funniest ways...I've been looking after an apartment for a friend of mine who is out of town...We had a little accident which resulted in damage that necessitated an insurance claim...As a result there appeared an insurance adjuster...a guy who has a bad name because of his work...I figure the only way to find out about things is to ask questions...I know I took a lot of this time but I sure came out of this experience with a lot more knowledge of insurance and what you can buy than I ever had before...Now I'm not plugging for insurance companies but I wonder if the average person ever really checks into his policy and knows exactly what he has...How about checking yours and not waiting 'til it's too late...Your agent's a real nice fellow who will, I am sure, explain your policy to you and when he advises you listen...he knows what he's talking about and he's not trying to take you for a ride....

IF YOU HAVE pets of your own, I'm sure you know lots of people who have them...for this is always a conversation btt...Not long ago Bob Winchester was telling me about the pet rabbit his youngsters have...Though it lives in its own hutch, it's invited in regularly to play with the youngsters, just like any pet...It's house-broken, it has its own food dishes...and likes just about anything they feed it... The Ted Brownes also have a rabbit for a pet but he just lives outside...utilizing whatever happens to be handy as a house...he comes when they call him, visits them in the house, expects to be hand-fed...and loves the attention...Then there's Sugar Babe, whom you've all heard about... The other day when I was talking on the phone with his mistress, Mrs. Bob Miller, I heard her say "Mother, will you take care of him?"...and then said to me "he knocked down the cleaning tissue box, took a tissue and took it to Mother. He wants her to wipe his cold little snoot"...Now, that's her story, not mine, but I do know he's a smart pooch...I'm sure you'll remember that he roused the household last year when there was a fire...His alertness made it possible to extinguish the flames before much damage was done... Those of you who can get Station WMSN on the radio may have heard a familiar voice speaking on the subject "Harmony for Living"...It's that of Mrs. Julius Gilbert, columnist-turned-commentator, she does a terrific job at both...Her host on the program is none other than another one who decided he'd like to take a fling at full-time living in the north country in order to ski...none other than Jack Ewing of Sequanota, DeKalb, Ill., and assorted other places...who's been on the announcing staff there since fall....

A BELATED "WELL DONE" to a former Charlevoixian who's climbing to the top in the U. S. Coast Guard...Adm. Willard Smith...who's to take over the Ninth C. G. District this summer...This is quite a milestone for Charlevoix for this will mark the first time that the Commander of the District has been someone we actually know...Though he hasn't been here much in recent years, Adm. Smith has kept in touch with the place which claims him as their own...I'm sure you can't blame us for being so proud...As long as this has been a CG town, he is the only person who has ever gone to the Academy...I could never understand why more young men didn't take advantage of this opportunity...Certainly it hasn't been for lack of talent for we've had plenty of likely candidates.... with it. He said such a group, even without the consultant, might be able to accomplish her objective.

Though councilmen took no action, they indicated they will. Hawley told councilmen Charlevoix Township is considering joining the city in hiring a planner and establishing a joint commission to work with him.

MRS. FREEDMAN said the city should act as soon as possible because, "pretty soon we're going to look like every other town."

"There's a way to grow and a way not to grow," she said.

"If we honkey tonk it all up they're (vacationers) going to come fewer and fewer."

She commended Henry Hogan for his plans to beautify the front of his three buildings on Bridge St.

job, Hawley said, he no longer has these fears.

Rabach said the Township is also working through the Health Dept. and Attorney General's office to draft a water pollution ordinance.

Medusa has agreed, Rabach reports, to consider building a toilet facility on the end of its dock for use by members of ship crews.

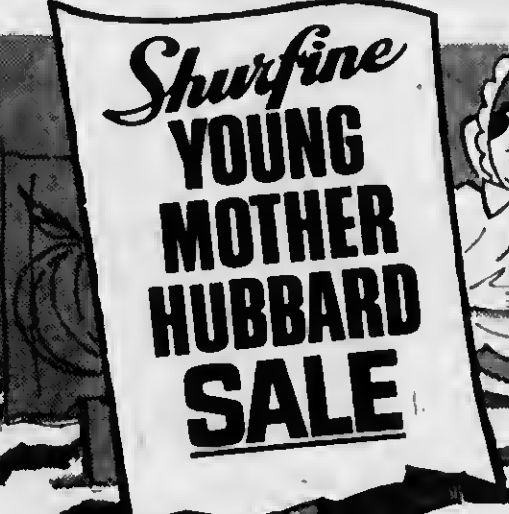

MOST OF THE ships that will use the dock do not have sewage treatment facilities, Rabach explained.

Unless Medusa installs the toilet, ships would be dumping their sewage straight into the lake near the public swimming beach.

If the ordinance can be enacted, and Medusa installs the toilet, ships will be ordered not to use their toilets while here, Rabach said.

In other developments, Rabach said the Township expects to hold an election this spring or early summer on granting a franchise to Consumers Power Co. to run a power line to South Point.

Students Raise Protest

CAUSE OF CONTROVERSY—Students walk through one of the two open breezeways connecting wings of Charlevoix High School. Unfortunately, for the students' cause, the picture had to be taken on a pleasant day. During winter storms prevailing northwest winds blast subzero temperatures through the breezeways.

Open CHS Breezeway Stirs Student Row

Charlevoix High School students have some pretty strong feelings about the two open breezeways connecting wings of the school.

They detest them! The open breezeways, students concede, make for a refreshing breather on pleasant spring and fall days.

BUT, OH THE misery of winter...When winds blow up the bare legs of girls and cut through the thin clothes of all students.

The students sent a letter to the Courier, calling for closing in the breezeways. It was signed by 67 students.

Complaints about the short open breezeways have been discussed several times at recent Board of Education meetings. It came up again Monday night.

The majority of board members appear to favor putting walls up to close-in the breezeways. However, the feeling was also expressed at a board meeting that students who complain are being pampered.

BOARD MEMBERS discussed various methods of walling-up the breezeways at Monday's meeting, but gave no cost estimates and reached no decision.

Al Smith, who was a board member when the new high school was built, reports the architect was questioned about them. The architect said having the breezeways open would cause no discomfort and that Traverse City has them.

The board dropped the matter on this advice, Smith said. The high school cost approximately $100,000 in 1900-01.

Now that the discomfort caused by the breezeways has been discovered Smith favors closing them in. He suggests building a brick wall up about two feet and finishing it in glass may be the answer. Following is the students' letter to the Courier.

"AS STUDENTS of Charlevoix High School, we wish to comment on your recent article concerning a mutual hazard, the breezeway. It would please us to have you know that the 'pampered brats' from town are not the only ones to complain. Ask any of us who have hit the ice, whether from town or country, what we think of the whole proposition.

In the spring or fall, it is actually pleasant to get out in the fresh air between classes, but to have to face high winds, ice, snow drifts, and the bitter cold nearly every hour all winter, without coats and boots, is asking a little too much.

Since we girls are required to dress in a ladylike manner, it is impossible for us to wear stacks and boots to keep warm. Do you realize what it is like to walk from a warm building out into this sub-zero weather with light clothing and shoes? Not only is it uncomfortable, but dangerous. Warm shoes and cold ice naturally add up to trouble, and if you are lucky enough to make it across without falling, you have to face the idea of sitting through the next class with wet feet.

Oh, we city kids aren't the only ones who object; after all, don't many of us walk to school every morning? No, the danger of the breezeway is there for everybody and if you haven't heard anyone from the country complain, you haven't looked very far.

THEREFORE, ON behalf of the entire student body, the small group represented here would like to extend an invitation to those who disagree with us to attend school with us and to cross the breezeway, royally escorted, for one day and see if your minds are changed.

Judge Slates Jury Trails for April

Circuit Judge Charles L. Brown has set April 5-8 for jury trials at the Charlevoix County Building. If the trials are held they will be the first here in more than a year.

Judge Brown said he expects at least two of the three jury trials scheduled may be settled before they come to court.

IF TIME allows, and the attorneys are prepared, the judge said a trial (non-jury) may be held to settle the tax case between Lake Louise (Thumb Lake) Christian Community and Hudson Township.

This case, if it does come to trial, is expected to draw considerable interest.

Hudson township claims the church youth camp cannot legally exempt certain of its lake property from taxes because it is being held as an investment and is not a vital part of the camp.

Trials scheduled for the April 5-8 period are Walker vs Stream-Eze; Sergeant vs Boyne Mountain; Mahenke vs Massey and Kite vs Repligle. Persons on the jury list are:

Girl Scouts May Sell Camp Near Golf Club

The future of the Charlevoix Girl Scout camp property next to the Belvedere Golf Course on Marion-Center Rd. will be discussed at a public meeting next Wednesday, Mar. 17.

All interested persons have been invited to the meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the Congregational Church.

LACK OF interest in the camp could result in its loss, Mrs. Lloyd A. Arnold told the Courier.

She urged all Girl Scout personnel, parents and others interested to attend the meeting.

The camp property is located directly south of the Belvedere Golf Course on the west side of the Marion-Center Rd. The Girl Scouts own 30 acres, including high ground and cedar swamp. There has been virtually no development of the property for camping since it was purchased. A vacant, small white house is located on the front of the property.

Odds Begin to Favor Medusa on Dock Plan

Medusa Portland Cement Co. has broken through the major barrier to getting permission to construct its Point dock, information received by the Courier early this week indicates.

George Taack, Conservation Dept. Lakes submerged lands chief, told the Courier he "doesn't know how the department can stand in its (Medusa's) way."

THE CONSERVATION Commission meets Thursday and Friday of this week at the Jack Tar Hotel in Lansing. A decision may be made then. Earlier this winter the department refused to issue Medusa a permit.

If Medusa clears its dock permit with the Conservation Dept. it still must get the go-ahead from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

The Corps will review opposition and support on the dock permit in Detroit Mar. 18. The final decision will probably be made later in Washington.

HOWEVER, THE Corps has said its only interest is in whether the dock will interfere with small boat navigation. Medusa has designed its conveyor and dock so small boats can pass under it.

Though both those for and against the dock have flooded the Corps with statements, it appears doubtful these will have much influence as they largely deal with fears that Charlevoix's natural beauty will be marred and the need for industry. The Corps is not supposed to be concerned with such issues.

Taack told the Courier, "I believe I will recommend approval of the dock."

"It is definitely within their (Medusa's) legal right."

AS LONG AS the company owns the property, and the dock will not interfere with fish or other natural resources with which the department is concerned, it does not have a legal right to deny the permit, Taack said.

Taack suggested that if those opposing the dock had an alternate proposal to buy the land and preserve its natural state the situation might change.

The Keep Charlevoix Beautiful Committee, which opposes the dock, and the Progress for Charlevoix the Beautiful Committee, which favors it, both stepped up their efforts this week.

The committees appear to be concentrating their efforts on convincing public agencies the majority of people favor their view. Both committees have ads in this week's Courier.

City Ok's Work On Water Lines

City Council Monday authorized engineers to proceed with details to get a $104,000 water system improvement program under construction this spring.

The project will be paid for with reserve money in the City water system fund.

THE WORK HAS been hanging fire for more than a year while councilmen waited to see if a federal grant would be approved to pay part of the cost.

Monday they decided they have waited long enough and ordered engineers to prepare specifications so bids can be taken immediately.

The project will include new water mains on the north side of town to bolster pressure and quantity of water distribution. During peak summer periods the City has had trouble in recent years getting enough water through existing north side mains.

Water main additions will total 7,015 feet.

COUNCILMEN asked that engineers move fast enough so streets can be recovered by July 4. McNamee, Porter and Seelye of Ann Arbor are the engineers.

Other phases of the project are reconditioning and painting of the water tower on the channel, and improvements at the city water pumping station on Lake Michigan.

"Make sure they use a different color paint so we know they did the job," Councilman Bill Fochtman kiddingly said in regard to painting the water tower.

LAWUIT SETTLED ON OLDHAM DEATH

City Attorney John Michael announced that the $150,000 lawsuit against the City and Consumers Power Co. has been settled out of court in favor of the heirs of 14 year old Gary Oldham.

Michael would not disclose the amount of the settlement. He said the settlement cost both the City's insurance company and Consumers Power Co., but not the City.

Oldham died Oct. 25, 1963, when he was electrocuted by a city utility wire while climbing a tree near Sherman and Mason streets.

His heirs brought the suit charging the City and Consumers were responsible due to alleged faulty wiring.

EMPLOYEES ASK FOR COUNCIL'S SUPPORT

City Policeman Glenn Pemberton appeared with a group of other city employees and asked for Council support on the April 5 election on whether they will get a pension plan.

"The Council is sympathetic or we wouldn't have presented it," Mayor E. D. Hawley told Pemberton. "The majority I've talked to are in favor of it," the mayor added.

Pemberton said the public is concerned about whether the

CHS Back in Cage War at Petoskey

Could this be the year Charlevoix's Rayders win the State Class C basketball crown? The next hurdle on the road to Lansing is Mason County Central.

The Rayders meet Mason Central at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday) in Petoskey High School as they make their first appearance in a regional tournament since 1962.

Charlevoix's district championship eagles drew a first round bye in the regional playoffs Sunday.

In the opening round of the regionals Tuesday Mason Central beat Gaylord.

The Rayders won the district title Sunday at Boyne City, beating Petoskey St. Francis 85-70 (story page 10).

Following the regional tournament drawings in Petoskey Sunday, Coach Don Carey said "We are in the strong bracket. This Mason County Central, a consolidated school which took in Scottville, is a strong team that comes into the tournament with an overall record of 14 wins and six losses while Gaylord has a 16-3 record. Either team will be tough. We will have to meet them sometime so it might as well be Thursday."

He went on to say that he would have a chance to see both teams in action Tuesday which will be a break.

"I understand this Mason County Central team is made up of big boys. We know what Gaylord has. So, all in all, I don't think we did too badly in the drawings," he added.

He did say that the Glen Lake - Grayling bracket was the weaker of the two. Glen Lake comes into the tournament with a 16 win-four loss record after trimming Elk Rapids in the finals while Grayling has a 14-6 record for the season.

THIS WILL mark the nineteenth time in Rayder history that they have gone into the regional tournament as they are set up today.

The last time was in 1962 when the Rayders advanced to the regional finals only to be downed by Frankfort 52-48.

This is the sixth time that coach Carey has taken the Rayders into the regionals.

The last time the Rayders won a regional tournament was in 1955 when they defeated Traverse City St. Francis 54-48 to advance to the state quarter-finals, where they were downed by the Houghton Gremlins who went on to capture the Class C state title at Lansing.

Charlevoix has advanced to the semi-finals in state competition several times but has never made it into the state finals.

Should Carey's eagles make it to Lansing there is a chance

HE ADVISED parents to read to their children, play word games with them and use dictionaries, trips, and personal experiences as aids in making them want to read.

Everything Trim on Sundew for Spring

The 20 year old Coast Guard Cutter Sundew has been spruced up for spring.

When the Sundew leaves her moorings at the city dock on Round Lake about the middle of March she will have new paint on her bulkheads, overhauled engines, and new tile on her decks.

Even the radios and other small equipment will be in ship shape condition.

The Sundew shutdown for routine maintenance Feb. 15. The job was completed and the ship ready for duty again Mar. 8. Lt. Cdr. Paul T. Anderson, skipper, reports. During the lay-up period, the ship drew its power from city electricity.

The three week period is used for what Lt. David Smith, exec. officer, calls "paint-up, fix-up, clean-up."

THERE ARE about two such periods a year for the ship and others that are shorter.

During the period the Sundew's 42 crewmen worked a regular 8-to-4 shift daily. One-third of the crew stood watch during each day's remaining 16 hours.

Anderson sees a very good chance the ship will be called out of port immediately now that the "availability" period is over for ice breaking duty.

Mar. 15 the Sundew will begin carrying men and equipment to offshore lights in northern Lake Michigan and Lake Huron.

THE BUSIEST time of the year for the Sundew and her crewmen is coming up. They will be ready.

The Conservation Department maintains about 1,500 state forest campsites in Michigan which are available for free use. Located mostly in the northern part of the state, they provide the essentials for outdoor living -- tables, stoves, drinking water, and pit toilets.

Our Symbol

One of our most treasured relics is the Liberty Bell. It is so-called because it was rung on July 8, 1776 to summons the citizenry for the terse announcement that the Declaration of Independence had been adopted. Today, it remains the greatest symbol of a nation free from tyranny in government and intolerance in religion.

...that nation is America. But one fact often overlooked is that when the historic bell was originally cast its makers turned to the Bible, to Leviticus, for the words inscribed around its contour: "Proclaim Liberty throughout the land unto all the inhabitants thereof." What a beginning! What a heritage! What a privilege to be a son or daughter of Freedom's Land. What a blessing to be an American.

How great is our Symbol!!!

GOP Congressmen Blast Clevenger for Protest

The Republican Congressional Committee charges that northern Michigan Rep. Raymond F. Clevenger tried to cripple the House Un-American Activities Committee by voting to withhold funds from the Committee pending public "hearings" to "justify" its budget request.

The GOP Committee in a statement to the Courier, noted that the House voted 332-to-58 against a motion supported by Clevenger, which would have held up $370,000 in funds for the Un-American Activities Committee's work. The GOP group pointed out that HUAC members estimated that the so-called "hearings" would have delayed their investigation into subversive activities in this country at least six months.

"FORTUNATELY," THE Republican Committee said, "the Congressman's vote was not decisive because the vast majority of House members realized the importance of having a Committee of Congress with powers to investigate subversive activities, whether they come from the far left or the far right. The vote, however, was highly indicative of the type of Congressman now representing this District."

"As Democratic Congressman Edwin E. Willis of Louisiana, Chairman of the Un-American Activities Committee, stated on the House floor, the basic drive to abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee comes from the Communist Party and from Communist-front organizations. Unfortunately, Congressman Clevenger's vote has lined him up with every subversive organization in the country who is trying to abolish the Committee."

Noting that some Democratic Congressmen have protected against the Republican Congressional Committee calling attention to their House votes, the Committee said:

WE WISH TO THANK Doctor Sheets and the staff of the Little Traverse Hospital who were so good to my wife in her last days of her life. Also we wish to thank the Charlevoix Fire Department for their co-operation in collecting the funds, which was a blessing from all the people who sent the wonderful gifts of cards, foods, the Charlevoix schools, and also Rev. McBratne and all the churches, May God bless all of you. Dewey A. Bruce and Family. (13x1)

OUR DEEP appreciation and gratitude are extended to our relatives, neighbors and friends for their deeds of kindness, expressions of sympathy and floral tributes tendered to our bereavement, the death of our mother and grandmother, Mrs. Theresa Walker. We especially want to thank Rev. Raymond McBratne and Willard Shomin for their comforting words, The Family of Mrs. Theresa Walker. (13x1)

IT IS with deep appreciation and gratitude we express our sincere thanks to our relatives, neighbors, friends, church groups and all other for the many expressions of sympathy shown us during our bereavement, the loss of our daughter and sister, Mrs. Dewey (Hilda) Bruce. Chamber Campaigns

Ellsworth Wants New State Road

The voice of some of the people in Ellsworth is, "We thought the new Chamber directors were going to do great things."

All I can say is that the rejuvenated organization is only six months old, the membership has more than doubled, the directors have held regular monthly meetings, the attendance has exceeded 75% at each meeting, several committees have been organized, and contacts have taken place that are not for publication at the present time.

There is certain committee business that is slow but they want to be correct in their operation. The Chamber can not do it all along, it needs the support of the community.

I am happy to announce that the Roads and Highway Committee has a proposal it is sending to the State Highway Commissioner.

Ellsworth is without a class A road, period. How can a town operate under these conditions? Most people don't realize the tonnage of material moved in and out of Ellsworth. All merchandise carried by the railroad for East Jordan is transported to and from Ellsworth's railway depot. At the present time road restrictions are in force and all haulers are restricted to carry less weight on class B roads during this season. On many vehicles the load is cut in half.

THE STATE Highway Department was asked several years ago about extending M32 from East Jordan-M66 to Ellsworth and on to Atwood. This would then make the only State Highway to cross from the East side of the state to the Western part in the north. Just look at the State road conditions north of Cadillac in this North-West region. IT'S SICKENING.

In this area the tourist attractions are the greatest in the state—winter, summer or fall—and motorists are compelled to travel on hazardous roads.

When are the people downstate going to wake up to the fact that the farmers, backwoodsman and city dwellers have been using these same roads since before the war, and there has been a big increase in family motor vehicles.

I heard one man from out of state, traveling with his family, going to a ski resort, make a statement, "After leaving Grand Rapids the road became narrow. As one drives farther north does the road become narrower?"

Ellsworth Chamber of Commerce is not asking for a Super highway, but a road that will be adequate to carry freight to US 31 to the west or to M66 to the East. How can a town enforce industry where trucking conditions such as this exist.

All companies who have trucks presently using County Road 626, approached by this Chamber survey, would definitely be helped by a better road at this location.

The Chamber of Commerce request is as follows:

That Michigan Highway M-32 be extended from M-66 at East Jordan to US-31 at Atwood over the present route of County Road 626 through Ellsworth and that this highway be classed as an All Season Class A State Truckline with necessary reconstruction to comply to load limits of

Funeral services were held Mar. 3 in Illinois.

She was born in Ellsworth Dec. 4, 1893 and married Mr. Bushey in Ellsworth Feb. 7,

Three Fined

Justice John Connolly fined John Essenburg, 39, of Atwood, $35 for hauling freight without a state permit.

Essenburg, Connolly explained, was hauling freight by motor vehicle from East Jordan to Chicago without the required Michigan Public Service Commission franchise.

CONNOLLY ALSO fined James O. Chapman, 34, of Traverse City $110 for furnishing alcoholic beverages to a minor, and Larry L. Drenth, 22, R-3, East Jordan, $15 for talking on the highway.

Talk of the Town

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Gallagher left Tuesday to spend a week in Grand Rapids with their children.

Mr. and Mrs. William Golden of Jackson spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Golden. On Sunday Mrs. Golden's mother, Mrs. Ben Yetlow of East Jordan spent the day with them and enjoying her Great Grandchildren.

Mrs. Joseph Williams visited with her Uncle and Aunt Mr. and Mrs. George Sands in Flint last week.

WITH ROY

Saturday, Mar. 6, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Drenth and their five children started on a journey that will take them to California. There they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Donald Drenth. The purpose of the trip is to bring Grandpa, (John Drenth) back to the country. His kin folks back home in Ellsworth believe he has had enough of that city life in China.

SEVERAL PEOPLE have phoned me on the article about Stranges Corners. Mike and I appreciate the interest some people have shown. This hazardous corner can only be corrected by the number of people reporting their views. A person suggested a petition of the township on a definite stand. Please call Paul Doctor, Mike Tillotson or myself (Roy Staudenmeyer) about your ideas.

ALL THAT it takes to bring home the young folks is a gain against Bettefair or Central Lake. Many that I did not see but heard were at the District Tournaments. Norma Drenth, Esther DeYoung, Thelma Drenth, Sandy Jansen, Martine Wyasna, Vicki Rood, Mary Jean Essenburg, Ken Drenth, Blit Alward, Chot Drenth, Helen DeYoung and Henry DeYoung.

A BABY BOY was born after the Bettefair, Ellsworth game Wednesday night. The mother who gave birth was Sonja Martin, sister to Ken Richardson a Lancer player. The father John Martin is doing fine.

Ellsworth Wins Title In Class D Tourney

By KATHI WELAND and SUSI PETER

ELLSWORTH-Central Lake and Bellaire again were victims of mighty Ellsworth last week as the Lancers beat both of them for the third time this year in their climb to the District Class D championship.

ELLSWORTH'S cagers whalloped Central Lake, 85-53, in Saturday evening's district tournament finals at Petoskey.

In the semi-finals the Lancers had to go into overtime to beat a determined Bellaire outfit, 80-69.

The score by quarters against Central Lake Saturday was 25-13, 37-27, 66-39. Chet Boss was the top point getter for the Lancers with 24. He was followed by Ken Richardson with 17.

The Bellaire game was the most exciting of the two.

At the end of the fourth quarter Bellaire had managed to knot the score 64-64.

The Lancers went into the three minute overtime with the stops out. Before the 160 seconds were over Ellsworth had dumped 16 points through the hoop, to Bellaire's five.

The score by quarters showed Ellsworth ahead all the way, 22-16, 37-33 and 51-46. Chet Boss had 25 points for the Lancers and Ken Richardson had 21.

Lancer Cage Notes

By ROY STAUDENMEYER
ELLSWORTH -- Extra! Extra! Read all about it, Bellaire's arrogant Jerry Ash is held to eight points against Ellsworth when he played in Wednesday night's tournament game.

The Bellaire Eagles regained their poise and a spark ignited when Jerry fouled out late in the fourth quarter. Ellsworth had an eight point lead at the closing minutes of the game, it appeared to the fans, as if the Lancers thought the game was in the bag with big Ash sitting on the bench, but the Eagles reserves were not to be denied the opportunity to tie the score.

With the score tied 64 all, the two teams went into a three minute overtime period. The Lancers came out on the floor for the three minutes and showed the crowd the brand of ball they are capable of playing.

They poured in 16 points in this short period of time and Bellaire was only able to make five. This was the third time Ellsworth beat Bellaire this season.

Gary Torn, 15, face was red, he only made one basket out of 13 free throws. Ellsworth fans have seen Gary make almost that many in succession.

Walt Kooyer should be praised for covering Ash like a blanket, Jerry probably thought it was his shadow.

The District Finals for bracket No. 1 were played Saturday night in Petoskey. The teams were Central Lake and Ellsworth. The first thing that was noticed was the huge crowd for Ellsworth and the small number that came out for Central Lake.

It probably sounds like the same old story, but the Ellsworth Lancers have one of the largest followings in the area. As you have read in the paper Ellsworth has the smallest enrollment but the fans old and young come out in numbers and cheer their heroes.

The conversation amongst the spectators before the game seemed as if Central Lake would give the Lancers a hard time. The Trojans at times during the game caught fire but were extinguished by the Lancers speed. Chet Boss on the fast break would receive the ball when Walt or Ken would steal it. This was just too much for the Trojans.

Gary was back in form once again by making his free shots. Marv Iuts was working hard under the basket and his rebounding had this quintet far ahead of Central Lake. When the Lancers scored 29 points in the third quarter, Coach Bob Danforth started a whole new team for the fourth quarter. The Lancers continued to score for an easy victory and the District Championship.

Now to Traverse City and the Regional Tournaments. Our hats off to a fine squad and good sportsmen. Congratulations to Bob Danforth for controlling the team when the chips were down in the Bellaire game.

The Charlevoix Rayders advanced to the regional tournament at Petoskey by defeating Petoskey St. Francis 85-70 Saturday night and winning their first district title since 1962.

The Rayders worked their way into the district finals by winning over East Jordan 76-54 in the semi-finals on Thursday night and 90-49 over Boyne City in the opening game of the tourney.

SATURDAY night saw the Rayders colliding head-on with Petoskey St. Francis, a team that had won over Mancelona 71-62 to advance to the district finals.

Rayders Scrap for Title

Dave Smith picked up the Rayders' first point from the free throw line with 7:42 left on the clock. The Crusaders countered with a field goal with Doug Winnell matching it at 6:40 for a 3-2 lead. However, the Petoskey quintet started to hit and pulled to a 7-3 advantage before Charlevoix knotted the score 7-7 at 3:05.

Stugging it out, the Rayders came through with a slim 16-15 lead as the quarter ended.

As the second quarter got underway, the two teams traded buckets before the Rayders pulled to a 26-19 lead at the midway mark. As the period progressed, the Rayders set the pace and assumed control of the game for a 32-23 halftime lead.

THE CHARLEVOIX Rayders took full command of the game as it went into the second half, rotating to a 46-34 lead with three minutes left in the period and continuing the torrid pace for a 55-42 third period edge.

The Rayders continued to find the range for a 69-48 lead at the 5:23 mark with all five players hitting.

As the game went into the last five minutes, Dave Smith and Jim Uhrick took over the scoring duties for 15 points before Coach Don Carey pulled the starters and substituted freely as time ran out.

Though trailing badly, the Crusaders continued their of-forts for a comeback down to the final horn.

Norton paced the game for the victors with 23 points followed by Smith and Uhrick with 19 each and Doug Winnell with 13 before he went to the bench with five fouls with 2:22 on the clock.

TOM STEWART carried the scoring load for the entire Crusader squad with 34 points or one less than half their total of 70 points.

On Thursday night, Charlevoix downed East Jordan in a game which the Rayders led 16-9 at the quarter; 31-26 at the half and 51-40 going into the final period.

The game was much closer than quarter scores indicate for the Red Devils put forth great effort to upset the league champions after losing to them twice during the regular season.

In that game Norton had 26 points; Uhrick 18; Winnell 17 and Terrill 10.

Mick Bell came through with 19 and Fred Malpass 12 for the Jordanites.

Sentences Given In Circuit Court

Circuit Judge Charles L. Brown last week handed criminal cases ranging from petty larceny to statutory rape.

The stiffest sentence handed out was a one to two year term in Southern Michigan State Prison (Jackson) to Lester A. McCloughlin for his third drunk and disorderly offense.

MICHAEL F. McClosk at Boyne City pleaded guilty to statutory rape of a minor girl. He was referred to the probation department for a sentence recommendation.

Dort J. Gillespie pleaded guilty to petty larceny and was fined $25.

Herbert Lawson pleaded guilty to petty larceny and paid $35.

James Ernst and Rodney Pearsall both pleaded guilty to breaking and entering of the Lott Bar in Boyne City and were sentenced to pay $110 fine and costs plus restitution.

SAM MEANGWIL of Charlevoix pleaded guilty to his third drunk and disorderly offense and was referred to the probation department for a sentence recommendation.

Clevenger Wants

Auto Tax Break

Congressman Raymond F. Clevenger (D., 11th Dist.) Thursday introduced a measure to eliminate the 10 per cent excise tax on automobiles.

The proposal would have the effect of reducing the price of automobiles by an average of $225 per car.

"THIS 10 PER cent tax on automobiles, which began as a 3 per cent tax in 1932, has been particularly burdensome to families in middle and lower income groups," Clevenger said.

The Congressman pointed out that the automobile manufacturers have assured the Ways and Means Committee that the tax reduction will be passed along to auto buyers.

tence recommendation.

Robert N. West pleaded guilty to resisting a law enforcement officer and was ordered to pay $100 or 90 days in jail.

Raymond K. Gould was put on two years probation and ordered to pay $60 fine for indecent liberties.

Fire Guts Cabin,

Pet Dog Killed

Fire completely ruined the interior of a cabin behind the Moonlight Gardens on US-31 north last Thursday afternoon, Dick Wells, assistant fire chief, reports.

Wells said the cause of the fire was not determined.

GERALD FRY, who was in the cabin when the fire started, reportedly escaped unhurt. However, his pet dog was killed by smoke inhalation. Wells said all of Fry's personal belongings were destroyed.

The City fire department also made one false alarm last week to Freedman's Aircraft Corp.

Weeds Can Be Kept From Corn

BY ED REBMAN
Extension Director

BOYNE CITY -- The weeds left by mechanical row cultivation can cost farmers 10 to 40 percent in lost corn yields, reports a Michigan State University crop scientist.

"A basic weakness of the row cultivator is the poor control of weeds in the row," says William Meggitt. "It is much more effective when combined with other mechanical or chemical weed control practices."

HE NOTES THAT a post-emergence application of 2, 4-D is being used on more corn fields than any other herbicide. It controls most annual broadleaf weeds, but it is ineffective on grassy weeds. The amine form should be used to reduce the possibility of corn injury.

"In recent years," says Meggitt, "pre-emergence applications have gained wider use because of their potential for seasonal-long weed control. Their usage would even be greater if results from them were more consistent."

"When rainfall is adequate, pre-emergence applications of herbicides work fine. The water disperses the chemical throughout the upper layer of soil, working it in close to germinating weeds."

"Without enough rain, farmers should be using a rotary hoe or cultivator to supplement the herbicide."

THE MSU CROP scientist points out that atrazine is the most popular pre-emergence weed killer in Michigan.

"Pre-emergence application of atrazine controls most annual weeds for the entire season," he says.

"Our most serious perennial weed, quackgrass, can be controlled effectively with fall or early spring applications of atrazine or by a combination of amtritol - T before plowing and atrazine pre-emergence."

But atrazine at rates over two pounds per acre in one season or two pounds per acre in more than one season has the potential for carry-over injury to crops such as small grains, white beans and soybeans planted the following year. These residues are most serious where rainfall is relatively low. Sugar beets should not be planted following corn treated with atrazine.

"MIXTURES OF atrazine with linuron (Lorox) and prometryne show promise of reducing these residual effects without injuring the corn or reducing weed control effectiveness," says Meggitt.

Pre-emergence applications of linuron have been cleared for control of broadleaf and grassy weeds. However, corn does not have a high degree of tolerance to lin-

Impact of Appalachia May Spread to N. Mich.

WASHINGTON - Congressman Raymond F. Clevenger (Democrat, upper Michigan) reports passage of the Appalachian program ought to be the first step in regional approach to areas of economic distress which could and should benefit northern Michigan.

Clevenger, Sault Ste. Marie attorney and newly elected Congressman, commented after the House voted on the $1.1 billion Appalachian Bill. The Congressman supported the measure.

"THE SPOTLIGHT of the country has been focused on Appalachia for the past two years," Clevenger said. "While it is true that this area is in dire need of Federal help, we cannot afford to overlook other areas of the country which also are in need of assistance."

Clevenger said that in addition to Appalachia, areas such as northern Michigan also demand attention.

"In the Eleventh District, for example, unemployment has been running more than 4% higher than in Appalachia," Clevenger said. "Unemployment of 11.5% in the Eleventh District compares with 6.9% in Michigan, 5.1% for the United States as a whole, and 7.1% for Appalachia."

"With one exception, each of the 22 counties in my District is an area of persistent unemployment under the standards established by the Department of Labor," Clevenger said.

"THIS MEANS unemployment has been at least 50% above the national average for 3 out of the past 4 years. The one exception, Menominee County, has an unemployment rate of 6.2%."

This nice warm weather, our snow nearly gone, and patches of green grass showing, the past few days, has many people thinking that our winter is over, but I am thinking, it is all just false hopes of spring and only wishful thinking, for we surely have more winter coming, perhaps, more than we anticipate. years old, or older. Co-sponsors are the District Health Dept. and Lions Club. Dr. A. F. Litzenger, health dept. director, said glaucoma is the second leading cause of blindness in the U.S., affecting the sight of approximately one in every fifty adults over 40 years old.

THE TESTING program will be held in the high school cafeteria from 8:30-9:30 p.m. Thursday April 22 and from 7-10 p.m. Friday, April 23. Fluoride Treatment Set for Rural Kids

The District Health Dept. in cooperation with the Charlevoix Schools and local dentists, are beginning to plan with the Michigan Department of Health for the topical application of sodium fluoride to the teeth of rural children.

The program will be made available to pre-schooler, kindergarten, second, third, fifth, sixth, eighth, and ninth grades. In addition to these, special cases will be accepted if referred by the family dentist. The charge for the cleansing and four applications of sodium fluoride will be $3.

CHILDREN living within the city and drinking city water will not need these applications as it is added to city water.

The topical application of sodium fluoride to newly erupted teeth will reduce new tooth decay by 40% in groups of children, Mrs. Jeanne Mies, community nurse, said. In addition to these benefits the program offers a valuable dental experience with no discomfort involved and dental health education is given the child by the clinic personnel, she added.

The entire procedure consists of four visits to the topical fluoride clinic which will probably be located in the Elementary School. At the first visit the teeth are cleaned and the first application is given. An application of sodium fluoride consists of the teeth being isolated with cotton rolls; then the teeth are dried with compressed air and a 2% solution of sodium fluoride is applied to the teeth. On the second, third, and fourth appointments the application of the sodium fluoride is repeated.

WHAT THIS

TO

WITH AN EYE TO THE FUTURE...

We, the progressive citizens of Charlevoix the Beautiful, with this message make it publicly understood that we wholeheartedly endorse Medusa Portland Cement Co's use of its property in the South Point area in the manner the company has outlined to the Corps of Engineers and the Conservation Dept.

We do this because, as lovers of our town, we realize Medusa's plans will not deprive us of our unsurpassed natural beauty. But also with a very practical realization that the cement manufacturing and loading complex will be an added tourist attraction to Charlevoix.

Charlevoix is our town and we want to keep it beautiful and prosperous.

WHAT 100 NEW JOBS WOULD MEAN TO CHARLEVOIX

Medusa Portland Co. has shown that it is, and will be, a good neighbor. We want it understood that the people of Charlevoix are as fair and progressive as this great company. We trust the various agencies of the government involved in this matter will not destroy Charlevoix's chances for a health future.

Majority Speak

IF THERE WAS ever any doubt as to where the majority stands on construction of a cement plant and dock on South Point it was dismissed last week.

The people of Charlevoix turned out virtually to a person to put their signature on petitions urging Medusa Portland Cement Co. to get its plant and dock in operation on South Point. Hundreds and hundreds of persons signed the petitions, which give Medusa a blank check.

THESE HUNDREDS reacted when the Courier disclosed that Medusa might be forced to abandon its plans to develop facilities here because a small minority was making a major fuss over false accusations that the company would destroy our natural beauty and tourist trade. The result is that no one can now hold even a faint suspicion that Medusa is unwelcome in our community. The majority have emphatically dispelled any such notion.

Of course, there are a few persons who will suffer due to this decision of the majority. We can understand the concern of persons who live at Boulder Park. But, as the Courier has so often stated in the past, this represents an extremely minor consideration when compared to the magnitude of the cement company's benefits to Charlevoix.

We cannot, however, understand the opposition of others to the cement plant. Why should boatmen and summer residents who do not live in view of South Point object?

TO QUOTE FROM a Courier editorial of Sept. 24, 1964: "The dock will not be a liability to Charlevoix... More likely it will add drama to South Point's sunsets. Its outline should be spectacular. Only a small portion of the land will be obstructed."

What inspired the groundswell of public opinion in favor of Medusa? That's an easy question to answer.

Medusa will bring an estimated 100 new jobs to town. An additional 70 or 75 persons will be employed in other jobs due to the economic boost from Medusa. This will mean many of our families will no longer be separated as soon as children graduate from school. They will have steady, year-round employment in Charlevoix.

PERHAPS SEVERAL side benefits should be mentioned. These would include a slow, but definite increase in wages paid by other employers as they are forced to compete with Medusa's pay scale.

Our schools will also benefit because Medusa will ultimately be on the tax roll for between $10 million and $25 million in property valuation.

And perhaps one of the most important, but least tangible benefits is that the majority of Charlevoix residents have displayed they will not be downtrodden by a minority. Let us hope that this lesson is long remembered.

Our Fears Dispelled

THE COURIER'S fear of possible air pollution from Medusa's proposed South Point cement plant has finally been put to rest.

You may recall that last fall the Courier incurred the wrath of many because it editorially campaigned so fervently for annexation of the Medusa property into the City. Our stated reason was because we did not feel Charlevoix Township could afford to employ air pollution technicians to draft and enforce a stringent ordinance assuring there will be no obnoxious smoke or dust from the plant.

AT THE TIME we pointed out we had no qualms about Medusa's good intentions or ability to adequately control air pollution. But our fears were for the future. Without a suitable ordinance, and someone with the technical know-how to enforce it, how, we asked, could Charlevoix be sure the company's policy will not change in 20, or more, years?

Because Charlevoix Township operates on a budget of something like $10,000 we said it would be impossible for it to hire this job done. On the other hand, the Courier contended, the City of Charlevoix can afford to do this job.

Township officials said they had faith in Medusa (as we did) and would have the company's experts help write the ordinance. The Township was unable to provide a suitable answer as to where it would get the skilled technical help to check air pollution and enforce the ordinance.

THE ENTIRE issue could have been avoided if the Township had at that time come up with the idea of using the State's air pollution experts to do the job. This has now been done. Which verifies our earlier position that the Township could not do the job.

For finding this solution we congratulate Charlevoix Township Supervisor Clarence Rabach. His action has restored our confidence in his sincerity and ability as a public official.

During and after the annexation battle the Courier was subjected to several vicious attacks. Now that we have won our point, and effective air pollution controls seems assured, the sting of these attacks is easy to forget.

Stop and Thank Them

CHARLEVOIX'S YOUNGSTERS continue to claim the northern Michigan spotlight. Sometimes their consistent excellence amazes us. For instance, their winning the conference basketball title and capturing all-one ratings in the District band festival in one weekend.

The simple explanation for this is that we have superior young people, or outstanding teachers and coaches, or the finest parents.

OF COURSE, THE truth is a combination of all three. Plus the added ingredient of a community they are proud of.

Let us not lose track of the fact that their success helps make Charlevoix a community we are all proud to be a part of.

The young folks can't always be the best. But we seem to be able to rest assured they are trying their best. What more can we hope for?

Other communities fret about their teenage drinking and hotrodding problems. Charlevoix has these problems, though perhaps in somewhat milder doses. But more important we have the kind of youngsters who will put their heart in a basketball game or band program.

In our praise we cannot overlook coach Don Carey and band director C.A. Odmark. Next time you pass them on the street why not stop and simply say thanks?

Ellsworth's Valiant Effort

ELLSWORTH'S CHAMBER of Commerce has been making a valiant effort to focus more attention on the village's assets. The Chamber's program includes signs and other inexpensive activities to tell outsiders about Ellsworth.

In comparison with Charlevoix's Chamber of Commerce program the Ellsworth effort seems impossibly modest. For instance, Ellsworth's membership dues are a flat $5. Charlevoix's range from $30 to more than $100.

YET ELLSWORTH is getting the job done. Of course, it doesn't hope to attract anywhere near as many tourists as Charlevoix. But simply because it is not afraid to tackle the job it is destined to reap some of the harvest. And for this we respect the Chamber's members.

Though tucked away in virtual isolation away from either a State or National highway, Ellsworth has earned its place on the map. That its citizens have enough confidence in their town and great loyalty to it is evidenced by the fact they are willing to pay 30 mills in school taxes,

THE FLEET WAS IN--The picture shows the south shore of Round Lake near the west end during the spring of 1910. The houses on the hill above Belvedere Ave. are still there. Notice the tv antennas are missing. Nor are there any outboards or props on the boats. The building on the waterfront belonged to Capt. G. C. Geiken. In the smaller picture on the left, taken in 1905, he is seen reeling out his fish nets to dry beside the building. The pictures were donated by Mrs. James Goskin and Mory Margaret Geiken.

Dear Editor:

Writer Calls for End Of Bickering on Dock

DEAR EDITOR:

So much has been said and talked about the last year about the Medusa Cement plant wanting to get permission to build a conveyor and dock on Lake Michigan to get their limestone out that they paid for long ago. It is mentioned in the Courier that this company now has paid taxes on this land for the last 38 years.

Everyone here in Charlevoix knew about this and they all knew that the company never could get this limestone out without having docks to load their boats. Four years ago the company asked the city to close the dump road and close the city dump they intended to start the stone operations. There wasn't anything said to block the company's plans. Charlevoix Township closed the dump road and built a nice road from the old road south then east to connect on truck line 31 south of the city.

NOW MRS. FRAN Martin and her committee is up in the air to block all these plans and are going to do everything possible to block the company from taking their limestone out which they paid for long ago and paid taxes on all these years.

Now if Miss Fran Martin bought a home or land years ago and was told now she couldn't never sell her property, she had to just forget it, she no doubt would start a big holler. But this is just what she is trying to do to the cement company. Also some of the ones that are on her committee make their money in the city under the old smoke stacks and black smoke. They were satisfied to take it and didn't want anyone to interfere with their work. But now being they live here in Charlevoix everything must be just as they want it. This committee sure is all for themselves.

Now we all agree that no one wants the beach of Charlevoix spoiled. That's true. And no one wants the beaches cluttered.

Get Used To It

THIS ALMOST ghostly scene appeared on the cover of Medusa Portland Cement Co.'s 1965 annual report. It is a sculpture of Perseus holding the Greek goddess Medusa's head. When the jealous goddess Minerva turned Medusa's hair into hissing serpents, the report explains, she became so frightful that living things beholding her turned to stone. "Since the end effect of Medusa was the creation of stone--her head was adopted as a fitting trade mark and her name as the name of our company," the cement firm explains. Charlevoix people will probably be seeing a lot of this trademark if Medusa goes through with plans to build here.

ALSO IT WOULD be a good thing if the committee would walk through the beautiful park that belongs to the city between Park Ave. and Lake Michigan and see the litter of broken beer bottles, paper bags, brush of all kinds. That's litter we have in the city park on Lake Michigan.

Now the city can't keep going just on the resort business they need industry to give more work. We sure need all the small plants that have come in to Charlevoix. Our merchants need business to keep going. There is no doubt whatever if this dock was built no one would in a short time even think any more about this dock.

Furthermore, why would these ships pollute the lake any more than the freighters that go through Round Lake to Advance now?

Now certainly the supervisors of Charlevoix County wouldn't build a new road which they did around the Medusa property and then turn the company down for permission to build a dock. They are a more level headed group of men to deny this request.

Everyone that is interested in the advancement of Charlevoix should write to the Conservation Dept. and Corps of Engineers to give the Medusa a permit to build their docks and harvest their limestone.

By FRAN MARTIN

Like a lamb the month of March made its entry...and now everyone is wondering if we're going to pay for it later on... All I can say is that chances are we will for March is known as a blustery month...We usually have our coldest weather with temperatures 'way below zero, we usually have snow storms that pile up feet of that white stuff...we usually get a bit of everything from the worst to the best...Just hope it doesn't warm up enough to force the buds...which has happened on occasion...for though April is the month of showers we usually get some snow and cold that result in nipped buds and loss of a crop...of cherries, apples, or whatever...

And if you'd like to turn a little green, all those lucky people who are in the south are writing of the temperatures in the 70's and 80's...with windows wide open and everyone enjoying the beaches...But we'll have our days, come July and August...

AS YOU KNOW, Charlevoix basketball players get an early start...like down in the first grade...so as these kids develop everyone is pretty much aware of potential players...A few years ago I was watching with great interest a youngster who showed great promise...He loved the game and had the 'markings' of a fine cage star...But then the family moved away...I'd see them occasionally and ask how the youngster was doing...Recently his father sent me a couple clippings and he's doing more than a bit of alright...Who is he? Paul Thodeson, the son of Rev. and Mrs. T. B. Thodeson, who's now on an eighth grade team at Ludington where junior high teams play regular schedules...They've racked up an enviable record and Paul's one of the top scorers with as many as 20 points a game...What we couldn't do with a player like that another year!

I'm one of those people who don't know one bird from another...One day recently I saw the funniest looking bird...that looked as tho' it had lost its tail feathers and had been splattered with white paint...Just about that time one of our regular bird watchers, Mrs. Harley Ochs, called...I described the bird to her and she looked it up...and found it was a downy woodpecker...I don't ever remember seeing one before...Then the following morning one of those cute little colorful woodpeckers with the red dot on his head showed up...along with a baby squirrel...

Someone was telling me there were several cardinals around town...for a long time there was only a pair on the Belvedere property...but now the cardinal population has increased slightly and they're being seen elsewhere...Wish one or two would come my way for I've never seen one...

Not long ago I was invited to help the Cub Scout celebrate the 55th anniversary of Scouting...It's always such a wonderful occasion...and one of the most thrilling parts is to see all the adults who give of themselves so that youngsters might enjoy Scouting...Whether it's for boys or girls I'm all for it...and I know that it's one of the most rewarding experiences of one's life though you may not appreciate it when you're a kid...I speak from experience for when I was, growing up I had the good fortune to be a Camp Fire Girl...As a member I scored up a lot of happy memories and made friendships that have lasted through the years...

ONE OF THEM is Mrs. Martin Hall, whom we still call 'Penny', who was our Camp Fire guardian 'way back then...There's seldom a summer goes by that some of our old troop doesn't get together for a cup of coffee and a gossip... Though we have all gone our separate ways, this one bond brings us together for a few happy hours of reminiscing...And if you adult leaders who are presently leaving of yourselves think you're not leaving something of yourself with these youngsters let me tell you about Penny...who really is the former Laitue Pennell, a Home Ec. teacher who took us under her wing shortly after she came here fresh out of Michigan State...She wasn't too much older then we were at the time but she expected certain things of us and she got them...and even today every last one of us treats her with the same respect that we showed her as kids...I think we all stand a little straighter and hold our head a little higher because of the things we learned from her...So, if you are in a position to work with young people, grab the opportunity...for the rest of your life you will be receiving dividends such as all of us pay Penny... We're all grateful that we can still say 'thank you' to her for all she did...and continues to do...for us...who gave her such a bad time before we had the good sense to appreciate her...

Pigeons...If you want to know about them, ask me...An anonymous caller told me he was sure there was a flock at the Charlevoix Co-op...a likely place for there's seeds of food...And the single pigeon on East Huribut belongs to Wayne Russell, the son of the Miles Russells who live in the neighborhood...He's a pet who's let out every day and who makes the rounds of the neighborhood...And from reports he gets about...

Was talking with Clara Walker the other day...She was telling me about an experience she had the other morning...She said about 6:45 a.m. she happened to step outside her door and just glanced at the sky as she looked about...She was sure she saw something traveling from north to south...but thought, too, it couldn't be...She looked away a second and, sure enough, it was still moving...She called her brother, Jerry, to see if he'd have a witness...She asked me about it...and now I can't remember what it is...My guess was that it's Echo II...but I'm not sure...I do know that something put up by this country can be seen occasionally for I see it listed in the newspaper...so if you know, won't you tell me so I can pass the word along...She's the first one to see it, or at least to report it, in ages...

And please, may I wish our readers lots of luck...I'm assuming that they'll still be in there pitchin' as this appears in print...I'm hopin' they keep goin' and goin'...to the top.

ADDRESSES TO write to are: U.S. Army Engineer District Detroit, Corps of Engineers, 150 Michigan Ave., P.O. Box 1027, Detroit; and Dr. Ralph A. McMullan, Director, Conservation Dept., Lansing.

The Progress for Charlevoix the Beautiful Committee is informally headed by Irving Drost and George LaBlance. The committee was hurriedly formed last week to organize a last-minute petition drive to gather signatures favoring Medusa's plan.

Monday LaBlance said more than 900 signatures have been gathered on the petitions. The initial goal set last week was 3,000.

Petitions circulated last fall by the Keep Charlevoix Beautiful Committee, headed by Chairman Frances Martin, urged local officials and Medusa to work together to have the dock located on the far side (west side) of South Point, to preserve the sunsets and the clear view of the bay.

THIS PETITION also called for enactment of a stringent smoke abatement ordinance. Charlevoix Township is now in the process of adopting such an ordinance under State guidance and administration.

Miss Martin said "close to 1,000" persons signed the petition calling for efforts to relocate the dock and conveyor bridge.

The conveyor bridge, as outlined by Medusa, will extend 1,400 feet into Lake Michigan from the east side (town side) of South Point, at an angle approximately inline with the channel mouth.

At the end of the conveyor bridge will be a 1,060 foot dock for loading and unloading ships.

"We are not trying to keep industry out of Charlevoix," Miss Martin said. "We are merely trying to get it (the dock) on the west side of South Point."

MEDUSA officials earlier said they studied the possibility of putting the dock on the west side of the point and found it would cost $3 1/2 million. This is $1 1/2 million more than the dock on the east side is reportedly going to cost.

Medusa also said a dock on the west side would be unusable on many days due to weather and would suffer considerable ice damage.

If the company gets its dock permit, Worth Loomis, vice president, has said it hopes to begin construction of the dock and a cement plant in the spring of 1966.

Sap Running

Charlevoix Kiwanians expect to start tapping maple trees in town this week for their annual syrup making project.

It was announced at Monday's Kiwanis Club meeting that the sap is about to start running. The club also heard a talk on Norway.

retirement plan would raise taxes and asked Councilmen to pledge that it won't.

The pension plan reportedly will cost the City approximately $10,000 annually.

Councilmen would not promise a tax hike won't be required to cover this expense, if approved by voters April 5.

"Either we cut back or raise more millage," Hawley said.

TWO REQUESTS FOR REZONING IN CITY

Councilmen received two requests for rezoning.

Jesse Penn asked that the amusement park property belonging to Allen Pease on the corner of Norwood and Carpenter be rezoned to light manufacturing so he can construct an 80 by 100 foot building and move his Great Lakes Fabrication company to the site.

The Lodge asked for rezoning of its property from R-2 to C-1 to allow food service work.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stephan, 207 Prospect, appeared and said they object to rezoning of the southeast corner of Prospect and Petoskey Ave. to allow the Carey Oil Co. to build a service station.

THIS AERIAL PHOTO reveals, for the first time in any newspaper, the exact location and relative size of Medusa Portland Cement Co.'s proposed dock on South Point. The dock's size and location, in relation to South Point and the Pine River channel piers, is shown by the thin wavy line in the white strip jutting out from the east side of the point. The heavy wavy lines on the land are the border of Medusa's property on the east and west. The photo, properly lines and dock were supplied by the Conservation Dept.

New Complication for Medusa Plan Unveiled

A new complication for Medusa Portland Cement Co. in getting permission to build its dock here was unveiled last week.

Henry Hogan, Birmingham investor, told the Courier he will use what political influence he can to delay or halt the dock.

MEDUSA received the sanction for its South Point dock plan from the Conservation Commission Friday.

The Keep Charlevoix Beautiful Committee and several individuals asked the commission to withhold its endorsement.

The commission, on the recommendation of George Taack, head of the Conservation Dept.'s Great Lakes Submerged Lands Section, decided the dock plan was legal.

Hogan, who heads a group that owns the Lake Terrace Hotel (Beach Hotel) and several downtown buildings, said he will attempt to get the State Administrative Board to delay giving its final approval to the Conservation Commission's decision.

THE STATE Administrative Bd., made up of Gov. Romney, the lieutenant governor, secretary of state, attorney general, and other top state executives, must act before the Conservation Commission's permit to build the dock can be issued.

Hogan said he believes Charlevoix people may decide they would rather have more tourist business than the dock if they understand the economic facts. He said he will try to outline these in future issues of the Courier.

It is his contention that Charlevoix cannot have the kind of tourist business he predicts is possible if it has the cement dock and plant.

For instance, Hogan said the large hotel his group planned to build on the Beach Hotel site would employ approximately 250 people year-round, and the cement plant only 100.

IF THIS information reaches the public, Hogan feels, it may convince it to withdraw its support of Medusa.

More than 1,000 Charlevoix citizens signed petitions supporting Medusa's plan.

Hogan said he cannot influence the Administrative Bd.'s decision. The board, he said, will decide the issue primarily on what it thinks the people of Charlevoix want.

However, if the board holds off making a decision for a while, Hogan hopes public opinion will change.

HOGAN, an attorney, is a former member of the State Legislature and a Detroit area newspaper publisher.

If the dock is constructed, Hogan said his group has definitely decided it will not build the nine-story hotel originally planned for the Beach Hotel site. The possibility remains, he said, that a motel will be built on the property, or that it will be sold.

Because he does not feel heavy industry, such as Medusa, and the type of tourist business his group is interested in are compatible, Hogan said he is considering curtailing plans to develop the Gelken, Birkrant and Odd-fellow buildings into plush summer shops.

Hogan appeared before the Conservation Commission last week to argue against the dock. He contended that though the company has a legal right to build the dock, the permit should be rejected because it will destroy valuable natural beauty.

OTHERS WHO argued against the dock were Dave (Continued on page 14)

Ellsworth Fights for Link to Rest of State

ELLSWORTH—This quiet little village is not content to have the rest of the State whiz by only a few miles away without knowing of its charm.

Village leaders have prepared a carefully researched and fact-filled case in hope of convincing the State to open it up to the outside world.

IN ITS BATTLE for improved roads Ellsworth is getting full support from the East Jordan Chamber of Commerce.

There isn't a single state trunkline that passes through the village, or even within spitting distance of it, the Ellsworth Chamber of Commerce contends in its report.

Ellsworth, the chamber feels, has been allotted a somewhat inferior status by the highway planners. For most practical purposes it is isolated from tourists who pretty much stick to state highways.

Adding to this insult is the fact that County Rd. 626, between Ellsworth and East Jordan, is seasonally restricted to trucks with small loads.

COUNTY RD. 626 is the village's most direct link with a state highway. It is only 4.7 miles between Ellsworth and East Jordan village limits. From East Jordan M-66 takes travelers and trucks north and south and M-32 takes them east to I-75.

The Chamber of Commerce's solution to this humiliating handicap would be to have the State extend M-32 from East Jordan west through Ellsworth to US-31 at Atwood. This, it says, should be done by rebuilding County Rd. 626 so that it meets state trunkline standards.

The Chamber is a bit too practical to expect this right away.

So, it has proposed several temporary alternatives to relieve its immediate problem. These include:

1—Waiving load limits on 626 north and south and M-32 east to allow full truck use;

2—Minor improvements to 626 so that it can be given "Class A" County road status, making it an all-season, unrestricted road.

The Chamber reports its survey of firms using trucks on the road reveals the following hardships due to the load limitations:

1—Trucks coming to Ellsworth from southern Michigan must carry reduced loads all the way, just for the last six miles from East Jordan, adding to the cost per pound.

2—Heavy loads are shipped out of Ellsworth on two trucks and then reloaded at East Jordan to a single truck for the rest of the trip.

3—Rail freight destined for East Jordan is shipped from the railroad at Ellsworth by truck to East Jordan, requiring more loads.

The Chamber reports at least 63 trucks regularly travel between Ellsworth and East Jordan and carry more than 29,000 tons a year.

Nineteen firms were queried by the Chamber about truck usage of the road. All 19 reportedly said removal of the load restrictions between Ellsworth and East Jordan would benefit them.

Fire Destroys Country Home, Family of Eight Loses All

A family of eight lost all of its belongings in a fire Monday that destroyed its country home.

The blaze may, also, have doomed a historic Charlevoix County landmark, the former Phelps School, that is thought to date back to early lumbering days.

MR. AND MRS. Richard Moore, and six children were able to save only a few clothes from their converted school house home on the northeast corner of the Phelps-Marion Center Rd. intersection in south Marion Township.

The Goldman fund immediately announced it will aid the family in obtaining clothes and other necessities.

Mrs. Arthur Ranger said persons wishing to help the Moore family can contribute to the Goldman fund in their name. All money donated for the family will be used to buy items it needs.

Contributions should be sent to the Goldman Fund, care of the Charlevoix County State Bank, and earmarked for the Moore family.

FIRE CHIEF John Curtis reports the fire was reported at 8:15 p.m. Seven Charlevoix volunteer firemen responded, taking the fire truck and tanker to the home about seven miles south of town.

Only Mrs. Moore and the baby, three-year-old Lydell, were home at the time. The other five children, ranging in age up to 15, were on their way to school.

Mrs. Moore, who works nights at Circuit Control in East Jordan, was awakened by the baby.

Sheriff Glenn Rose said that if the baby had been a few minutes later in awakening Mrs. Moore they could have suffocated.

"I NEVER SAW so much smoke in my life," Rose said. "It looked like the whole countryside was on fire."

Mr. Moore said the family is temporarily staying with Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Dixon, 605 Norwood Rd.

He purchased the former Phelps School in 1956. He has remodeled it into a three bedroom home.

Moore said he has not decided if he will try to start rebuilding again.

City Gives $162,301 to County in Winter Taxes

City Treasurer Annabelle Cunningham has turned $162,301 over to the County.

The money is taxes Miss Cunningham collected from city residents for the county and school district.

SHE REPORTS her collections of winter taxes represents about 90% of the total taxes due. The remaining 10% must be paid to the county treasurer or it will go on the delinquent tax sale roll.

The biggest single taxpayer in the city was Belvedere Club, which paid $13,114.64 on the club proper, which has an equalized valuation of $588,100 on the tax roll. The club paid $4,704 in City taxes last summer.

The city's second highest taxable valuation is on the Chicago Club, $210,600. Freedman's Artcraft is third, Miss Cunningham reports, at $141,200.

Of the $162,301 collected by Miss Cunningham, $108,503 goes to the school district, $49,173 to the county and Grandvue and $4,625 to the Intermediate School District.

THE EQUALIZED mill rate in the city for County and school taxes was 22.30.

Beach Hotel to Re-Open

The Old Gal Will Try Again

A once grand lady of the north is going to try this summer for at least a temporary comeback.

Henry Hogan and associates have announced they will re-open the Beach Hotel (now Lake Terrace) for the coming summer season.

IT WAS generally felt the Beach Hotel would never re-open when Scott Wilson closed it more than a year ago. It is the last of Charlevoix's once numerous luxury hotels.

The sprawling, 100 room, frame building at the west end of Dixon Ave. appeared to be destined to host only vagrants and curiosity seekers until the day it was torn down.

However, Hogan announced this week his group of Birmingham and Detroit investors, who purchased the property this winter, will make a stab at giving the old gal a chance to prove she still has life.

Hogan said the bar and dining room will be remodeled. The hotel will concentrate on the dining business. This is necessary, he explained, because the tourist liquor license will be lost by default if it is not used this year.

THE HOTEL has weathered its year of emptiness without major damage from vandalism, Hogan said. Minor vandalism has been substantial, he added.

Not all of the hotel will be put in use this summer, he said. How many floors will be remodeled for guests has not been decided.

Last spring a group of Detroit area promoters announced they were buying the hotel and, with the help of local and federal money, hoped to build a nine-story hotel on the site.

When this group failed to get its financial backing Hogan bought the property. Though figures have not been officially confirmed, it is estimated the cost was between $75,000 and $100,000.

ONCE ONE of the most gracious summer hotels in the north, the Beach opened about 1905 and was expanded to its present size before World War by Mrs. Martha R. Baker. It included 14 luxury cottages.

Total capacity of the hotel and cottages was 450 persons, with a dining room for 350.

Mrs. Baker's daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur VonDolke, were next to manage the hotel. Then, after fire destroyed part of it, Bill Flynn took over. He was followed by Eugene Kramer and Scott Wilson.

An expensive brochure on the hotel, issued while VonDolke owned it, describes the hotel as:

"CHARMINGLY located on the bluffs, right on the shore of Lake Michigan, and offering every facility for your entertainment and comfort, is the Beach Hotel.

"The Beach was the first hotel in Charlevoix to have an elevator and its own laundry. . . . Spacious verandas and lounge rooms invite those who come for rest and quiet. All rooms are large (Continued on page 14)

DO YOU EVER have those kind of days when you're convinced the most needed invention is a legalized pesticide for two-legged rats?

A community newspaper editor has days when just about everyone who stops in has an accusation or nasty word about somebody else. On such a day he gets to thinking there is no sweetness and understanding left. The world, he begins to feel, would be far better off without people.

But there's a cure for this. It's free. And only as far away as the Retarded Childrens Center at 201 E. Garfield. There can't be a cynic in the land who wouldn't benefit from a visit with Mrs. Robert (LUI) Bergmann and her charges. Such an experience might not make believers of cynics, but it is sure to upset their rotten little minds.

Thoreau, I seem to recollect, once suggested we would be better off with a world of good men, instead of do-gooders.

The Retarded Childrens Center is a fitting example of what can be accomplished by good people, as compared to the empty deeds of do-gooders.

Mrs. Bergmann was telling about a confusing miscarriage she and her pupils witnessed recently.

Seems all the kids were anxiously awaiting the delivery of baby puppets, which the swollen lady fish in the bowl at the center appeared about on the verge of having.

One morning they came in, and as customary, rushed to the fish bowl. Only to find Mrs. Guppy had lost her bulging tummy and the bowl was crawling with baby snails, but no small fish.

PHILIP GREGG's neatly mimeographed "Beaver Beacon" is, on this St. Patrick's day, celebrating its tenth anniversary as Beaver Island's first regular newsletter since King Strong days.

Though the rumor cable tells me there's no fondness for this ramblin in Gregg's heart, I can't help but praise his happy little sheet. There's some as would discount it as unworthy of journalistic consideration because it's printed like a high school paper.

But not this corner. The Beaver Beacon does a remarkable job of gathering and reporting the news of the island. At times it's witty and provocative.

School Report Card

By WESLEY FLEET

"Vocational Education" as it is defined by the Vocational Education Act of 1963, means vocational or technical training or retraining which is given in schools or classes under public supervision and control, or under contract with a state board or local educational agency, and is conducted as part of a program designed to fit individuals for gainful employment as semiskilled or skilled workers or technicians in recognized occupations. The needs of two distinct groups of people are served by these programs: First, those who have entered upon, and secondly, those who are preparing to enter upon the work of various occupations in the fields of agriculture, business and commerce, distributive, homemaking, and trades and industry.

Vocational Education helps to give definite purpose and meaning to education by relating training for job skills, it also develops abilities, understandings, attitudes, work habits, and appreciations which contribute not only to successful employment but also to a satisfying and productive life.

There have been a number of laws enacted in recent years for the purpose of training individuals for a place in the labor force. However, they were designed specifically for persons out of school in most cases unemployed. An example of this is the Manpower Development and Training Act.

Vocational Education Acts, such as the George Barden and Smith-Hughes Acts, have been the backbone of vocational programs functioning in many of our schools until the Vocational Education Act of 1963 was enacted. These Acts performed a respectable job in certain of the vocational fields but did not accomplish the complete job. The objective of the new Act is to provide training for all interested individuals in all of the vocational areas, and reads as follows:

The purpose of this Act is to authorize Federal grants to states to assist them to (a) maintain, (b) extend and (c) improve existing programs of vocational education.

To develop new programs of vocational education.

2. To provide part-time employment for youth who need the earnings from such employment to continue their vocational training on a full-time basis, so that persons at ALL AGES in all communities of the State--

a. those in high school

b. those who have completed or discontinued their formal education and are preparing to enter the labor market,

c. those who have already entered the labor market but need to upgrade their skills or learn new ones

d. those with special educational handicaps will have ready access to vocational training or retraining which is of high quality, which is realistic in the light of actual or anticipated opportunities for gainful employment, and which is suited to their needs, interests, and ability to benefit from such training.

Talk of the Town

Mrs. James Law, Gerald Left and Capt. Edwin McCann have returned from Chicago where they attended funeral services Saturday for her brother, Joseph Donlevy, 78, retired Great Lakes sailor who died Mar. 3. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Miller of this city came from Jacksonville, Fla., for the service and will spend some time in Milwaukee before returning home. A native of St. James, Mr. Donlevy had resided in Chicago for many years and at the time of his retirement was a mate aboard a Great Lakes ship. Among his survivors are his wife, La-Bella; two brothers, Daniel of Chicago and Francis of Muskegon and four sisters, Mrs. Sadie McDermott of Chicago, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Law and Mrs. Helen McCafferty of this city.

Mrs. Edwin McCann left by plane to be with her sister, Mrs. Giles McCann at Walter Army Hospital, Fort Dix, New Jersey. Mrs. Giles McCann was flown from Goose Bay Labrador for a major operation.

Extension Clubs Give Aid to Grandvue Student Nurse Aides

By CLARE BROWN
Home Extension Director

Education isn't practical these days? That's not what members of the nurses aide class at East Jordan High School say! This interesting class of high school girls is taught two days a week by Mrs. Elizabeth Robertson, School and Community nurse. Their text is a course of work prepared by the U. S. Department of Health and Welfare.

When the girls had sufficiently mastered some of the techniques required of the nursing aide, Mrs. Robertson made arrangements with Mrs. Hilda Hartle of Grandvue Hospital to have the girls spend one afternoon a week at the hospital. They spread their help county-wide. Mrs. Robertson picks them up at seven o'clock and takes them home.

ise that sick people in a hospital feel better and get well faster if they can see that nursing aides as well as the doctors and nurses, are carefully trained to take care of their needs. Their sole purpose is to help people get well and stay well.

In December the Charlevoix County Extension Study Clubs learned these girls had no uniform to wear at the hospital. Many of the Extension clubs and the Past Matrons Club of the East Jordan O.E.S. gave a uniform as a Christmas gift to the class. Now the girls wear the red and white candy stripe uniform that is the characteristic uniform for girls in this type of project.

Did you know that St. Patrick is the patron saint of Ireland, though he was not a native of Ireland, he was born in England. While a boy he was taught the Christian faith. When St. Patrick was about sixteen, a band of Irish raiders seized him and carried him to Ireland as a slave. Later he escaped by boat and went to France. Here he became a monk, returning after some time to his home in Britain. One day, in a vision, he heard the call to go to Ireland as a Christian missionary, so he went to France, where he spent several years preparing for his life's work. At last he was made Bishop and returned to Ireland as a missionary. There he established Christianity, building churches and converting many people. The shamrock is the emblem of Ireland and is always connected with St. Patrick, so our very best wishes to our Irish friends.

Drive the nail into the board... that is penetration! You may be sure it won't enter of its own accord. It must be driven with sufficient, well-concentrated, properly directed energy. It takes a real artisan to wield a hammer like that. It takes a genuine God to penetrate some of our lives the way He does, too. Jesus "hit the nail on the head" when he said, "There is a way that seemeth right to a man, but the end thereof is the way of death." The Great Carpenter teaches us the fine art of living... how to flex the wrist to give the proper blow... to hold the tongue and protect a good name... to give a faithful witness and save a soul... to lose yourself in a cause infinitely bigger than yourself. Go to church Sunday and drive that nail straight and true. That's penetration!

ELLSWORTH'S Gary Tornga lays up a shot for the Lancers. The player on the right appears stunned by the move while Marv Ruis (number 30) prepares to grab the rebound...if there is one.

Lancers Lose In Crack at Regional Title

By KATHI WIELAND and SUSI PETER

The Lancers were thwarted in their bid to compliment their district cage trophy with its regional mate in a hard fought game with Leland.

Leland beat the Ellsworth cagers 70-67 in the opening round of regional tournament play. The Leland squad went on to win the tourney.

PLAYING AT Traverse City, the Ellsworth team had plenty of support, not only from hometown fans, but also from Bellaire and Central Lake boosters.

At the end of the first quarter the Lancers trailed 12-10. During the second quarter the two teams remained almost deadlocked as they traded basket after basket. The halftime score was 31-30, Leland's favor.

Ellsworth led briefly in the third quarter, but Leland was ahead 54-47 when the period ended.

In the last quarter Ellsworth dropped behind by 11 points, then tied the score at 64-64, only to lose ground as Leland forged ahead to win by three points.

Ken Richardson led Ellsworth with 22 points, followed by Chet Boss with 19.

The Ellsworth Community School Board of Education reports that the school office.

A GROUP OF Antrim County citizens traveled to Lansing Tuesday March 9 and talked with Legislators from the Northwest, Northeast and Upper Peninsula Regions. These men were given the time to explain their stand on important issues and how their particular area can be assisted in legislation, not with dollars and cents.

If we as citizens are concerned about the area in which we live, then we should be interested in the Bills coming before the Legislators. The remark by one Senator, "We can only act on the issues when the people back home voice their opinions." There are many times when people are literally hurt by some action, most people sit back and never let themselves be heard.

It is your duty first to find out what the bill contains, second how this will affect yourself and third what problems exist for some other people. Some important Bills that should be of interest are: Tax Reform, Meat Inspection, Dairy Unfair Trade Practices, Michigan Minimum Wage Law, State Marketing Order Bill and National Affairs, Michigan Apportionment.

MISS MARGARET Kenison of Kalamazoo, Adult Advisor of the Michigan Conference Methodist Youth Fellowship has informed Yvonne Matchett that she has been elected to the office of Chairman of Christian Outreach. Some of Yvonne's duties will be to plan for the 1965 Youth Assembly at Lake Louise, attend the annual Conference Youth Weekend at Albion College in June and be required to attend Youth Assembly at Lake Louise, in June 14-19. Yvonne will serve on the Executive Committee for one year. Of the nine offices in the conference Yvonne is the only one to represent the northern area.

It has often been said that the only logical substitute for a new Cadillac is one that has seen previous service. Whatever you plan to invest in your next car, above all consider Cadillac.

If you are like most people, you hope someday to own a new Cadillac motor car. For Cadillac's continuing greatness in design and engineering has made it one of the world's most desirable and sought-after possessions. But if a new Cadillac is not presently feasible, you should consider the pleasure and satisfaction that would be yours with a late model, previously-owned Cadillac. Your dealer currently offers an unusually wide selection of fine used Cadillacs at a cost in line with that of many new cars of far less stature and quality. These fine Cadillacs are all in superb condition, and many offer features not yet available on other makes. And from a standpoint of investment, remember that a Cadillac traditionally returns more of its cost at resale than any other car at or near its price. So visit your authorized Cadillac dealer, and let him show you a Cadillac—new or used—that will fit your budget. Your visit will be the wisest motoring move you have ever made. Why not make it this week?

Outdoor Rambling

The Jordan River, a stream that has earned its place in Michigan trout fishing mythology, is attracting new attention.

Though the Jordan has been a consistent producer, its prestige in recent years has faded behind such streams as the Ausable, Pere Marquette, Platte and others.

THE JORDAN'S claim to stream angling fame began back in the late 1800's when surveyors and timber scouts discovered its grayling population. When gluttonous anglers had virtually depleted the grayling in the Ausable and Manistee they moved north to the Jordan. Only to repeat their shameful performance.

Lamprey in Lake Michigan and Lake Charlevoix then took their toll of the stream's big brown and rainbow trout.

Now, however, indications are the big browns are coming back in number. District fisheries chief Stan Lieveuse points out Ironton perch fishermen have reported regular catches of browns through the ice this winter.

WITH THE lamprey coming under control, and the browns being a hardy breed, Lieveuse sees the Jordan regaining its position as a leading producer of big trout. Frankly admitting he doesn't know the Jordan well, having only moved to the district last year, Lieveuse bases his optimism on reports from East Jordan sportsmen and an almost instinctive knowledge gained from years in the fisheries business and an addiction to angling.

STAN, AT THE request of the Jordan River Sportsman's Club, has asked the public and Conservation Dept., to study the possibility of setting up a four mile "quality fishing" zone on the river.

This, if approved by the department and at a public hearing, would restrict a short section of the Jordan to fishing with artificial lures only (flies, spoons, plugs, etc.) The section under study starts at Webster Bridge and extends upstream for about four miles.

Stan points out he's neither pushing or opposing the project. It's up to the public, as far as he's concerned.

Arguments in favor of the restricted fishing are that it will create an environment where more fish will have a chance to reach lunker size.

ARGUMENTS against are that persons who prefer to use worms will not be able to fish that portion of the stream, consequently many small fish will die that would otherwise have been caught.

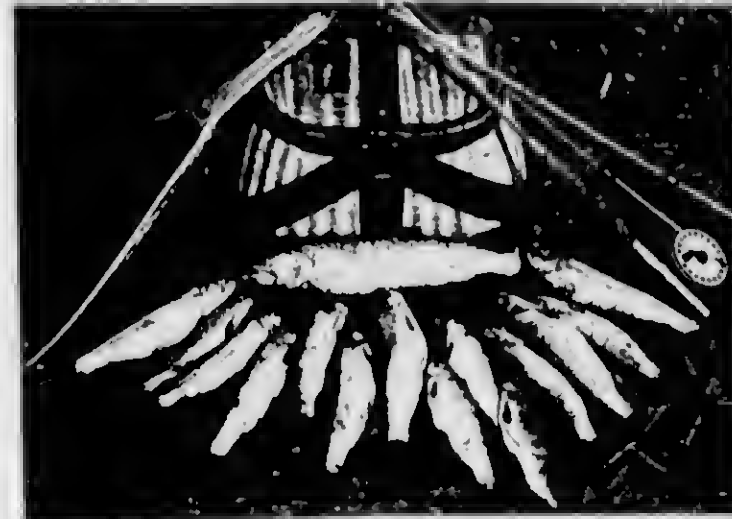

Because the section of stream under consideration is not generally wadeable, the proposal doesn't get strong support from this column.

There is plenty of merit in restricting some streams to artificial lures only. There is no doubt such water produces old fashioned, quality angling. But because this kind of fishing is more expensive and demands more skill than bait fishing the number of persons who enjoy it are limited.

This will be even more limited on the Jordan because most quality trout fishermen use flies and wade.

IF TOO MANY miles of good trout water is restricted bait fishermen, who constitute the majority, are going to get up in arms and demand all restrictions be removed.

I do almost all of my trout fishing on a fly-only stream east of Charlevoix county. But recognize I am in a small group and that minorities should not be making things uncomfortable for the majority. So why be a hog?

MAY BE COMING BACK—These brown trout were caught by fly fishermen in the Jordan River about 15 years ago...before the lamprey did its work.

Local Airman Helps Army Win Top Award

Staff Sergeant William Hyllinski, radar controller at the Bay Shore Air Force unit, shared in the recent winning of an Army-wide trophy by the Detroit area Nike air defense unit.

Hyllinski was temporarily assigned from Bay Shore to the Detroit Army Nike unit. While he was there the Army unit won a trophy for having the most effective radar bomb scoring program in the entire Army Air Defense Command. All Nike units compete for this honor.

The Bay Shore Air Force bomb scoring unit furnishes men to the Detroit Army unit. These men train and supervise the Army in scoring procedure and techniques.

While scoring-bombers on their accuracy is the primary mission of the Bay Shore unit, it is a secondary duty for the Nike units. Major Alvin J. Aronovsky, deputy commander of the Bay Shore unit, was at Selfridge Air Force Base near Detroit for the trophy presentation ceremony.

Carey Sees Tourney Foe as Tough, Tall

It's on to the Michigan State quarter-finals for the Charlevoix Rayders Wednesday night!

The game will pit the Rayders against the Upper Peninsula Class C regional winner, Wakefield, who dumped Stephenson 48-41 Saturday at Marquette to enter the ranks of the "Sweet 16" of the Class C circles.

THE CHARLEVOIX Rayders captured their first regional title since 1955 at Petoskey Saturday night by defeating Grayling 61-49.

Saturday's victory marked the Rayders' first regional title since 1955 though they had gone into regional finals three times since then, the last time in 1962.

Coach Don Carey saluted this week, after hearing reports on the Wakefield-Stephenson game, that "the U. P. team is a fast-breaking outfit that boasts a 6-5 center and a 6-3 forward. They are a well-balanced outfit with all five players capable of shooting. They played a man-to-man defense against Stephenson and will likely use the same tactics against us."

He went on to say this was a quarter-final game and that when two teams that have come this far clash it should be a good ball game.

HE SAID: "If the team plays good basketball and has a little luck they could keep going."

Regarding Saturday's game with Grayling, Coach Carey said only that the team did come back after trailing as much as 20-8 at one time to win, a feat that most teams could not have accomplished. The same was true in the Mason County Central game

Thursday night when they were behind 18-6. "It's winning the ball game the hard way but they did succeed," he added.

Saturday's game saw the Rayders overcome a 24-13 halftime deficit to outscore the Grayling Vikings 26-11 as the second half got underway for a 39-37 margin as the game went into the final period.

Dave Norton took over the scoring load as the game went into the final period to score five field goals and connect on four of six free throw attempts for a total of 30 points for the game.

PLAYING A tight zone defense and controlling the ball, Grayling forged to a 20-10 first period lead.

As the second quarter got underway, neither team could find the range and seemingly made every error in the book as the Rayders scored three points and Grayling four for a 24-13 halftime advantage.

However, the Rayders came back as the second half opened pouring in 26 points for the period including nine by Doug Winnell who had left the game briefly in the second period to be treated for a head laceration as the result of a collision on the floor. Norton had eight; Dave Smith, four; Jim Uhrick, three and Warren Belding, two, as the Rayders got back in the game.

Grayling, playing an outstanding game at times, tried to hold the Rayders in the second half but found the task too much as they lost their big center, Walt Nielsen, and forward, Jim Robertson, via the foul route. THE RAYDERS outscored the Vikings 21-19 in the field goal department and connected on 19 of 27 free throw attempts while collecting 23 personal fouls, Grayling hit on 11 of 23 attempts and had 22 personal fouls. Saturday's game was in sharp contrast to the Rayders meeting with Mason County Central Spartans who had defeated Gaylord 81-67 on Tuesday to go against the Rayders in the semi-finals.

In this game the Spartans forged to an 18-6 advantage before the Rayders hit their stride to come back 18-12 at the quarter and outscore the big Mason County lads 22-11 in the second period for a 34-29 halftime lead.

As the game went into the second half, the Spartans trimmed three points from the Rayder lead but Charlevoix, using a full court press and forcing the Spartans to play their brand of ball, held on 49-47 at the three-quarter mark.

WITH BOTH teams hitting, the score was tied at 50-all and again at 52-all before the Rayders pulled away to outscore the Spartans 26-21 for the 75-68 victory as they tried to gain possession of the ball in the closing minutes.

Charlevoix had one more field goal than Mason County Central, 29-28, but made up the difference on the free throw line where they connected on 16 of 30 free throws to 11 out of 22 for the Spartans. Winnell and Jim Uhrick had 19 points each and Norton 18 for the lion's share of the scoring while Del Terrill contributed 10 and Dave Smith eight as the Rayders played their finest game of their season.

Sundew Begins Opening Lights

By L. A. McLAUGHLIN
Monday, March 15, marked the opening date for the various light stations operated by the U. S. Coast Guard in northern Lake Michigan and Lake Huron. It will also terminate the preparation period for the spring shipping season on the great lakes.

The Coast Guard Cutter Sundew, based at Charlevoix, has been assigned the task of providing transportation for the crewmen of the various light stations. Stations scheduled to open this week are Grey's Reef, northeast of Beaver Island, Lansing Shoal and White Shoals, north of Charlevoix, and guard stations at the western end of the Straits of Mackinac. The crewmen of these lights, after a long winter on other units, report aboard the Sundew the 15, for transportation to their spring and summer units.

Lt. Cdr. Paul T. Anderson, commander of the Sundew, is working in close conjunction with Lt. Cdr. Charles Millard, commander of Coast Guard Group Charlevoix, to have the lights open at the earliest possible date. The possibility of heavy ice and poor weather conditions are major factors in the opening operation.

March 8, after completing three weeks of "charlie status", used primarily for minor repair, the Sundew left her berth at City Dock for ice operations in Grand Traverse Bay and the Traverse City area. After encountering ice conditions of six to eight inches in thickness, the cutter rendezvoused with the tanker Mobile Chicago and escorted her into Traverse City, after which the cutter returned to Charlevoix.

The following morning, March 9, the Sundew was underway at approximately 7 a.m. for Traverse City, where the cutter met and escorted the tanker safely through the ice of Grand Traverse Bay and into the open water of Lake Michigan. After making a brief ice survey, the Sundew returned to her home port of Charlevoix.

New Dozer Proved Self On Snow Removal Duty

BOYNE CITY -- Charlevoix County took a step this winter toward solving the problem of fast snow removal which occasionally bogs down ski resort and school bus traffic, Jack Fitzgerald, Road Commission superintendent, reports.

The road commission purchased a rubber-tired tractor dozer with V-shaped snow plow attachment.

Jack Fitzgerald, road commission superintendent, said the machine, a Michigan Model 180 tractor dozer, gives Charlevoix County a mobile piece of equipment that can travel over paved roads to clear snow in a hurry.

According to Fitzgerald, the tractor dozer was put to the test during winter.

Fitzgerald said the county gets more for its tax dollar from the rubber-tired unit because it replaced two seasonal machines. The Michigan performs both snow removal and road construction work.

"Before," says Fitzgerald, "we used a crawler dozer for construction and clearing work and a blade-equipped truck for snowplowing. We couldn't use the crawler to clear snow from paved roads because it tore up surfaces and the truck was idle most of the time when it didn't snow."

"Also, we had to load the crawler onto a semi-trailer whenever we wanted to take it on a job. Now -- because the Michigan can be driven right down the highway -- the semi-trailer is free to haul our crawler crane."

When snow comes, the tractor dozer's 10-ft.-3-in. dozing blade is removed and replaced by the 9-ft.-8-in. snow plow.

The Charlevoix County road commission is responsible for maintaining 172 miles of primary roads and 564 miles of county roads, as well as some of the park land which borders the county's 30 square miles of inland lakes.

Agonizing Issue

CHARLEVOIX'S CITY Council finds itself confronted by the necessity to make a difficult decision on rezoning a piece of north side property.

No matter how the Council decides it is going to disappoint some. This will always be true in controversial rezoning matters.

BUT MORE perplexing is the fact that whichever way the Council decides it will be unable to satisfactorily support its stand with the losing parties.

Should Councilmen choose to deny Thomas Carey's request to rezone the Prospect - Petoskey Ave. corner where Gordon's Port now sits, it will make more friends than it will lose. But it will have left the bigger issue unanswered.

Carey wants to build a service station on the corner. Others have had the same desire. Not being in the gasoline peddling business we assume that those who know what they are doing and that a station is needed on the east side of Petoskey Ave. north of town.

Likewise residents of the immediate area are understandably concerned about the feared intrusion of their quiet neighborhood.

SHOULD COUNCIL bow to the wishes of the majority of immediate neighbors and deny a respectable citizen permission to pursue his constitutional rights under our free enterprise system.

Councilmen must consider that hundreds of persons who do not live in the neighborhood might benefit from being able to use the station's services. These would undoubtedly outnumber those opposing the station.

So which side actually represents the majority?

Does Council have the moral right to strangle further business development away from the downtown area, or to decide that a main state trunkline, such as U.S. 31 should be restricted to residential use?

AREN'T THERE already too many service stations south of town?

If Carey gets the nod does it mean the door is wide open for a rash of new stations north of town?

Of course, somewhere there is an answer that can be shown to be right for the majority of Charlevoixians and for our town's future.

But Councilmen do not have that answer. And they cannot be blamed.

THE ANSWER cannot be found by weighing the pros and cons of this one issue. The problem is far bigger than that. What is needed, as Councilmen now seem to realize, is a master plan, drafted by a citizens planning commission with guidance from a professional consultant.

Such a plan would be developed after comprehensive study of not only the future need and most desirable location for service stations, but also all other types of business, residential, industrial and recreation property.

With this plan to follow Councilmen could make their decision without leaving many questions unanswered. They could be confident that their decision will result in orderly, meaningful growth for Charlevoix.

They Would Disarm Us

THEY'RE AT IT again. Out to clamp the lid on we disreputable, dangerous citizens who own firearms.

The President has recommended more regulations on the citizen's right to purchase and bear firearms. Other legislators and groups are proposing even more stringent controls.

TO THE UNINITIATED--which quite often includes those of us who like to hunt and target shoot--proposals to restrict who can buy guns and how they are bought, seem harmless. After all, we are law-abiding, citizens and don't care if the government knows how many guns we have. We have no doubt our request to purchase a new rifle or shotgun will be approved, since our intentions are purely honorable.

It is the criminals the government wants to take firearms away from, we realize. So why should we worry?

Why? Because the fact is that laws have been in force for years that make it illegal for criminals to purchase or bear handguns. But whoever heard of a bad guy who couldn't get a gun if he wanted one?

SUCH LAWS, obviously, do not work. They only make it impossible for good citizens to have the firearms they are constitutionally guaranteed the right to have. The end result being that the innocent are unarmed and completely at the mercy of armed criminals.

But even more frightening, studies reveal a great number of murders are committed not by hardened criminals but by common folks who go berserk and gun down their loved ones or neighbors.

As unpalatable as this fact may be, it indicates that many of us could blow our top tonight, grab the shotgun out of the closet and cut loose.

So to prevent this the law must make it impossible for any of us to have guns. If we allow the government to make its initial grab for control of our right to bear firearms it undoubtedly will lead to these extremes.

AND WHAT happens in the far future when some power-crazed politician or military leader realizes he has the whole country under his control because it is unarmed?

This very question was what inspired our Founding Fathers to guarantee us the right to bear arms in the second item of the Bill of Rights.

Who Can Blame the Kids?

IT IS INTERESTING to find Charlevoix High School students have their dander up over being called "pampered brats."

Of course, the term was not meant literally. A Board of Education member dropped it during discussion of complaints about the open breezeways at the school. He didn't mean it as strong as it sounded when later reported in the Courier.

BUT, QUITE understandably, it got the kids stirred up. And we don't blame them one little bit.

Not that the kids should take serious offense at the unintended inference that they are pansies. But they have every reason in the world to press for enclosing the breezeway walls.

We have on several occasions found ourselves walking from one wing of the school to the other through the open breezeways during the worst of winter.

It is a miserably uncomfortable experience.

Though there is no good reason why the students should be subjected to this kind of discomfort, we would get excited if that was the only complaint.

OBVIOUSLY MORE is involved. During the rush to get to class someone could easily fall and be injured on the ice in the breezeways.

And no one will ever know how many colds should be blamed on the open breezeways.

It is too bad the breezeways were left open when the school was constructed. Now that we can see the complications that have resulted it is easy to be critical of those who made the initial decision. But though it may be easy, it is not particularly fair or constructive.

The fact is the problem exists and it is the present Board of Education's job to solve it.

THINGS HAVE CHANGED--This picture shows the fish houses and nets on the south shore of Round Lake in the 1920's when commercial fishing was big business. Since then marinas for pleasure boats have replaced the dory boats. The boat in the foreground is the 36 foot "By Jove" charter fishing boat owned and built by George W. Smith. OUR READERS WRITE

Dear Editor:

Top State Democrat Speaks on Tax Plan

DEAR EDITOR:

This is in response to Mr. Reid Sisson's recent letter, (Courier, Feb. 11) concerning my predictions of the probable fate of fiscal reform in the current session of the legislature.

The Democratic Party's platform, Mr. Sisson and I are in general agreement on the crucial need for total fiscal reform. We have delayed for too long in giving relief to senior citizens, consumers, hard-pressed school districts and other units of local government and, last but not least, the real estate taxpayer. We must also find fair and flexible ways to finance our pressing needs in education, mental health, youth programs, conservation and recreation, etc. Local units of government, particularly townships, have come close to the end of the rope in finding new sources of revenue without going back once more to the real estate taxpayer.

YES, MR. SISSON, a state-wide personal and corporate income tax is the answer, and the sooner you and I can get the rest of the folks to agree with us, the better off we're all going to be.

By the way, my very reluctant prediction has already partially come to pass. In record numbers on November 3rd, Michigan voters decided "to let George do it." But, alas, in his state of the state message Governor Romney passed the buck to the legislature and told them he didn't want fiscal reform until much later. Our Republican governor, Mr. Sisson, wants to spend another $200,000 of taxpayers' money to study a problem that's already been studied to death. While Romney does his tax homework, everyone else can worry about the tax collector.

SINCERELY,

ZOLTON A. FERENCY, CHAIRMAN

No Place for Industry

DEAR EDITOR:

My family and I have spent 25 summers in Charlevoix at 145 Belvedere Club. If the Medusa Cement plant goes ahead as planned we shall sell our property.

Can you imagine breathing in cement dust instead of the lovely fresh air from the west? Can you imagine our little children bathing in the clean waters of our beach on Lake Michigan (last summer) and then to try it with Medusa spewing out oil from the tankers, refuse from every source, plus the eternal noise from a factory. What will happen to the fish?

CHARLEVOIX is a resort area, not industrial. We can't have both!

There are 88 cottages in the Belvedere Club. I do not think I would have to do much persuading to get them all to sign a petition. Do you want it?

We have all poured thousands of dollars into Charlevoix. Can't we have a voice in this?

SINCERELY

MRS. HENRY NAGEL

Spend Taxes on Sewers

DEAR EDITOR:

We read where Mrs. Gordon Freedman made some worthwhile suggestions to our City Council. We wholeheartedly agree with you about brightening up drab sections of our city by planting flowers and painting buildings, especially where people enter our city.

It would be advisable for industries to have their equipment and supplies housed and the buildings painted and the debris cleaned up around the industry.

WE DON'T KNOW what impression people who will be entering our city by plane will get of our slum section which has been long neglected by our City Fathers who seem to be more interested in paying out our tax dollars for recreational activities during the summer months and handing over money to the Chamber of Commerce. We don't see any mention of our City Council voting on this outlay of the taxpayers' dollars.

If some of this money was used for new sewers to make our city free from the disgusting odors which these outside toilets sure must pollute the area around them with.

No privies should be allowed to exist in the city limits and would not be necessary if our City Fathers were more interested in the welfare of our taxpayers who seem to be paying out their tax dollars to entertain the tourists and summer people who are here for a few months.

Why do our citizens make such an issue about the Medusa Cement Co. building on their own property when they were fair enough to furnish transportation for our Mayor and others to go see their factory in the east and they all came back and admitted there would not be any more air pollution than there is from coal furnaces. Let us all write to the government and let it know the working class of people here would welcome them and how this city has always worked against any industry coming here.

Rayders Made it to State Finals

DEAR EDITOR:

I would like to call attention to an error in the Courier dated March 10, 1965. It was stated in an article about the Rayders that this fine Rayder team, through the years, has participated in the state semi-finals several times but has failed to play in the finals in Class "C". This statement is incorrect!

In 1938, the Rayders played in the state finals against Kalamazoo Saint Augustine. They were defeated by a score of 28-24. This fine Rayder quintet was composed of "Brownie" Brown; Keith Carey, brother of our fine coach today; the late Charles Richardson; Chick Gallagher and Richard Bergmann.

I'm sure that this team deserves to be recognized as the only Rayder team to play in the state finals.

Let's salute the Rayders all the way to Lansing and Charlevoix's first state championship in 1965!

Very respectfully yours,

ROBERT RUSSELL BERGMANN

EDITOR'S NOTE--Bob is correct. So was the story--before it underwent copy editing, which eliminated the fact that the Rayders have not advanced to the state finals SINCE 1939, when the current league was organized.

By FRANK MARTIN

And how about this weather...The boss man mentions it but I have to put my two cents in....The Sunday steamed out a couple days last week to assist a tanker in and out of Grand Traverse Bay and apparently found the ice honey-combed and not too hard to push through...And there's talk of getting the crewmen on a couple of the lighthouses in Lake Michigan this week....The news last night told of an Alpena cement company boat expected there one day recently...so, all in all, it looks like an early spring...What with most of our snow gone, everyone's getting spring fever...but remember, it's still March and anything can happen....

Can you imagine anyone who tramps through the country side for a living being laid up with a fractured hip?... Neither can I but that's exactly what's happened to our own special gal, Mary Felndt, county surveyor and gal extraordinaire...Did you know she's the only registered woman surveyor in the state of Michigan and one of the very few in the U.S. to be in this sort of work?... She's looked upon with great admiration by the members of her profession throughout the state and is "top man" in many areas of this type of work...Sure hope she won't have to spend too much time out of the field...And all this because she slipped on the ice recently....So beware...it could happen to you....

AND ISN'T IT about time one taps trees? Must speak to my friend, Ed Shanahan, the local authority on tapping trees for maple syrup....

And may I wish the 'Top O' the Mornin' to my Irish friends...On March 17 there are more people who haven't a drop of Irish blood in their veins who join the "clan"...But the Irish are a happy crew and if these people feel their lives are fuller and happier just by rubbing elbows with those from the old sod, we'll let 'em! I sound as though I have priority on things Irish...I haven't really but I do have my fair share of that happy Irish blood so I feel as though I have a right to say just that...Top O' the Mornin' to you.... Did you ever stop to think how much your newspaper tells about your way of life?...Recently Mrs. Harley Ochs gave me a batch of newspapers printed in English that came from such places as New Zealand, Rhodesia, Capetown, Madras, Japan to name a few places...They were printed as well as news of this country...It's amazing what we look like in the eyes of others...It sort of makes you think twice about what you do and what you say....

I'D HATE TO see some of the newspapers that attack us for the things we do...wouldn't you?

One of the things I noticed was the emphasis on various things...The British newspapers had a great deal of news about the Queen and her doings...they also devote a great deal of space to sports...The New Zealand editions, of course, concentrate on news from down under...and the names they have to spell...Heaven help the proof readers!...There was one from Taiwan...and the things I noticed in this one was the amount of space and detail given to suicides...As you know, they get little mention in the American press but there they get all the lurid details....

And the ads!...Some have display ads as we know them but many have pages of classified ads...and how they find anything I'll never know...everything from engagement rings to washers and volcanic soil all lumped in together....

These people who love auctions would have a ball...I think it was the New Zealand papers that had auctions for everything from cattle to household goods....

NEWSPAPERS NOT only tell of our present way of life but also of the "olden days"...George Krach brought by three old newspapers that he found in the former Wildfield house where he now lives...They're from the 1890's...the Charlevoix Sentinel and the Charlevoix Democrat, the latter edited and published by the late W. E. Hampton...Ads, display ads, that is, on the front page...attacks on political adversaries that today would spell "libel", I'm sure, plus the news of the day...and the types of things offered for sale...sleighs, harnesses, yard goods, many things you seldom even hear of today... And the things that constituted news in those days...signing of a contract for peas, digging for coal at East Jordan, the use of rat skins for clothing... real interesting to say the least....

Had a call from Mrs. Max Gennett Tuesday about the big swan that's been the center of attraction out near the Belvedere golf course...Seems he put in his initial appearance Sunday...he took over the middle of the highway, making it necessary to call out the sheriff's department to remove him from the road...He's been in the area since then...On Wednesday he'd made his way to Stover Creek and the Gennetts were about to find some food for him...Seems he doesn't care for the diet of vegetables they've been giving him....

A SHORT TIME later I talked with Mrs. Bud Gill who mentioned the swans in Round Lake and how much they'd enjoyed them... I told her about this one...She said in recent days there'd been one lone swan on the lake and it was likely the big boy out at the golf course was its mate...could very well be...Someone said they have to be in water to take off in flight... Others say "no"...Mrs. G. said she'd seen them take off from the ice so I'm wondering if the big one has an injured wing or something...I hope he isn't attacked by dogs or something...They're such beautiful birds and such an addition to the community....

CG Boat Safety Patrols Will be More Selective

A new concept in pleasure boating safety will be initiated this summer when Charlevoix Coast Guard small boat boarding parties shift from quantity to quality. A new approach to boarding pleasure craft, called the "safety patrol concept," will be inaugurated here this boating season, Charlevoix Coast Guard Group commander Lt. Cmdr. Charles Millard announced.

IN THE PAST Coast Guard boarding teams have boarded as many boats as possible, checking primarily to see that they meet the federal minimum legal equipment requirements. In 1964, Millard reports, local Coast Guardsmen boarded 237 pleasure boats. They found 217 violations of boat safety requirements. Some of the 237 boats were found to have more than one violation, some to have none. Under the new plan the prime target will be boats that appear to be overloaded, improperly loaded, operating at excessive speeds, engaged in erratic maneuvers and those headed into dangerous waters. "Through greater mobility and more selective boardings, we envision broader impact, while using the same forces," Millard said.

"At the same time, harassment of the law-abiding operator will be minimized," he added.

Good for you, Gregg, Beaver Island deserves its own newsletter and it can be proud of the Beacon.

Figuring the island has a winter population of less than 200, it is safe to say there isn't another community in Michigan of this size with a regular newsletter of anywhere near this caliber.

Because the Beacon is printed in an unconventional format and doesn't have to meet the formalities of competitive journalism it, at times, borders on the nonsensical, making it all the more fun to read. For instance this page 1 feature, titled "Wearin' O' the Green," in the March issue:

Oh, Paddy dear! and did ye hear the news that's goin' round?

The shamrock is forbid by law to grow on Irish ground! No more St. Patrick's day we'll keep, his color can't be seen, For there's a cruel law ag'in' the Wearin' o' the Green!

I met with Napper Tandy, and he took me by the hand, And he said, "How's poor old Ireland, and how does she stand?" "She's the most distressful country that ever yet was seen, For there're hanging men and women there for the Wearin' o' the Green."

An' if the color we must wear is England's cruel red, Let it remind us of the blood that Ireland has shed; Then pull the shamrock from your hat, and thro' it on the sod, An' never fear, 'twill take root there, though under foot 'tis trod.

When law can stop the blades of grass from growin' as they grow, An' when the leaves in summer time their color dare not show, Then I will change the color, too, I wear in my caubeen, But till that day, praise God, I'll stick to the Wearin' o' the Green.

THE TIME IS now for tarrying owners of downtown Bridge St. buildings to get in step with the move to beautify our otherwise spectacular waterfront view. It appears as though the cost of redressing building fronts would be slight, especially in lieu of the overall benefits.

Businessmen, as they seem to realize in Charlevoix, have an obligation to their community, as well as their cash registers. Taxpayers, at large, spend dollars to build tourist facilities and others that are most directly to the advantage of the business community.

Furthermore, it's long been proven that improvements usually pay for themselves by attracting more customers. Actually, many of our commercial buildings on the west side of Bridge St. have already been redressed. Though perhaps not all in the same pattern, the affect is pleasant since they look new and modern.

Now all that remains is for those who haven't made a move recently to get in on the program. Let's hope it is catching. Other northern towns are doing it. Charlevoix, in most things, is a leader. Shouldn't we be in this?

We'll soon be seeing the ladies of the Garden Club downtown asking if merchants will participate in an even bigger way this year in their project to spruce up the business district with flowers.

Maybe the ladies should think about encouraging the City to plant a few more trees in East Park. They may not look like much more than a nuisance for 15 or 20 years, but in the long run hundreds of people will applaud their foresight.

MARCH CAN be the most difficult month of the year for a northern Michigan weekly newspaper editor. Contrary to the notions of some disbelievers, an editor's task becomes harder, not easier, when there is virtually nothing doing. People want their news every week. A newspaper's job is to supply it.

BUT about the first of March people seem to have lost their stamina for doing newsy things. Its as though there's nothing left to do until spring but sit tight.

So an editor has to look that much harder to find anything doing. He can even get desperate at times and dream of talking somebody into starting a fire at say the Colonial Club (which the City Council has said it would like to have torn down anyway).

Or he gets in his car and drives around town and country frantically hoping he will spot something doing. Which, of course, he doesn't.

That evening his wife suggests they do something.

"Now, I don't want to do anything until spring," he mumbles.

And then he wonders why he can't find something that will make news.

THIS BUSINESS in Washington about socialized medicine for elderly people is a bit over our heads, but obviously involves an issue basic to our free enterprise system.

This column is inclined to side with the medical profession, which is fighting so hard to stop the Democratic party's plan. But then, when you hear about the shockingly high medical bills people receive (such as the Dewey Bruce family) you begin to fear the government might be on the right track. Obviously those of us who simply work for a living cannot afford such bills. Most apparent is the fact that this column doesn't have the answer. The Democrats and doctors have been studying the matter for years. They should be able to clear the fog. So, if Charlevoix doctors are opposed to socialization of their profession here and now invite them to explain why--and what their solution is--on the Courier editorial page. County Democratic leader Archie Murphy is likewise invited to use our editorial page columns to express his party's position and how it will benefit local citizens.

This rambling typewriter, it almost goes without saying, is against the government getting its mitts into anything further. However, it is equally against seeing people--old, middle-aged and young--left destitute and humiliated by impossible medical bills.

If we accept the theory that government should do only what private enterprise cannot do perhaps the feds can justify stepping into this mess. But once they get into it you can bet the mess will only thicken.

Either the doctors, hospitals and drug firms will find an answer and sell it to the public, or we can accept the miserable fact that the government is going to stick its nose in and really foul things up. The medical folks may have a solution. But it will do them no good unless they can educate the public to accept it.

Medusa Plant to Use More Power than City

If Medusa Portland Cement Co. builds a plant, quarry and dock on South Point it will require three times as much electricity as all of the homes, businesses and industries in the City of Charlevoix.

Consumers Power Co. division office representative Gerrit Elenbaas reports Medusa has asked Consumers to make preliminary arrangements to run a 138,000 volt electric line into South Point.

THE CONSUMERS' line that supplies the City is 46,000 volts. This supplies power for nearly all residential, business and industrial use in the immediate Charlevoix area, including such plants as Freedom, American Mold and Hoskins.

Charlevoix Township citizens will vote April 28 on Consumers' request for permission to run the power line into Medusa's property. All persons who are registered to vote in the township by Mar. 29 can cast ballots in the special election. Voters can register at Township Clerk Joan Blanchard's home on the Marion-Center Rd. The Township Hall will be open all day April 28 for voting. Consumers is paying election costs.

Elenbaas said the special election proposition restricts Consumers to a limited franchise, if voters approve they will be giving Consumers permission to build the line to Medusa's property, only. Consumers will not be able to use the line to supply any new area.

TOWNSHIP Supervisor Clarence Rabach said the Township Board has endorsed Consumers' request. Medusa has stated it hopes to start construction of a cement plant, dock and quarry in the spring of 1966. Before it can make definite plans it must get approval from state and national agencies.

Opening of the plant, would require the 138,000 volt line to start large motors used in the cementmaking process, Elenbaas said.

THE BIG ROCK Point Nuclear Plant will supply power for the line much of the time, he said.

Rabach said he doesn't foresee any controversy over voters granting Consumers its franchise.

When a tello tries his own merchandise and finds himself truly amazed at how good it is, he ought to stand up and do a little hollering. And that's just what we're going to do.

Dems Back Medusa On LaBlance's Bid

Charlevoix County Democrats voted 12-8 Saturday evening to ask Democrats on the State Administrative Bd. to grant Medusa Portland Cement Co. permission to build its South Point dock.

The unexpected move was initiated by a resolution presented by George LaBlance, former county Democratic chairman.

LABLANCE urged the County Democratic Committee to support the motion because the State Ad. Bd. is a political body and its Democratic members should know how the local party organization stands on the issue.

It was also pointed out that due to a misunderstanding many local citizens believe the Democratic party here is opposed to Medusa's plans.

At least two persons at the meeting said they have been turned down in trying to sell Democratic memberships because people believe the party is against the new industry coming to town.

The State Ad. Bd. must approve the Conservation Commission's endorsement of the dock before a permit can be issued, Democrats control the Ad. Bd. Members are the governor, Lt. governor, attorney general, secretary of state, and treasurer. Only the governor and Lt. governor are Republicans.

IT IS NOT known when the Ad. Bd. will take up the dock issue.

Henry Hagan, a former Republican member of the legislature, who is developing several tourist businesses here, has said he will try to delay the Ad. Bd.'s decision.

LaBlance's resolution included an amendment that Democrats also favor the building of the proposed luxury hotel... and any other progressive non-discriminatory promotion that will enhance the economy of this area.

The Democratic Committee's action came at its regular monthly meeting in East

Officers Issue Deer Warning

Drivers were cautioned this week to be on guard for deer crossing local roads and highways.

Conservation officers report deer are starting to move away from the Lake Michigan shore and out of the swamps, where they have been yarding during the winter.

THIS MEANS they will be browsing beside the road, and may spring in front of cars.

THE TWO questions appeared on the ballot as separate issues. Both had to be approved before the consolidation could be carried out.

Charlevoix is paying off the bonds on its new high school. Had Murray voters agreed to assume a share of the bond debt their taxes would have increased $1.25 on every thousand dollars of equalized property valuation. This would probably average less than $5 a year per homeowner.

Twenty-eight students attend the brick schoolhouse on the corner of Murray and Bay Shore roads, about a mile inland from Bay Shore.

Murray sends its eighth grade graduates to Charlevoix High School on a tuition basis.

THE MURRAY Board of Education asked voters to authorize consolidation with Charlevoix because they felt it would offer students a more complete education.

Mrs. Dorothy Zipp, Murray board secretary, pointed out the school district has been hard pressed to finance its limited program and recruit teachers. Mrs. Ruth Herberger is the teacher.

Murray is one of two one-room schools left in the Charlevoix area. The other is at Ironon. It has 15 students.

A new state law requires that both schools be consolidated with a high school district by 1968.

RE - LOCATED M-66 will meet US-31 at the State St. corner.

The Sault Ste. Marie realtor said he does not know what property the state will buy toward Ironon, but it will acquire some.

Part of the Vernon Matthews and J.W. Ryder farms; I.T. Quarstrom's land across M-66 from the American Mold plant; the abandoned Catholic Cemetery; a small part of Brookside and St. Mary's cemeteries (all disturbed graves will be moved); part of the golf driving range and the Gulf gas station on the corner of State St. and US-31, and a piece of the lot on the corner directly south of the Gulf gas station (Specth said Clark Oil Co. is buying the rest of the property.)

AS BAND Director of the Year, Odmark will conduct the Michigan Week state-wide Honors Band at the Youth Arts Festival in Flint Saturday, May 22.

The Honors Band will be composed of Michigan's top 80 high school musicians. They are being selected at solo and ensemble festivals, such as Charlevoix students participated in at Muskegon Saturday.

At Bohms of Warren Public Schools is the other Band Director of the Year. Bohms is considering removing the trees on the west side of the highway at the Petoskey Ave. (US-31) Michigan Ave. intersection.

City Supt. James Taylor reports the State may decide the large hardwood trees should be removed and a guardrail erected. The trees have been struck several times by cars out of control on the curve.

BLINKER lights definitely will be erected on the curve, warning signs, Taylor said.

School Compares Cost Of Repairing Library

What is the difference in cost between repairing the present public library and building a new one? Possibly no difference.

School Supt. Rex. Milligan points out it will cost at least $25,000 to merely put the present Carnegie Library in satisfactory condition.

THE FIGURE is based on estimates of contractors and architects who surveyed the building's condition.

If this same $25,000 is applied to building a new library, Milligan explains it is all the community will have to raise to put up a $75,000 structure. This is because the federal government is reported willing to fork over twice as much money as the local community for construction of a new library.

Meaning that if Charlevoix lays out $25,000 (what it will cost to repair the old building), the federal government will hand over $50,000. Giving the school a total of $75,000 for a new building.

And even if the $25,000 is spent for repairs, it will not make the old building into a functional, practical library.

THE MERE FACT that the library has two floors makes it almost mandatory that two persons be on duty during busy hours. The Board of Education recently authorized hiring an assistant librarian to aid Floranz Milner during the two hour mid-afternoon rush period.

The interior layout of the Carnegie building is not adapted to adequate shelving room, Milligan also pointed out. So unless walls were moved and additions made, it is doubtful the building would ever offer the shelving room needed to serve Charlevoix's growing number of readers.

Speculation on whether the school should spend $25,000 on a new building, or repairing the old, may be rather meaningless. The school doesn't have $25,000 available.

Board members have suggested that if the community wants a new library it may be willing to donate the one-third share that must be raised locally. No definite plans have been made to organize a contribution campaign.

NOR DOES THE board know how much a suitable new building would cost. This is being studied now.

Architect Jack Begrow, after consulting with building tradesmen, recommended that the following repairs and remodeling is required to bring the building up to serviceable standards. The total estimated cost is $23,440, plus architect's fees.

(1) Remove existing fascia and frieze, and rebuild new wood overhang and fascia of 3 ft. width completely around building, paint two coats white paint. Install ten attic vents. Downspouts to be eliminated. - $5,000

(2) Remove existing roofing and flashing and replace with asphalt shingles - black, over building paper and 3/8" plywood sheathing. - $1,500

(3) Reflash existing parapet wall and chimney. - $200

(4) Carefully remove brick veneer near all downspouts where ice failure has occurred, re-sheath with sheathing and reuse brick, rebuild wall. - $2,000

(5) Electrical - Change service to 200 amp. Panel would be changed from open bus construction to dead front breaker panel. Remove all existing knob and tube wiring and replace with grounded homex and conduit. Relight major areas with fluorescent fixtures; incandescent fixtures to be used in some areas (toilet room, etc.) - $5,400

(6) Paint all exterior brick that occurs above stone belt and new overhang, and all existing trim and doors and two rear sbeds. - $1,800

(7) Replace all storm windows and door with black enameled aluminum combination storms and screens. - $500

(8) Drop ceiling in children's room where piping occurs, using wood trim and acoustic tile. - $480

(9) Drop ceiling in lower hall to 8 ft. height, using acoustic tile suspended on metal furring channels. - $200

(10) Replace existing book stacks with metal self-supporting stacks. - $720

(11) Provide three new magazine and special book racks and index table and two display tables. - $760

(12) Provide new carpeting at all stairs, lobby, reading room, office and children's room. - $2,080

(13) Provide new lounge furniture, 2 groupings. - $600

(14) Provide new display panels, tackboards, one chalkboard and four reading lamps. - $800

(15) Provide new window curtains at main floor only 40' panels. - $800

(16) Contingencies and fees. - $1,000

BLACKED OUT

God made two great lights—the greater to rule the day and the lesser the night. He made the stars also. Are you discouraged? Does it seem that your life is a "flop"... that your light is too small... that you just don't count? Then you're blindfolded. You're blacked out. Sure, He made the great lights, but He made the stars also. He made you. When it is dark about you and you think your lights don't count, just remember... God never creates worthless things nor useless lives. As much as God needs great men as great lights... He also needs small, humble men as stars to take stations as reflectors. God uses His church to woo men to the better life. The church must have great lights and great leaders and it must also have small lights and ordinary people as reflectors. God has no place in His plan for blindfolded people... those who blackout for convenience. He made the great lights, but to reflect them to all His world. He made the stars also. Are you a star, or are you a blackout patient?

School Report Card

By Wes Fleet
Cooperative training in Michigan Schools is an occupational training plan for in-school youth, sixteen years of age or over. It is designed to develop basic occupational competencies for later full time employment in business and industrial occupations. As a work-study plan, it combines classroom instruction in school with supervised training.

A trainee enrolled in a cooperative program divides his time between school and a part time job, spending approximately half his time on each. His in-school schedule includes a balanced combination of subjects required for graduation and subjects directly related to his job activities. His job time is devoted to performing tasks normally assigned to new workers in the occupation. The trainee's job activities are organized in advance on a written program basis, and his performance and progress on the job are supervised by his employer in cooperation with the school coordinator.

COOPERATIVE training, organized in line with the work-study plan described above, should not be confused with the various types of work experience or after school employment. The purpose of which is usually to provide spending money for clothes, shows, dates, and etc.

Cooperative training has as its primary purpose the training of in-school youth for basic ic competency in specific occupations which fit their abilities, aptitudes and interests. It is an integral part of the regular instructional program which more effectively enables students to bridge the gap between school and full time employment. Through enrollment in a cooperative training program, a boy or girl is able to continue training in high school and at the same time receive training and supervised work experience under actual paid employment conditions. Upon graduation, the trainee is qualified to assume a full-time job with a background of training which will aid and encourage him to advance in his chosen field of work.

Cooperative training enables our schools to offer vocational training in many occupations in which the practical phases of the training cannot be provided in the classroom. It makes use of the employing establishment as a school laboratory in which the employer becomes an off-campus teacher.

BENEFITS to the school: Permits the school to broaden its curriculum offerings; permits meeting the needs of more in-school youth; allows schools to utilize the facilities and equipment of cooperating business and industrial firms; reduces school drop-out rate; develops the good will of employers, and encourages cooperation in all school problems.

Benefits to the community: Assures a more functional school curriculum adapted to the educational needs of a larger proportion of youth; trains for better citizenship through dignifying the world of work; assists in the life adjustment of youth in the community; creates a partnership between the schools and business and industry, and encourages youth to continue to live and work in their home communities upon graduation.

Benefits to the trainee: program is tailored to fill trainee's individual training needs; it supplies an incentive to learn and to apply what is learned; permits earning while learning; prepares him to take his place in the adult world of work equipped with the necessary skill, attitudes, habits and technical knowledge, plus the "know how" of getting along with people.

Benefits to the employer: Supplies a continuing source of trained workers in line with local employment needs; provides alert learners with the proper work attitude; develops a feeling of employer responsibility for the education of youth; encourages cooperative and cordial relationships with local schools and the problems of education.

Chamber Will Have Two Info Centers

The Chamber of Commerce has decided to establish two information centers for vacationers this spring and summer. They will be located at John's Health Center and the Ellsworth Lumber Co.

THE CENTERS will dispense information to travelers on Ellsworth area tourist facilities, fishing conditions and other attractions.

Chamber officials are trying to contact all persons who operate tourist facilities in the area so information on their businesses will be available at the centers. Resort owners should contact the chamber.

The chamber is contacting 20 persons it hopes will join the organization. The treasurer's report shows the chamber has a balance of $683.

Two softball teams have agreed to play at the community barbecue planned by the chamber on July 3.

Lip Service

FROM ROY

Skiers are once again in their glory. The snow began to fall last Saturday during the night and it has filled the air almost hourly for a week.

Northern Michigan people can always tell when it is basketball tournament time by the March snow storms. Six inches of snow here is handled in a routine manner, but our city cousins to the south have more difficulties than Carters has pills.

You can hear them cry, "Where do we go with all this snow." This is when it is nice to have wide open spaces.

Our County Highway Department snowplows are out early in the morning clearing the main roads and then the side roads. Wind with snow makes it more difficult but within several hours, (not days) traffic is on the move again. The reason for such a speedy recovery after a storm is the amount of equipment, the shape it is in and how quickly the crew can be alerted.

Wouldn't city dwellers like to live where your road is clean of snow? Here we go! Drenth's just snowplowed our driveway so we can go to town.

Michigan ranks seventh among the states in population in the 1960 federal census with a total of almost eight million people; 7,823,194.

Crappies Hitting In Ellsworth Lake

If you'd like a mess of crappies Ellsworth is the place to get them.

Local ice anglers have been keeping the family skillet sizzling with crappies for several weeks, Conservation Officer Julius O'Brien reports.

CRAPPIES ARE being taken through the ice on St. Clair Lake. The small lake is the first one outside Ellsworth toward East Jordan, between Ellsworth Lake and Six Mile Lake.

O'Brien says the best catches are taken in the late afternoon and evening. He recommends anglers fish as near the creek mouth as possible without treading on thin ice.

The ice on St. Clair Lake is still plenty thick, and should be for some time yet, O'Brien reports.

Small minnows and wigglers are attracting the most action.

FISHERMEN ARE reminded crappies have small, tender mouths. They should be hooked and played gently, on small hooks.

During Lent, crappies should be especially welcome, as many people class them right beside walleyes as a first rate eating treat.

TORCH LAKE ICE IS REPORTED SAFE.

Whitefish are still hitting on Torch Lake, O'Brien reminded anglers who pulled their shanties off the big lake earlier when the ice appeared to be breaking up.

He said Torch Lake ice was safer after last week's storm than it has been all winter, and probably will remain so for a while.

Milk Trucks Slowed by Soft Road

Michigan Milk Producers Assn., Traverse City milk trucks, and East Jordan milk trucks are restricted from hauling through Ellsworth because of the class B road restrictions, it was learned last week.

Milk trucks from Traverse City going to the plant in East Jordan are unable to travel through Ellsworth. By bypassing Ellsworth the trucks continue on US-31 to Charlevoix to M-66 and then to East Jordan.

By traveling this route their trucks travel 30 miles more than the other route.

On Saturday four or five trucks make this trip and on Sunday three or four.

The same Local has a bulk tank truck picking up milk in the Ellsworth area direct from the farmers. With the load limits he must make two trips to East Jordan, each trip a half load, if he travels Road 626, which is shorter in distance than using a Class A road.

All of this milk hauled by the Traverse City trucks amounts to 7,000,000 pounds a year to East Jordan.

Harold Miller, owner of the bulk tank truck that hauls for the East Jordan local said the extra trips he has to make when load limits are on are uncalled for. He has a full load of milk after picking up from farmers on US 31, three miles north of the Atwood-Ellsworth road. Without the advantage of continuing six miles to Ellsworth and then six miles more to East Jordan he is forced to turn around and travel 28 miles. The days he picks up milk in the Ellsworth section his load is cut in half. This forces him to make two trips. Miller transports 2,000,000 pounds of milk through Ellsworth.

Though they may not realize it, Miller points out, the farmer and consumer ultimately share this added cost with the MPPA.

Outdoor Rambling

With SHEP

As this is written it hardly seems possible, but the calendar indicates the walleye runs will start at East Jordan in another two or three weeks.

Walleyes annually, about this time of year, congregate from hidden corners of Lake Charlevoix into the mouth of the Jordan River and swim upstream to spawn. Often they make their dash into the river in thick schools. Fish weighing up to ten pounds are caught. THOUGH FEW walleyes are caught during the summer in Lake Charlevoix, the spring spawning runs prove they are in the lake.

Conservation Officer Harley Burris reports that over the years the walleye runs have started about April 10. Warm weather can spur the fish into action sooner. Walleye fishing is open year-round in Lake Charlevoix.

Fishermen station themselves on piers in East Jordan, on the bridge over the river, in waders at the river mouth and sand bars near it. A few anchor beyond the sand bars in small boats.

It's generally a cold, damp sport, as the walleyes seem to prefer moving at night. With the April sun down, fishermen often find the temperatures in the low 40's or even 30's.

OVER THE years the best bait has proven to be minnows. Probably the most effective way to fish these is by hooking them live and letting them swim. A fly rod gives the angler the feel of the bait, and a better chance to know when a fish is taking it.

However, this column reported last year, the most popular way to reel the walleyes seemed to be snagging, or even netting, them. Such flagrant violations of good sportsmanship and the law are openly performed in view of the dozens of anglers who congregate near the river mouth.

In what may prove to be a futile effort to halt this, the Conservation Commission has passed a five year ban on using anything but a single, unweighted, hook from the bridge to a point 300 yards north during April.

IF FISHERMEN abide by this ruling they will be foiled in their snagging. But it appears doubtful the law will have much influence. Due to reorganization of the Conservation Dept., local game law enforcement officers will have even less time than last year to enforce the law.

Working with Patsey Doney Gallagher, Joe Mafro, Gene Burke, Perry, Robert and Edward Palmer and his sons Emmet and Ernie, casks of ice were sawed from the bay and trucked to a shed where they were covered with sawdust.

The last ice was cut and stored on the island in 1956. A painting of the operation was used on the cover of Collier's Magazine.

Beaver Island Tales

Winter Busier, But No Riches

More dollars have been finding their way from the outside world to Beaver Island this winter than last, Archie LaFreniere reports.

The flow of currency has not increased enough to get Archie very excited. "There's still plenty of room for improvement," he remarks.

MORE OF the summer cottagers are going to the island for weekend fishing and hunting, Archie reports.

In addition he suspects there are a few more people spending the entire winter on the island. He estimates the winter population at between 160-170.

Ice fishing for pike and bluegills has been good. Rabbit hunting has been amazing. Several islanders have beagle hounds on hand for visitors to use. A writer for Sports Afield magazine spent several days on the island hunting, Archie reports. Using hounds brought to the island from Indian River, the hunters managed to chase down one coyote.

THERE ARE no coyote or fox hounds owned by island residents.

Archie says islanders are going to have to take the winter slowdown in stride. He thinks there might someday be something to attract winter business, but doesn't see anything right away.

In the meantime islanders can only envy mainland communities which are enjoying the winter skiing boom. "They're tearing down the old docks," Archie said over the barely audible long distance telephone line.

JEWELL Gillespie, he explained, has been awarded the contract to tear out part of the old Gallagher dock in preparation for construction of new public docks to be built by the state this summer. Work is also going on at the Beaver Island Boat Co. dock, which is being repaired and extended.

Preparation for summer advertising and promotion is next on the agenda, Archie said.

THE LATEST edition of the Beaver Beacon gives more details on the coyote hunt. And a word story "It is. To quote from the Beacon:

With the mercury hanging at 4 below... the dogs were released and the hunt was on... the hunters were in pursuit aboard two snowmobiles. The dogs chased the coyote onto the ice of Lake Michigan where a clear shot was offered. Only wounded, the coyote continued, with Roy Chamber right after it... into the water went the coyote and Roy. Much to the displeasure of the coyote, Roy grabbed his tail and gingerly avoiding snapping teeth, dragged one mad coyote out on the ice... With his clothes frozen like a suit of armor, Roy made a hasty trip to town and a dry change. Thus is recorded the first dip of the 1965 season.

Want More Money To Study Sprays

The Department of the Interior has asked Congress for legislation which would remove the present ceiling placed on appropriations for pesticide research carried out by Federal agencies.

Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall said the measure would implement President Johnson's recent request for increased research efforts to learn more about the effects of pesticides in the environment.

THE RESEARCH program, authorized in 1958, directed the Secretary of the Interior to undertake a comprehensive study of the effects of pesticides on fish and wildlife. The following year Congress voted an annual appropriation of $2,565,000 for Interior to carry out this work. This is the present ceiling on annual pesticide research appropriations.

Put 3 Rayders on All-Loop League Mark Toppled By New Rayder Record

The Charlevoix Rayders are counting the 1964-65 cage season one of their most successful in recent years for, as a team, they not only captured the Northern Michigan Class C Conference title, and came out of the recent tournaments with the Class C District and regional championships, but set a few records in their own right.

The Rayders, for instance, set a new scoring record (in league play) for the season, tallying a total of 1,035 points in 14 games for an average of 74 points per game. This new total is one more than the scoring record set by Pellston last season.

IN ROLLING UP this record, the Rayders are credited with a record of 420 field goals for the season.

The Rayders were also the participants in the establishment of another record in which two teams scored a grand total of 171 points in one game or an average of 5.34 points per minute. This record was set in the Pellston-Charlevoix game which the Hornets won 91-80.

Gaylord's Tom Lick holds several scoring records including a total of 44 points per game, a record set last season; an individual scoring record for the season; 347 points for an average of 24.7 points per game; individual field goal record, 136 and free throws, 75 for the season.

Grayling set a new defensive record, permitting only 722 points to be scored against the Vikings while Harbor Springs set new records for the number of field goals, 42, and free throws, 28, scored in a single game. East Jordan's record of 241 free throws for the season set last year still stands. Harbor Springs also set a new record for the greatest number of points scored in one game, 94. In mentioning these records, must be remembered that until the 1963-64 season there were no accounts of scoring records kept on a league basis. A record of individual and team accomplishments was started with the 1963-64 season by league officials.

The Charlevoix Rayders, 1964-65 league champions, were awarded three berths on the Northern Michigan Class C All-Conference team named by league coaches.

The trio was composed of Dave Norton, 6-5 center and the team's top scorer; Jim Uhrick, second highest scorer on the squad with a total of 167 points in league play who served as play-maker and also in the forward slot; and Doug Winnell, who placed fourth among the team's point-makers (153 in 13 games) and who played in both the forward and guard positions.

OTHERS WHO were awarded berths on the "dream team" were Gaylord's Tom Lick, 6'-11" - 195 pound center, top scorer in the loop with 347 points in 14 league games; Walt Nielsen, 6'-6" center and Terry Smith, a guard, both of Grayling; Clarence Clear and Bob Shier, both of Pellston; George Lauer, guard and outstanding floor manager, and Dave Wingarden, 6'-3 1/2" center of Harbor Springs and Scott Hall of Boyne City.

All players named to the all-conference squad are seniors. For the first time only 11 players were named to the honor squad. Coaches making the choices were Jim Mongeau of Gay-

Return of Lake Trout In Offing

Upper reaches of Lake Michigan will be planted with 1.3 million yearling lake trout this summer, to start restocking efforts.

With hatchery production exceeding Lake Superior's fish needs and lamprey control work moving ahead on schedule in Lake Michigan streams, the decision to plant has been reached by the Lake Trout Rehabilitation Committee.

THE COMMITTEE, representing state, federal, and Canadian agencies, gave its go-ahead after noting that chemical treatment should bring lamprey under control in northern Lake Michigan by 1967.

Providing the planted fish with the needed leeway of safety until 1967 is the fact that lake trout are not usually attacked by lamprey until they are about 15 inches long.

Lake Michigan's planting stock will come from the Jordan River Valley hatchery and the Charlevoix hatchery.

PLANS CALL for liberating one million of the young fish at three separate locations between Seul Choix Point and Epoufette.

lord, Bruce Smith of Grayling, Gerald Demming of Mancelona, Bill Gregory of East Jordan, Paul Pfahler of Boyne City, Charlie Paige of Harbor Springs, Tom St. Germaine of Pellston and Don Carey of Charlevoix.

Team Rates 4 Among Loop's Top Scorers

The fact that four members of the Charlevoix Rayders ranked among the top 15 scorers in the Northern Michigan Class C Conference is one of the many reasons for the team's success.

Big Dave Norton ranked sixth among the scorers with a total of 250 points in 14 games for an average of 17.8 points per game. He tallied his total on 98 field goals and 54 free throws.

JIM UHRICK with 69 field goals and 29 free throws for 167 points ranked tenth; Del Terrill with 68 field goals and 18 free throws for 154 points was 14th and Doug Winnell with 58 field goals and 37 free throws in 13 games ranked 15th among the scorers.

They were followed by Dave Smith who had 46 field goals and 22 free throws for 114 points; Warren Belding with 101 points on 42 field goals and 17 free throws; Randy Carey with 40; Tom Maxwell and Steve Smith with 12 points each; Jack Uhrick and Aaron Brock with four.

Flue Costs CHS Game At Grayling

The Charlevoix Rayders, victims of the flu bug after claiming the Class C regional title at Petoskey, fell victim to the Wakefield Cardinals in the quarter-finals at Grayling last Wednesday night.

Playing without regular guard and play-maker, Jim Uhrick, the other Rayders took to the hardwoods without a regular practice session since winning the regional title.

THE FINAL score in the game, which saw the big Cardinals lead all the way, was 73-58. Starting for the Rayders were Doug Winnell, who had received a head laceration in Saturday's game, Dave Smith, big Dave Norton, Del Terrill and Warren Belding. All but Belding had been hit by the flu bug.

Trying all the way but showing the effects of their illnesses, the Rayders trailed the big Wakefield quintet 15-9 at the end of the first period, 39-22 at halftime and 54-40 as the final period got underway.

With two minutes left, Norton, who had 19 points for the game, went to the bench.

The game marked the end of the prep school careers of all regulars during the current season including Norton, Terrill, Winnell, Dave Smith, Belding, Randy Carey, John Bleha, Tom Maxwell, Rick Grunch and Uhrick though the latter was not dressed for this game.

Following Wednesday's game, the Rayders had the finest record in the north country, 19 wins and three losses. This represents the Northern Michigan Class C Conference title, the Class C District and the Class C Regional titles.

Can Still Enroll In Fluoride Plan

Final requests and fees are now being accepted for the Summer Topical Fluoride program to be held for rural children.

This program is sponsored by the State Dental Society in cooperation with the Charlevoix Health Department and the Michigan Department of Health.

The topical application of sodium fluoride to newly erupted teeth will reduce new tooth decay a reported 40% in groups of children.

The program offers an educational experience with no discomfort involved and dental health education is given the child by the clinic personnel.

The procedure consists of four visits to the topical fluoride clinic, which will be held in the Elementary School.

At the first visit the teeth are cleaned and the first application is given.

An application of sodium fluoride consists of the teeth being isolated with cotton rolls, then the teeth are dried with compressed air and a 2% solution of sodium fluoride is applied to the teeth. On the second, third and fourth appointments the application of the sodium fluoride is repeated.

Any child who is a preschooler (over three years of age) a second, third, fifth, sixth, eighth and ninth grader is eligible to enroll in the program. Also any child who has recently moved to this community and has not had the benefits of fluoridated water, may also enroll in the program. Special cases referred by the family dentist will also be accepted. The fee for the cleansing and four applications is $3.

If you have not received necessary forms to enroll your child in this program you may contact Mrs. Jacqueline Klooster at 547-2070 or Mrs. Lavonia Solomon at 547-9448, topical fluoride chairmen in Charlevoix.

Boy Scouts

Boy Scouts of Troop 11 are planning their circus for Mar. 27. At last week's troop meeting the Scouts decided what acts they will perform. They also practiced semaphore, the official flag code of the Boy Scouts. Semaphore is used to communicate from short distances. To wrap the meeting up the troop played a game of tag.

Ironton

By Mrs. Ross Alexander
LI 7-2037

"The north wind doth blow and we shall have snow," and that is what happened. It started Wednesday and we have winter again, but I never knew it to fall, if March comes in like a "lion," it will go out like a "lion." The wind blew so hard, we were without electricity several hours Wednesday night. We almost wished for the "good old days," where we could throw in another chunk of wood or a scuttle of coal to keep warm, but we all survived and looking forward to another spring.

In spite of the weather, they had the Oyster and Chitl supper at the church Friday, and it was enjoyed and well attended.

Evelyn Vanderwall returned home Saturday, while in Ann Arbor, she enjoyed seeing the stage play, "Oliver."

Mr. and Mrs. R. Christman from Grand Rapids are spending several days at their cottage.

Ferry Nelson returned to her studies at Big Rapids, Sunday after spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nelson.

Jerry Walker is spending this weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyte Walker, returning to Flint Monday.

Mrs. Ray Canfield and sister Mrs. Ada Albers are spending the winter in southern Florida and are enjoying several days at the Keys.

Mrs. Arthur Green and daughter Lucet Ann and friend James Kenney from Belting spent the weekend with Sam and Evelyn Alexander, and enjoyed the good skiing at Boyne Mountain.

We wish to thank Franklin Cellner, for coming with his tractor and snow plow Friday, and plowing a parking space at the church and also our driveway.

The last family night supper was well attended. Rev. Harmon showed a film on the "Life of Helen Keller," which was most interesting.

Sunday night, it is still snowing from all reports from the surrounding countryside we have more snow than at any one time this winter. Glen Williams has been plowing his neighbors' driveways this afternoon so they can get out to work in the morning.

Former Bandmen In NMU Musical

Two former Charlevoix High School bandmen are members of the 24-piece orchestra that will provide the musical setting for Northern Michigan University's production of the Music Man. Orchestra members from Charlevoix are F. James Stewart and Gary Stutzman, both NMU freshmen. Stewart plays clarinet and Stutzman the tuba.

THE MUSIC MAN will be presented in the university's Little Theatre at Marquette for six days, April 2-8.

The Charlevoix musicians have been rehearsing with the NMU orchestra for more than a month.

Talk of the Town

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nicklyn and two children have returned to Saginaw after spending the weekend here as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Zednick.

Lawrence Felndt, Debert R. Terrell and son, Del, Douglas Winnell and Warren Belding returned Sunday from southern Michigan where they had attended the State basketball tournament in Lansing and visited briefly in Muskegon.

Farm Bureau Sponsors Free Clinic on Heart

Mrs. Tom Wietand, Charlevoix, of the Charlevoix County Farm reports Gustav A. Uhlich, doctor of internal medicine at the Burn's Clinic will speak on the subject of heart attacks, at a free public meeting in Boyne City.

The meeting will be held in the Top-O-Michigan, R.E.A. meeting room, Boyne City, Wednesday, March 31, 8 p.m.

Mrs. Wietand also announced that Charles A. Duerr, United Fund Representative and Oliver H. Wendt, Michigan Heart Association, will participate in the program.

Over $1 million have been spent by the Michigan Heart Association in the last 15 years for research, Wendt reports.

"The medical advances in the cardiovascular field have been tremendous in that time," he said. "Recall how few years the simplest heart problem went untreated because doctors didn't have the tools to treat them. Today many medical and technological advances allow doctors to increase our years of purposeful living. All of us who contribute to the Michigan Heart Association through the United Fund or a memorial gift support this research effort."

People who were once doomed to a life of inactivity are now returned to active living through medical management. Years of life have been given to children and adults who just a few years ago were subject to an early grave. It wasn't too long ago that a person, even after two or three heart attacks, is returned to useful living. President Lyndon Baines Johnson and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower are good examples of what persons with heart trouble can do," Wendt said.

It is important that everyone attend to learn about the latest advances in the fight against heart attack, Mrs. Wietand said.

When questioned recently about some of the main causes of heart attacks, Dr. Uhlich has stressed that not one but many things are involved when a person has a heart attack. At the present time, he said, "we do not know all the involved factors in the disease process but we do know enough about some of them so that we can effectively treat it. Overweight, smoking, diet, heredity, stress, and exercise all seem to play an important part."

Dr. Uhlich will use films during the evening to illustrate various points of his lecture.

Dr. Uhlich was graduated in Austria and came to the United States as an exchange doctor for a one year internship in Trenton, N.J., in 1955. He returned to Austria for more heart training, then came back to America.

Bridge Tolls...Ouch

BASKETBALL tournament developments last week that pitted Charlevoix against the Upper Peninsula's Wakefield jolted us into our first really serious awareness of the impact of Mackinac Bridge tolls on Charlevoix.

As we waited Monday to learn where the game would be played it kept popping into our mind how inconvenient it would be for Charlevoix fans if it were played in the U.P. Fortunately, for us, the State Athletic Assn. selected Grayling for the game site.

BUT WHAT IF it had been at St. Ignace, or somewhere else in the Upper? How many of our friends could not have been on hand to cheer the Rayders if they had to pay a $7.50 bridge toll?

And what about Wakefield? Many of their fans must have been deprived of the opportunity to see the lads they are so justly proud of play in the quarter-finals.

These thoughts, of course, made the bridge tolls seem more repugnant than ever before. For the first time it was possible to see, first hand, a tangible case of the fare across the magnificent bridge being grossly unreasonable.

Which got us to wondering how often people we don't know stay away from this part of Michigan because the $7.50 toll creates an unjust economic barrier.

CERTAINLY, THERE are persons from Wisconsin, Illinois and Minnesota who vacation in the U.P., but stay out of the northern Lower because of the toll. We even suspect there are families who stay completely out of Michigan because the bridge makes it impractical for them to see the entire state.

Perhaps not without a touch of prejudice, we feel many of these people would decide they prefer the Charlevoix area to the Upper if they would only come and look. So, if our theory holds any water, Charlevoix is obviously losing some vacation dollars due to the bridge.

Isn't it even possible that some business and industry shies away from the extreme northern Lower due to the costly bridge toll?

Of course, there is no accurate way to measure this loss to our area. But it doesn't seem off base to assume that it is substantial.

ALL OF WHICH leads us to agree with numerous politicians that the bridge toll should be eliminated in the best interest of Charlevoix and all of Michigan. Reducing the toll would be less palatable, but a stride in the right direction.

We cannot, however, go along with those who would erase the toll without making arrangements to pay off the bridge debt in some other way. The Courier, and we are sure the people of Charlevoix, would not support anything the toll would endanger Michigan's still shaky financial condition.

Gov. Romney and Michigan congressmen are supposed to have the counsel of some of the land's most able financial wizards. It seems they should be able to come up with an equitable way to handle the matter.

If, however, they are too busy politicking, might we suggest they consider a minor increase in the gas tax, to be earmarked specifically for the bridge bonds... and removed when the bonds are retired.

BETTER YET, we still don't understand why the Federal Gov't. won't assume part of the debt. We hear that a new kitchen range in every home is now a federal goal, so why not add to it a free ride across the Mackinac Bridge for everyone?

Embattled Park

ONE OF CHARLEVOIX'S oldest, though minor, disagreements is over management of the forested park area on the Lake Michigan side of Park Ave.

The disagreement seems to be generated by the fact that both sides insist on talking in extremes. One contends the splendid trees and charming gullies of the park should be cut and filled indiscriminately. The other insists that not a tree limb or blade of grass shall be disturbed.

WE SAY BOSH to both. There is a reasonable compromise that will satisfy at least the unselfish interests of all.

The park, we strongly feel, would be more useful, and yet as beautiful, if some of the trees were removed and the contours of the ground changed in carefully selected areas. Not only would this open the park up so Lake Michigan can be seen through it, but would also given the remaining trees a better chance to prosper and allow room to picnic and simply lay around and soak up the aroma of the pines and drama of the big lake.

We are just as strongly convinced this is not a job that should be rashly done by persons who are less qualified in forest management than we are in electrical engineering (about which we know nothing). We know of no one involved in the usually quiet debate who should be let loose in the park with a shovel or axe.

This lack of qualified advice and opinion appears to be what has stymied the City. So why not ask for help someone who does know what they're talking about.

We suggest the City ask State forester Jack Lockwood of Boyne City to come up with a solution. Lockwood is trained to recognize what trees should be cut and how land should be contoured to maintain beauty and make it useful.

Highway Shortcomings

WE CAN'T HELP but sympathize with Ellsworth's current campaign to get better highways. The small community, which is Charlevoix's nearest neighbor, is seriously handicapped because only second class roads lead to it.

Charlevoix knows the shortcomings of being off the best highways. We have done our share of fighting -- and foresee more -- to get US-31 made into a modern super highway. The lack of a good east-west highway also keeps many vacationers from our city.

BUT TO ELLSWORTH our roads must appear like blessings straight from Heaven.

Thanks, Again, Goldman Fund

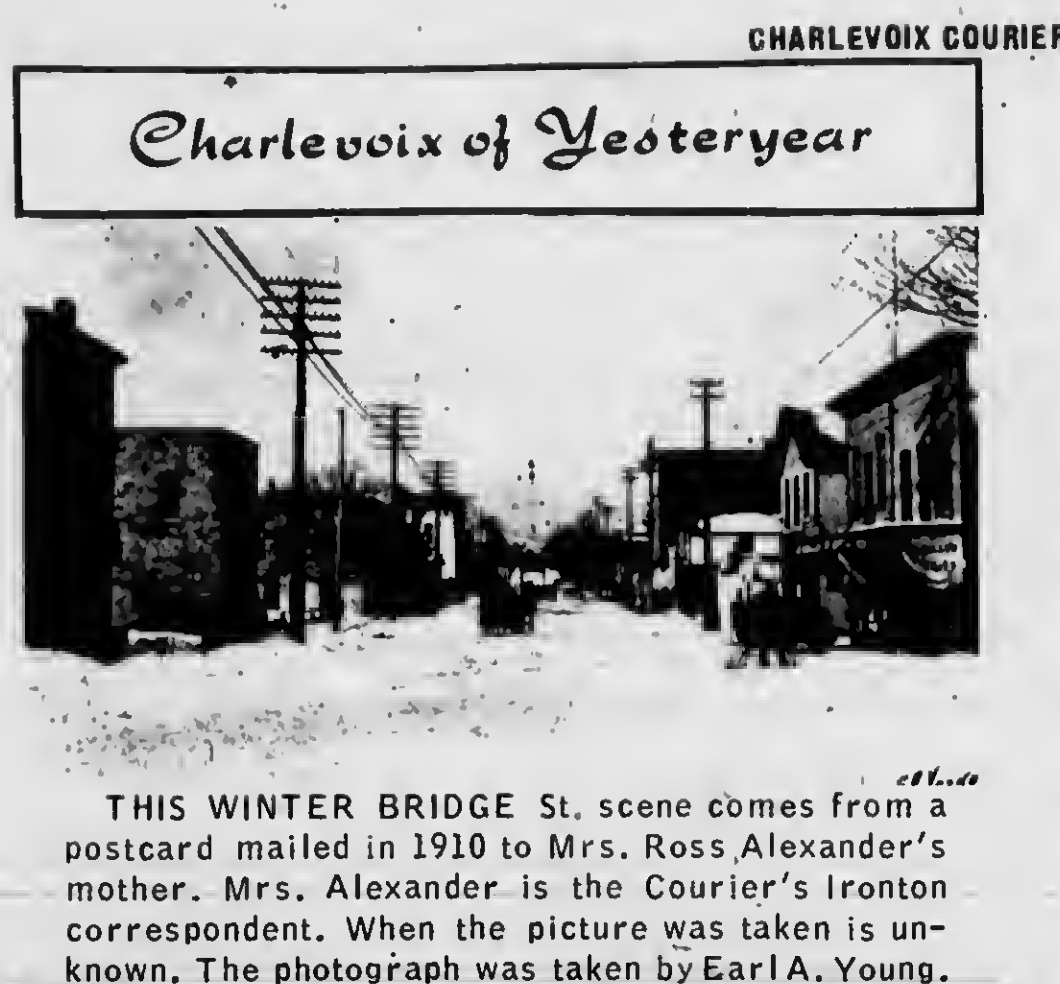

THE COMMUNITY, once again, has been shown the value of the Goldman Fund. Last week the Fund's directors moved swiftly, but thoughtfully, to relieve some of the shock and inconvenience suffered by the Richard Moore family.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore and six children virtually lost everything in the fire that destroyed their converted school house home. Imagine for a minute that desperate condition your family would be in if suddenly you were without all your clothing, household articles and treasured personal belongings.

BECAUSE THE Goldman Fund pledged its aid a few hours after the tragedy, the Moores faced this plight only briefly.

It is also worth mentioning, that organized, experienced, charitable efforts, such as those administered by the Goldman Fund, are considerably wiser than those over which there is no control or direction.

THIS WINTER BRIDGE St. scene comes from a postcard mailed in 1910 to Mrs. Ross Alexander's mother. Mrs. Alexander is the Courier's Ironton correspondent. When the picture was taken is unknown. The photograph was taken by Earle A. Young.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor: This Space Reserved For Your Opinion

We Dogs Wag Our Tail

DEAR EDITOR: You, the people of Charlevoix, never cease to amaze me. Your sentiments vacillate about as often as an excited dog wags its tail. It wasn't too long ago that you noble creatures of inconsistency were valiantly struggling to outdo each other in giving Charlevoix another name besides "the Beautiful". A name that would express the charm and exquisite beauty of Charlevoix and the surrounding area; a name that would attract people who admire and enjoy such surroundings.

Perhaps you people would be so kind as to enlighten me, for I must admit I'm having considerable difficulty in picturing a cement plant or an industrial dock that would enhance the beauty of our area.
